

Chapter 1961: Here's An Idea

"Someone I shouldn't offend?" Zhou Hailan was dumbfounded.

"Isn't Lu Xiaoxiao a newcomer? Her brother and sister-in-law are also from a small town? Why can't I offend them?" Zhou Hailan did not quite believe it. "Did he say that to scare me? Because he doesn't want me to bug him?"

"Hailan, you need to go find Lu Xiaoxiao."

The manager was much more rational than Zhou Hailan. He was not afraid of her.

Zhou Hailan might be a big star, but those people could deal with her relatively easily. Therefore, Zhou Hailan's man had no reason to say such words to get rid of her.

He thought he should remind her as he valued their friendship.

"I don't believe it!" Support our Bonovel.com

Zhou Hailan shook her head and bit her lip. "I don't believe it!"

Then, she desperately dialed the number she could not get through to.

It was already evening when Lu Xingzhi received the contract signed by Zhou Hailan and Jiang Yao's jewelry company. Lu Yuqing sent people to deliver it to Lu Xingzhi at the army base.

Lu Xingzhi only flipped through a few pages before throwing it aside. He had a plan in mind, and he already had a way to terminate the contract with Zhou Hailan.

Lu Xingzhi was in a happy mood as he walked to the entrance to pick up Jiang Yao and bring her home. There was finally a solution to the problem, and it was a unique way to express his rage.

He even grinned a few times on the way home with his wife. He appeared to be considerably more animated than usual.

"Did you take stimulants?"

Jiang Yao poked Lu Xingzhi's arm. "Why are you so happy?"

"I received the contract sent by my sister. It's the contract with Zhou Hailan. I've thought of a way to terminate the contract." Lu Xingzhi waited until he entered the door before he turned around to pinch Jiang Yao's nose. "Say something nice, and I'll tell you."

"The company has lawyers who are responsible for the contract. Changkang Group has a legal department with many professional lawyers. Many of them were poached by my sister and Manager Sun." Jiang Yao's curiosity was piqued. "Therefore, logically, there shouldn't be any loopholes in the contract."

"It's not considered a loophole."

Lu Xingzhi urged Jiang Yao to sit on the sofa. "There's a clause in the contract. It's a standard clause to protect the interests of the company. The contract requires Party B not to do any damage to the image of Party A and Party B during the validity of the contract, including the photos, reputation, and other things. If Party B violates the clause, Party A can terminate the contract without penalty. Party A can even demand a certain amount of compensation from Party B.”

Lu Xingzhi was talking about the general content of the clause, but Jiang Yao understood it.

That clause was included in most commercial contracts. Under normal circumstances, Party B, the artist, would not do anything to damage his image and reputation. After all, reputation was critical to an artist, so that clause was not very useful.

The two parties were in a win-win situation. If Party B, as the spokesperson, had a bad image and reputation, it would be harmful to Party A. Therefore, Party A was unlikely to do anything to harm Party B under the contract..

Chapter 1962: To Be Ruthless

“Zhou Hailan has been in the industry for many years. She must have dirt on her.” Lu Xingzhi patted Jiang Yao’s head. “As long as Zhou Hailan’s reputation is gone, the company can rightfully terminate her contract. They can even ask her for damages.”

“But just like you said, Zhou Hailan has been in the industry for many years. She’s probably very cautious. We might not find any dirt on her.” Jiang Yao was troubled by that. “What if it’s not easy to find? Her manager shouldn’t be easy to deal with either.”

“If we can’t find anything, then we’ll make some. As long as we make it, other people will believe us, and she won’t be able to explain it. As long as Zhou Hailan’s reputation is gone, we can propose terminating the contract. What we want is the result. As for whether it’s true or not, does it have anything to do with us?”

That night, Wen Wanji didn’t come back, and the news about the Wan Zong Conference didn’t spread, so Qin Yu had a rare quiet day.

He took out the fruit from the spatial artifact and examined it carefully.

Qin Yu didn’t know the name of this fruit, so he simply named it the great Yue fruit.

The great Yue fruit was blood red, and in Qin Yu’s hands, it looked like a few drops of blood. There was no aura to speak of.

Qin Yu tried to eat another one, and sure enough, the feeling from before reappeared.

“It seems like what I thought,” Qin Yu thought to himself.

Jue Wu’s sudden seclusion probably had something to do with the Big Yue fruit.

Qin Yu got up and walked all the way to Wen Da and Wen Er’s room.

He interrupted Wen Da, who was dressing up, and then asked, “Wen Da, what realm are you in now?”

Wen Da was stunned and scratched his head. “I really forgot about that. It seems to be... the nascent soul realm, right? Why are you asking this?”

Qin Yu didn’t say anything. He took out the Big Yue fruit and handed it to Wen

Da.

“Try This,” Qin Yu said.

Wen Da took the Big Yue fruit from Qin Yu’s hand. He looked it up and down and muttered, “What is this?”

“Don’t ask. In short, it’s good for you,” Qin Yu urged.

Wen Da didn’t think too much. He immediately stuffed the fruit into his mouth.

“How is it? Do you feel anything?” Qin Yu hurriedly asked.

Wen Da scratched his head and said, “I don’t feel anything...”

“You don’t feel anything? How is that possible? Feel it carefully again.” Qin Yu’s eyes immediately widened.

Wen Da still shook his head and said, “I really don’t feel anything...”

“That’s strange... “Qin Yu felt even stranger.

He sat on the chair and pondered for a moment. Suddenly, he seemed to have thought of something.

“Come, try eating a few more. “Qin Yu took out three big yue fruits and handed them to Wen Da.

Although Wen Da was a little suspicious, he still swallowed the three big yue fruits according to Qin Yu’s request.

“What about now?” Qin Yu hurriedly asked. Support our Benovel.com

Wen Da was silent for a moment, as if he was carefully feeling the feelings in his body.

“There’s a strange aura that rushed straight to my mind...” Wen da muttered.

“What a strange feeling. It’s as if something is about to be washed away, but this feeling is fleeting.”

Qin Yu clapped her hands and could not help but shout, “As expected!”

This big Yue fruit could indeed raise one’s realm, but it was probably proportional to one’s talent.

The stronger one’s talent was, the more obvious the effects of this big Yue fruit would be!

For example, after eating more than half of the Big Yue fruit’s final dance, one would instantly feel like they were about to break through.

Another example was Qin Yu, who had eaten a big yue fruit, and felt the effects of the Big Yue fruit.

On the other hand, Wen da only felt a little bit after swallowing three big yue fruits.

“I see...” Qin Yu muttered in a low voice.

He looked at the Big Yue fruit in his hand and felt even more amazed. What kind of fruit was this? It had such a strange healing effect?

“Could it be related to Big Yue?” Qin Yu thought to himself.

As a great cultivator in the crossing calamity stage, Big Yue was someone who could look down on the entire starry sky.

Their methods were not something Qin Yu and the others could understand at all.

It was said that they could destroy the world with a raise of their hands. With a sneeze, they could shatter the galaxy. With a raise of their hands, they could reshape space.

With their abilities, it was not surprising for them to leave behind any treasures.

As Da Yue’s former residence, Da Yue mountain probably left behind countless treasures.

The fact that this fruit could be left behind could be considered Qin Yu’s fortune.

Qin Yu kept the fruit and planned to consume it slowly after he recovered his spiritual power.

The next day.

Wen Da and Wen Er were still dressing up when Li Yingying walked in.

She pushed open Wen Da’s door and looked around as if she was looking for something.

“Yingying? Why are you here?” Wen Da walked over with a smile.

Li yingying let out an “AH” and said, “Are you ready?”

Wen da said somewhat proudly, “Of course! I’ve been preparing since yesterday! We can set off at any time!”

Li Yingying grunted in gratitude. At this time, she suddenly said, “Oh right, where’s Qin Yu? He should be fine too, right? Call him along..”

Chapter 1963: Beautiful

Of course, Jiang Yao’s belly did not have many noticeable changes. On the contrary, her chest was growing bigger. Many of her clothes before she got pregnant had a smaller bust size. During those few days, she would often put her old clothes in front of her and gesture in front of the mirror. Then, she would change back into her newly bought clothes with a regretful expression.

His wife was always beautiful no matter what.

“Then I’ll leave it to you.”

Jiang Yao nodded. She spent a lot of time in the laboratory with those people doing experiments. Professor Ouyang sometimes despised those busy young people.

However, everyone had that burden. Since they were young, they did not have much experience. Even if it were just an experiment, they were afraid of making mistakes. Then, they could not do anything well.

“It will rain tomorrow. If the rain is heavy, don’t come home. Stay at school for one night. “Lu Xingzhi suddenly remembered the gloomy weather and reminded Jiang Yao.

The dark clouds held in for the whole day, but there was not a single drop of rain. If it did not rain in the middle of the night, then there would definitely be a rainstorm the next day.

Whether it was summer or spring, the weather in the south would always have a long rainy season.

"I got it," Jiang Yao said. Then, she smiled and looked up at Lu Xingzhi. "Just now, you seemed to want me to say something nice to you, right?"

Lu Xingzhi raised his eyebrows. He was not firm in his stance. Whenever she acted coquettishly, he would say anything.

Jiang Yao turned around and hugged Lu Xingzhi's waist. She leaned her strength on Lu Xingzhi. She raised her head and looked at Lu Xingzhi. She blinked her eyes. "That photographer said that my eyes are beautiful. Xiaoxiao also said that my eyes are beautiful. It seems that Du Chen has praised me as well. What about you? Why don't you say something nice to me? If you don't say it, I won't let you touch the baby at night."

"Yes, I do."

Lu Xingzhi answered quickly—so quickly that Jiang Yao even felt that he was being perfunctory.

She snorted and pushed Lu Xingzhi's arm. "What? Can't you be more attentive? Other people used their own words; why don't you use new ones as well?"

One could say that Lu Xingzhi was a weatherman. When Jiang Yao arrived at school, a rainstorm had already struck the city the next morning. Jiang Yao was a little absent-minded during the whole day of class, and she would look out of the window from time to time.

"Miss Jiang, are you waiting for someone? I see that you've been looking out the window the whole afternoon," Wu Boyan asked as he passed by Jiang Yao. "Or do you have other urgent matters today? If that's the case, then you should leave early today. You don't have to stay here to accompany us."

"Yeah, we're not in any hurry."

Wang Meiyu had also noticed Jiang Yao's abnormal behavior.

"Professor Ouyang isn't in school today. We'll have to rely on you to take care of us again." Jing Mengjie whispered, "How unreliable."

"Professor Ouyang is very busy, and he is also responsible for us. It's normal for a teacher to be absent from school occasionally." Wu Boyan saw Miss Jiang's expression, so he quickly helped Jing Mengjie make up for it.

Jing Mengjie also realized that she had accidentally said what she was thinking, so she immediately shut her mouth and awkwardly touched the tip of her nose..

Chapter 1964: For Your Own Good

Jiang Yao glanced at Jing Mengjie. Professor Ouyang's temper was not very good, especially when teaching. He was strict and harsh. He had been observing Wu Boyan's group for several days when he taught them some practical surgeries. However, he was not satisfied. He had something to do in Nanjiang City, so he handed the task of keeping an eye on Wu Boyan's group to Jiang Yao.

It was okay to do the same thing twice, but Jiang Yao could sense their impatience after two whole days.

"The professor is strict with you for your own good. When you enter the hospital and become a doctor, what you do is no longer an experiment but something involving human life. Your medical skills will allow you to save people, and if you are not good at it, you can also become a murderer."

Jiang Yao's tone was a little harsh. Jing Mengjie's expression changed, but she did not dare retort. After all, they were impressed with Jiang Yao's medical skills.

Even though Jiang Yao was Professor Ouyang's assistant, Professor Ouyang would often exchange views and opinions with Jiang Yao as if they were peers.

"Yes, Miss Jiang is right. But we are a little reckless." Wu Boyan quickly admitted his mistake, and he also realized his blunder. Miss Jiang's words were heavy, and every word pierced his heart. "Oh, right! If you have something urgent, you should leave early. I'll keep an eye on them and continue practicing."

"No need, I'm not in a hurry."

Jiang Yao shook her head and said, "I'm just looking at the rain. The torrential rain hasn't stopped for the whole day."

Wu Boyan said, "I heard from a friend from the meteorological bureau that it would rain for a few days. We are quite afraid of long days of torrential rain. Some places are prone to mudslides, landslides, mountain torrents, and so on. Didn't Rong County have a huge flood last summer? At that time, it was also raining like this. That summer, it didn't rain like this. This year's rainy season has been delayed for a while."

"It's raining so heavily. Do you still want to go home after school, Miss Jiang? Li Hong asked casually.

"No."

Jiang Yao wanted to go home, but Lu Xingzhi had told her that it was not easy to drive in the heavy rain and the road was not safe, so he wanted her to spend the night at school. Big Ke and Ah Lu had even prepared a lot of food, clothes, and supplies for her.

"No wonder you kept looking out of the window, Miss Jiang. You must be hoping that the rain will stop soon so that you can go home, right?" Li Hong immediately guessed why Jiang Yao's constantly looking out of the window. "You and your husband are really close! Your husband is a soldier. I'm really curious about how the two of you met."

Even boys liked to gossip, especially gossip about a mysterious love. Liu Chao was excited when he heard that. "Are you and your husband childhood sweethearts?" Otherwise, why would they get married so early?

Jiang Yao smiled and did not say anything. She knocked on the table. "Don't waste your time chatting. You all know Professor Ouyang's temper. If you can't do it well when he comes back, the consequences of his anger will be unimaginable."

Jing Mengjie turned around and curled her lips. However, when she thought about how Professor Ouyang had said that if they did not do well, he would change students, she could only focus on the matter at hand..

Chapter 1965: I'm In Good Health

Liu Chao sighed. "Why can't we have a brain as useful as Miss Jiang's? The professor said that Miss Jiang would remember it if she heard it once. Our brains are like rotten wood compared to Miss Jiang's."

Jiang Yao chuckled. That was because she had studied for more than ten years and used more than ten years of knowledge.

Jiang Yao waited patiently for the rain to stop. By the time the classes were over, the rain had gotten heavier. It was as if it was deliberately going against her.

When Jiang Yao returned to the dormitory, she received a call from Lu Xingzhi. As soon as Jiang Yao picked up the call, she heard rain, thunder, and strong wind from Lu Xingzhi's side.

"Tell me where you are now. Why aren't you at home?" Jiang Yao did not need Lu Xingzhi to say anything to know that the guy had called her specifically to tell her not to go out.

Lu Xingzhi said, "I'm rushing to repair the road. It's nothing. I'll be back in the army base in a while. You should be back in the dorm after class."

"You won't be out all day today, will you?"

Jiang Yao frowned. "It's raining so heavily. If you're repairing the road all day, wouldn't that be the same as being out in the rain? What road is so important that you have to rush to repair it today? Can't the people take a different route? It's raining so heavily, and the weather is cold. What if you get sick from being drenched in the rain?"

"Don't worry, a bit of rain won't defeat me. I am in good health." Lu Xingzhi did not tell Jiang Yao that he was repairing a river channel. The flood discharge was a necessary route for that river. The higher-ups worried that an accident would happen during the flood discharge, so they ordered their soldiers to rush overnight to repair and reinforce the river channel.

All the soldiers were mobilized, so he would be able to return to the army in two to three hours.

However, Jiang Yao had guessed correctly Lu Xingzhi had been out in the rain the whole day.

At first, everyone was wearing raincoats, but the raincoats could not stop the rain at all during the torrential rain. In the end, because water had seeped into their clothes, they were wet and sticky. On the contrary, their clothes and raincoats became things that hindered their work. Therefore, in the end, everyone simply went to work shirtless.

"No matter how good one's body is, it is always bad for one's body to be drenched in the rain. A person's body is not made of steel, so it is not immune to poison. You must remember to drink a cup of tea to warm your body."

Lu Xingzhi did not take it to heart at all. He was confident that his body was in good health.

Jiang Yao heard someone calling him. It seemed like he was swamped, so Jiang Yao could only reluctantly hang up the phone. "You have to take care of yourself. I'll take care of myself too."

"Okay, I'll call and text you when I'm free. I'll drive to the university to pick you up when the rain stops.

Jiang Yao sighed, listening to the beeping sound of the phone replacing Lu Xingzhi's voice. She was worried that Lu Xingzhi was only acting tough.

Big Ke brought some dinner for Jiang Yao. It was raining heavily outside, so Big Ke had received Lu Xingzhi's orders. Jiang Yao did not need to go out at all..

Chapter 1966: Kinship

After dinner, Jiang Yao took out her phone and sent a text message to Lu Xiaoxiao. Only then did she realize that the rainstorm had impacted the city and one-third of the southern cities.

Jiang Yao frowned and dialed the welfare institute in Rong County. She only felt at ease after discovering that Rong County was fine.

The previous year's flood in Rong County cast a large psychological shadow over the county's residents. Many folks are still reeling from the trauma of losing their relatives and homes. They had not anticipated the rainstorm returning that year.

The Changkang Group had consistently supported the children in the welfare institute. When Jiang Yao learned that the children were doing well, she was relieved.

The rain stopped for a while in the middle of the night. However, when she woke up, it started to rain again.

Before she woke up, Jiang Yao sent a message to Lu Xingzhi. She asked him if he was staying at the army base. After learning that Lu Xingzhi went out again, she did not continue to disturb his work.

Following the downpour, some of the school buildings and playgrounds were inundated. Jiang Yao was a germaphobe. She scowled when she stepped into the rainwater. When she arrived at the laboratory, the first thing she did was wash her feet in the sink.

"Miss Jiang, the phone in your bag is ringing."

Jiang Yao responded when she heard that. After drying her feet, she jogged back to the laboratory. Jiang Yao hurried because she was scared it was Lu Xingzhi who had called her. "Slow down, slow down!" Moe muttered in her pocket.

Jiang Yao pretended not to hear Moe. When she took her phone and saw that the call was from Nanjiang City's Shengqi Hospital, she felt a little disappointed.

However, when she picked up the call, the disappointed expression on her face immediately changed.

"Xiao Ding's DNA is very close to Ding Xiaomei's?" Jiang Yao was extremely shocked. "Okay, I got it. Don't inform Ding Xiaomei for now. I'll go and ask Xiao Ding about the situation first.

Jiang Yao was surprised. Was Xiao Ding the brother that Ding Xiaomei had been looking for?

Why did Xiao Ding not tell anyone when Zhou Junmin brought him to the police station? Did Xiao Ding not remember anything about his family?

That was not right. Logically speaking, Ding Xiaomei's brother should have already remembered his age when he went missing. There should be some news about him.

"Even though Ding Xiaomei's parents are no longer alive, according to the siblings' DNA tests, the possibility of Xiao Ding being Ding Xiaomei's younger brother is very high. Basically, we can confirm that the two of them are related."

The person on the other side replied to Jiang Yao and then said, "Director Jiang, you can ask that child in person. Tell that child about Ding Xiaomei's book and ask if that child has an impression of it."

The person on the other side replied to Jiang Yao and then said, "Director Jiang, you can ask that child in person. Tell that child about Ding Xiaomei's book and ask if that child has an impression of it."

"I got it."

Jiang Yao nodded. "Send a copy of Ding Xiaomei's information to me."

Jiang Yao received information regarding Ding Xiaomei's registration swiftly because the other party used the fax. Jiang Yao requested Xiao Ding's form be sent from the police station. She noticed that the document was far too simple when she examined it.

The first thing that came to Jiang Yao's mind was that the child was too vigilant, so the child might not have filled out the form accordingly.

The rain continued to fall that afternoon. Jiang Yao asked Wu Boyan to continue in the laboratory while she asked Big Ke and Ah Lu to accompany her to the welfare institute..

Chapter 1967: It's My Sister

The rain had been particularly hard in recent days, so fewer pedestrians were on the streets. The school was temporarily closed for the sake of the children's safety.

When Jiang Yao arrived at the welfare institute, the director held a book and taught the children how to draw. She immediately saw Xiao Ding holding a book sitting at the back of the crowd.

"Auntie Jiang is here," the director smiled at Jiang Yao when he saw her and said to Yanzi and the others.

Yanzi turned her head and saw Jiang Yao standing at the door. She immediately ran toward her and greeted her. When she saw the traces of rain on Jiang Yao's body, she immediately went to fetch a dry towel and handed it to Jiang Yao, saying, "Auntie, quickly wipe the rainwater off your clothes. Uncle Lu said that you have a baby in your stomach. You must be very careful."

Jiang Yao could not help but laugh. Her husband really wanted to publicize it to the whole world. He wanted the entire world to take care of her.

Jiang Yao took the towel and thanked Yanzi. She patted Yanzi's head and said, "Come out with me for a while. I have something to ask you. "

Xiao Ding stood up from the chair and carefully laid the book on the chair. He told Yanzi to observe the book before leaving the small classroom with Jiang

Yao.

Jiang Yao was waiting for Xiao Ding in the director's office, but the director did not go with them. Jiang Yao waited for Xiao Ding to come in before asking him to close the door. Then she said, "I have some good news. It's about your family."

"The police found my family?"

Xiao Ding immediately became nervous.

"It's not the police. The hospital found a girl named Ding Xiaomei who was looking for her brother. The girl's DNA is very similar to yours. According to medical science, you two are very closely related."

Jiang Yao wanted to observe Xiao Ding's expression when she finished speaking, but she did not need to. As soon as she said Ding Xiaomei's name, Xiao Ding's eyes immediately reddened.

"It's my sister! It's my sister! My sister's name is Ding Xiaomei! Did my sister draw her blood and store it in the hospital? My sister must have been looking for me!" Xiao Ding, who did not even shed a tear when he was slapped, immediately sobbed when he heard his sister's name.

That was not just because he was excited to find his family members. What made him even happier was that his sister had been looking for him. His sister must have gone to the hospital to do the DNA test to find him.

"So you are really Ding Xiaomei's younger brother?"

Jiang Yao shook the two folders in her hands helplessly. "Here is a copy of Ding Xiaomei's information initially registered to look for her younger brother.

"You filled in the other copy at the police station. The way you wrote it did not hint at you wanting to look for your family."

"Auntie Jiang, I want to look for my sister, but I'm afraid that I won't be able to find her. Instead, I might be found by my former foster parents!" Xiao Ding immediately explained, "They spent money to buy me, but I ran away. I'm afraid they're looking for me too, so I don't dare to write in detail."

In other words, although he could trust Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi, he could not trust the police, and he could not trust the people who had once injured him.

"I was terrified that those people would take me back before I could find my sister. My sister was living with me at that time. I was also afraid that I would not be able to find my sister," Xiao Ding explained anxiously while crying..

Chapter 1968: When Can I See Her?

"When I left home, I was too young. I don't remember where my family lived. I only remember a ditch in front of my house and a walnut tree. I don't even remember how many older brothers and sisters I had besides my sister. But I remember that I did not have a younger sister. I remember that I went out to find my father with my sister, and I was sold by an evil woman who claimed to be able to help us find our father.”

Jiang Yao immediately recognized Dingzi as the younger brother Ding Xiaomei had been searching for.

“It’s okay. I don’t blame you. It’s normal for you to be cautious. It’s also right for you to remember to protect yourself.” Jiang Yao patted Xiao Ding’s shoulder and said, “Speaking of which, fate is really magical. I’ve met your sister, and we’ve spent some time together.”

Jiang Yao originally wanted to say that she had met his father, but when she thought of the man’s identity, she ultimately chose to hide it.

“Auntie Jiang, have you met my sister? How is she doing? I heard that she was sold to a very poor place to give birth to a baby. Is she doing well?” As he spoke, he suddenly burst into tears. “Auntie Jiang, has she been looking for me?”

“Yes, she has been looking for you. After she escaped from that village, she didn’t return home. Instead, she took the child and wandered around looking for you. It doesn’t matter how your sister was doing in the past, but your sister is doing very well now. She and your nephew have returned home. She said that she wanted to go home and wait for you. By the way, your nephew looks very much like your sister. He is very obedient.” Jiang Yao’s tone was very heavy. “Your sister has always blamed herself. She thought that she had lost you, so she wandered around with her child. When she didn’t find you, she said she could not go home to see her family.”

“I don’t blame my sister. I don’t blame her.” Xiao Ding hurriedly wiped his tears. “Auntie Jiang, when can I see my sister?”

Perhaps Xiao Ding had left home at such a young age that he did not have much impression of his other family members. On the contrary, he had a strong dependence on and missed Ding Xiaomei, the sister who had been sold along with him.

He might not be able to remember his sister’s appearance, but he would never forget his sister holding his hand and whispering to him to hold her hand and not get separated.

However, there were too many bad people in the world. No matter how hard he held her hand, they were still separated in the end.

She had wanted to say that she would wait a few more days, but when she remembered that she had Ding Xiaomei’s contact information, she immediately smiled and said, “I’ll call your sister right away!”

Ding Xiaomei’s phone number was a number for the snack bar in her village. After Jiang Yao called, she said that she was looking for Ding Xiaomei, but the other party told her to wait for a while. Then, she could hear the shop owner calling for Ding Xiaomei.

The office was very quiet. Xiao Ding could even hear the voice on the phone. As he listened to the familiar words, Xiao Ding paid attention to the voice.

“Hello, is that Doctor Jiang?”

Ding Xiaomei’s voice came five minutes later, panting as if she had been running.

Jiang Yao did not say anything. She handed the phone to Xiao Ding and gave him an encouraging look. She said, "Go on, speak."

Xiao Ding's hands were shaking. He could not hold the phone properly. His lips were also trembling. He could not say a word..

Chapter 1969: It's Fine

Jiang Yao put the phone in Xiao Ding's ear, then gently put one hand on Xiao Ding's shoulder to silently encourage him.

Xiao Ding looked up at Jiang Yao as if he had received great courage from her eyes. His voice trembled a few seconds later as he shouted, "Sis... Sis..."

It was as if he had lost his ability to speak. Xiao Ding continued to say, "Sis... sis... sis..."

Ding Xiaomei was silent for a long time, but her breathing became heavier.

"Little brother? Is that you, Little Brother?" Her voice trembled more than Xiao Ding's, and she could not hide the sobbing in her voice. "Is it you? Tell me, is it you?"

"It's me! It's me! Sister, I miss you so much." When Xiao Ding's hand gently pressed on the back of Jiang Yao's hand holding the phone, his entire body began to tremble. He suppressed his sobbing voice, but he could not stop the tears in his eyes. One by one, they fell on Jiang Yao's hand.

The heartache slowly spread to Jiang Yao's heart.

Jiang Yao did not know how it felt to be separated from one's family. Her parents had doted on her since she was young, so she could not empathize.

However, her heart ached for the young child who was shouldering an experience with which no ordinary people could empathize.

The child had left home so young that he could not even remember his name.

However, he still misses his family and even remembered to look for his sister.

At that moment, Jiang Yao felt that her effort was worth it. No matter how much money she spent, seeing that child find his family was worth it.

"I'm sorry, Little Brother. It's my fault." Ding Xiaomei kept apologizing over the phone, and the self-reproach she felt after discovering her little brother had escaped. She did not even dare to ask her little brother how he had been living all those years. Where had he been all those days? What kind of grievances had he suffered?

At that moment, the resentment she had already let go of once again occupied her heart.

She hated her father even more. She hated the person who had caused her and her little brother to be homeless.

"Sister, when are you coming to pick me up? Has Dad come home? Where's Mom? Who else is at home?" Xiao Ding said, "I remember that we left home to find Dad."

However, it had been too long. Xiao Ding could no longer remember why he left the village with his sister to find his father.

“Eldest Brother, Second Brother, Eldest Sister, and I will pick you up.”

Ding Xiaomei did not mention anything about her parents.

“Hurry up!”

Xiao Ding subconsciously urged her. Then, he realized that it was not good, so he quickly said, “It’s okay. You guys can take your time. I’m good here. Auntie Jiang and Uncle Lu are very nice. The director is also very nice. I have many friends here. When you guys come, I’ll introduce you to them.”

Jiang Yao was relieved to see that Xiao Ding’s mood had stabilized. She was afraid that Xiao Ding would be so excited that he would faint.

Jiang Yao was afraid when she saw him trembling like that then.

The news that Ding Xiaomei’s younger brother had been found had spread throughout the village in just a few minutes. While Ding Xiaomei was still talking to Xiao Ding on the phone, her older brothers and sisters had all gathered at the snack bar. They were scrambling to have a few words with their youngest brother..

Chapter 1970: The Warmth Of A Home

While Xiao Ding was talking on the phone, Jiang Yao patiently sat by the side and waited until Xiao Ding and his siblings were done. After chatting with his nephews and nieces, who were almost the same age as him, he reluctantly handed the phone back to Jiang Yao.

He wiped his eyes and looked at Jiang Yao’s phone for a few seconds. Then he said, “My brothers and sisters said that the whole family would come to pick me up. My brother said that life at home is much better now. My brother went out to work a few years ago and earned some money. The family built a new brick house next to the old one. My brother didn’t dare to tear down the old house because he was afraid that I wouldn’t be able to find my way home.”

Xiao Ding kept wiping his tears with the back of his hand. “Auntie Jiang, do you know? I’m actually very scared. While I’m looking for my sister, I’m afraid that she might no longer remember me. I might be homesick, but my family might no longer remember me.”

“You’re thinking of them, thinking of home. They’re also thinking of you, waiting for you to come home. That was the most beautiful process and also the most torturous process.”

However, once there was an outcome, that torturous process would eventually turn into a little bit of warmth that melted into the child’s heart, who was far away from home.

Xiao Ding sat there for a long time before he gradually stopped crying. He met Jiang Yao’s gentle eyes when he looked up again and smiled shyly.

That smile made Jiang Yao feel as if a lifetime had passed.

The figure of the young soldier suddenly appeared in front of Jiang Yao. Xiao Ding was starting to look a little like him at that time.

After finding his family and receiving the comfort of his family, he began to return to being an ordinary kid with emotions.

Jiang Yao felt a gentle sigh when she saw the change in Xiao Ding. "When my family comes, I will introduce them to my brothers!" Xiao Ding immediately cheered up. "Yanzi is still here. I will come here often to see Yanzi and the others in the future. I will also come to see Uncle Lu and Auntie Jiang.

"By the way, my sister also told me that my nephew is lucky to have your help, Auntie Jiang. Otherwise, he would have died of illness." Xiao Ding put on the most sincere smile on his face. "Auntie Jiang, you are so nice!"

"I'm not used to you being so sweet all of a sudden."

Jiang Yao patted Xiao Ding's shoulder. "Let's go back and tell the director and your brothers about this good news."

Xiao Ding immediately stood up and nodded repeatedly. He seemed to be in a hurry. If he did not know that Jiang Yao was pregnant, he would have urged Jiang Yao to run.

When they returned to the classroom, Yanzi and the others immediately saw that Xiao Ding had cried. They immediately became a little wary when they saw Jiang Yao's expression.

"Brother Xiao Ding, what's wrong?" Yanzi quickly asked.

After all, the children had been together for a very long time. They were dependent on each other. No one could easily intervene between them.

"I found my family! Auntie Jiang helped me find my family! My brothers and sisters said they would come to pick me up by train tomorrow!" Xiao Ding hugged Yanzi tightly and said, "Yanzi, I've finally found my family. I can go home now!"

"Really? That's great!" Yanzi was even more excited than Xiao Ding..
