

Chapter 1965– 1966 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 1965 Traces of Being Moved

Down in the well, it wasn't the kind of invisible darkness.

Although it is a bit dim compared to the outside, the line of sight can still be seen several meters away.

I saw a passage extending toward the front.

When he came last time, Mark was curious, where did the light come from such underground caves?

But then Mark guessed that there should be some luminous stones in this cave.

However, this is not important, what is important is how to find the Yin scroll of that dragon body.

In this way, Mark walked slowly along the narrow passage.

Soon, Mark came to a completely opposite fork.

On both sides, there is a stone gate towering.

On the east side of the stone gate, the words "Chu Men" are engraved in golden handwriting.

On the west side, the west gate reads Tangmen.

"Last time my Yundao Heavenly Book was obtained from the Chu Sect."

"This time, my grandma let me enter the Tang Sect."

"It seems that the shadow scroll of the dragon god body should be after this Tang Sect. "But it's weird. How could there be Tang Sect in the ancestral land of our Chu family?" Mark didn't think much before, but now he re-enters the forbidden area of the underground palace, Mark can't help but become curious.

If you say Chumen, it means the door of the Chu family.

Then this Tang Sect should be the gate of the Tang family.

But why is the forbidden land of the Tang family with the Chu family?

“Could it be that the ancestors of the Tang family have a deep relationship with the ancestors of the Chu family?” Mark wondered, secretly guessing.

However, this is not the time to doubt this. After finding Tang Sect, Markdang pushed open the stone gate and walked in.

“Huh?” “Strange, how could there be traces of being touched by someone in this door?” The moment Mark pushed the door, he found something strange.

It stands to reason that if such a place has not been visited for many years, when Mark pushes the door, a large amount of dust will fall on the door, but the truth is not.

“It’s probably too grandma, have you come in?” After a moment of doubt, Mark was also relieved.

This place has always been guarded by the old prince of the Chu family.

It is estimated that in the entire Chu family, apart from him and the old lady, no third person knew about it.

Therefore, if someone enters, it is not him, it is the old lady.

After pushing the door open, Mark followed the passage and continued to move forward.

At this moment, Mark walked cautiously against the stone wall.

The alertness of the whole person undoubtedly mentioned the extreme.

Seeing six directions, listening to all directions, always ready to run away!

According to Mark’s experience of going to Truman, these places are not without danger.

More than a decade ago, when Mark broke into Chumen, he almost lost his life.

There are many agencies and dangers in it. Grandma Tai said that if the Chu entrance forbidden place, if you trespass without permission, you will be the top ten strong in the top ten, and there will be no return!

Had it not been for the jade pendant that Mark had given him by his grandmother at the time, otherwise, Mark would never have entered the depths of Chumen with a melon baby.

But now, Mark didn’t have a “pass” to enter the Tang gate.

In other words, Mark needs to bear the danger inside.

“I hope there are no abnormal institutions.”

“Otherwise, I’m afraid I have to plant here~” Mark secretly prayed.

Now he has not yet recovered his strength, and his skill is not as good as before.

If there is any powerful danger, Mark really has no confidence to handle it.

Therefore, Mark naturally moved forward more carefully.

Chapter 1966 Shocked Mark

However, to Mark’s delight, he walked along the passage for a long time, and he didn’t even encounter a single danger.

The whole passage was quiet, only Mark’s breathing echoed.

“It’s estimated that it was too grandma who gave me a good way in advance.”

“Relieved the danger for me.”

Mark thought secretly, now only this reason can be explained.

However, Mark did not relax because of this, and proceeded very carefully.

After all, you are not afraid of ten thousand just in case.

Even if the old lady has really helped him pass the road, what if there is any danger to miss?

Years of chasing and killing has already allowed Mark to develop a cautious character.

No matter where you are, a certain amount of care and caution is necessary.

In this way, Mark walked along the passage for a long time.

During the period, several secret rooms also appeared beside the passage.

But to Mark’s disappointment, the secret rooms were all open, as if they had been boarded first. Except for some tables and chairs, porcelain, there was nothing valuable to Mark, let alone the dragon god body.”

Yin roll”.

“Wori~” “Isn’t there a thief here?” As Mark got deeper, his heart became colder and colder.

Along the way, he found that all the secret rooms had been opened.

Moreover, the contents inside clearly showed signs of being taken away.

At first, Mark thought it was too grandma.

But the more I think about it, the more I feel wrong.

Because his grandma, there is no reason to move the things inside.

Her existence is to guard this forbidden area.

Apart from her, it is estimated that no one knows the existence of this underworld.

To a certain extent, the things inside can be said to belong to the old lady.

Steal from guard?

is it possible?

This is obviously impossible.

She has no reason to take her own things.

Therefore, Mark had to suspect that a thief had come.

“Or, did the elders of the Chu family enter?” Mark asked the old lady before, and she said that no one in the Chu family knows that there is still this cave under the old house.

However, this does not mean that those Chu family members who have passed away have never been here.

“Hey~” “If this is the case, then the Yin Tornado is gone, right?”

Thinking of this, Mark was lost for a while.

After doing it for a long time, it was a bamboo basket fetching water.

“Forget it, if you can’t find it, you can’t find it.”

“If I can master the Yang Dragon Body, I should be content.”

Mark was already ready to return.

However, just when he was about to return, he suddenly felt that the heaven and earth power in the air was much richer than outside.

Martial arts practice is to take the excess of the world and make up for the deficiency.

This is the case with the refining of Qi in ancient Taoism.

Absorb the spiritual energy of heaven and earth for cultivation.

Today's martial arts practice is naturally the same.

Especially since the cultivation base has reached the level of titled master, if the strength wants to go further, it will naturally need the accumulation of the heaven and earth power.

But the elemental power on the earth is really thin, so Mark has raised jade many times before to absorb the spiritual power in the jade.

But now, in this cave mansion, the heaven and earth power is so richer than the outside world, Mark naturally feels very strange.

At this time of doubt, Mark continued to go deeper.

Until, after he reached the end of the passage, Mark's eyes widened immediately.

Looking at the scene ahead, Mark trembled and his pupils shrank.

The eyeballs almost stared out.

"This.... This is..."
