

Nothing to Give but My Heart Chapter 1510 – 1519

Chapter 1510

Inertia drove her out, and Jessica fell to the cold floor.

But the person who was hit stood very steadily. After Jessica got up, he grabbed her arm.

“It’s you?”

The familiar voice made Jessica raise her head and stared at the visitor in amazement.

The person who was hit by her just now was Phillip. Seeing that she was pale and fell down, Phillip grabbed her when she got up, unexpectedly it was Jessica.

Seeing Phillip, Jessica couldn’t think of anything in her mind, but thought that something happened to Victor Han and she had to find him.

In a daze, she only took a look at Phillip and then withdrew her gaze, then she threw away his hand and started walking outside.

After two steps, a huge pain came from her ankle, which made her almost kneel down. Fortunately, Phillip supported her in time.

“What’s the matter? What’s so anxious?”

The huge pain caused dense sweat on Jessica’s forehead, and the pain made her unable to walk. She should have been twisted when she fell, but she still has to go to Victor Han, and Victor Han doesn't know how anymore. , She has to find him immediately.

Thinking of this, Jessica thought of something, she grabbed Phillip's hand hard.

"Please, take me to the hospital near the East Campus, the hospital near the East Campus!"

The hospital near the east campus?

Phillip frowned, "What happened?"

Why is she so anxious?

Seeing that he didn't take herself, Jessica asked herself, so she wanted to leave by herself, Phillip had no choice but to say, "I will take you, but you have to wait for me for a while."

He and Marry went out to buy things together, Marry was interviewing clothes inside, and he was waiting outside, so he had to talk to Marry.

As soon as Phillip turned around, Jessica ran away lamely behind him. The pain on her ankle was so painful that she ran forward as if she could not feel the pain.

Helpless, Phillip could only step forward to stop Jessica, but Jessica couldn't hear what she said at this time. She just wanted to go to the hospital near the East Campus. In the end, Phillip was really no match for her, so she had to send her to the hospital. Up.

He thought, when she was sent to the hospital, he would call Marry and talk about it.

Although Marry will come out to find him and will be angry, but the situation is urgent after all, she should understand herself.

Thinking of this, Phillip felt relieved a lot.

So he drove Jessica to the East Campus Hospital. Jessica didn't say a word along the way, sitting there staring, like a puppet.

Looking at her like this, Phillip predicted that the matter should be serious, so he didn't dare to ask.

Marry Jiang came to buy maternity clothes. Recently, she has eaten a lot, so the meat on her body has grown, and her belly has also grown. So the maternity clothes she prepared before can't fit. When she came here today, she saw a pregnant woman. The dress shop had a good skirt style, so Marry Jiang went in and tried it.

Then she tossed in the locker room for a long time before finally changing her clothes, and then looking in the mirror still felt that she was really fat now.

"If you want to stay out, you must tell Phillip, you see that I have become so fat and out of shape to have a baby. In the future, you will treat me very well, and no grievance will make me suffer."

Thinking about it, Marry Jiang suddenly felt a little pain in her stomach, as if a child was kicking her in the stomach again, so she sat down for a while and then went out.

After the results came out, there was no way to see Phillip's figure.

"What about people?"

Marry Jiang carried the skirt around and looked around. The shopping guide came over and smiled at her: "Miss, this skirt suits you well."

Marry Jiang didn't want to look at the skirt at this time, so she asked her: "Just ask you, where my husband went?"

The shopping guide was stunned and hesitantly said: "Just now your husband was knocked down by a lady at the door, and then it seems to have left with her."

"Leaving?" Marry Jiang frowned when she heard that a lady knocked Phillip down, "It's good, how did you knock down? Why did you leave together again?"

She was confused.

"I don't know, I was busy entertaining other guests at the time, so I didn't come forward, I just vaguely learned about the incident. But this lady, I guess your husband and that lady knew each other."

"How do you know?"

"I saw him helping the lady."

The woman Phillip knew?

"Oh, but that lady hurt her leg."

Hearing this, Marry Jiang finally understood, and speculated: "Could it be that the lady hit my husband and then fell down and injured her leg? My husband helped her, maybe sent her to the hospital?"

The shopping guide was confused for a while, and then nodded: "This lady is really smart. If you guess like this, I think it should be like this."

Marry Jiang was a little angry, "This bastard, even if he sends someone to the hospital, he at least tells me why the person is gone?"

He is simply a straight man! She was so angry.

Marry Jiang took out her cell phone and wanted to call Phillip, but when she touched it, she found that Phillip's cell phone was on his body. Recently, Marry Jiang always used his cell phone to check out and make purchases, so just now in her own bag.

It's fine now, no one can contact him, and Marry Jiang doesn't know where to find him.

Thinking of this, Marry Jiang felt depressed for a while.

The shopping guide stared at her: "Miss, what about this dress on you, do you want it?"

When Phillip is not there, Marry Jiang has no thoughts to try again, and can only say, "Yes, but I'm too lazy to change, just pay the bill."

After checking out, Marry Jiang carried the clothes and went out by herself, and waited at the door for nearly half an hour, but Phillip still did not come back. She had a big belly and couldn't wait any longer, so she had to go home first.

After Marry Jiang went home, Phillip at home hadn't come back, so she simply lay on the sofa watching TV and eating.

In the middle Liang Yahe came to see her and found Phillip was not there, and scolded him severely. Marry Jiang had to smile and tell him what happened during the day.

Liang Yahe scolded more fiercely after hearing this: “You have been pregnant for so long, and you can give birth at any time. He actually left you there for a stranger. When he comes back, I have to scold him well.”

Marry Jiang thinks that there is nothing wrong with it. If someone really twists her foot, she must be sent to the doctor in time, and she has spent too much time in the dressing room. A straight man like Phillip must be thinking about sending it first. Hospital, then call again.

“Mom, don’t talk about her. I know Phillip’s character. He must have thought of the hospital calling me and saying that he simply forgot that he didn’t bring a mobile phone.”

“I’m so angry, why did I give birth to such a naive son? Marry, don’t speak for him. I have to scold him when he comes back.”

Chapter 1511

Well, Marry Jiang will not speak for him.

Let this straight man be scolded by his mother a few words, or if he is sober, he will have a better memory in the future.

To be honest, Marry Jiang was very angry when she was left behind, but the pregnant woman could not get angry. She knew this truth well, so she didn’t make herself angry.

In addition, she also felt that if the woman really sprained her ankle, it would be understandable to send her to the hospital.

As long as Phillip comes back and admits his mistakes.

Anyway, the young couple live their lives. There is no need to make a fuss about some things, or it would be bad if it hurts two people.

Liang Yahe also saw that Marry Jiang was very Buddhist in this respect, so she persuaded her.

“Don’t be accustomed to her, Marry, your husband will scold if he is wrong. Mom must be on your side.”

“Mom, I know, don’t worry about me, I will definitely ask after he comes back.”

“But you can’t get too angry, you are about to have a baby right now, but don’t hurt your body, forget it, don’t ask, I will wait here, and wait for him to come back. I’ll ask again later.”

So the two waited until the evening before Phillip came back.

Phillip opened the door and went into the living room. He saw two women sitting on the sofa, one of them staring at him aggressively with his arms around, and was startled.

“Mom, why are you here?”

Liang Yahe sneered: “Are you embarrassed to ask me? Where did you die?”

Murderously, Phillip glanced at Marry Jiang. Marry Jiang was not angry and looked normal.

He thought for a while and then said: “I will go back to find you, and the shopping guide said you have left.”

Before Marry Jiang could reply, Liang Ya scolded again: “Why not? Wait until you come back there? Don’t you know Marry is a pregnant woman? Wouldn’t you be tired to tell her to wait outside? Phillip, do you have it? For your husband's self-consciousness? Did you know that your wife has a big belly? You are about to give birth, and you just ran away. If something unexpected happens, you can afford it!"

Phillip had a guilty conscience and didn't say anything. He didn't even rebut any scolding.

"Why don't you speak? You left Marry alone, shouldn't you say sorry to her?"

"Mom..." Marry Jiang went to pull Liang Yahe's hand, "Well, I didn't actually wait long, and if I sent someone to the hospital at that time, I would understand it."

Phillip was a little surprised: "How did you know I went to the hospital?"

"I know, I asked the shopping guide about the process, and then speculated for myself that you should have taken the person to the hospital."

Hearing Marry's tone, it seemed that he didn't know who he sent to the hospital.

"That's it, when I was in the supermarket, I was..."

He just wanted to say that Jessica hit him, and then he should have sent her to the hospital because of an accident.

Then Liang Yahe interrupted and said, "No matter what the situation is, do you understand that the wife is important? You just leave Marry alone. Can you be responsible for something wrong? Can you?"

Liang Yahe was still very angry. When she saw Marry Jiang's pregnant belly, she thought of her being left in the supermarket by herself and then walking back alone.

The more she thinks about it, the more angry.

Marry Jiang can only comfort her: “Mom, don’t be angry. It’s normal for him to send people to the hospital, and Phillip, a straight man like us, certainly can’t be as delicate as our women. If I were him, it should be. Will be like him.”

Marry Jiang coaxed Liang Yahe for a long time.

After Liang Yahe left, Marry Jiang said to Phillip: “I don’t care about today’s affairs, but if you run away like this next time, I will really be angry.”

Phillip, who originally wanted to explain, didn’t have a chance to explain it all the way. Now after listening to Marry’s words, he suddenly felt that his explanation seemed unnecessary.

Anyway, he just sent Marry to the hospital, and nothing happened to him in the follow-up, plus Marry was about to give birth, so don’t say it to worry her.

Thinking of this, Phillip didn’t tell the story.

When sleeping at night, Marry was lying on the bed and Phillip was massaging her calf.

“You took the person to the hospital during the day today. Is that person’s legs okay?”

Hearing that, Phillip’s hand movement paused for a while, he glanced at Marry, and stopped talking a little.

“What?” Marry Jiang narrowed her eyes. “You will be weird after you come back. You didn’t provoke a woman with you when you were in the supermarket today? A woman hit you? You like her. ?”

Phillip: "...what are you talking about?"

After being cross-examined by Marry Jiang, Phillip instantly felt that the pregnant woman's mind was so strange that he didn't want to tell Marry the truth.

"What I'm talking about is messy? How can it be? It's obviously that you have strange eyes and hesitating, like a ghost in your heart!"

"No!" Phillip sighed and gently massaged her calf, "It wasn't what you thought it was. The situation was urgent at the time. I thought of calling you when I was in the hospital, but I found the phone on your body, so I went back. When I found you, you were no longer there, so..."

"Okay, okay, I know the situation is urgent, so isn't you to blame? I'm a little sleepy, I'm going to sleep."

Marry kicked his hand and motioned him to take it away. Phillip covered her with a quilt. Marry's sleepiness came quickly, closing her eyes and soon fell asleep.

Phillip didn't notice that she was asleep. After struggling for a long time, he decided to tell Marry the truth, so he said in a casual way: "That Marry, in fact, what I met today was not someone else, but...yes..."

After talking for a long time, he hasn't said the name naturally.

It took a long time before he said, "Actually, it was Jessica who hit me today. She twisted her ankle, and she was going to the hospital to find Victor Han. Victor Han had a car accident. I didn't intentionally leave you. It's special."

After saying these words, there was no response.

Phillip thought Marry Jiang was angry when she heard Jessica's name, after all, Jessica's name was still a scar between the two.

Although Marry and Jessica have a good relationship now, as long as they share some old things, they will inevitably think more.

Although he knew that Marry had always been upright and open-minded, but because she had a big belly now, Phillip was also worried that she would think more.

Seeing her not answering, Phillip thought she was angry, so he could only turn his head and explain in a hurry.

“But it's not what you think. I don't have my previous thoughts for her at all. My current thoughts are all on you...”

Phillip's words stopped abruptly, and his eyes fell on Marry's face.

She doesn't know when, Marry was already asleep and lying there quietly, Phillip looked at her for a while before sighing, fixed her quilt, and bent over on her smooth forehead. A kiss.

It doesn't matter if you fall asleep or can't hear, so be it.

Chapter 1512

It's late

The two children of the Han family were still led by Janis. After feeding the milk powder, the two children fell asleep obediently, and Janis called Jessica.

Jessica's voice on the other end of the phone is all nasal, and she just cried when she heard it.

“its okay, Mom, the doctor said that he just had a slight concussion, a little trauma, just rest and rest.”

“That’s good, since the doctor said its okay, don’t worry about Yan Yan, come back to rest at night? Let your dad pick you up, mom go to the hospital to guard?”

“No need for mom.” Jessica sat on the hospital bench, and shook her head while answering the phone: “I can just keep it by myself. It’s also very hard for you to take care of the children. Rest early.”

After hanging up the phone, Jessica closed her eyes and leaned back tiredly, Stella quickly supported her: “its okay? Or you should go back to rest and let Mo Shen and I stay there at night.”

After the incident, Jessica also called Stella, and Stella came with Ye Moshen right now.

After Stella had spoken, Ye Moshen also glanced at Jessica, “Well, she and I are guarding here, there will be no problem.”

“Thank you.” Jessica shook her head after thanking him, “but I want to wait for him to wake up.”

Today, Jessica was really frightened.

Until now, the injury on her foot had not been dealt with, and she was relieved just waiting for the hospital to say that he was okay.

“You can wake up by guarding him, we won’t stop you, but you have to deal with the injury on your ankle first, right?” Stella suggested: “You don’t deal with it now, wait until my brother wakes up and watch when you look like this, he will definitely be worried. He will be hurt by then, and he will worry about you.”

Jessica felt that what she said was reasonable, "Okay, then I will take care of the injury on my foot."

After that, Stella and Ye Moshen took Jessica to deal with the ankle injury, and then sent her back after the treatment.

Ye Moshen saw his wife Stella busy going in and out. He was really distressed. He pulled her aside and whispered: "I asked the driver to come over. After the meeting, you will go back by car first. I'm here tonight. Stay with her here."

"No." Stella immediately shook her head, "How can you stay with Jessica?"

Hearing, Ye Moshen couldn't help but raised his eyebrows: "What do you mean by this? Do you think I would be interested in women other than you? Or do you think I have some ulterior motives? Stayed?"

After hearing this, Stella almost choked on her saliva.

"What are you talking about nonsense?" Stella reached out and pinched her arm in silence, "What's in my mind? I don't want you to stay with her for fear that she will be uncomfortable. People are guarding their husband, what's the matter if you are staring beside him? Or should I guard with her and you will go home to take care of the little bean sprouts."

"No." Ye Moshen immediately rejected her idea: "Let my wife stay in the hospital all night, how can I rest assured? There is a maid at home, and the child will be fine, I will accompany you."

In the end the two stayed together, Jessica stayed in the ward, Stella and Ye Moshen stayed outside the ward.

The cold aggravated as the night entered, and Ye Moshen directly took off his coat and put it on Stella, and then took her into his arms.

Stella's lips were a little pale because of the cold, Ye Moshen was so distressed that he whispered at her, "Do you know that it's uncomfortable? I told you to call you back before. You must be cold here. Go in and stay with her. There are quilts and beds inside, and there is still a place to squeeze with her."

Stella's face turned pale with coldness, but still staring at him: "Then what about you? I'm going in, and you'll be alone, aren't you alone?"

"Why? I am a man, and I still need you to worry about it? Your man is strong and strong, can this bit of cold stump me?"

Stella hugged his thin waist tightly, buried her face in his arms, and muttered: "I don't want to go in, we might not get cold if we hold it tightly."

Hold tight?

This is a good idea, but the cold is overflowing, and the hospital ward is not a hotel. Opening a ward to sleep in is simply taking up resources. Moreover, there is a shortage of wards recently, and there is indeed no extra ward here.

Ye Moshen wanted her to accompany her. The two of them hugged her tighter, but she felt sorry for her cold, so she didn't agree in the end.

"What hug? Get up quickly and go in and sleep in. You can get your coat back when you go in."

"The petty guy, it turned out to be a coat, and he said he was strong, a liar!"

Ye Moshen didn't argue with her much. For fear of arguing a few more words, she would stay outside here for a while, then take the coat back, and then push Stella into the ward.

"Go in and rest."

After Stella was pushed/into the ward, the door of the ward was closed, and Jessica also raised her head. Seeing Stella coming in, she got up and walked to her side.

“Stella, why are you still here?”

“Silly Jessica, how can we rest assured that we will leave you a girl in the hospital at night? Besides, Victor Han is my brother and Mo Shen is his brother-in-law, so it is reasonable for the two of us to stay here. Don’t think too much. “

“Nevertheless, I still don’t want you to suffer and suffer with me here. In the evening, I can actually keep it by myself.”

“Alright, don’t say anything. Let’s take turns. I will sleep for a while, and then you will sleep for a while in the middle of the night. We will change shifts. Mo Shen will have nothing to do outside.”

Stella quickly decided the direction of the matter.

Seeing that she was so persistent, Jessica didn’t say anything.

Jessica sat on the side of the hospital bed anxiously, looking at Victor Han, who was pale, her heart hung up.

How could this happen? Is it because I haven’t had a good rest recently, so the accident happened while driving?

Fortunately, it was only a minor concussion. If it were more serious, Jessica and the two children would not know where to cry.

But even though it was just a slight concussion, Jessica’s three souls and six souls were scared away by half.

Before, she was lost and panicked, but now looking at Victor Han's peaceful face and breathing smoothly, she felt her heart calm down.

"You must not have an accident." Jessica said this in her heart, and only she could hear it.

Second day

It was noon when Victor Han woke up.

Stella went back to rest, and Janis made some food and sent it to the hospital.

Talking with Jessica quietly in the ward.

"It's too tiring during this period of time. Otherwise, why would you hit the guardrail? I said let me help you bring the children. You young people just don't listen. Now it's okay. You regret it if something happened during the day? To go to work at night, you have to take care of the children. Even the robot needs a rest."

Chapter 1513

Janis's sentence after sentence, Jessica could hardly lift her head, because she also regretted that she didn't take her children to other places hard at the time, and Victor Han got up every night to change urine for the children milk powder.

When she found out, Victor Han had already done all these things.

"Mom, stop talking."

She now has only deep self-blame in her heart. She has already planned to go back to sleep with her two children in another room by herself, take care of her at night, and then take part-time sleep to take the children during the day.

Anyway, she didn't need to go to work for the time being. Before the two children could move around freely, Jessica felt that she had to take good care of them.

Besides, the ramen shop's business has parents to take care of her and it is not without income.

As for Victor Han, he really has to let him rest. This kind of thing happens once, but it can't happen again.

"You still think mom is nagging, don't you? Although mom is nagging, it's all for you and Victor Han. Well, after this time, I and your dad will bring the two children. You only need to drink milk powder. My father and I will take it with you. You will go back to the ramen restaurant to help, and then Victor Han will go to work. You don't have to worry about the two children."

Jessica shouted to Mom in dissatisfaction.

"Why? You don't worry if you leave the child to me and your dad. You used to be my own. I have more experience in raising children than you."

"It's not that I don't believe in you and Dad. It's just that I am a new mother. He wants to be a father. These two children are our treasures. We want to bring them ourselves."

"Bring your own, you have to have the ability to take it, make so much money, if your body is messed up in the end, what's the use of more money."

"If you want to bring a child, you should take your child seriously, and you want to take your child, and you want to go to work. How can there be such a good thing in the world, the body is not made of iron, anyway, it is so decided, and then I will bring the child, or you don't go to work."

Janis's tone is absolutely inconsistent.

When Victor Han woke up, he heard the two arguing.

At the end, Jessica lowered her voice: "Alright, Mom, let you take it if you want. Victor Han is still in a coma. Keep your voice quieter, don't disturb him."

"Oh, now I know that it hurts my heart. I used to run up to make milk powder in the middle of the night, and when I was going to work during the day, I didn't know how it hurts."

"Really, I don't know how to say it, this girl has a big heart. For her daughter, Janis was also speechless."

Victor Han moved his fingertips and looked at the little woman standing next to the hospital bed.

She was still wearing yesterday's outfit, her hair was messy, her eyes were dark, and she looked worried and haggard.

It seems that she has stayed here since her accident.

Because the mother-in-law was here, Victor Han closed his eyes again.

After a while, Janis began to urge Jessica: "Okay, it's not enough to stay overnight. He hasn't woke up so quickly. You go home and wash, then take a rest, and come back at night."

Jessica shook her head persistently: "Mom, I will stay here until he wakes up. I have eaten things, and I have strength now, can you not urge me?"

“Bad girl, if it wasn’t for you to be my daughter, do you think I would rush you?”

“Okay! Mom! The two children in the family still need you to take care of, so please help me take care of them. It would be nice to have me here, and I did not sleep. Last night, Stella helped me guard for half the night. I also slept for a few hours. If I stay sleepy, I’ll just lie here and sleep for a while. It won’t be much.”

In the end, he said badly, and finally left Luo Janis without telling him. The tired Jessica gasped.

Before she turned her head, there was a hoarse voice behind her, “Thank you.”

Jessica’s heart shook, this voice is...

She turned her head quickly. It happened to meet Victor’s cold eyes.

“You are awake, there is nothing uncomfortable, right?” Jessica rushed over quickly.

She rushed to the hospital bed, watching Victor Han’s eyes full of earnestness and care, but Victor Han noticed that she was covered with gauze on her legs, and when she walked over, the footsteps were obviously lighter and heavier.

Immediately, Victor Han frowned: “Are you injured?”

“You just woke up, is there any pain? I’ll call the doctor to avoid problems.”

Jessica got up in a panic, but Victor Han reached out and grabbed her thin white wrist.

“Victor Han?”

“I’m okay.” Victor Han’s voice line was particularly low, his eyes fell on Jessica’s lap, and he wanted to sit up, but Jessica held her shoulder and pressed it back.

“Don’t get up first. You have just woke up. It’s better to call a doctor over for a check. This is safe.”

Jessica is really worried about her safety.

Victor Han said helplessly: “If you care about it, it’s messed up. I’m fine now. Tell me first, you hurt your leg?”

Jessica bit her lower lip, her face was a little ugly and explained, “I just twisted it accidentally, it’s not in the way.”

“Twisted?” Victor Han ignored Jessica’s obstruction and sat up. As a result, due to excessive force, a dull pain came from his head. He had to stop his movements and did not dare to move forward.

“Is it all right?”

“It’s okay.” Victor Han sat still for a while before reaching out his hand to her: “Sit on the bed and let me see the injury on your foot.”

Jessica originally wanted to reject him, but seeing the expression on his face did not allow her to question him, she sat up and said, “Actually, I accidentally twisted it while running. Later, when you were in a coma, I had asked a doctor for help. I’m overwhelmed. I just need to wrap my feet for a few days and nothing will happen.”

As she spoke, she looked at Victor Han cautiously.

“So, you don’t have to worry about my injuries, now your injuries are more important.”

Victor Han caught her restless feet and whispered softly: “To me, nothing is more important than you.”

Hearing, Jessica felt that her heart was hit hard by something, and it became soggy/numb, even though she knew it was not suitable for throbbing at this time, she still couldn’t control herself.

After that, Victor Han carefully inspected the wound for her, and was relieved after the inspection.

“Did you rush over as soon as you heard about me and fell?”

“You got it right.” Jessica thought he was so powerful, he was obviously not at the scene of the crime, but she guessed everything clearly about her behavior.

“Stupid.” After she confessed, Victor Han directly reached out and knocked her head. This time it was really painful. Jessica didn’t expect that his hand would be so heavy. It took a long time for him to respond, and she was holding onto her head. The place, after realizing it, said: “It hurts.”

“It hurts?” Victor Han stared at her amusedly, “The reflex arc is so long? It hurts now?”

Chapter 1514

In fact, Jessica is not the reflection arc length, but she is thinking about other things, so she reacts more slowly.

She looked at Victor Han a little wronged.

Showing this expression made Victor Han stunned, and suddenly sighed.

He didn't expect time to pass so fast. His little girl has become the mother of two children, and he has also become a father.

Victor Han, who once thought he would never get married, now has a family.

Thinking of this, Victor Han stretched out his hand and pulled Jessica into his arms, and then rubbed her forehead that was hurt by him just now, softly.

"Sorry, I was a little anxious just now, didn't it hurt?"

Jessica didn't expect that he would apologize to her and rub her wounds. She was a little surprised for a while, but she was greedy for his embrace.

She wanted to nest in his arms, and she was afraid that he would be injured and physically weak, so she half-leaned and shook her head: "It doesn't hurt. If it really hurts, how can I react so slowly?"

She was afraid that Victor Han would blame her, so she said it didn't hurt.

Coupled with his warm fingers, gently rubbing her forehead, the previous pain has already gone away.

After that, Jessica thought of something. She raised her head and looked at him and asked: "You just woke up, do you really need to call a doctor to check it? After all, you have a concussion. Although it is only mild, I think still need to check."

Jessica was extremely worried anyway.

Looking at her like this, Victor Han felt that he would not be relieved if he didn't call a doctor over for an examination, so he nodded.

“Okay, please call a doctor for me, please.”

“What trouble is not troublesome?” Jessica glared at him and pursed her lips: “I’m your wife, what are you talking about?”

“Then I got out of bed and went out to see a doctor. On the way, Jessica still remembered the trouble he had told herself, always feeling kind and very uncomfortable.”

Later, the doctor came and checked Victor Han. After making sure that he was okay, he told him about the precautions and stayed in the hospital for three days for observation. If nothing else, he can be discharged home and recuperate.

“Thank you.”

After the doctor left, Jessica stood far away and did not come.

Victor Han leaned on the pillow, watching the little girl who had become a mother over there far away from him, and couldn’t help being a little curious, “What’s the matter? Standing so far, I offend you?”

Hearing, Jessica gave him an angry look and snorted.

“No, you are so polite, how could you offend me?”

Is he polite?

An old man thought about it for a while, and thought of saying to her just now, please ask her to find a doctor.

Did she feel that she was too polite, so she was angry?

“Just one sentence, is it worth your anger?” Victor Han looked at her helplessly and smiled, “Come here quickly.”

Jessica stood there, but didn't go over. After listening to his words, her expression became even more awkward.

“It's not a matter of one sentence, but... you don't seem to think of me as your own person at all.”

If he were his own, how could he tell himself trouble?

Victor Han stopped talking. Jessica thought he had nothing to say. After waiting for a moment, she found that Victor Han was about to get out of bed. She was shocked and walked quickly to help him.

“You didn't listen to what the doctor said to you just now? I asked you to stay in bed for a while. Why did you forget it just now? Do you still want your body?”

“I haven't forgotten.” Victor Han held her tender white wrist and pulled her into his arms with one hand. Jessica anxiously wanted to get up, Victor Han tightened her waist and forced her to death. Confinement is in his own territory, and the two are similar.

“I just want to talk to you, but you are too far away from me and you don't want to come over, so I have to go by myself.”

When he said this, his voice was low and hit Jessica's heart directly. Her face became unconsciously heated, and when he spoke, his confidence became weaker.

“I don't want to come here, I just...”

“It’s just what?” Victor Han leaned a little closer, slightly squinted at her and stared at her: “It’s just that I was angry with me because I was too polite?”

Jessica bit her lower lip and wanted to explain, but she didn’t know how to explain it.

She was a little annoyed before, but it wasn’t the one that was angry. It was just a little emotionally unpleasant, but the matter was not serious.

So when he wanted to get out of bed, she didn’t care about anything, and came over immediately.

But now Victor Han is speaking aggressively, getting closer and closer, as if he doesn’t intend to let her go.

“Ok?”

“Okay, okay.” Jessica raised her head smashingly and bluntly, “I think you are too polite. We are a husband and wife. I gave birth to two children for you. You had an accident yesterday. I rushed over in a hurry, and even stayed here with me when I was injured. But I did this not to get your thanks, but because I was worried about you and my wife cared about my husband. So, I don’t want to. These things that I have done have become your burden. I think we can take it for granted. When you are sick or uncomfortable, you can naturally call me to help you, and vice versa. The same is true for me. Isn’t the couple just watching and helping each other? You are so kind to me and make me worry about the future...”

Before she had time to say the latter words, Victor Han’s index finger pressed her lips to her, and she had no chance to say it.

“Don’t worry about it.” Victor Han sighed, as if inexplicably helpless, rubbed the back of her head and said: “You have done so much for me. I am not grateful, but distressed. In addition, those are not polite, but not I hope you have done too much for me. I am your husband, not the father of your child. I should take care of the three of you, mother and child, but now I have not fulfilled this responsibility. Instead, I want you to run for me if you are injured. Rear.”

The two of them have two ideas, but they are actually concerned about each other.

Jessica listened to it, and felt that the two of them had the same thoughts, and there was nothing left to argue.

She could only hold his hand and whispered: “I know you want to take care of us, but your body is not iron-struck, and I am an adult, I can share it.”

Victor Han looked at her with a smile.

“What are you laughing at?” Jessica reached out to poke his chin, and said angrily: “Do you know how worried I am when you have an accident this time? Do you know if you have some accident, I will survive? Go on.”

At the end, her eyes were red, and she looked at him with tears in her eyes.

Seeing her look like this, Victor Han felt that his heart was stabbed severely by something sharp, and he did not recover for many days.

When he returned to his senses, he had bowed his head and closed her mouth.

Chapter 1515

When the two kissed, a crystal teardrop slipped from the corner of Jessica’s eyes, which happened to hit the back of Victor Han’s hand, scorching hot.

When pulling her away, Victor Han pressed her into his arms, his voice was dark with a thick hoarse.

“No, I promise that there won’t be another time. I will never let myself go wrong.”

He lost three relatives in this world one after another.

So Victor Han knew how painful it was to lose a loved one. The dead didn’t know anything. Those who stayed had to lick their wounds every day and every second.

This kind of life is difficult and painful. Before he wanted to take all the responsibilities alone, but now thinking about it, what his little girl said was right.

Two people are together to help each other and work together to share.

Relying on one person’s strength is too meager and easy to collapse. The most important thing is that if he has any shortcomings, no one will fight for the three of them.

So this incident also taught Victor Han a big lesson.

Blindly supporting is not necessarily good.

After Victor Han woke up, Jessica occupied his hospital bed, and Victor Han stayed beside him while sleeping next to him.

However, Jessica was not sleeping peacefully, occasionally calling his name in her sleep, looking anxious, and scratching with both hands.

In the end, Victor Han stretched out his hand, and then Jessica grabbed his hand forcefully, like a fish that frequently died of thirst got water, and grabbed it firmly.

Victor Han glanced at her hand, his strength almost pinched a trace of her hand.

It hurts a bit, but his heart is very sweet.

This little girl is really full of herself.

Victor Han lowered his head, dropped a kiss on her white forehead, and whispered, "Go to sleep, I'm here."

After three days of observation in the hospital, Jessica stayed in the hospital.

During the period, Janis visited twice.

The last time was when she was about to be discharged from the hospital, Janis kept scolding her while she was outside the ward.

"You damn girl, you really have only your husband in your eyes. He is injured and you stay with the hospital every day. You don't even go home to have a look."

Jessica also felt that she was a bit awkward in the past two days, so she scratched her head embarrassedly, and stuck her tongue out apologetic: "Mom, didn't I see the two children being taken care of by you? So I am particularly relieved. You told me that day, you are more experienced in taking care of children than I am. I was brought up by you. It is my mother's credit that I am so strong now. So I can take the two children to my mother and I am particularly relieved."

"Cut." Janis didn't believe her remarks, and directly satirized her.

“Come on, right? When you see Victor Han, you are so fascinated. Now that I say you, you just turned around and flattered and looked at what happened before?”

After that, Janis hated iron and shook her head, “Oh, you girl, the whole one is a love brain. You said that your parents don’t have your genes. Why did it become like this when you came here? It was a good man. If you meet a scumbag, how can you behave?”

Janis is really fortunate that if her daughter’s confessional character really falls in love with a scumbag, then no one in the family will listen to it, then this life will really be ruined.

“Mom, fate has its own destiny, and I am not a love brain. Even if I am really a love brain, then I am also a love brain with three perspectives, destroying the family, and being a little mistress to pry into the corner of morality. I don’t know how to do anything. How could your daughter love a scumbag with such a great three-view?”

“Haha.” Janis sneered twice, staring at her daughter and said: “Are you still glorious if you dare to love your brain?”

“No, mom, I’m just explaining the process of one thing. Let’s put it this way, when our dad got into the hospital in a car accident, didn’t you also stay with the hospital?”

“Is there?” Janis had an expression that I had forgotten. “How do I remember that you accompanied me more than me? What should I do then?”

Jessica: “...”

Victor Han had only a slight concussion, and his physical fitness was good, so he recovered quickly. The doctor checked him again and was discharged directly after confirming that there were no problems.

So that afternoon, Victor Han and Jessica returned home.

The first thing after returning home is to take a shower to get bad luck, and wash away the bacteria in the hospital by the way. After everything is done, Jessica dares to hug her two children.

Although they haven't seen each other for only a few days, Jessica feels like she hasn't seen her own child in a century, and she told Janis when she was holding it.

"Mom, why do I feel like I'm fat?"

Hearing, Janis's mouth twitched, "Do you still want to say that you have grown taller? Where can I get fat in just three days?"

"It really feels a little heavier."

"Come on, come back from the hospital and hurry up to rest. Tonight, Mom will make some tonic soup for you two."

At dinner, Janis and Zhou's father came, and Janis personally cooked and boiled the soup.

When eating, Janis told Victor Han directly.

"Xiaoqing, don't blame your mom for speaking directly. This time you have something like this and it's not the same as your little brother. Your dad and I are very worried. Of course, Jessica was the most frightened. You two Young people are self-willed, and I don't take care of them when they are young. But after this incident, I feel that I have to say something."

Victor Han stood up straight, "Mom, you said."

Janis was satisfied with this attitude, so she said everything in her head.

“When I was in the hospital, I discussed with Jessica a little bit. In the future, the baby will be brought by our old couple. We are old and can’t get up and running with other things. It would be nice to help you bring the baby at home. As for us, we only have a little daughter in our entire life, so taking a child will not cause any unfavorable situations of favoritism. You young people want to fight for the game, you can, but you have to take care of your body first. People, all It has one nose and two eyes, two legs and two feet, one heart and one brain. There are limits to what can be done.”

“So.” Janis put down the chopsticks in her hands, “What do you think of Mom’s proposal? You two can go to work and we can bring the children. If you don’t want your children to bring us, then you should not sleep with your children. The child is too noisy at night.”

“Mom.” Victor Han said solemnly, “I think what you said was right, I was too arrogant before, and this time the matter can be regarded as a warning to me. Your proposal agrees and the child will be brought by you and dad. Jessica and I are also relieved.”

After speaking, Victor Han held Jessica’s hand and placed it on the table.

“We all agree.”

Chapter 1516

“Yeah.” Jessica nodded: “We have already negotiated. Parents and parents should bring the child. There is also a matter of naming the child. The two have not yet figured out a name. Victor Han meant to ask. Mom and dad / mean.”

“Name?” Janis and Father Zhou looked at each other, then looked back at Victor Han.

“The matter of naming should be left to you.” Father Zhou said in a deep voice, “After all, naming a child is to accompany the child’s life, and it can be considered a major event. Our husband and wife can help you bring your children, but we cannot Named exclusively/systematically.”

“Dad, that’s not what we mean. We want you to discuss it with Mom.”

Janis immediately answered, “Why don’t you understand the child? Why don’t you think about how your own name is called like this? Isn’t it because your dad and I don’t know how to choose a name? I just chose it casually. One, if you let us name your two children, it must be little X little O or something.”

Hearing, the corners of Jessica’s mouth twitched.

At this time, Zhou’s father awkwardly stopped Janis.

“Don’t say it as if our couple have little knowledge. If you want to name it, you and your couple should choose it.”

In fact, how could Father Zhou’s knowledge be poor? He was a serious graduate of a prestigious university, but his mind was not on the words at all, so the name was naturally simple.

For him, the name is a code name anyway.

My daughter can take it whatever she wants, but now the two grandchildren are different. This is the children of Victor Han and his daughter. Let them both take it.

Jessica wanted to say something more, but Victor Han held her hand again.

“Since my parents have said so, let me pick the name.”

In the dead of night, Jessica nestled in her husband's arms and asked while pulling his T-shirt.

"Did you think about a name for the two little boys?"

"I'll leave it to you about the name."

"Huh?" Jessica suddenly became puzzled when she heard it. When she was eating, Victor Han meant that he took it himself. Why did he let her take it now?

"You gave birth to the child through hard work, of course you came to pick the most suitable, you can call them whatever you want."

Victor Han squeezed her nose.

This is the cleanest day for the two after giving birth.

In the past, when two children were sleeping together in the room, they had to deliberately lower their voices when they spoke, for fear of waking one of them.

Now the two children are not in the room, so there is no need to lower their voices when they talk, and there are only two of them quietly around.

This long-lost feeling is really nostalgic.

Jessica kicked Victor Han's leg in the quilt, and whispered, "You are not afraid that I will take it randomly. Will you give your Han children a bad name?"

"If it doesn't sound good, it doesn't sound good. Who makes them our children?"

Jessica blinked, and she really remembered on the spot.

When she was thinking about the name, Victor Han did not say anything to spoil her thinking. Originally, Victor Han thought he would get two names tonight.

Unexpectedly, after a long few minutes, the little girl's long and even breathing came from her arms.

Victor Han lowered his head and glanced down. Sure enough, Jessica was already asleep. When she fell asleep, she was still holding his collar with her hands, showing no sense of security.

Alas, she can think of falling asleep even if she thinks of her name, did she think about it seriously, or did she not think about it?

However, there is no rush to choose a name, so take your time, Victor Han pulled the quilt to cover her, then put her in his arms, closed his eyes and went to sleep.

By the time Victor Han woke up the next day, Jessica was already lying next to him and looking at him.

Seeing him open his eyes, she immediately couldn't wait to speak: "I think of the names. Our two children are called Yangchen and Zixi. What do you think?"

Yang Chen and Zixi?

It sounds pretty good.

"Does it have any special meaning?" Victor Han had already acquiesced to these two names, and asked casually.

After all, he thought that he wanted to take these two names for a special reason.

She didn't know that the little girl's face changed slightly, and she pursed her lips and said: "If I said, I just thought these two names sounded quite easy, so I took it like this. Would you think I'm too shallow? "

Hearing, Victor Han's thin lips raised slightly.

"No, I told you to take it, you can take whatever you want, Yang Chen and Zixi, it sounds good."

"Then this is promised?"

"Well, Han Yangchen, Han Zixi, it sounds pretty good."

"Okay, the name will be confirmed, I will tell my parents then."

After that, Jessica told the Zhou couple the two names, and the Zhou couple had no opinion after hearing them, so the name was decided like this.

When Victor Han went to help the two children apply for the hukou, he saw that the Han family's hukou book showed Jessica's after his name was opened, and then the two children's.

There seemed to be a warm feeling in his heart, and his heart was burning with it.

He will not be alone anymore. Apart from his sister, he has his own family and three closest families.

After the name is determined, Jessica will call out the name when playing with them.

The older one was Han Yangchen, Jessica named him Jessicagyang, and the younger Han Zixi was called Xiao Xixi directly.

Jessicagyang was there all day, Xiao Xi shouted.

After the side stabilized, Jessica thought of Phillip who had sent herself to the hospital that day.

It was too sudden at that time. She didn't say a word to Phillip at the time. After the solution was now, she thought back on the day and felt that she was too much.

So Jessica bought a gift and went to Phillip's house.

She and Marry have become good sisters, so Marry Jiang was very happy when she opened the door and saw that the person was Jessica.

"Why did you come here suddenly? Don't send me a WeChat in advance."

After Marry Jiang welcomed her in and wanted to close the door, Jessica quickly stopped her and said, "I'll do it. It's not convenient for you to do anything because your stomach is too big now."

Then Jessica closed the door for Marry Jiang, then changed her shoes and went in with her.

"You should be giving birth soon, right?"

Marry Jiang nodded, "Well, the expected date of delivery is coming soon, but the expected date of delivery is also a rough date. I'm not sure whether it will be born early or delayed. Now I stay at home every day. If you come today or accompany me out take a stroll?"

Hearing, Jessica looked at her erect belly with some worry, and hesitated to reject her, "I think it's better to forget it? You're going out with a big belly now. You will be tired after walking for a long time. Stay at home with peace of mind and wait until you are finished."

Chapter 1517

"Want to go shopping after giving birth?" Marry Jiang supported her waist, and took a lot of effort to sit on the sofa, and said dissatisfiedly: "I am afraid that I will have no chance after giving birth. Son, and after giving birth, I have to take my baby every day. I can't just leave him at home and go out by myself."

"It's okay." Jessica gave her advice with a smile: "When the time comes, you can drink milk tea for your child, and then let your parents take care of it. You occasionally go out for shopping, what can you do?"

Speaking of which, Marry Jiang is really happy.

Her parents are alive, and Phillip's parents are alive, too. If twins are born, there will be a lot of relatives to help with them.

Marry Jiang and Phillip are both only children and only daughters, so the children born are definitely treasures in the eyes of the four elders.

Hearing this, Marry Jiang also felt that what she said was not wrong.

"You are right, but I still want to go out for a stroll before entering the delivery room, so you accompany me?"

"Really not!" Jessica shook her head and refused her very firmly: "You are going to have a baby anytime now. What if you want to have a baby when you go shopping? So you should stay at home, right? Now, where is Phillip?"

After talking for a long time, Jessica noticed that Phillip was not at home.

“When I went out, I was the only one at home, and he will not come back until one day after going out today. I am boring at home alone, so I want you to go shopping with me.”

So Phillip went out?

Jessica put the present on the table.

“Then it seems I can’t hand the thank gift to him personally.”

“Thanks?”

Marry Jiang didn’t understand, “It’s good, how can I thank him?”

“Victor Han had a car accident some time ago.”

“What?” Marry Jiang heard Jessica say that her husband had a car accident, and suddenly became nervous: “Is it all right?”

The nervousness was over, and he took a deep breath: “No, depending on how you look now, it should be okay. I was a little nervous just now, sorry.”

“It’s okay, you are also worried about me. The doctor told him that it was a slight concussion, and it’s all right after a good rest.”

“That’s good.”

“I ran into Phillip when I was in the supermarket that day, so he helped send me to the doctor, but there were too many things that day, and I was anxious to find Victor Han, so I didn’t have time to thank him at all. When the sky was down, I remembered to buy something.”

Ok?

Marry Jiang heard the point.

A few days ago, Victor Han had a car accident, and Jessica ran into Phillip at the supermarket. Phillip sent her to the hospital?

So, Phillip left her in the supermarket that day because Jessica?

For some reason, Marry Jiang felt that the saliva in her mouth seemed to become a little bitter. That day... didn't Phillip say that he sent a woman to the hospital?

He also said that she hurt her leg.

No, is this what he said, or is she speculating? Marry Jiang suddenly became a little confused. She didn't know what to say, and there was a booming sound in his ear.

At that moment, I felt as if her brain was hammered by something.

"Marry, Marry?"

Marry Jiang came back to her senses, and saw Jessica looking at her worriedly, and she smiled again.

"What happened?"

"This sentence should be me asking you."

Jessica looked at her worriedly: "Your face is not right after I said about Phillip just now, are you okay? Did I say something wrong?"

“No, no!” Marry Jiang regained her smile and waved her hand to explain: “I was just thinking that your husband was fine. You didn’t make a mistake, don’t worry.”

“That’s good.”

Although she said that, Marry Jiang’s expression on Jessica just now was very familiar. It seemed to be a disappointed and unexpected expression. Could it be that Marry didn’t know that Phillip sent himself to the hospital?

Or did Phillip not tell her?

If this is the case, it is easy for them to misunderstand, right?

Jessica didn’t know whether she should explain it or not, but at this time, let’s talk a little bit, and it seems that this place has become a little silverless.

If you don’t say anything, what if you misunderstand?

After thinking about it, Jessica decided to talk about the situation at that time.

“At the time, I was shopping in a supermarket. I received a call from Victor Han that Liushen Wuzhu had an accident. I wanted to go to the hospital with all my heart. When I got downstairs, I ran into someone. “I didn’t know it was Phillip that I ran into. Kindly asked him to take me to the hospital. I guess he probably saw my leg hurt, so he couldn’t refuse, so he sent me.”

Her words and the shopping guide at the time were right.

So Marry Jiang soon heard that she was not lying.

However, she still felt a little uncomfortable.

Why didn't Phillip tell her that this person is Jessica?

The relationship between these two people was originally more sensitive. Now I know that the person he gave off that day is actually Jessica, Marry Jiang's heart...

"It's okay." Marry Jiang shook her head with a strong smile: "I didn't think so much, are your legs okay? Are you all right?"

"Well, it's all right, I want to worry about you."

"Just put the gift here. When he comes back, I will definitely give it to you."

After that, Marry Jiang's performance did not seem to be any problem, Jessica chatted with her for a while before leaving.

After Jessica left, the room returned to quiet, Marry Jiang stood outside the door with a big belly, quietly.

What he thought was all the scenes of Phillip sending her to the hospital that day.

She came out of the fitting room, but she didn't even find a shadow. She waited there for a long time, but he didn't come back.

She knew that at this time, she should not be hypocritical, and she did not mind what happened that day.

She doesn't take it seriously.

But now that she knew that this person was Jessica, Marry Jiang's heart was not so relaxed.

Is she too hypocritical? Why does she feel empty in her heart?

Is Phillip still unforgettable for Jessica?

If not, why would he leave himself behind when he saw that she was injured, and left without even explaining?

No, no!

Marry Jiang shook her head hard, trying to throw these messy thoughts out of her head, she shouldn't be so crazy about it!

Phillip is not that kind of person, and she already knew his feelings for Jessica when she married him.

She has always known, so, what does she mind?

Somehow, Marry Jiang stood there for a long time, until her legs became sore, she recovered and walked to the sofa to sit down.

The eyes are a bit hot and the nose is a bit sour.

The more Marry Jiang controlled herself not to think about it, the more she would think about the things that Phillip was still unforgettable with Jessica.

All day long, she thinks about this.

Why didn't he tell her? She wouldn't mind if he told her directly, did he dare to say it, or did he feel unnecessary to say it?

Chapter 1518

After Jessica left, Marry Jiang thought about this, and she didn't even have time for dinner.

She had been sitting on the sofa, not knowing when it was dark, and then she did not go to cook.

When Phillip came back, he opened the door and found that the room was completely dark.

He frowned immediately, thinking that Marry was going to play mischief again, but he was not at home for one day, and she was in a mess.

Snapped!

As a result, as soon as he switched on the chandelier in the living room, Phillip saw Marry Jiang sitting on the sofa without saying a word.

Marry Jiang sat there with a dazed expression, like a wandering soul, and her face was not good.

Phillip was stunned for a few seconds before quickly walking in front of her.

“Noob?”

After calling several times, he brought back the sage given by Marry Jiang.

Looking at Phillip in front of her, she looked at him anxiously, Marry Jiang was stunned for a moment.

“What's wrong? Is it about to give birth? Or is it uncomfortable? Let me make a call?”

After all, Marry's expected delivery date is nearby. Liang Yahe told him that the expected delivery date is only an approximate number of words. If something unexpected happens, she can deliver in advance at any time.

Today, although Phillip was working outside all day, all he had in mind was Marry.

She was in a daze at first, but when she came back, she found that she hadn't turned on the light, thinking that she was not at home. Who knew she was sitting on the sofa in a daze, so Phillip could only think of this reason.

It's just that Marry Jiang was asked a few sentences by him, but she just stared at him blankly without answering his words.

Phillip's heart hung up. When he turned to make a call, Marry Jiang reached out and grabbed him at this time.

Phillip turned around and looked at her.

"I'm okay." Marry Jiang reluctantly opened her lips and smiled, "No need to call or go to the hospital."

"But..." Phillip twisted his eyebrows tightly, always feeling something was wrong, but Marry Jiang said that she was fine.

"I'm just a little sleepy and almost fell asleep."

After speaking, Marry Jiang stood up, but because of sitting for too long, her legs were numb when she got up, and she almost fell off. Fortunately, Phillip reached out and supported her in time.

"Really all right?" Phillip was still worried.

“It’s really okay.” Marry Jiang shook her head, took a deep breath, and then said: “Don’t worry, I’m just a little sleepy. Just go to sleep.”

After speaking, Marry Jiang pushed Phillip’s hand away, and then walked toward the bedroom with a big belly.

She tried her best to walk calmly, not wanting Phillip to see a serious problem, until she entered the room and sat on the bed, Marry found that she had lost all her strength.

She lay down unconsciously, her eyes staring at the ceiling blankly.

Don’t be like Marry Jiang, he was just the hospital that Jessica sent her to because of her foot injury. The situation was urgent, and he chose one of the important things to do, which could not blame him at all.

And most importantly, she can accept other people, why can’t she accept Jessica.

She thinks too much by herself, too unreasonable.

Can’t think about it anymore, Marry Jiang constantly wants to get rid of those boring thoughts from her mind, but no matter how hard she tries, those thoughts occupy her thoughts as if they have grown roots, and can’t get rid of them.

Can’t be like this, she can’t be like this.

She and Jessica are already good friends, and we must consider good friends.

No, she didn’t stop Phillip from helping Jessica, but why didn’t she tell him?

Obviously there are so many opportunities to explain, but he just didn't say her name.

Thinking of the end, Marry Jiang fell asleep tiredly.

As a result, the dream was all about being left in the supermarket that day. When she came out of the fitting room, she couldn't find Phillip. She kept calling his name without responding.

Then as soon as the screen changed, Marry Jiang saw Phillip hurriedly holding Jessica into the car, completely forgetting that he still had a wife with a big belly.

"Marry, Marry."

A voice came from far away, Marry Jiang shook her head while sweating coldly.

Liang Yahe and Phillip were both watching by the bed, and seeing Marry Jiang's appearance, Liang Yahe said: "It should be a nightmare. You gently wake her up, don't scare her."

Phillip was helpless.

Liang Yahe took her collar and lifted him away, "Let me come, you go away."

"Marry, wake up soon, Marry~" Liang Yahe's voice was particularly gentle, but it took a long time for Marry Jiang to wake up.

After Marry Jiang woke up, she opened a pair of eyes full of water vapor, and in the blink of an eye, crystal tears slid down the corners of her eyes.

Come on.

Tears were instantly absorbed by the pillow.

Seeing this, Liang Yahe and Phillip were stunned for a moment. After looking at each other, Liang Yahe immediately became nervous.

“Marry, what’s the matter? Isn’t the nightmare scary? Why are you crying?”

After being asked by Liang Yahe, Marry Jiang was caught off guard. She didn’t expect that she would shed tears. Was it because she was so sad in her dream that she cried?

Thinking of this, Marry Jiang reached out and touched the corner of her eye, and when she saw her fingertips stained with crystal tears, she smiled unconsciously.

“I was scared to cry?” Marry Jiang sat up with an embarrassed expression on her hands, but it was difficult for her to get up, so Liang Yahe hurriedly helped her.

The same is a woman, so Liang Yahe keenly sensed that Marry Jiang’s emotions were wrong, “Did you have a nightmare? Have a nightmare, tell mom.”

After speaking, Liang Yahe turned her head and glared at Phillip, “Phillip, you go out first.”

Phillip was very worried about Marry Jiang’s situation, but she refused to go to the hospital, so Phillip called Liang Ya and come over.

Unexpectedly, Liang Yahe let him out.

But after thinking about it, Phillip turned around and left the room.

“By the way, close the door of the room.”

After Phillip closed the door of the room, Liang Yahe turned to Marry and asked softly.

“Did Phillip do what I’m sorry about you? Tell your mother that she will clean him up for you.”

Marry Jiang didn’t expect her to be so sensitive, she just woke up in her sleep and shed a tear, and she didn’t show up, but Liang Yahe guessed it right away.

Therefore, it is true that women know women best.

“Mom, I’m fine, Phillip didn’t do anything to be sorry for me, don’t worry about it.”

“How is it possible?” Liang Yahe didn’t believe it, shook her head and grabbed her hand: “We are all women. Although I am Phillip’s mother, my mother’s heart is toward you, so you don’t have to Fear, just tell mom if you have anything, and mom will decide for you.”

“Mom, it’s really okay.”

“Don’t lie to me, Marry, your emotions and eyes are not right at all, Mom can see clearly.”

Marry Jiang knew that she probably couldn’t keep the secret, so she didn’t deny it anymore, just said: “Mom, I do have emotions, but I haven’t arranged my mind yet, so can I just say it?”

Chapter 1519

Marry Jiang said so, and if Liang Yahe kept asking, she would not know what was good or bad.

After all, she hasn't finished it yet, and if she keeps forcing Marry to say something, then it will be counterproductive.

So Liang Yahe nodded and patted her shoulder: "Well, that mom doesn't ask, but if you really can't hold back, you will lose your temper with Phillip. That kid dare not say anything, you can beat him and scold him. , But don't hold it in your heart, it won't be good if it's broken."

"Ok."

After being kicked out, Phillip stayed at the door and did not leave. Of course, he did not eavesdrop on the two of them.

But when Liang Yahe opened the door and came out, Phillip immediately greeted him.

"Mom, how is Marry?"

Seeing her son's impatient appearance, Liang Yahe snorted coldly, ignored him, and walked directly toward the living room.

Seeing that she was ignoring him Phillip wanted to open the door and go in. Who knew that as soon as his hand touched the doorknob, Liang Yahe turned her head and shouted, "You, stop me?"

"Mom?"

"Get the old lady into the living room, Marry wants to rest, do you want to go in and quarrel her again?"

Helpless, Phillip had to withdraw his hand, and then followed Liang Ya to the living room.

“Is Marry uncomfortable? It’s the expected date of delivery recently. Should we move to the hospital?”

“Why did you go to the hospital? You asked her to go to the hospital. Do you want to die?”

Phillip was scolded, and he didn’t know what to say for a moment.

“It’s normal for pregnant women to be emotionally changeable and suddenly upset?”

“The reason?”

“I don’t need a reason!” Liang Yahe cursed, “she was pregnant, so hard. I didn’t see her having a big belly. I got angry if I wanted to be angry. Where is the reason and reason needed? Phillip, Phillip, I You are a son like you. I have watched you from childhood to age. If you bully my Marry and run away, I can’t spare you!”

Phillip heard these words inexplicably.

Since Dae and Marry became boyfriend and girlfriend, Phillip has been holding her in his palm for her, and has never said a serious thing to her. Where did the bullying come from?

“Mom, how could I bully Marry?”

“You are not bullied now, but what if you accidentally annoy her?”

Hearing this, Phillip frowned, "Marry told you? She was angry with me? Where did I go wrong?"

"What are you in a hurry?" Liang Yahe snorted, "Marry is just having a nightmare. The words I told you are just a warning to you when I am a mother. Treat Marry well, and the girl will marry you. It is the blessing that you cultivated in your last life. If you don't cherish it, you will suffer in the future."

"It turned out to be mom's lesson. It scared me to death. I thought I provoke Marry."

Phillip clutched his chest/mouth, obviously relieved.

Seeing him like this, Liang Yahe wanted to kill him!

"I said it for a long time, but he didn't even hear a word. I really mad at her!"

"Boy, tell me the truth first, how did you solve the matter you were in the supermarket that day?"

"What about the supermarket?" Phillip was a little at a loss when he mentioned this. "Didn't the matter of that day pass? Mom, why did you mention it again?"

"Passed?" Liang Yahe sneered, "You are really stupid to say that you are stupid. You left Marry in the supermarket by yourself, and you want to say that you passed without compensation afterwards? Are you a silly? "

Phillip twitched, "Mom."

"Marry is going to give birth soon, don't let me drop the chain, immediately coax her to make her happy, if something happens to her, I will definitely not let you go!"

Although Phillip didn't know what happened, he understood through Liang Yahe's words. After all, he did something wrong in the supermarket that day. He shouldn't leave Marry alone in the supermarket.

She said it was all right, and passed, he actually took it.

Never thought of making up for it, but now being reminded by Liang Yahe, Phillip also feels that he should do something.

So the next day, Phillip went to buy a longevity lock for the unborn child, as well as new big-brand ear studs, and gave it to Marry as if it were a treasure.

Marry Jiang's mood has not been high since yesterday, and her expression was faint when she saw him taking things to her.

"Bought it for you and your child, see?"

Marry Jiang took it and opened it and took a look.

She didn't respond to the gift she bought, and when she saw the longevity lock she bought for her child, Marry Jiang's eyes visibly moved.

The white fingertips gently stroked the lines on the longevity lock. While cherishing it, she was cautiously afraid of being damaged. After a while, she picked up the longevity lock.

"Do you like it?" Phillip asked like a treasure.

"Like."

Marry Jiang held the longevity lock and nodded gently, "I like it very much, thank you."

Hearing that thank you, Phillip's smile faded a bit. I don't know why, but he always felt that Marry's mood was very low. According to Liang Yahe, pregnant women suddenly felt bad mood. It's normal, let him take care of it.

Especially in recent days.

So Phillip directly took maternity leave in advance, planning to accompany Marry Jiang all the time these days.

"What happened in these two days?"

Marry Jiang raised her head and looked at him with a smile.

"Phillip."

"Ok?"

"You said we gave birth to a boy or a girl?"

She suddenly raised the child's gender issue, Phillip reacted after a while, and then said, "Boys and girls are fine, as long as you give birth to them, I like them."

Listening to this, it's so touching.

The smile on Marry Jiang's lips became softer, and her voice became softer.

"If it's a girl, call her Xiao Rou, if it's a boy, call her Xiao Wang, OK?"

"Have you thought about your name?"

"Well, I thought about it these past two days." Marry Jiang nodded: "I just thought about it, and I think these two names are good, what do you think?"

Phillip didn't think so much and nodded.

"If you think it's good, that's good."

Marry Jiang smiled, lowered her head and continued to look at the longevity lock in her hand, while saying: "Also, in the future, don't let your children go to the kindergarten too early. There are too many teachers with children. If you let him go, He may not be able to take care of it, so I have to wait for him to grow older."

Listening to this, Phillip felt a little strange, but he still didn't say much, and nodded according to Yan, "Okay."

"Well, this is our only child. You must be nice to the child. You can't beat him or scold him, you know?"

Phillip: "Okay."

Marry Jiang smiled and said: "If you want to find a stepmother for your child, you can, but you must ensure that the stepmother is good to the child, or else..."

This time, Phillip frowned deeply. Before she could finish her words, Phillip hurriedly interrupted her: "Marry, what you are talking about?"
