

Chapter 189

Ella, however, didn't feel the same way at all. She even thought that she brought too little.

She walked to Alyssa, "How are you doing? When I came here last time, you were sleeping. Alyssa, I'm sorry for being so late."

Ella had known for a long time that Alyssa was in the hospital. But because Alyssa's ward had been occupied by Leon, she had no way to see Alyssa.

Yesterday, she heard that Leon had gone to work. He should not keep an eye on Alyssa all the time, so she came to see Alyssa today.

Before she left, she prepared a lot of gifts for Alyssa, most of them were food. Because she didn't know if Alyssa could eat these things, she asked the doctor if these foods could be eaten by pregnant women. Only after she got a yes answer, she sent these things to Alyssa.

"You're the first one to come. I couldn't move before, and Leon wouldn't let anyone visit me. He was just worried about me moving around. The doctor made it sound too serious. I'm still young and in good health. Nothing is going to happen to me."

Alyssa was confident in her health. Looking at Ella's worried face, she smiled.

"I'm really fine. You bring me so much delicious food. If I can't get better after eating so much good food, then I'd be ungrateful, wouldn't I?"

Ella smiled at Alyssa's words. Seeing that Alyssa's face did look better, she said softly, "Anyway, you should get some rest. Alyssa, I've tried so many ways to see you at the prison, but they didn't work out. I'm sorry."

Ella did think of many ways to see Alyssa at the prison.

But none of them worked!

She and Alyssa grew up together. She would never believe that Alyssa would do something to hurt Kevin!

She and Leon seemed to have a good relationship. And, from talking to Alyssa, she could tell that Kevin was very good to her, so how could Alyssa do something so terrible to Kevin!

Besides, Alyssa was pregnant. She could feel Alyssa being careful in everything she did when she saw her at school. How could she possibly go and kill someone?

The only thing she felt sorry for was that she couldn't save Alyssa when she needed her.

She was even more sorry when she thought about it. After a long time, she said, "Alyssa, I'm sorry. I know you've never been this aggravated in your life."

Alyssa shook her head. In fact, she had suffered all kinds of grievances.

Now, this was nothing.

Ella looked at Alyssa's calm and gentle look and felt even more pain. She wanted to hug Alyssa but was worried she might accidentally hurt her, "I'm sorry I wasn't there for you when you needed me. It's a good thing that nothing happened to you. Audrey is so bad."

"Audrey?"

"Yeah, it's all Audrey's fault, isn't it?"

"Rumors are like that?"

Ella nodded.

Watching Ella nod, Alyssa didn't say anything.

Leon had his concerns. The less trouble, the better. Besides, the Koherrs' business was dirty and messy. It was inappropriate to tell Ella that.

Ella was innocent. She was even that blunt in rejecting someone's confession. So, naturally, she couldn't tell Ella about Colton's affair.

Ella vaguely sensed that something was wrong. She asked softly, "Is there something else? Don't hide anything from me. I want to help you."

Alyssa shook her head, "Nothing, now Audrey's forces have been eliminated by Leon. There shouldn't be any problems in the future."

"Hmm."

Alyssa nodded and looked at Ella and smiled, "I'm really fine. You must be worried about me during this period. Thank you, Ella."

"But I didn't help you out with anything. It would make me feel ashamed if you thanked me. After all, I didn't help you with anything. I feel very sorry."

"It's enough for me to know that you tried for me."

"I really know." Alyssa took Ella's hand, "We grew up together. Of course, I know you. No matter what happens to me, you're always there to help me, and Ella, I'm glad I have a friend like you."

She knew Ella would help her find evidence.

After all, it was true that she was treated very unfairly at first in the prison before.

But then, things gradually got better.

She guessed that it should be her family helping her, and Ella might have also contributed to making things slightly better for her. She did trust Ella, so she didn't doubt Ella at all.

Ella was touched to hear Alyssa's words. She did spend a lot of money trying to help Alyssa, but the Loyds didn't have the contacts to do so. Even after spending a lot of money, she didn't help Alyssa much. Luckily, Alyssa was fine. Otherwise, she would hate herself.

Alyssa suddenly felt that she was very happy.

She had no regrets in this life to have such a good friend.

"It's good that you're okay, Alyssa, I ... I don't know what to get you. I bought you a small gold necklace. Actually, I originally bought it for the baby, but I suddenly wanted to give it to you first." Ella was a little embarrassed and took out a gold necklace she bought yesterday.

This gold necklace was very delicate, with a picture of clouds on it, finely carved and beautiful.

The golden bell on the golden necklace was even more beautiful. A slight movement could make a nice sound.

The sound was not noisy, but very nice.

Alyssa fell in love with this golden necklace right away. She immediately asked Ella to help her put it on.

Ella was in a good mood when she saw that Alyssa liked the gold necklace. She carefully helped Alyssa put on the gold necklace, "It's so pretty! Alyssa, you have a long neck, and this gold necklace looks especially elegant to you."

Ella felt that she didn't make the wrong choice. She was happy to spend on it.

"Of course! I bought it! However, Ella, I think this gold necklace is not enough. You should hurry up and buy another one."

"Why?"

Ella thought for a moment and asked softly, "You want one too, right? No problem! I'll buy you the same one when I get back."

Alyssa smiled, "You're going to spend more money."

"Hmm?"

Ella was puzzled.

Alyssa waved her hand towards Ella.

Ella moved closer to Alyssa.

Alyssa spoke in a voice that could only be heard by them, "I'm pregnant with twins. How can one gold necklace be enough?"

Ella smiled immediately at the news, "Really?"

Alyssa nodded, "Really."

"Oh my God, Alyssa, you are so amazing! I can't believe that you are pregnant with twins! Great, then I'm going to buy two gold necklaces that are the same, one for you and two for the kids. I never thought that you'd be pregnant with twins. Alyssa, you're amazing."

The chances of having twins were very small.

Alyssa looked at Ella and smiled, "Is the chance of having twins really that small? I think it's okay. When you get pregnant, you'll know it's actually quite easy to get pregnant."

Ella smiled, "Of course, you don't know that! You're already pregnant with twins now."

"So, you're going to prepare two little gold necklaces."

Ella smiled when she heard that. She didn't help Alyssa when she got into trouble a few days ago, so she felt sorry, "In the future, I'll prepare you as many gold necklaces as you have children, okay?"

"Okay."

They were best friends, and Ella was willing to give Alyssa anything.

"Then I'll thank you for my children. Also, Ella, I still need your notes, please."

"I will help you prepare notes. Actually, what we are learning now is very simple. I guess that you can learn it as soon as you read it. The most important thing for you to do now is to take care of your body. By the way, one more thing, my cousin left."

"He left? Where did he go?" Alyssa was a little surprised. She knew Ella was talking about Hassan. She was more surprised to learn that Hassan had left A City, where there were still many opportunities for him to develop. It was a bit strange for him to suddenly leave A City, where he had all his connections.

"My cousin has to go abroad. There is a case that requires him to go abroad."

"Is it about Citic?"

"No."

"Then it's ..."

"I don't know. He seems to be preparing to create an asset company recently. He has stayed at Citic before, so he does have some contacts. He can start a company, but he can't do it alone. He has to get help from his friends. He can't do A City's business for now, so he might have to start with foreign business. He needs to find more suitable projects as soon as possible."

After hearing Ella's words, Alyssa had understood Hassan's thoughts.

Hassan wanted to re-expand his business, but Citic had monopolized all of A City's business. If he started from A City, he might not be able to take on any projects. So, he might as well expand his business from abroad. Hassan was smart enough to know where was the best place to start a business.

Ella saw that Alyssa didn't say anything and asked softly, "Alyssa, are you okay!"

"Yes, I just think that your cousin is very smart. He knows when he can make money and he knows what he can make. Don't worry. He will be successful."

"I know. Last time, when I asked him to check the data for me, I felt that he was particularly capable. I even have an urge to start a business with him. That must be fun. To gain experience, I also want to go out and give it a try."
