

Chapter 167

She was pregnant now. Pregnant women could not use medicine!

That would affect the baby in her belly. How could they use medicine?

At the thought of this, Alyssa became a little anxious and grabbed Leon's hand even harder.

"There are some medicines that pregnant women can use. You shouldn't be nervous."

"Okay, I know."

After hearing Leon's words, Alyssa was no longer as nervous as before.

She approached Leon with an aggrieved face, and after a long time, she said, "Leon, stay with me, okay? I'm scared to be alone."

"I'm not leaving. You are here, so where can I go?" Leon took Alyssa's hand and made it clear that he would not leave.

Alyssa felt her hand being held tightly before she was relieved. She looked up at Leon, "Honey, I'm hungry."

"What do you want to eat? I'll go get it for you."

"No, don't go."

"?!"

Leon looked at Alyssa, not knowing what to say for a moment.

How was he going to get food if she wouldn't let him go?

Alyssa instantly became clingy and wouldn't let Leon leave.

She looked at Leon, aggrieved, "I don't care! You can't leave me. I'm sick, and you're going to be there for me."

Leon couldn't get angry but just looked at Alyssa affectionately.

He patiently came closer to Alyssa, "I'm not leaving. I'll stay with you. I'm going to ask Wendy to prepare some food for you. What do you want to eat?"

Alyssa nestled into Leon's arms, smiled, and hugged him, "I can eat anything. As long as you are with me, I feel good about eating anything. However, what I want to eat most is meat!"

Leon heard Alyssa's sweet voice and couldn't help but smile, "I'll do whatever you want. Then I'll ask Wendy to prepare meat for you."

Alyssa originally liked to eat meat. After she got pregnant, she was especially fond of meat.

Wendy quickly brought the meat over.

Alyssa ate the meat and felt her whole body regained energy.

Her fever had also gone down. The abnormal redness on her face had also become normal.

After watching Alyssa return to normal, Leon gently coaxed her, "Do you want to sleep a little longer? The doctor said before that you should rest more."

Alyssa nodded but took Leon's hand.

"I can't sleep until you sleep with me."

"We're in the hospital, and this is a hospital bed."

Alyssa immediately pouted with an unhappy face.

Leon hurried to Alyssa's side and hugged Alyssa, "Then we'll sleep together."

Alyssa was relieved and took Leon's hand even tighter!

They lay together on the hospital bed.

The environment here was not very good, but Alyssa soon fell asleep.

Early the next morning.

After the doctor checked Alyssa's body and made sure she was okay, Alyssa was discharged from the hospital.

Leon drove the car and took Alyssa back to the villa. Wendy went to work and Leon and Alyssa, who had just returned from the hospital, were left in the living room.

"Honey, hug." Alyssa pouted and pulled Leon's neck with one hand.

Leon couldn't stand Alyssa's approach. Yesterday, they lay in a small hospital bed and he couldn't stand it. He hadn't slept all night.

Now, she leaned in again. He felt his whole body tense up.

He wanted to push Alyssa away, but when he looked down into Alyssa's expectant eyes, he couldn't let go of Alyssa. He felt like letting go of Alyssa would be a crime.

He couldn't commit a crime, so he held Alyssa tightly and kissed her.

"Oh ... honey, what are you doing!"

Leon didn't say anything and kissed Alyssa seriously.

Alyssa frowned and tried to push Leon away, but she couldn't move at all.

She could feel that Leon was turned on. She kissed him uncontrollably.

Soon they rolled onto the couch. The couch was much more comfortable than the hospital bed yesterday, so soft and fluffy.

Leon's big hands squeezed Alyssa's waist to prevent her from accidentally falling off. They were like young boys and girls in love.

Wendy had just made breakfast and came out just in time to see them kissing each other passionately.

She hurriedly closed her eyes and turned away.

In the kitchen, Wendy could feel her cheeks burning despite her busy work.

When she thought of the image she just saw, she couldn't help but associate it with the scene in the TV show. Her face instantly turned even redder.

Half an hour later.

Alyssa looked at Leon with a red face. Her lips were now swollen like sausages. She could feel uncomfortable without looking in the mirror.

"It's your fault, it hurts."

"Let me see."

Leon looked at Alyssa's mouth and whispered, "It doesn't seem that bad."

"I can feel the pain. I'm sure people can see what I've done when I leave the house!"

Alyssa was aggrieved, but looking at Leon, she couldn't get angry. She could only pretend to be angry and look at Leon.

Leon smiled and gently stroked Alyssa's cheek with one hand, "It's better if you don't go out. You just stay at home, huh?"

"..."

Alyssa looked at Leon and noticed that Leon was in a good mood.

"Later, I'll eat something with you. You stay home and rest."

"Okay, then you'll have to stay with me." Alyssa pouted.

Leon hesitated, "There are a lot of things for me to take care of at the company. But I can come back at noon."

Alyssa turned down the corners of her mouth, "Forget it, I'll do as you say this time. However, you promised me that you would come back at noon. If you don't come back at noon, I'll be angry."

Leon had to go to work, and that was important.

She couldn't stop Leon from doing his job.

After breakfast, Leon drove to work.

Watching Leon drive away, Alyssa propped her head up and sighed.

Why did she have a fever?

She couldn't even take Leon to work now.

It was too boring to stay home alone, so Alyssa simply started working on her new case.

Javon Drink, whose current president was Javon Reed, was registered three years ago with three million yuan in capital.

After three years of growth, it was indeed bigger than it had ever been before. But now Javon Drink did have some difficulties in raising funds.

As far as she knew, Javon Drink hadn't created any quality brands, and it was even in negative equity once. In this case, it was not suitable for financing at all.

Alyssa felt the need to talk to Javon about it. After all, it was about the future of Javon Drink. One mistake could cause major problems for Javon Drink in the financing process.

Alyssa immediately dialed Javon's number, explaining who she was and what she wanted to tell him.

But Javon was insistent.

He insisted on Javon Drink's financing for the expansion.

Hearing Javon's request, Alyssa was at a loss as to what to do.

Putting down the phone, Alyssa propped her head up and looked into the distance. Her mind was filled with the sound of Javon's insistence.

She didn't understand why Javon insisted on financing Javon Drink before it got on its feet.

Well, she just put it aside for now.

It was almost noon, and she was in a much better mood because ... she saw Leon coming back. She jumped and ran towards him.

Leon saw her bouncing around like the two little rabbits they had.

Besides thinking she was cute, he was a little angry.

She was pregnant and still didn't behave.

However, she was really cute.

He couldn't even bear to scold her.

He lifted his hand and touched Alyssa's forehead. Making sure her forehead was not hot anymore, he took her hand, "How are you feeling?"

"I'm fine. I feel better now that you're back. You're back a little early today."

Alyssa looked at the time. It was just after ten in the morning.

Leon frowned. It was because he was worried that she didn't feel well that he had done all the work he could.

"Have you been idle at the office lately?" Alyssa asked.

"You'll know if I'm idle when you go to the office and work for a couple of days."

"Forget it. From the look of you, you should be quite busy."

Alyssa smiled and felt sweet.

She knew Leon had come back early because he was worried about her.

She was moved to take Leon's hand, "Come out for a walk with me!"

She hadn't gone out for a walk for a long time. Now Leon had time and they could go out for a walk together. She naturally wanted to make good use of this short time.

"Your body is fine?"

"I feel fine now."

Alyssa's mood was good and her body had recovered. Her eyes lit up when she looked at Leon.

When she smiled, her little mouth looked like a small moon hanging in the sky, drawing people's attention.

Leon nodded and went to the yard with Alyssa.

After the New Year, the temperature had not been very stable.

It only started to get warmer in the past few days. In the distance, there were a few splashes of fresh green that looked very nice.

Alyssa knew it was a new life. She turned her head to look at Leon, "Look, that's new life. The grass is sprouting. The weather is getting warmer, too."

Leon heard Alyssa's words and looked at her. Her eyes were bright and pretty. At that moment, she didn't look like a fawn in the forest, but more like Snow that they kept.

Her gaze was soulful and animated.

He couldn't help but move over to kiss her.

Alyssa felt Leon's kiss was gentle. She also looked at Leon with a gentle face and kissed him very seriously.

Leon's big hands tightened around Alyssa's waist. Although she was pregnant, her waist was as thin as ever. He felt that she needed to supplement her nutrition. She was too thin.

"Alyssa," Leon called her name softly in her ear.

Alyssa leaned on Leon's shoulder and asked softly, "Huh?"

"You need to eat more. You need more nutrition now that you're pregnant. I'm too busy at times to take care of you. You must take good care of yourself."

"Okay."
