

Chapter 1749 - 1750 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 1749

“Today, this dragon lord will be here to clean up the door.”

“Longyan King, can you take it?” Mark uttered angrily.

An arrogant voice, eyes full of chill.

Senran murmured angrily, trembling in all directions.

As long as the stone fell to the ground, Mark’s rage echoed everywhere in his ears.

Under Mark’s questioning, Iwai Chan’s face was pale and panic.

The whole body was shaking.

Every word and sentence of Mark just now seemed to be deeply inserted into Iwai Zen’s heart like a knife.

It may be ashamed, or it may be guilt.

Facing Mark’s anger, Iwai Zen’s old face was pale and speechless.

He bowed his head and knelt there, unable to say a word for a long time.

Mark was undoubtedly even more angry when he saw this.

He walked over and kicked Iwai Zen on the face.

Just listened to a bang, and the flesh spattered.

Iwai Zen was kicked on the ground by Mark, and his old face wiped the ground for half a meter, even if the red blood spilled out, it was full of face.

“Chairman~” When everyone saw this, they were undoubtedly more frightened.

Before that, they couldn’t imagine that the president of the dignified triad consortium was beaten up by a Vietnamese teenager.

What is even more incredible is that, facing Mark's violent beating, Iwai Zen was so scared that he didn't dare to say nonsense.

"Why?" "Dare to do it or not?" "Now I don't even have the courage to admit it?" "I can only say that I was really blind at the beginning and let you as a cowardly trash take control of half of the Japanese power."

I'll ask you again. Today, the dragon master cleans up the door and has a hand at you. Can you convince it?" Mark uttered angrily.

He was expressionless, his eyes were cold.

Asked several times, just like a sword, swept out.

Under Mark's anger, there was a sudden gust of wind in the world.

Everyone looked at the scene with trepidation. Under Mark's majesty, these influential dignitaries were so scared that they dare not say a word.

Only panic and horror remained in his heart.

But, who can understand the anger in Mark's heart at this moment.

He can betray or disobey.

After all, people are born and no one wants to be.

This Iwai Zen wanted to rebel and stand on his own, at least this courage and courage, let Mark appreciate.

But Mark couldn't bear that Iwai Zen was like a bullshit, and he didn't dare to talk nonsense.

He couldn't accept it, he would be blind enough to entrust such a useless task.

"Speak!" Mark, who was furious, kicked over again.

This time, after rolling on the ground several times, Iwai Zen finally gritted his teeth and stood up.

He looked at Mark with a mouth full of blood, and smiled loudly.

"Okay!" "Dragon Lord, don't you want me to say it?" "I said!" "You are right, I am Iwai Zen today, it is the dragon lord's gift from you."

From the moment God's order cannot be resisted, I know that there will be today's ending."

“I Iwai Chan convicts sin.”

“Dragon Lord, you want to kill me and clear the door, and I will accept it.”

“I am convinced. “I know, I can’t fight you.”

“If you send someone to deal with me, I might still have some chance of winning.”

“But Dragon Lord, you come to Japan and clean up the door. I know that I Iwai Zen will die today. Undoubtedly.”

“But Dragon Lord, don’t you want to know why I betrayed you?” “Why, do I turn a blind eye to the Dragon God’s edict?” Iwai Chan was full of eyes, and there was a few traces in the hoarse laughter. Sad and tragic.

Chapter 1750 Knowing It’s Death, Why Go?

Today’s Iwai Zen, when talking to Mark, has completely lost the high arrogance and majesty that was at the beginning, and some are only disheartened and embarrassed.

The feeling it gives people is like a death row prisoner confessing his criminal psychology before going to the execution ground.

Hearing this, Mark’s expression suddenly sank.

He was expressionless, looking coldly at Iwai Zen.

“Isn’t it because you don’t want to subdue to others, so you have to be the master?” Throughout the ages, men betrayed the reasons for nothing more than two.

Either because of women, or because of power!

In Mark’s view, the former is basically impossible.

There is no emotional entanglement between him and Iwai Zen at all, so the rest is because of power.

“Dragon Lord, you are right, but you are only half right.”

“I don’t listen to orders, it is indeed for power.”

“But the reason is definitely not that you don’t want to subdue to others.”

I have the talents of heaven and latitude, subordinate to you, I am convinced by Iwai Zen, and I have no complaints.”

“This world is where the capable is respected, and the mediocre lives under others.”

“I betrayed, just because I don’t want to go. To die.”

“If I die, everything I have fought for for so many years will be gone.”

Iwai Zen shook his head and smiled, speaking sadly.

But Mark frowned: “Send to death?” “So, do you think that I issued the Dragon God Order and summoned you to deal with the Chu Family to send you to death?” “Isn’t it?” Iwai Chan asked rhetorically.

“Dragon Lord, I told Adam Han many years ago that even if our influence is all over the world.”

“However, compared to the Chu family, we are still insignificant.”

“You have no chance of winning against the Chu family ten years ago. Now, There is still no chance of winning!” “This is an action to die.”

“I know very well that once we go, not only we will not be able to come back, but you, the dragon lord, will also die of Chumen Mountain!” It’s the world’s number one giant, and Truman is the world’s number one force in martial arts.” “Dragon Lord, you are lonely and widowed. How can you fight against a giant with hundreds of years of age?” Fighting?” “You are looking for death!”

Iwai Zen’s sincere words are like billowing thunder, and the world is constantly rolling over here.

When he said these words, his old eyes were red and the corners of his mouth were bloody.

Back then, after learning about Mark’s plan to deal with the Chu family, Iwai Chan wanted to return Mark, so he tried his best to collect information about the Chu family.

However, as he learned more about the Chu Family, he became more horrible and terrifying, until finally, completely desperate!

The Chu Family, that is a ten thousand renown mountain that no one can surpass.

In this world, no one can bring down this behemoth.

Including Mark!

Therefore, he later contacted Elder Han countless times, hoping that they would give up their plan to deal with the Chu family.

As a result, his suggestion naturally ended without disease.

Iwai Chan didn't even know that Mark's grievance with the Chu family was impossible to resolve.

Therefore, at the moment when he received the edict from the Dragon God and learned that the final plan was about to begin, Iwai Zen was determined to disobey.

"Dragon Lord, I am not afraid of danger or suffering."

"As long as there is any possibility of victory, I Iwai Zen must be ordered to go."

"But I am not an idiot, knowing that it is the end of death, why should I go?"
