

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 191

But when Zoey Gu nodded, he followed the nurse all the way to the corner corridor.

Du Lanfu, who was waiting there, had long since disappeared.

The nurse beside him looked at Zoey Gu with embarrassment, and explained embarrassingly.

“Sorry, Miss Du was here just now...”

Zoey Gu pulled her lips mockingly.

“It doesn’t matter, where is the ward? I’ll go look for her myself.”

Because Du Lanfu had determined that Liam Lu would speak, he was so confident and waited for her to come by herself.

When Zoey Gu opened the door to enter, Du Lanfu was leaning against the bedside, holding her mobile phone and making a quiet call.

Seeing Zoey Gu coming in, a panic flashed across her pale face, then she took her phone away, sat upright and smiled at Zoey Gu.

“Miss Gu, you are here.”

Zoey Gu squinted at Du Lanfu condescendingly.

“I’m dying, but I still don’t forget to use my life to discredit me. Du Lanfu, what do you want to do?”

Du Lanfu pursed her lips and looked at Zoey Gu, as if she would cry at any time.

“Miss Gu...”

Zoey Gu simply laughed angrily.

“Du Lanfu, there is no one else here, you don’t need to act. It’s disgusting!”

The voice fell, and the air suddenly fell silent for a few seconds.

For a moment, Du Lanfu raised her head to look at Zoey Gu, and there was no trace of weakness and pitifulness in her eyes.

“Miss Gu, what I want has always been Liam!”

As Du Lanfu said, she suddenly got up and grabbed Zoey Gu’s hand, her face pale, but her eyes were full of predatory expressions.

“Liam Lu is my first man, and even my only man. After that night, I kept him in my heart and never forgot.”

“During your absence, I, Liam and Alina Yin, our family of three lived happily. Liam is great, he has always been very gentle to me. If you didn’t come back suddenly, he would even give it to me before I die. I have a wedding...”

“enough!”

Zoey Gu firmly pressed the red in her eyes, shook Du Lanfu’s hand away, and looked at her coldly.

“Next, do you want to say. For the sake of your few days, please let me go to Liam Lu, so that you can enjoy the last days?”

Hearing this, Du Lanfu was obviously startled.

But I heard Zoey Gu laugh coldly, full of mockery.

“Actually, you don’t have to work on me. You want Liam Lu, even if you show your ability.”

“If he really wants you, don’t worry, I will bless you!”

Zoey Gu slammed the door out.

When Liam Lu was approaching, she was immediately held by one hand.

“Zoey.”

Zoey Gu looked down and saw the hand holding her wrist tightly, thinking that this hand had touched Du Lanfu gently.

Thinking of that night five years ago, he had asked Du Lanfu affectionately and tenderly, and she couldn’t stop shaking.

In the next second, she slammed Liam Lu away.

“Do not touch me!”

Liam Lu’s brow bone jumped, his face suddenly cold.

But thinking of the recent grievances of the little woman, she closed her eyes and asked in a low voice.

“Did she upset you?”

Zoey Gu raised her eyes to look at Liam Lu, and saw his calm and calm look from beginning to end, as if nothing had happened, and suddenly felt cold.

She suddenly laughed.

“She didn’t make me upset, we were just discussing it. Who has more rights to use you, me and her. Are you satisfied with this answer?”
