

Chapter 198

"I was too busy before. Now, the company's affairs have almost been handled. As for my uncle ... even if I don't say it, you should know it. He hasn't given up. Last time, he hurt my grandfather, but he had the ability to plant everything on Audrey. Originally, Audrey was also involved in this, but I ..."

He hadn't finished his words.

Alyssa covered his mouth with her hand.

Leon looked at Alyssa and heard Alyssa say, "I don't want to hear this from you at all. None of this has anything to do with me. I believe that you can handle this. Leon, I just want us to be the same as we are now. We're going to be together forever, and nothing can separate us."

"Yeah."

Leon knew that Alyssa didn't want to hear that from him, so he left it at that.

He moved closer to Alyssa and kissed the top of her head, "Shouldn't we go out? It doesn't seem good for us to stay in the bathroom all the time."

"It's just you and me in here. I'm not going out."

"Wherever I am, you're the only one in my heart. I asked Wendy to prepare a lot of delicious food for you. How about we go out and have something to eat?"

"Okay!"

Leon didn't say sweet words much, but his sweet words were especially nice.

Alyssa smiled and looked at Leon, "I can't walk. You have to carry me out ... Come on."

"Okay, I'll hold you!"

Leon was certainly happy to hold Alyssa!

He walked out with Alyssa in his arms, feeling that she didn't get much heavier than before. Probably all her weight was on her belly.

Leon stopped and looked down at her belly. After a long time, he said, "Have all the meals you've eaten lately grown onto your belly? You eat a lot, but I feel as if you've lost weight."

"That must be your illusion. I can eat three or four chicken legs at a time now, and those are all high-calorie foods. Maybe the children need nutrition now."

"Hmm."

Leon thought that Alyssa had a point.

He sat down at the table with Alyssa in his arms.

Then, he started to give Alyssa meat.

She really liked to eat meat. She ate as much as he gave her.

Alyssa gobbled it up.

She had to eat more for the sake of the children.

The Hunters' old house.

George lay in his room. Looking at the familiar room, he suddenly felt very strange.

Before in the detention center, Leon found all the evidence that Audrey had harmed him and Alyssa.

It turned out that what he saw was all fake.

But when he thought about what happened before, he felt that they were not fake at all.

His mother had really done those bad things.

But he still thought that his mother was very aggrieved in this matter. It was all Alyssa's fault.

He was used by his mother. But he had never thought that his mother would use him.

Leon lay in bed, thinking about everything that had happened before.

He couldn't help but feel he was a fool.

But he didn't know how to deal with this at all.

It was clearly not his fault, but it was his fault too.

At that moment, footsteps sounded outside the door.

He turned his head and saw his grandfather walking in. He immediately stood up from the bed,
"Grandpa."

"Lie down! You're still sick!"

"Actually, I'm fine. I felt much better when I was in the detention center. The people there gave me fever-reducing medicine. I'm already much better. Grandpa, thank you for caring about me."

George's gaze was dull and his earlier vitality was long gone.

Kevin looked at George and patted him on the shoulder, "You are still young and have a long way to go. What you have learned is from school. You just do what you like to do."

"Do you also think I'm a mediocre person?" George looked at Kevin and lowered his head in embarrassment, "I used to think I was pretty smart. But now I know it's not like that. I'm actually quite stupid. Grandpa, it's all my fault. I didn't know that my mother had done something like that."

"Silly boy, you are an adult now, an independent individual. You shouldn't care what others think, just go ahead and do what you feel is right. I don't think you're stupid. On the contrary, I like your purity. Originally, I didn't want to give you Hunter Group, not because you are not as good as Leon, but because you are not suitable."

"You are right. I am indeed inferior to Leon."

"But there is something about Leon that is not as good as you. You like to travel, you are lively and good at making friends, you study well, you are smart, and you are handsome. The most important thing is that you are still young."

George froze at his grandfather's words.

Suddenly he understood what grandpa meant.

Hunter Group was not the only way to show off his abilities.

He seemed to be tricked by his mother this time.

"Think about my words! I have to leave now. You get some rest and take your medicine regularly. I hope you can go back to school as soon as you get better. I also want to hear you tell me stories about the outside world. My legs are not good, so I have to rely on you to know what's going on outside."

George suddenly had an enlightenment when he heard his grandfather's words.

Kevin nodded as he watched George's eyes light up.

The Hunters' kids were smart!

Kevin went off to have tea with his friends.

George lay in bed, thinking about going back to school the next day.

He had been away from school for a long time. It was time for him to go back to school.

Detention Center.

Audrey immediately recognized the man at the door as the bodyguard from the old house.

He should be Kevin's bodyguard.

She looked at the bodyguard and smiled at him.

"Can you help me tell Kevin that I know I'm wrong? If he can let George out, he must be able to let me out too. You tell Kevin to have mercy and let me go! From now on, I won't do anything like that again. I have learned my lesson and will never do that again."

The bodyguard's face was serious and he didn't say anything.

Audrey didn't dare to act in a dignified manner and continued, "How much money do you want? As soon as I can get out, I can pay you. I have a lot of money, really."

The bodyguard glanced at Audrey and turned to leave.

Watching the bodyguard leave, Audrey got anxious, "I can do that with you as long as you find a way to get me out of here. I'll serve you any way you want. I can't stay here."

The bodyguard turned his head to look at Audrey and said disdainfully, "Mrs. Hunter, you're so familiar with sleeping with men. You make me feel sick."

"You ... well, I'm disgusted. Then what do you want? I'll promise you anything if you want. By the way, why don't you inform George! I know George will save me. George will definitely save me."

"If he's really willing to save you, then you just wait. He knows you are here now."

He felt sick at the sight of this dirty woman. He really didn't want to stay here for even one second.

Watching the bodyguard leave, Audrey looked down at her figure.

She thought she was well maintained. Nobody would reject her, but that man said she was disgusting.

In the future, if she went out, she would teach that bodyguard a lesson.

What right did a bodyguard have to say that about her?

She curled the corners of her mouth. Since he didn't want to see her, she would just gouge his eyes out.

Audrey couldn't help but laugh by imagining.

A passing policeman frowned at Audrey's smug laughter. Was she out of her mind?

Her trial was about to start. She was about to face charges of fraud and intentional assault. She would have to be in jail for at least ten years.

At this time, she could still laugh?

She was probably crazy!

Otherwise, she wouldn't be like this.

The officer sighed at this thought and couldn't help but glance at Audrey.

Looking at the way she laughed like crazy, the officer felt that she was really stupid.

If she was scared, why did she still do something so stupid?

What a fool.

Hey!

Some people always made some awful mistakes!

Alyssa was five months pregnant.

Her belly was already as big as a pot.

It was the day of her maternity checkup again.

Leon accompanied Alyssa to the hospital. The test results showed that both babies were fine. But it was time for Alyssa to go light on the food!

This made Alyssa feel embarrassed.

She looked at the doctor awkwardly.

The doctor smiled instead.

"This is actually very normal. Your weight is currently within the manageable range. I just advise you to control your appetite a little bit. It doesn't mean that you are overweight. You shouldn't worry too much about this."

"Okay." Alyssa was finally not as nervous as before.

She did eat a lot, but ... she just couldn't control herself.

"Mrs. Hunter, you can come for your maternity checkup next month on time."

"I see." Alyssa nodded and stood up. Leon rushed over to help her.

Alyssa was a little embarrassed, but she didn't want to refute Leon's kindness. She smiled at Leon and took his hand.

Leon looked at Alyssa's embarrassed look and smiled, "It's okay. Your weight is still under control. Don't worry."

"I'm probably already overweight. I feel like my belly has grown so big lately. I can't keep eating like this. It's good to listen to the doctor. By the way, why don't you ask the doctor for a diet? I'm going to eat according to the diet from the doctor."

Alyssa instantly lost confidence in her own diet.

Looking at Alyssa's nervous expression, Leon hurriedly reassured her, "Don't be anxious. I've already arranged for someone to ask for the diet. Don't you think that the children are too important to you? Will you even leave me alone for the sake of the children? You're going too far. Alyssa, will you not care about me when you have children?"

"No!"

Alyssa could see that Leon was jealous.

However, she felt a little guilty when she said that.

With children, she would definitely pay less attention to him.

Worried that Leon would feel aggrieved, she hurriedly coaxed him, "You're the father of the children. You love our children too, right?"

Leon nodded. He definitely loved their children.
