

Chapter 179

The depressed tumor department finally left the Department. The director of the tumor department sent Zhang Fangong out of the Department, because she would think of Ouyang when she saw Zhang Fangong, and she would worry about her position when she thought of Ouyang. The oncology department is too sad, and the hospice care department is really uncomfortable to death.

It's really frightening when a fresh life breaks its fingers to calculate which scene it can live for a few days. It was originally a place where people can generate hope and save the lives, but the patients in this department have no hope. The patients themselves know that it's just time. I hope you can forget this painful journey after you go to another world! Zhang Fan stood at the door, looked back at the oncology department and thought silently.

Next stop, endocrine. This department's function of persuading retreat is too powerful. It's almost impossible to learn. The basic concept of this department is not intuitive at first, and it is very unfriendly to medical students who don't study well. A hormone can confuse many doctors. The types, uses and mechanisms of hormones are very high-end things, and a lot of knowledge is very vague in the laboratory.

It can be imagined how difficult it is to win the work of this department, but this department also has advantages, that is, there are fewer emergency cases, and the progress of the patient's condition is relatively slow.

After all, the municipal hospital is the top three in a region. Endocrine and metabolic diseases are in one department. There are only two male doctors in the Department, and the rest are female doctors, and most female doctors are young women. It is conceivable that these two male doctors are so sad! When young women are in the majority in a group, you should readjust your previous experience with women.

Endocrine is a department with high appearance value in the hospital. It is estimated that these female doctors are good at self-regulation! When Zhang Fan got the transfer list from the director of the medical department, he felt that liver fibrillation and endocrine were his weakest subject. It was really difficult. You just have to deal with it casually. It is estimated that you will mature in three months, but it is really difficult for you to understand the theory of endocrine!

Growth factor, coupled G protein receptor, second messenger, non phosphorylation mediated, these terms are not enough for less time in the liver, let alone endocrine. These terms are just a small aggregate in endocrine.

There is a saying in the medical system. Biochemical difficult, but endocrine is biochemical father! This discipline, no matter large or small hospitals, is almost dominated by women. The maturity period is long, that is, in internal medicine, it is a department with a long maturity period.

Dilibel, director of endocrinology of the municipal hospital, a beautiful woman, entered the hospital in the same year as Ouyang and was unmarried. It is said that her father was a senior official in the tea vegetable city. I don't know why he has been single until now. She is also a career oriented woman, but her career is obsessed with the construction of departments, not the construction of hospitals.

At that time, there were few foreign students in the tea vegetable City, but she was half a foreign student. She went to the Soviet Union, and then came back in a hurry after studying half the time, because the Soviet Union couldn't work! Although she had studied half, she was a cutting-edge talent at that time.

After coming back, he entered the hospital of tea vegetable city. Anyway, it's not clear what was right and wrong at that time. Her father walked out of office first, and then rose again. As a result, she died of myocardial infarction for two years. Maybe she saw through her life and ended her relationship in a hurry. She has been single until now.

She is obsessed with her career and is single, so she is very strict in the management of the Department. If she wants to enter the endocrine department, she must first pass this pass. If a transferred doctor wants to stay in the endocrine department, he must first have a good foundation and rigorous attitude. He can enter the endocrine department only when he has his own opinions on the questions randomly asked by her during the ward round. Moreover, this problem is not limited to endocrinology, but almost covers the whole internal medicine system.

Generally, male doctors newly admitted to the hospital are not very calm. They can get their salary. They don't go to the wave for a period of time. I'm really sorry for the hard college life for several years. And director Di doesn't like frivolous people very much, so there are few male doctors in this department. When Li Hui transferred to another department, he was very uncomfortable. The overall atmosphere of the Department is inconsistent with his character!

Endocrinology is a feminist department, and many of director Di's companions when he was young were leaders of the government. There are several doctors in the Department who act as leading health doctors, so this department is a department that studies more frequently. Often go to study is to contact the leaders directly to say hello to the hospital.

After director Di fell in love with someone he shouldn't have loved, he hated frivolous people very much. Li Hui almost died depressed in this department. When he learned that Zhang Fan was going to endocrinology, he said on the phone: "remember, if you can go in without talking, you won't speak, and if you don't understand, you can directly say you don't know. If you talk nonsense, the extinction nun can embarrass you to death without leaving any kindness."

Li Hui's character has changed greatly since he got married. The family man is what he is now. The boy who once acted recklessly has grown up! He has already set up a department, the respiratory department, and has entered his target department.

Director Di has a good relationship with Ouyang. It is said that Ouyang works as a health care doctor for the leaders. She is the one who connects them. This is just a private gossip of small surgeons. They work as health doctors for leaders. Surgeons have no advantage over physicians. It can also be regarded as a kind of envy, jealousy and hatred!

Zhang Fan didn't go to endocrinology for the first time with a transfer list. Because this Friday, Ouyang will go to the municipal government to participate in the commendation meeting. Ouyang has explained that he is able to clean up, because Zhang Fan represents the young people of the whole tea element City medical system and has a heavy responsibility!

The news has spread in the hospital, like a big stone thrown into a small pond, with waves one after another. Congratulations one after another. If you are obsessed with your career, this is a better start. After all, it is a municipal honor. But Zhang Fanzhi is not here. He is a little annoyed by the congratulations call these days.

Shao Hua was also very happy when he heard the news. Although silly girl didn't know the benefits of this honor, the municipal outstanding youth were not bad.

Under the pressure of Shao Hua, Zhang Fan, who usually gets a haircut for five yuan, spent more than 200 oceans for the first time in his life and asked the hair stylist to design a hairstyle.

"Two hundred and five yuan, the effect is almost the same!" Zhang Fan looks at his hairstyle in the rearview mirror.

"Can it be the same? You see, now more spirit, has moved from strength to idol. Why don't I ask Jia SuYue to paint you another makeup. "

"Forget it, what does a big man make up?" Since Shaohua and Zhang Fan established their relationship, Jia SuYue has less times to find Shaohua, but the relationship is still as close as ever.

Suits, ties, leather shoes as bright as a mirror, hair wax, and Shao Huaqiang forced to rub the moisturizer on Zhang Fan's face. Zhang Fan looks at himself in the mirror. Why is he so uncomfortable ~!

"What's the matter?" Shaohua looked at Zhang Fan's unnatural look and asked.

"A little trance, suddenly saw me when I graduated from college in the mirror!"

"Don't have pressure, no matter how, you are the best man in my heart!" Shaohua touched Zhang Fan's face and kissed him gently!