

Chapter 1681: As You Wish

After a while, Jiang Yao laughed and said, "As you wish."

She could not be bothered to look at those people anymore. She immediately got into the back seat of the truck. She was so agile that she did not even need the soldier's help.

That soldier was a little stunned when he saw Jiang Yao get into the truck in the blink of an eye. He immediately praised Jiang Yao. "You've practiced before? Also, you're Miss Jiang, who's in charge of those students? Why do I feel like you're younger than them? I thought you were a student just now!"

Wu Boyan and the other men realized that Jiang Yao was angry, so he pulled Jing Mengjie's arm and tried to persuade her. "Don't tell me you and Li Hong brought only skirts and high heels?"

Jing Mengjie said, "What else? Who can stand wearing long pants in such hot weather like Miss Jiang and the rest of you?"

"I see that Miss Jiang seems to be angry. Why don't you and Li Hong go back and change while there's still time? Fortunately, we came out early," Liu Chao said.

"Last night, Miss Jiang called me to remind me to bring comfortable clothes. It's best to wear long pants and sneakers. If you have a long-sleeved jacket, bring two." Wu Boyan did not quite agree with what Jing Mengjie and Li Hong did. "When I saw you guys come out in skirts, I thought Miss Jiang forgot to tell you girls. But since Miss Jiang specifically told you guys last night, why are you still dressed like that? If it were me, I would be angry too. Are you ignoring Miss Jiang's words?"

"Even though Miss Jiang is younger than us, she is still the Professor's assistant. He had asked her to bring us to the army base. He must trust her very much and place a lot of importance on her. If you guys make her angry on the first day, will she complain to the Professor later?" Wang Meiyu said in a low voice.

She was older than Jing Mengjie and Li Hong, and she did not like to wear skirts. It was just that she had changed to long pants on a hot day, so Jiang Yao's explanation did not make her feel uncomfortable.

"I don't want to." Jing Mengjie turned her head away from her classmates. "I wear this in the summer. What's wrong with it? My parents didn't care about that. She's just a professor's assistant. Why does she care so much?"

Zheng Shibin, who had not spoken a word the whole time, saw that Wu Boyan could not persuade the two girls, so he said the same thing as Jiang Yao. "Suit yourself." Then, he also got into the car.

Jing Mengjie stomped her feet angrily, but she and Li Hong refused to go back and change.

She and Li Hong had just lost their dignity because Jiang Yao scolded them the previous night. If they changed, would they even lose more pride?

Wu Boyan and Liu Chao looked at each other helplessly. After waiting for Wang Meiyu to get into the car, they also got into the vehicle. Then, the four people in the vehicle saw Jing Mengjie and Li Hong, the two girls in skirts, standing outside, struggling to get into the car.

The military cars were quite high. Liu Chao, who usually did not like sports and exercise, needed the soldiers' help to get into the car. In that kind of situation, the girls in skirts would be at a disadvantage when they got into the car.

Jiang Yao sat there looking as if she could not see the two girls outside. The two ladies finally understood why Jiang Yao had given them those instructions the previous night.

"Why don't you two girls sit in the front, and I'll sit in the back."

Chapter 1682: Girls Love To Be Pretty

The soldier was also anxious because of the two girls in skirts. He walked up and pulled the other soldier from the back seat. Then, he asked the soldier in the front passenger seat to help the two girls into the car.

To those soldiers, girls in skirts were beautiful and eye-catching. However, girls in skirts were also a big problem for them.

They could not say anything since they were not soldiers.

After the two soldiers got into the car, they started to drive toward the military base. The two soldiers in the back seat were not familiar with that group of students, so they sat upright like statues.

As for Wang Meiyu and the three male students, they did not know what to say to ease the atmosphere because of Jiang Yao's fury at that moment.

It was not until half an hour later that the soldier who had spoken to Jiang Yao earlier interrupted the silence.

The soldier said, "Miss Jiang, is it alright for me to call you that? You are in charge of these students, right? After that, we can look for you directly if we have any problems."

Jiang Yao nodded. "Alright. There was no trace of coldness on her face when she spoke. She was still the young woman who could speak gently with a smile. "Most of us have never been to the army. So if we did anything wrong, you must correct our mistakes."

"It's alright. Even though there are many rules in the army, the rules aren't that serious for you." The soldier smiled. "When we arrive at the army base, the political committee will tell you the things you need to pay attention to in the army base."

When Wang Meiyu and the others saw that Jiang Yao seemed fine, they tried to speak with her again. They were relieved when Jiang Yao answered their questions. They thought, 'It seems that Miss Jiang's temper came and went quickly.'

However, Jiang Yao's temper did not come and go so quickly. Jiang Yao simply felt that it was not worth getting angry with them. She was kind-hearted, but some people might not understand her. At that moment, she was a bit talkative. It was better to wait until the troops left before she spoke to them again.

The car entered the military base after an hour and a half. It was not a place that Jiang Yao was familiar with, so it was obviously not Lu Xingzhi's special forces.

When the car arrived, Jiang Yao was the first to jump out because she was sitting on the outer side. Her posture was valiant, and the eyes of the soldiers waiting there lit up.

"Colonel Shao, that girl looks pretty good," Commissar Wang lowered his head and spoke to Shao Fucheng, who was beside him.

"Mmm," Shao Fucheng replied. Then, he and Commissar Wang walked toward the military car. After a few steps, his expression, which was initially quite happy, became ugly when he saw the two girls in skirts coming down from the vehicle.

"It's okay. It's okay. Who doesn't like to be beautiful? It's also our fault that we forgot to remind them when we were on the phone yesterday." Commissar Wang noticed the change in Shao Fucheng's expression, so he quickly comforted him. However, he wondered why the other two girls did not remind the two girls in skirts.

It was their fault that they had forgotten to remind the students.. After all, there were very few students in the army, so they failed to remind them about their clothing.

Chapter 1683: Don't Ask What You Shouldn't Ask

Shao Fucheng looked at the people carrying suitcases and then shifted his gaze to the oldest among the ladies. He asked, "Are you Miss Jiang?"

Wang Meiyu was shocked when she heard that. She shook her head and pointed at Jiang Yao, who was standing beside her. She said, "She's Miss Jiang."

"Ah? So young. She looks very young! Is she 18 years old?" Commissar Wang thought she was joking. After all, not many girls would reject a compliment about their young age.

"I am 20 years old." Jiang Yao smiled softly. "My name is Jiang Yao. I am Professor Ouyang's assistant. This time, I am in charge of bringing them to cooperate with the army's work."

"Then I'll call you Miss Jiang." Commissar Wang pointed at Shao Fucheng beside him and introduced him, "That is Colonel Shao Fucheng. He is in charge of this army exercise. I'll tell you the work details the day before the exercise. I want you to come to the army base early so that you can get used to the environment first. I also need to pass you the things you need in your work."

After that, Commissar Wang introduced himself. "My name is Wang Guobing. I'm a military officer and commissar. I'll be in charge of arranging your study and life in the army base for the next two days."

"What army base is this?" Liu Chao looked around and asked casually, "I thought that the troops would have something like tanks. I was so excited last night."

Shao Fucheng replied, "Don't ask what you shouldn't know. Even if you don't ask, someone will tell you what you should know. I hope that we can cooperate happily in this exercise."

After saying that, Shao Fucheng looked at Jing Mengjie and Li Hong's skirts for a second and said, "The army doesn't allow you to wear skirts. If you don't have pants, I will get someone to get you the training uniforms we soldiers wear during training. I hope you can cherish the clothes when you wear them. When you leave, you will need to return the clothes to the army."

The next second, Shao Fucheng quickly said, "The same goes for the shoes."

After saying that, Shao Fucheng greeted Commissar Wang and said he had something to do and left.

When Jing Mengjie saw that Shao Fucheng, who she could not offend, had left, her face fell. "Why can't I wear skirts?"

Li Hong was concerned about other questions. "What kind of training uniforms do the soldiers wear?"

Jiang Yao pointed at a soldier passing by expressionlessly and said, "Something like that."

It was summer, so the training uniform was a gray-green monochrome shirt and long camouflage pants.

Jing Mengjie and Li Hong's expressions instantly darkened. "Is it the same for female soldiers?"

Commissar Wang nodded. "Yes, only one team's training uniform is slightly different in the entire military base. The rest are all the same. The shoes that Colonel Shao mentioned just now are also military shoes like the ones he wore."

Jiang Yao had washed Lu Xingzhi's training uniforms, so she knew that the comfort of the training uniforms was only average. The fabric was not soft, but it had excellent abrasion and dirt resistance.

Jiang Yao smiled when she saw Jing Mengjie and Li Hong's ugly expressions. They disliked the training uniforms. However, she did not say anything.

She had reminded them, but they did not listen.

Their dormitory in the army base was temporarily vacated. There were four girls in one room and three boys in one room. The room was clean and tidy. It only had tables, chairs, beds, blankets, water bottles, and washbasins.. There was nothing else in the room.

Chapter 1684: Not A Bad Idea

"Everyone has a washbasin, a kettle, and a water cup under their bed. The condition in the army is a little harsh. I hope everyone can work hard to overcome it." After Commissar Wang brought everyone in, he let them rest for half an hour. He said that in half an hour, someone would take them to the canteen of the army for a meal.

Jiang Yao looked at the quilt folded into tofu blocks and felt troubled.

"Miss Jiang, do you think we will also have to fold the quilt like that in the next few days?"

Wang Meiyu turned her head and asked Jiang Yao.

"I'm not sure."

Jiang Yao was really at a loss at that time.

“What if we really need to do that?”

Wang Meiyu was quite worried.

“Then I will probably choose not to touch the quilt for the next few days,” Jiang Yao put her palm on her forehead and replied helplessly.

At home, when Lu Xingzhi was not around, she would usually get up after lifting the quilt. The way she tidied the bed was the same way she tidied the quilt on the bed as she did at home. If she was with Lu Xingzhi, it was usually Lu Xingzhi who would wait for her to get up before folding the quilt and turning it into a square piece of tofu.

Jiang Yao’s reply made Liu Chao and the others burst out laughing. “Miss Jiang’s method is not bad.”

The boys stayed in the girls’ room for a few minutes before leaving. They also needed to unpack their things.

Half an hour later, the training clothes and shoes for Jing Mengjie and Li Hong arrived. Shao Fucheng personally delivered them. After he handed the things to Jiang Yao, he said he would wait for them downstairs. Then, he brought them to the canteen for dinner.

Five minutes meant that Jing Mengjie and Li Hong had to change their clothes before going down.

Jiang Yao thanked him and then put the clothes on the table. “The two of you go and change your clothes and shoes.”

“Miss Jiang, can you tell Colonel Shao that we’re not female soldiers? Can we not wear such ugly clothes?” Jing Mengjie reached out to touch the training clothes and withdrew her hand. “Miss Jiang, the fabric is so hard. It’s uncomfortable! It’ll definitely wear off my skin.”

“Jing Mengjie.”

Jiang Yao said, “You and Li Hong should remember that I’m Professor Ouyang’s assistant. I’m not your mother or your assistant. There’s another thing I hope you’ll remember. From the moment you stepped into this army base, you’re representing our university and our mentor, Professor Ouyang.”

“Then, Miss Jiang, do you have any extra clothes and shoes for me to wear for a few days?” Li Hong did not dare let Jiang Yao plead on her behalf, so she could only find another way to avoid wearing such an ugly training uniform.

“No.”

Jiang Yao refused her. “I don’t know how long we need to stay here, so I can’t guarantee whether I have enough clothes. Most importantly, I warned you guys last night, but you insisted on doing whatever you wanted. The result of your willful acts is that you have to bear it yourself. Furthermore, that training uniform is not as ugly as you think, and it’s not as hard to wear as you say.”

Jiang Yao pointed at the training uniform on the table. “If it weren’t for this opportunity, you might not have been able to join the army in your entire life. You might not even be able to wear the clothes issued by our country. Be content.”

After saying that, Jiang Yao pointed at her arm, reminding Jing Mengjie and Li Hong that they had less than two minutes to change their clothes.

Then, Jiang Yao sat on the side and waited for Jing Mengjie and Li Hong to change their clothes. Wang Meiyu wanted to lend the clothes to Jing Mengjie and Li Hong, but it was apparent that the two girls did not like her clothes either, so she persuaded them to change their clothes quickly. She did not want to anger Colonel Shao, who did not look easy to deal with..

Chapter 1685: Miss Jiang Knows A Lot

When Li Hong and Jing Mengjie went to change their clothes, Wang Meiyu asked, “Miss Jiang, do you know what the military rank is a colonel? Colonel Shao seems to be very difficult to get along with, but he seems to have a very high position.”

“A colonel is the highest commander of a regiment-level unit in the army. It would be equivalent to a division commander if it were an administrative position. Colonel Shao’s military rank is colonel,” Jiang Yao explained to Wang Meiyu.

Wang Meiyu was still confused, but she understood the words division commander. She was shocked for a moment. Then, she sighed. “Miss Jiang, you know so much. How did you know that Colonel Shao has a military rank?”

“The epaulets.” Jiang Yao raised her hand and pointed at her shoulder. “The epaulets of each military rank are different.”

“Miss Jiang, you really do know a lot.” Wang Meiyu was speechless. It is no wonder Professor Ouyang chose her as his assistant at such a young age. Even though Miss Jiang was young, she knew more than they did.

The most important thing was that even though Miss Jiang was young, she was not easily bullied.

Judging from her attitude toward Jing Mengjie and Li Hong, she knew that Miss Jiang was not one to be trifled with.

Jing Mengjie and Li Hong took a few minutes to change their clothes. When Jiang Yao and the others left, they were already more than three minutes late. Jiang Yao thought that Colonel Shao had already left. After all, soldiers hated people who were late and disobeyed orders.

In any case, if Lu Xingzhi handled that matter, he would definitely leave immediately after five minutes. He might even make those who were late leave hungry.

Therefore, Colonel Shao was at least more gentle than Colonel Lu.

Liu Chao and the others looked at Jing Mengjie and Li Hong, who had changed their clothes. Their eyes were red as they lowered their heads and did not speak. They could tell that the two girls were holding back their anger and grievances.

“Actually, you look pretty in those clothes. You look good no matter what you wear. When you wear those training uniforms, you look brave and heroic.” Liu Chao comforted the two of them.

Jing Mengjie and Li Hong, who were originally unhappy, suddenly looked much better. When they saw that the two girls were about to smile again, they heard Shao Fucheng, who was walking at the front, suddenly say, "I don't think so."

"Colonel Shao..." Liu Chao was speechless.

"I can't find anything valiant or heroic about them. They're only students. Don't use words so carelessly." Shao Fucheng did not even turn his head to look at the people behind him. A sentence that was neither light nor heavy was meant for Jing Mengjie and Li Hong.

Jiang Yao held back her laughter somewhat unkindly and shook her head slightly. It was rare for her to see such a serious person like Colonel Shao. However, she felt that Colonel Shao was quite cute.

It was mealtime, so many people were in the canteen. Everyone was almost aware that a few graduate students from a university were at the army base, so when they saw Shao Fucheng with some new faces, they could not help but take a few more glances at them.

Wherever there were men, they would inevitably talk about girls. If there were one, they would talk about her. If there were a group, they would talk about them. They would compare which one of the girls was better looking.

"I think the one with the ponytail looks the best, but she seems very young.. If I didn't know that she was a graduate student, I would have thought that she was only 17 or 18 years old."

Chapter 1686: You Go First

"She is Miss Jiang, the youngest in that group. She's only 20 years old, but she's amazing. She's their teacher's assistant. She's in charge of bringing those students to our unit."

"Only 20 years old? Are you talking nonsense?"

"I'll eat shit if I'm lying! This morning, I was the one who drove to the university to pick them up."

"Eh, those two pretty girls' eyes are red. Did the Colonel bully them?"

"Of course! The Colonel doesn't show any mercy when he insults others. The words that come out of his mouth are just like the cold wind slicing through one's heart."

"Do you want to know something?"

"Why are you asking so many questions? Scram, don't disturb my meal!"

"Well, it looks like the Colonel really did make the girls cry. If you don't know why he made them cry, we'll ask you something else. Are those girls married? Do they have a partner?"

"You brought them to the army in the morning. What do they think of us as soldiers?"

No matter what they asked, that soldier continued to eat without saying anything.

Jiang Yao listened to every word of their discussion and laughed. It seemed like everyone in the group knew that Colonel Shao was a vicious person.

“The plates are over there, and the rice is over there. You can eat as much as you want. If you want to eat anything, go ahead and get it. After you finish eating, wash the utensils at the sink and put them back in the big pot over there. Someone will boil some water to disinfect it in the afternoon.” Shao Fucheng left after that.

There were only four women in the cafeteria, and the rest were all men. It was likely that they had never been stared at by so many people before. Therefore, Jing Mengjie and Li Hong pulled their training uniforms somewhat awkwardly. They said, “It’s so embarrassing to be stared at by so many people when we look so ugly.”

No matter how awkward Jing Mengjie and Li Hong felt, Jiang Yao decided to remind them. “Remember what Colonel Shao said.”

“Take as much as you want to eat. Don’t waste food.”

Then, Jiang Yao took the lead in getting the plates and queueing for food. Liu Chao and the others pulled Jing Mengjie and Li Hong to follow behind Jiang Yao. The men did not feel embarrassed following a young woman like Jiang Yao. She was calm and composed in that environment. She did not even feel uncomfortable being stared at by others. That made them forget about Jiang Yao’s age. She was Miss Jiang, and it was right to follow her.

Most of the soldiers in the army base were very kind. When they saw Jiang Yao and a few others lining up, they automatically gave up their places.

“You guys go first.”

“First come, first served. Those who arrive later should line up!” Jiang Yao smiled very sweetly and thanked them.

Jiang Yao and the others had a two-hour lunch break. It was not until 2:30 that Commissar Wang called Jiang Yao and the others to his office.

Unsurprisingly, Jiang Yao and the others took an afternoon of ideological and political lessons in the commissar’s office. They also learned about some restrictions in the army.

What made Jiang Yao feel gratified was that Commissar Wang did not intend to train them on internal affairs. After two and a half hours of ideological lessons, they were liberated.

The next day, Jiang Yao and the others were brought to watch the soldiers’ training for the whole day.. Finally, they set off for the exercise at Shao Fucheng’s office at night.

Chapter 1687: Understood

After listening to Shao Fucheng's explanation of the next day's drill, Jiang Yao was dumbfounded. Liu Chao and the others were also dumbfounded.

"Tomorrow's drill is not a real one, so there will be fewer injuries. After this drill, you will belong to the logistics department. I will keep you in the command post and won't let you go to the front line." Shao Fucheng looked at the shocked expressions and asked, "Do you understand?"

"Yes."

Jiang Yao and the others nodded.

Then, Shao Fucheng said, "Later, I will send the clothes for tomorrow. They are field combat uniforms. The fabric is not as good as your clothes, so you can wear your own clothes and pants in the combat uniform. The uniform is very loose, and you can all wear it." Shao Fucheng shook the uniform and said, "There is a digital tag on your clothes with your code on it. There is a sensor in that digital tag. Once the tag is torn, or if a bullet hits a fatal spot, it means that you are eliminated! Therefore, you are also part of this exercise. The success or failure of this drill is very important."

Shao Fucheng wanted that group of people to know that they were a burden to that drill. However, he could not be that rude.

The men were excited after hearing Shao Fucheng's words. "Will we have weapons? The same as yours?"

"Yes."

Shao Fucheng nodded. "The weapons will be sent to you when we arrive at the drill site. I will teach you how to use them then, but..."

Shao Fucheng thought for a while and did not say the last part of the sentence. The drill did not involve live ammunition but simulated guns with sensing functions. Even if those people learned how to shoot, it would be useless if they did not shoot accurately. It would still be a waste.

However, the drill required everyone to have a weapon, so they had to learn how to shoot.

The group of people felt as if it was an exciting game. Unfortunately, no one knew what Shao Fucheng was talking about other than Jiang Yao.

Jiang Yao even felt Shao Fucheng's intense dislike for them.

"Also, no makeup or perfume tomorrow."

After that, he drove them to the commissar's office. The rest of the matter was up to Commissar Wang.

When everyone left Commissar Wang's place and returned to the dormitory, it was already past ten at night. That group of people had been excited after they heard Shao Fucheng's words, but their expressions had darkened after they left Commissar Wang's place.

"Miss Jiang, aren't you afraid at all?" Wang Meiyu was surprised when she realized that Jiang Yao's mood was not affected at all. From the moment they met, no one seemed to have seen Miss Jiang show any signs of confusion or helplessness.

Well, she did do that once.

It was when everyone was discussing whether they needed to fold the quilt—that was when Miss Jiang looked confused.

“Yes, Commissar Wang said that we’re going to a remote mountain to participate in a drill with the soldiers. We’ll live in tents during the training, and there is no toilet in the mountains. Even Liu Chao is a little afraid.. That’s a huge mountain deep in the forest? It’s unsafe to live in tents at night.”

Chapter 1688: Red Team

“We won’t be in any danger. Colonel Shao will protect us. Even though the truth is not pleasant to hear, I still want to tell you the truth that Colonel Shao was too embarrassed to say. During the drill, we only have one mission, and that is not to drag Colonel Shao’s team down.”

Jiang Yao spread out her hands and said, “I feel that protecting us from the enemy should be the most difficult mission for Colonel Shao’s team.”

“Miss Jiang, that is too hurtful. If I had known, I would not have asked you.” Liu Chao wanted to cry, but there were no tears. Was he a man?

No matter how the other six felt, Jiang Yao’s emotions did not change at all. Compared to going to the frontlines for a mission, that drill was not dangerous at all.

Jiang Yao guessed that the exercise must be a warm-up exercise. After that, there should be more extensive and more important real training.

Liu Chao and the rest felt uneasy while Jiang Yao was indifferent. Then, dawn arrived. Jiang Yao and the students, who had already changed into their uniforms, followed the soldiers in that exercise and sat for three hours in the military car before arriving at the site.

In the military car, Shao Fucheng explained how to use their weapons to Jiang Yao and the others. When the truck stopped at the foot of a mountain, Shao Fucheng asked Jiang Yao and the rest to carry their bags and get off the truck. Then, they followed him up the mountain.

The labels on their combat uniforms were red, which meant that they belonged to the red team. After reaching the mountain, Shao Fucheng further explained the exercise’s rules to Jiang Yao and the others. After walking for more than two hours, they finally found an empty area with a small and pitiful thatched cottage. On the roof of the thatched cottage was a red flag with the words Red Team command center.

“We’ve arrived at the command center. Everyone! Set up camp here.” Shao Fucheng called for a few people to help Jiang Yao and the others set up their tents first. Then, he went into the thatched cottage.

Jiang Yao followed Shao Fucheng into the cottage and looked around with interest. There were many things in there, like a few tables and a few communication devices on the tables.

After Shao Fucheng saw the communication devices, he went out and called a few soldiers to come in and fiddle with them. Those few devices were essential. The communication between the Red Team relied on those few devices to transmit signals. Except for Jiang Yao and the others, the other soldiers and every squad leader had a black communication device in their hands.

The thatched cottage had two open windows, but Jiang Yao did not think much of it. Perhaps if their enemies arrived, they could jump out of the window to escape their clutches. Of course, that was only doable if the cottage was not surrounded.

“Colonel Shao, has the exercise started?” Jiang Yao asked.

“It started when we arrived at the mountain. However, we first have to find our designated command center to set up camp. Our equipment is in the command center. We need the soldiers to turn on the equipment in our hands to be useful.”

Shao Fucheng treated Jiang Yao better than Jing Mengjie and the others. Perhaps it was because Jiang Yao had walked for two hours in the mountains without any complaint.

“You’re in charge of the people you brought here. Don’t let them run around and get caught by the Blue Team..” Shao Fucheng did not know where the logistics doctor in the Blue Team was from, but he thought that that person might also be a burden to their opponent team.

Chapter 1689: You’re Thinking Too Much

“Okay.” Jiang Yao nodded. Since Shao Fucheng was busy, she left the thatched cottage.

When she went out, she saw Wang Meiyu and Jing Mengjie standing in the open area while Liu Chao and the men set up a tent together.

“What the hell is this place? It’s so cold in the mountains in the morning.” Seeing that Jiang Yao had come out, Li Hong complained in a low voice, “What did the school arrange for us? They made us come here to suffer.”

“I have a coat.”

Jiang Yao took a coat from her backpack and handed it to Li Hong. “Put it on. Don’t catch a cold.”

Li Hong was a little flattered. After all, when she and Jing Mengjie had tried to borrow a coat from Jiang Yao, she had refused without hesitation. She had been complaining since then. She did not expect Jiang Yao to give the coat to her. Her generosity made her feel a little touched.

“What about you?”

Li Hong took the black coat that Jiang Yao handed to her.

“I’m not cold.”

Jiang Yao was still wearing her own clothes in the uniform, so she did not feel cold.

“Miss Jiang, we are wearing the same clothes, and our faces are drawn the same way too. Do you think we can find Colonel Shao or anyone else?” Li Hong asked as she quickly put on Jiang Yao’s clothes.

“I can recognize them. Identify them by their code names.” Jiang Yao pointed at the red tag on her arm. “Each of us has a different code number. We will know who is who by remembering everyone’s code names.”

Li Hong raised her eyebrows and blinked. “How can we remember so many people? I can’t even remember our codes. Fortunately, we don’t need to draw on our faces.”

“Who said you don’t need to do that?”

When Shao Fucheng came out of the thatched cottage, he heard the young woman’s words. He waved his hand and called a soldier who was passing by. “Go and draw on their faces too.”

“Yes, Colonel!” The soldier accepted the order and turned around to get the oil paint.

Jiang Yao glanced at Jing Mengjie and the others. Unsurprisingly, each of them looked aggrieved as if they had swallowed a fly.

That soldier probably wanted to give the young women some time to prepare for it, so he first drew on the male students. Liu Chao and the others did not find it hard to accept it. When he drew on their faces, they were laughing and giggling. They were praising each other and complimenting each other’s handsomeness.

After Liu Chao and the others were done, Jiang Yao took the initiative to be the first woman to get drawn on. Shao Fucheng, who was watching from the side, was satisfied with Jiang Yao’s cooperation.

He did not tell the soldiers to draw on their faces before they left because he did not want them to be in a bad mood the moment they set off.

Since Jiang Yao had already done that, Jing Mengjie and the other two could not disobey. They closed their eyes and allowed the soldiers to draw on their faces. After the soldiers left, Jing Mengjie had a bitter expression on her face. “Miss Jiang, will the paint damage our skin? Is it poisonous?”

“You’re thinking too much,” Jiang Yao said confidently. “It won’t.”

That was not the usual paint one would use at home. How could there be so many side effects?

However, it was true that it was difficult to wash off.

It got warmer in the afternoon, but the temperature was still cooler than at the foot of the mountain. Rows of tents had been set up in the Blue Team’s command center.

A few communication devices were working in the thatched cottage in the Blue Team’s command center.. Two soldiers operated the devices at the desk while a man stood behind them.

Chapter 1690: I Feel Pity When I See Her

The man’s face was painted just like other soldiers. If one did not look carefully, one would not notice his brilliant facial features under the paint.

“Are you sure that it hasn’t been tampered with?”

The man asked after the soldier stopped what he was doing. His voice was low, but every word was powerful.

“Yes, Colonel, I’m sure that it hasn’t been tampered with!” the soldier replied confidently.

“Then, activate it.”

The man patted the soldiers’ shoulders. “I’ll have to trouble the two of you to do that.”

If Jiang Yao were here at that moment, she would be so surprised that she would be speechless.

That man was Lu Xingzhi, whom she thought would not be able to participate in that exercise during the closed-door training period!

After Lu Xingzhi left the thatched cottage, he looked at the sky and asked, “Have the scouts returned?”

“Colonel! Colonel! We’re back!”

Coincidentally, the person Lu Xingzhi was looking for had just returned.

“Have you found the Red Team’s command center?” Lu Xingzhi looked at the two people who had just returned. After he was sure that they were listening to him, he asked again, “What about their logistics department?”

“There are seven people in the Red Team’s command center’s logistics department—three men and four women. One of them looks very young, like she’s 17 or 18 years old. Oh, right! Colonel, the women in their logistics department are all young and beautiful.”

The first scout was unconvinced. “That’s not fair to us, right? Why are all of them so young? They are either handsome or beautiful! Especially the youngest and most beautiful woman. Colonel, I have never seen such a beautiful girl in my entire life. She is about 1.65 meters tall and has a ponytail. And she has two dimples when she smiles.”

“Commander, that young woman is beautiful!”

The second scout echoed excitedly. “When are we going to take care of the Red Team’s logistics department? Let’s capture all the doctors from the red team, especially that beautiful girl. If we put her in our command center, we will feel the power of the battle!”

A woman about 1.65 meters tall and with two dimples when she smiled.

Lu Xingzhi’s lips curled up—that sounded like his wife.

The first scout looked at the second scout. Both of them had disbelief in their eyes. After all, they had never seen their colonel before. However, they had seen that beautiful female doctor from the Red Team. Everyone would be comfortable with her beauty.

If two men were to describe her appearance...

The first scout thought about it and said, "Colonel, the Red Team's doctor is really beautiful. You'll feel like you want to hug her and kiss her the moment you see her. Her beauty will also make you reluctant to bully her. Her smile almost dazzles me too! However, I feel pity when I see her.. Yes, that's the word. I feel pity when I see her!
