The entrance of the small town.

Aniu's uncle and nephew were still there.

They looked at the thousands of kilometers of traffic in the town, and looked at the sky beyond the town, but their mood was uneasy for a long time.

After all, what happened on this day is really shocking.

They only feel that the big people they have seen in their entire life, added up, are not as many as they are today.

The top leaders of Denham City and the leaders from all over the city gather together.

All kinds of luxury cars, various license plates, so that the two uncles and nephews who have never seen the world were shocked and addicted.

However, since the last time the convoy entered the town, the world has calmed down.

“It looks like the guests of the Ye family are over.”

“Aniu, let's go, too.”

“Go to the old house of the Ye family and join in the fun.”

The old man greeted his nephew, Aniu, and was about to go back.

However, as soon as the two of them turned their heads, there was an explosion in the distance behind them.

The engine roared and the cylinder burst.

Chapter 1570 Mark’s Domineering

He turned around, looked at his uncle, who had been arrogant for a lifetime, with a playful look, and suddenly listened with interest.

He really wanted to know, now, what pride is there for his uncle?

What do you want to say?

“Mark, I also know that you are now so prosperous that you are a blockbuster. You must feel that our hearts are full of regret.”

“I regret that I had no eyes and didn’t know the superior.”

“I regret that I was mean to you and looked down on you.”

“But, I just want to tell you that you are wrong, you are so wrong.”

“I don’t regret it at all!” “You are an abandoned son and a son-in-law. I didn’t look down on you before Ye Tian, and I still don’t look down on you now. “Yes, you are amazing. You can make the Denham Municipal Party Committee respectfully worship, and let Noifork powerful people bow and respect.”

“But, no matter how powerful you are, you can beat the army!” “No matter how powerful you are, you can pass the prestige. General?” “Don’t forget, my daughter Denren Ye, but the youngest major.”

“His mentor is the Huaxia general, who rules the army!” “Teacher for one day and father for life.”

“Single With this relationship, you Mark can’t compare to my daughter in the slightest.”

“Wait and see, when my daughter returns, it will be when you Mark regret it!” Ye Tian’s eyes were red, and he shouted at Mark.

In the words, there is anger and more arrogance.

The army is the important weapon of the country, the foundation of the country, and even more a symbol of strength.

Mark, even though he has great connections outside, what counts in the face of power?

After ten years, his daughter was appointed to worship generals, and upon an order, all 100,000 soldiers came to worship.

At that time, Mark, he was nothing but a wisp of dust at her daughter's feet.

Of course, not to mention ten years, but now, her daughter Denren led the special team members who drove over, and Mark was beaten into a dog for less than a minute!

In front of the army, what Ericson Li and Lei San Ye are all imaginary!

Wealth and status are simply vulnerable to strength.

Yes, this is where Ye Tian's pride lies.

After Mark heard it, he shook his head and smiled.

The laughter was full of sarcasm.

That feeling is like hearing the funniest joke in the world.

"Your daughter?"

"Major? General?" "It turns out that this is your pride."

Mark smiled contemptuously, looked at Ye Tian with a playful look, and continued talking.

"But you don't know yet?" "Just a few days ago, your proud daughter Denren invited me to dinner and asked me to be the captain and lead them."

"You know, how can I answer?" "Mark's words paused and continued: "I said, let me be their captain, she is not worthy!" "So, uncle, it's a pity, what you are proud of is not worth it in my eyes."

Just a mention!" "Don't say that a yellow-haired girl is his teacher, so the so-called old general has never been in my eyes!" "How about the major?" "How about the general?" "The power is in my hands!" "Even the general of the military region, when he saw me, he had to call Mr. Chu respectfully."

Mark said so domineering.

In an instant, the entire Ye Family House was full of Mark's anger.
