

Noble Husband At the Door Chapter 199

Tang Long really felt guilty. It was fine to boast, but it would more than if Liam found out about it.

Yet exactly how could someone like him have anything to do with Liam? It was possibly Yvonne who had mentioned him before.

"Samuel, don't squander your time on me. Whether he recognizes it or not has nothing to do with you," Flavor Long stated disdainfully.

"You're the one wasting my time. I'm visiting Liam. Can you take duty if I'm late?" Samuel said.

Tang Long frowned and gritted his teeth with a vivid expression. "Is this person going to satisfy Liam in support of Sue family members? When did he have such a high setting in the Sue Household?"

What would certainly this fellow say to Liam if he were to hear what he had just said?

"Liam is not here today. You would certainly much better leave here," Flavor Long stated.

"No matter. Even if he is not at the business, I can call him over," Samuel stated.

"What do you assume? Do not you dare? Samuel, tell me regarding it. Can I think a good-for-nothing like you bragging before me?" Tang Long sneered.

"There are knee guards on the street. I advise you to get one now, or you will not have a possibility later on," Samuel said and also secured the phone.

Seeing Samuel's pretense, Tang Long was not stressed at all. He stated, "Let's see how much time you can play your techniques. Individuals like you won't regret it up until you lose all your face. You're similar to a fool."

Samuel hung up the phone. As time went by, the smile on Tang Long's face grew bigger and larger.

"You're really proficient at acting. You're not in a hurry in all. It's a pity that you're a loser in the Sue family. How about I introduce you to a brokerage firm company to run tasks and gain some cash? You don't have to be dishonored in the Sue family." Flavor Long stated.

"By the way, do not you have to go to work today?" Samuel said.

Tang Long was shocked for a moment prior to he remembered that he had to call the card for work.

Tang Long ran back and forth breathlessly. When he went back to the firm's entry, he located Liam was likewise there, standing with Samuel.

"Is he actually here?"

However, he should be functioning usually. He might not have come here due to the fact that Samuel's telephone call.
