

Chapter 188

Alyssa grabbed Leon's hand and said with a smile, "I saw the letter you wrote to me. I knew you were smart enough to figure out what happened. I don't have to worry. Leon, you're the smartest person I've ever met."

Leon suddenly wasn't nervous. He touched Alyssa's face and looked at Alyssa and smiled, "You've suffered this time. I promise I'll protect you in the future, okay?"

Seeing that Alyssa and Leon had a good relationship and Alyssa's face looked better, Milo pulled his son and daughter-in-law out of the ward.

It was better for them to leave Alyssa and Leon some privacy.

Alyssa noticed her grandfather walking away and smiled.

"What are you smiling at?" Leon lifted his hand and touched her face, "You scared me."

"My grandpa, mom, and dad are gone just to give us some space. They just know you so well that they know you'd say such mushy things to me. Leon, I miss you so much."

"You said a lot more than I did."

Only women would say such mushy things!

Leon couldn't help but smile at the thought of his woman saying she missed him.

"Are you okay?"

"I'm fine. I've taken care of those things. Don't worry, everything's fine."

"Where's Grandpa?"

"Grandpa has woken up. During this time, he is recuperating. In a few days, grandpa should be able to recover completely.

Alyssa smiled. Fortunately, everything was fine.

Alyssa wanted to say something, but she felt that it was too melodramatic to say too much now. She simply didn't say anything and closed her eyes to rest.

Seeing Alyssa's eyes closed, Leon was a little nervous and anxious, "What's wrong?"

"I'm sleepy and want to sleep."

"Then you sleep for a while."

Leon smiled. The question he just asked was really redundant. He simply stopped talking.

Alyssa looked so cute when she fell asleep. He suddenly felt that he was happy to have such a cute little girl by his side.

A week had passed in a flash.

Kevin's condition had improved a lot. However, he could not move around for a long time yet. The doctor said he needed time to recover. The current situation was only temporary.

All of Hunter Group's businesses now required Leon's signature before they could begin.

This was partly because Leon was worried that Colton would do something about it, and partly because Leon was worried that there were still people from the Coles in Hunter Group.

It must be cut down to the root.

Leon was really worried that Hunter Group would be in turmoil again, so he had to be on guard.

Since the Grahams had business dealings with the Hunters last time, Milo thought it would be good to work with the Hunters, so Milo talked to Alyssa about his idea and wanted to hear Alyssa's opinion.

Alyssa smiled at her grandfather when she heard his words, "Grandpa, I think it's okay to cooperate, but Hunter Group is really not a good choice."

"Huh?" Milo looked at Alyssa and smiled.

"We still need to avoid suspicion."

The field of business and trade was wide.

Hunter Group was also involved in many fields.

The apparel category accounted for the largest share.

But there were also a lot of electronic goods and home appliances.

If they did work together, the Grahams would take advantage.

But Alyssa felt that they could not take advantage of Hunter Group.

Alyssa looked at her grandfather and said softly, "A City's commerce has indeed reached saturation at this stage, but we can expand other projects or businesses. Before, after so many troubles in Hunter Group, Leon has started to handle every project personally. Isn't it a bit inappropriate for us to talk to him about cooperation now?"

Milo nodded, "You are more thoughtful and you're right. Our two companies are in different areas of business, so we can't say one size fits all. It's my fault for thinking too simply. It's okay. We can talk about these things later. Are you feeling better now?"

"Grandpa, I am much better."

"That's good. Before, it was my negligence that made you get attacked in the prison."

Milo always felt that this was his fault.

If something really happened to Alyssa, he wouldn't want to live.

Alyssa heard the apology in grandpa's words and felt sorry, "Grandpa, don't think about what happened before. It's all over. Besides, this matter has nothing to do with anyone. I'm lucky and blessed. I'm fine now, aren't I? Since I'm fine, why do you care about that?"

"Alyssa, you're right."

Milo looked at Alyssa and wanted to say something else. But when he saw Leon coming, he stood up and was about to leave.

Alyssa couldn't move, so Leon stopped Milo, "Grandpa, why do you want to leave when I'm here? Don't you want to talk more with Alyssa, who is in the hospital and can't move? She always wants someone to come and see her."

"Why would Alyssa expect anyone else to come when you're here? I won't bother you guys. Leon, you take good care of Alyssa."

"Grandpa, don't worry. I will take good care of Alyssa."

Milo smiled with satisfaction and turned to leave.

Alyssa looked at her grandfather's back as he left. Then, she turned her head to Leon, "You drove my grandpa away?"

"Grandpa just said he wanted us to be together. Do you not welcome me? Then I'll leave now."

"Don't leave." Alyssa tried to get up, but soon her body was held down by a large pair of hands.

She looked at Leon and frowned, "You're weird."

"It's all my fault. I also want to spend more time with you. I haven't had time with you for a long time. I just couldn't help myself. Before, I didn't even feel so much like spending time with you. It's all my fault."

Leon formally apologized to Alyssa. He looked at Alyssa with serious eyes.

Alyssa was so confused by Leon's seriousness that she didn't know what to say.

Leon didn't hear Alyssa's response and thought Alyssa was really angry, "I'm really sorry. I don't know what I can do. I can do whatever you want me to do to apologize."

"No need."

"You don't want to forgive me?"

"It's not that I don't want to forgive you, because I don't think you did anything wrong. What happened has nothing to do with you at all. And you should not care about Colton. I know grandpa is important to you, so it's normal for ... you to react that way when he gets hurt."

Alyssa understood.

Everything made sense.

Besides, she was fine now. Why would she have to pursue things that didn't happen?

Hearing Alyssa's words, Leon lowered his head, not knowing what to say even more.

Alyssa was understanding, more so than he could have imagined.

"If you really feel sorry, then you take good care of me. I really want to eat sour plums now. You bring some for me. And I want you to feed me yourself."

"Okay." Leon nodded and turned to buy the sour plums.

He wasn't very good at feeding people, but he had seen Wendy feed Alyssa before.

He carefully fed Alyssa. He was happy to see Alyssa eating nicely, "Is it good?"

Alyssa nodded, "This is especially good. It is so appetizing. After eating it, I have a much better appetite."

Leon didn't say anything, but he was so happy inside.

Alyssa was pregnant with twins. It was good that she could eat.

The doctor had also said before that Alyssa needed nutrition.

Leon made a mental note of Alyssa's fondness for sour plums. He planned to ask someone to buy some more for Alyssa later.

After this incident, their relationship was better than before.

Leon was particularly busy at this time.

Alyssa then urged Leon to go back.

"You can go back! I'm fine. Wendy takes good care of me. The bodyguards here are all your men too. What are you still afraid of?"

"My business is almost done. After a while, I'm going to distribute my work at hand to my subordinates. I won't have that much pressure. At that time, I will be able to spend more time with you."

"You said before that you were going to take control of the company, didn't you?"

"I've pretty much taken care of it. There's no need for me to do everything myself. I've met with grandpa. Grandpa asked me to spend more time with you. You're having a hard time with the twins."

"No, I just have a better appetite than usual right now."

Speaking of eating, Alyssa was still a little embarrassed.

Lately, she did eat too much.

Leon, however, thought this was good. He said softly, "Snow and Yummy at home have gained some weight. It's only natural that you, the owner, should also gain some weight to match those two little ones, right?"

"Yes."

Alyssa nodded. The guilt she felt disappeared without a trace.

Leon was about to speak when his phone suddenly rang. Seeing that it was a call from the company, he quickly answered the phone.

Alyssa knew that there might be a problem with Hunter Group and he needed to go back to take care of it.

Putting down the phone, Leon said apologetically, "Alyssa, I have to go back now."

"Okay, you go back then!"

Alyssa looked at Leon's back and felt that something was going to happen.

But what else could happen now?

Things had all been pretty much taken care of by Leon. There shouldn't be any problems.

Wendy came in just in time to bring food to Alyssa. Looking at Alyssa's nervous face, she asked softly, "Mrs. Hunter, what's wrong? Your face doesn't look good. Are you not feeling well?"

Alyssa shook her head, "I don't know what's wrong with me. I don't feel right."

Wendy smiled, "What could be wrong? Mr. Hunter loves you so much. He just told the guys outside to get you sour plums!"

Alyssa knew that Leon really cared about her.

At that moment, she suddenly heard a knock at the door. She looked up and saw Ella standing at the door.

Ella brought a lot of supplements over. She couldn't carry them alone and took a maid with her.

Watching a pile of things being put aside, Alyssa looked dumbfounded.

She didn't expect Ella to prepare so many things for her, which was really surprising to her.
