

Chapter 172

After talking about things, Zhang Fan is ready to go back. It's not easy to have a leisure weekend. Zhang Fan wants to go back to accompany Shaohua and take Shaohua to the farm!

Zhang Fan paid for the meal last night. Wang Yongyong must invite Zhang Fan and them to dinner. Zhang Fan only got away with good or bad words. The coach's strength is really not small.

Shaohua's father, brother and sister are three. He is the boss and has two sisters. The eldest sister is a teacher and works as a teacher in the farm primary school. The second sister works in the local tax bureau of the county. She is the best brother and sister.

This great aunt is also a strange person. She was born in the state of Xinhua and grew up under the banner. When she was a child, all the young pioneers, Youth League members and Party members took part in it, but after working, people began to grow crooked.

Qigong, wheel skill and Xianggong were all involved. School leaders talked to her and farm leaders talked to her. She had a very good attitude, but she just didn't change.

Then there are square dance and senior college. A few years ago, she almost went to the south to participate in a sales group. She was stopped by Shaohua's aunt and father. The school leaders didn't let her take the place of her. She was asked to manage the school's assets. In fact, she was raised. What assets does a farm primary school have, whether broken tables or rotten benches, have to be managed. The old lady without classes began to talk a little. She was about to retire. As a result, she joined the ranks of health products,

Shao Hua once told Zhang Fan about her experience. Zhang Fan was particularly surprised that an old lady from a small frontier farm stepped on the trend of China every step. She really didn't know what she knew in the era of particularly closed information! And every time she participates in the activity, she is also the leader of the local organization!

When I was young, I wasted a little money by participating in those activities, but when I was old, I took part in health care products of unknown names, which caused great harm to my family.

She not only eats by herself, but also bewitches her husband, son and daughter-in-law. Everyone in the family knows her problems and can't persuade her. Let her go. No one else in the family can eat her magic medicine.

She eats breakfast once a day, and then eats health care products at noon and dinner. Her salary not only bought all health care products, but also borrowed money from relatives and friends without telling her family. Unknowingly, when the creditor came home to ask for money, she found that she had borrowed more than 200000!

After paying off the debt, she was ill! A long irregular life, not eating on time, and a large amount of health care products with unknown ingredients made her sick.

The son and daughter-in-law divorced because of this matter, because the old lady was really able to toss around. The virtuous daughter-in-law was forced to have no choice.

Uncle Shaohua is also raking his ears. He can't control his wife. He can only sigh at home every day. Xin Kui and they both have jobs. It's a guarantee!

After her little aunt graduated from high school, Shaohua's father paid money to get her into the financial department of the farm to learn how to make accounts. One year, the County Local Taxation Bureau was short of people. I don't know how her little aunt was elected. Since then, her fate has been smooth, her family is harmonious and her life is healthy. The only disharmony is that Shao Hua's little uncle is a bit snobbish. He also works in the local tax bureau, so he looks down on his brother-in-law and sister-in-law. In addition, his sister-in-law is too active.

When the farm built a building in the urban area, the farmers felt that it was too far away from the urban area, so no one bought it. But Shaohua's mother had a vision and bought the house in the urban area against the opposition of her family. The house that felt useless at that time showed Shaohua's mother's eyesight a few years later.

First of all, Shaohua went to school in the urban area when he was young. Others don't say that the children of Shaohua's two aunts went to primary school on the farm and junior high school in the county. Finally, let alone university, they didn't even get into high school. Shao Hua shunshun went to high school, college, graduated from college and entered the bank. At present, her work and income are the best among the small generation.

When she bought a house, her mother bought it for Shao Huacai, and the investment was successful!

Secondly, the house prices in the urban area are getting higher and higher, and the farm houses are becoming more and more uninhabited. Education and medical care are concentrated in the city. Who still lives on the farm! It takes only a few years to buy a house in the urban area, which is not the previous price.

When Zhang Fan and Shaohua didn't have a definite relationship, Shaohua's parents didn't dare to tell their relatives and friends that now there is only evidence left. So there's no secret. Shaohua's little Aunt Zhang Fan met once, but his big aunt and two aunts didn't.

Shaohua's father nags about going to the farm to buy native chickens every day. In fact, the most important wish is to see his eldest sister. It was just because Shaohua's father secretly lent his family money to Shaohua's aunt. Seeing that Shaohua University was about to graduate, he had to spend money to dredge up the relationship in advance to find a job after graduation, but he had no money at home!

For this matter, Shaohua's mother not only cleaned up Shaohua's father, but also went to Aunt Shaohua's house and had a quarrel with aunt Shaohua. Wen Rushui's mother Shaohua is really anxious. It's understandable that women protect their cubs. Thanks to Shaohua's sensible efforts, he was admitted to the bank. Otherwise, I really don't know how much Shaohua's mother would resent their brothers and sisters.

Such a quarrel, the relationship between the two families is far from what it used to be! Shaohua's mother has never been to her eldest sister-in-law's house again. The more she thinks, the more afraid she is. If her daughter didn't get admitted to the bank at that time and had to spend money to dredge the relationship, what would it be like if the money didn't come back.

She can tolerate other things, but she doesn't give up when she is a mother. Although Shaohua's father nags every day, Shaohua's mother just doesn't let go!

Waiting for Shaohua to have a job and an object, and the work and object are very satisfactory, the anger in his heart was slowly removed.

Shao Hua's father's excuse was to buy the native chicken and to take the family to see his sister. In recent years, the elder girl's body is getting worse and worse.

The farm has declined so much that there are few young people. In the frontier, decades ago, they were proud of farm people, but now they have a derogatory meaning, that is, they should be poor!

Some of Shao Hua's parents' old colleagues were on the farm. When Zhang Fan appeared on the farm in his car, the farm workers looked at the old Shao family, surrounded those who were closer, and looked at those who were farther away.

Envy or jealousy, China owes something to those who devote their youth to their children and grandchildren! A few years ago, there was another saying that we should abolish this strange group, an organization of the army without the army and the people without the people.

As a result, after a major event, they began to pay attention to it slowly, but they were already sad and deeply hurt. The farm children were unwilling to stay here even if they went to work. Sometimes, later people have to admire the man printed on the paper money. His eyes are too cow! Look too long, really can be regarded as a demigod!

The farm is not without cars, but the best car is just a Volkswagen Santana and other cars led by the farm. When Zhang Fan's cross-country car as wide as a small Dongfeng entered the farm, his old colleagues were shocked and did not catch up anywhere.

Shaohua's father took the good cigarette given to him by Zhang Fan. He was reluctant to smoke at ordinary times. He sprinkled water and sent it when he saw people. The old man, who is already a little old, is full of energy and red face today.

After visiting several friends who had a very good relationship, Lao Shao was reluctant to go. Shaohua's mother knew his idea, sighed and said, "today is to give Zhang Fan face, otherwise I won't go to Shaoping's house again in my life."

"It's over, it's all over. Don't you think we're fine now? Look forward, look forward!" Shaohua's father said to his wife.