

Catch Me If You Love Me Chapter 167

Zoey Gu was startled, raised her head and looked at the old lady with tears in his eyes, wondering what she meant.

The old lady pulled her lips, walked slowly to Zoey Gu, and suddenly smiled inexplicably.

“I gave Liam the antidote, opened his fetters, gave you freedom, and let you go. Not really to keep you together, but to prove that you can’t be together at all.”

“Why don’t I make a bet with you?”

Not long after Mrs. Lu left the living room, Liam Lu strode over like a gust of wind.

“Zoey!”

He squatted down in front of Zoey Gu in a few steps, and reached out and lifted her chin.

Seeing her eyes were red, her face was full of tears, and there was a clear five-fingerprint on one cheek.

Liam Lu’s eyes flashed, and his face instantly became cold.

“The old lady hit you?!”

He let go of her and got up suddenly, Zoey Gu stretched out her hand to hold him tightly, and shook her head gently.

“I gave her medicine. A slap is nothing. The old lady didn’t do anything to me.”

“Then what’s wrong with you?”

When he asked, Zoey Gu only felt sore in his nose, and the unbearable feeling of heartache came to his heart again.

She looked at Liam Lu with red eyes, choked up and asked.

“The old lady said, you and Ben are not forty years old. Is this... true?”

As if she hadn’t expected her to ask this at all, Liam Lu was taken aback, the stern expression on his face quickly faded, replaced by an obscure and gloomy look.

After a long while, his thin lips lightly opened, and he only said one word.

“Yes.”

Zoey Gu's heart trembled, and tears fell fiercely again.

At this moment, Liam Lu only felt that his heart was filled with blood.

He closed his eyes, looked down at Zoey Gu's trembling shoulders, and said in a dumb voice.

"Zoey, forgive me for being selfish, I have never confessed this to you. The genetic disease of the Lu family man can only be relieved, not cured."

The reason why he was hesitant to tell her was because even he was the lofty young master of the Lu family, the proud son of heaven.

But he is also Liam Lu, an ordinary man who is selfish and wants to have it for a short time even if he can't have it forever.

But seeing Zoey Gu's tears, he compromised.

"If you hate me for deceiving you, everything is still too late. We are not yet a husband and wife, you can always..."

As he spoke, he suddenly felt that his hands were no longer qualified to continue touching her, and he hesitated to take it back.

The next second, Zoey Gu suddenly raised her head, took his hand, opened her mouth and bit down.

"hiss..."

Liam Lu curled his eyebrows, but did not move, letting her bite his wrist wantonly to vent her emotions.

After a long while, Zoey Gu had bitten enough and vented enough, throwing away his hand, raised his head and said to him.

"Liam Lu, let's get the certificate."

Liam Lu was startled, subconsciously thinking that he had heard it wrong, "What did you say?"

Zoey looked at him with surprise eyebrows decisively, suddenly burst into laughter, and smiled softly at him.

"I said, we will get the certificate tomorrow, and we don't have to wait to return to Berven City, we will get it immediately.

Liam Lu was still dumbfounded.

“Aren’t you afraid that I can only live to forty?”

Zoey Gu sighed helplessly.

“What can I do then? Who made me recognize you. For the next ten years, I can only cherish every day. Ten years have passed 50 years.”

“After I leave, you may suffer a lot like my mother.”

“I like Mother Lu. From now on, I can also help you take care of her.”

Zoey Gu was trying to persuade him at the same time he was trying to persuade himself, and slowly, suddenly he smiled.

After a pause, I suddenly remembered something, and my heart felt sad again.

“But something...”
