

Chapter 183

The doctor watched Leon leave before he breathed a sigh of relief and wiped the sweat from his forehead.

Leon hadn't said anything before, but now he was so intimidated that there was nothing he could do now.

The doctor was even more panicked at this thought.

What was he thinking?

He really wanted to slap himself.

Leon was a big shot in A City.

Who would dare to mess with him?

However, according to Kevin's current condition, not to mention him, even God could not make him wake up immediately.

He was old and badly wounded. It was already a miracle that he could survive.

He couldn't wake up in a short time.

The doctor got panicked thinking about it. Should he leave now or in three days?

A City suburban slum.

Audrey approached Colton in a hot, red, sheer nightgown.

Colton looked at Audrey, who was old, with little interest.

But it would be too embarrassing to act like he wasn't interested in her.

He pressed her chin and lifted it up a little. Audrey raised her chin cooperatively and came closer to him.

"Mr. Koherr, we're going to be successful, aren't we?"

"Of course."

Audrey nodded, "When the time comes, you take Leon back to mind your own business, and my son will inherit Hunter Group. Later, we can still have business dealings. Wouldn't that be nice?"

Colton glanced at Audrey. He already knew what she wanted. Now that she had said it directly, he was not surprised.

She did it all for the sake of her son's success in inheriting Hunter Group.

If it weren't for her son, why would she help him?

But she didn't know that Colton also needed help now. Her presence was the perfect opportunity.

They looked at each other, each with their own intentions.

Audrey looked at Colton and said ingratiatingly, "Mr. Koherr, I know you have the power. If you want Leon to go back with you, I can help you too."

Colton glanced at Audrey and suddenly smiled.

"Mr. Koherr, we all have a hard time, and we certainly need to help each other."

"You're right. Of course, we need to help each other. Audrey, don't worry. As long as Leon does as I say, I will certainly help you."

As long as Leon was willing to leave Hunter Group, it didn't matter to him who owned Hunter Group.

He didn't care if George or Audrey ran Hunter Group. He even wouldn't care if Hunter Group went bankrupt.

What did that have to do with the Koherrs?

The rise and fall of the Koherrs were all that mattered.

Audrey understood Colton's point.

It seemed that it didn't matter whether she pleased Colton or not. Colton would definitely help her because he wanted to take Leon back.

"Then what should we do next?"

"What do we do? It depends on how you convince George. You want George to fight for power, don't you? Then you convince him. Kevin was put into a coma by Alyssa, and George has always cared about Kevin. You should know what to say that will get George to fight for power."

"I know. I just made an appointment with George."

"Then what are you waiting for? Hurry up."

Audrey looked at the time. It was almost time for her appointment with George. She turned to leave and Colton immediately threw her clothes at her, "Put some clothes on. Aren't you ashamed that your son sees you like this?"

Audrey looked at her body and suddenly blushed. She immediately put on her clothes.

A few minutes later, Audrey met George.

She dragged George to her apartment.

George looked at the environment where his mother lived and immediately said angrily, "If Leon hadn't married Alyssa, you wouldn't be like this. Mom, you come home with me now. We don't live here anymore. How can you live in a place like this?"

George didn't think this was a place for people to live at all!

It was hard for him to watch his mom suffer. He wanted to take his mom out of this kind of place. So he took his mom's hand and wanted to leave.

Audrey looked at George with red eyes.

Her son had always been very filial. Seeing her aggrieved, he was instantly angry.

How could such a child be inferior?

Audrey looked at her son and hugged him with red eyes, "Son, I know you are a good boy. You think about me all the time. But, I can't go back now. I was kicked out before, and you know how I was kicked out. If I go back with you now, while your grandfather is in a coma, I will be in trouble! It will not be good for you."

"What trouble? You're supposed to be the mistress of the Hunters!"

George was angry.

His mother was the mistress of the Hunters. Why couldn't she go back to the Hunter's?

That was his mother's home!

George took Audrey's hand, "Let's go! Let's go back!"

"George, I want to go back, but I can't go back right now. Do you want me to go back?"

George nodded.

Of course, he wanted his mother to go back.

Audrey saw George's reaction and pulled George, "George, if you are the president of Hunter Group, then you can decide where I go. George, you do love mom, don't you?"

Audrey was suddenly a little nervous. She took George's hand, "George, it wasn't easy for mom to give birth to you, so you should try to win the position of president of Hunter Group even for mom's sake, okay? I know you are pure in nature and won't fight for yourself for anything. But Leon is too easy to be confused. Are you willing to see Leon being confused?"

George froze at his mother's words.

Watching her son freeze, Audrey felt that there was still hope for her. She continued, "I'm not someone who wants you to fight for power and profit. I just want your father's family business to be preserved. Son, you are not a kid anymore, and the most important thing for you now is to take power. As long as Hunter Group is yours, not only can mom return to the Hunter's, but you can also avenge your grandfather."

"You're right."

George felt that his mother had a point.

"George, what you need to do now is to convince the shareholders of Hunter Group. As long as you convince them and have their support, everything is fine. "

George nodded at his mother's words. Mom was right. He couldn't let Leon go on like this.

Leon would be bewitched by that bitchy woman, and naturally by other women. Now, that woman tried to hurt Grandpa. Maybe after a while, Leon would be bewitched by another woman again. By then, the Hunters might not be the Hunters anymore. Grandpa would be angry when he woke up and saw this.

"I know, Mom. I'm going to take care of this now."

"Some time ago, Leon cleaned up the power of the Coles in Hunter Group. But he wouldn't know that once this kind of power takes root, it will sprout. I can't be sure about the board, but there are still people from the Coles inside the company. George, I'll give you a list later. These people are our people. You can talk to them first."

She had already thought of this and had written the list clearly. She was happy to see that George wanted to fight for power, and of course, she would provide George with all the help he needed.

George nodded at his mother's words and continued to talk to her about taking power.

Nine o'clock in the evening.

Leon finished his work at Hunter Group.

The bodyguard he had sent out reported to him what was going on outside.

He knew that George had indeed been in contact with his mother for some time, and not for a short time.

He didn't know what they had said, but it didn't seem to be simple.

He felt that now he needed to see Alyssa.

He had just made his decision when his phone rang.

It was Mr. Young, a member of the Hunter Group board, calling. He immediately picked up the phone.

"Leon, there is something I need to talk to you about. Today, I met with George."

"Hmm?" Leon froze for a moment and asked, "Mr. Young, go ahead."

"George wants me to be on the same side with him. I feel that something is not right about this, so I call you. George's intention can't be more obvious. He wants to replace you as the chairman and president of Hunter Group."

"Mr. Young, don't worry. I will solve this matter as soon as possible."

"Leon, I do believe in your ability, but I also want to give you a warning. You must find out if the Coles' power has really been eradicated. Otherwise, you will be the one to suffer in the end. One last thing, you have to divorce Alyssa as soon as possible. If you continue to be with Alyssa, you will be at a disadvantage. She is, after all, the one who hurt Mr. Hunter. Many people in the company are supporters of Mr. Hunter."

"I'll take care of it quickly."

"I trust you, Leon."

"Thanks, Mr. Young."

Leon knew that Mr. Young trusted him. Otherwise, he wouldn't call him.

But Mr. Young was right. In the company, the Coles' power must not have been eradicated yet.

He hadn't found out what had happened, and Grandpa hadn't woken up yet. Now, Alyssa was believed to be the murderer.

If he met with Alyssa now, he might be suspected of being too emotionally attached.

He gave the doctor three days, and he also gave himself three days.

He hoped that within three days he could successfully clear Alyssa's name.

At this moment, after calming down, Leon felt that this was his fault.

In the beginning, he should not suspect Alyssa. If he did not suspect Alyssa at that time, now he would not become so passive.

Leon wanted to meet trick with trick, but now it was too late.

Audrey had acted too quickly. He should have gotten rid of Audrey before. But it was too late.

He understood that in the next one to two hours, he had to think of a way to deal with this. Otherwise, it would be all over.
