

Chapter 1999: Don't Mind Me

"Yes, yes, we have a few days off, right? Classes will probably start again in two days. All of you should also concentrate and study hard. Professor Ouyang will be back tomorrow. If he finds all of you tired when he comes back, do as you see fit."

"Miss Jiang, that's not cool. Why would you talk about such a serious topic while shopping?" Li Hong covered her face and made an expression as if she wanted to cry.

Lu Xingzhi was not very patient with that group of students. It was rare for him to spend some time alone with Jiang Yao. Who would want to waste time on those inconsequential people?

Therefore, after Jiang Yao finished speaking, Lu Xingzhi immediately put his arm around Jiang Yao's shoulder and went straight to the fourth floor. Half of the shops on the fourth floor sold things for infants and pregnant women.

Li Hong watched as Jiang Yao was led away by her husband. She turned around and muttered to Jing Mengjie, "Are all soldiers so rich these days? Miss Jiang's husband can bring her to these stores to shop."

"The clothes that Miss Jiang is wearing are not cheap. They are from famous brands." Liu Chao touched his chin. "Didn't people say that Miss Jiang's husband's family was rich?"

"That's Miss Jiang's business. Let's not talk about it. Are we still shopping? Otherwise, let's go for a drink. The weather is so weird. If it doesn't rain, it's scorching," Wu Boyan said.

"Yeah, I was wearing a coat yesterday. Today, it's so hot that I want to go swimming," Li Hong said. She tactfully stopped talking about Miss Jiang.

There were so many people there. Perhaps someone knew Miss Jiang. What if they heard it and told Miss Jiang about it?

Compared to the fourth floor, the third floor was quieter. There were not many shops that specialized in baby and pregnancy products.

Jiang Yao looked at Lu Xingzhi. He behaved as if he was going to the supermarket to buy groceries. She could not stop him.

"Let's wait until our baby learns to walk before getting a walker. We can wait until he is almost two weeks old before buying any toy cars. Now, we just need to buy some toys that will flash and make noises to attract him.'

Jiang Yao facepalmed. "It's too early to buy them now. It will just sit there and collect dust.'

Lu Xingzhi acted as if he did not hear her. He asked the salesperson to pack the big items he wanted. When he had bought enough, he held Jiang Yao's hand and walked toward the shop that sold children's clothes and shoes.

Pink!

Pink!

...

They were all f*cking pink!

Lu Xingzhi bought baby clothes like he was buying cabbages. The only difference was that he was purchasing pink cabbages!

“Lu Xingzhi, didn’t you say that we’re having a son? Why are you buying pink items? Are we dressing our son in pink like a girl? Don’t even think about it.” Jiang Yao was about to explode as she removed the things Lu Xingzhi had put back in the basket.

“What are you doing?”

Lu Xingzhi frowned unhappily and insisted on getting the things that Jiang Yao had put back. “I’m buying them for our future daughter. Don’t mind me.”

“What about the baby?”

Jiang Yao pointed at her belly. “Aren’t we here to buy things for him?”

“I’ll buy them for him after I buy my daughter’s things. There’s no rush. We have an afternoon to stroll around,” Lu Xingzhi replied. Jiang Yao almost fainted. What kind of person was he?

Was he ignoring their son?

Was he prioritizing their yet-to-be-conceived daughter?

Chapter 2000: Outdated

“Put everything back!” Jiang Yao was furious. All those things will be outdated and wasted when your daughter is born! That is not how you waste your money!”

“Outdated?” That word made Lu Xingzhi a little confused. Yes, as a man unfamiliar with fashion, the term outmoded was foreign to Lu Xingzhi.

“Yes, everyone’s taste will change in five or six years.”

Jiang Yao was trying to persuade him. “So, if you buy these things now, when they’re outdated, and your daughter doesn’t like them, are you going to force your daughter to use them? So, don’t buy them. It’s a waste of money to buy them now. We should buy things for our son first.”

“Why five or six years later?”

Lu Xingzhi refused to let it go. “We’ll have a daughter next year.”

“Do you think pregnancy is as simple as a hen laying eggs?”

Jiang Yao punched Lu Xingzhi. “Do you think I will immediately give birth to another baby after this one? Don’t you want me to rest?”

Lu Xingzhi finally realized that he was taking things for granted. He quickly apologized. “Well, five or six years later. Let’s buy clothes for our son.”

Lu Xingzhi agreed that Jiang Yao would not get pregnant that quickly after she gave birth to their son.

A pregnancy would last nine months, and Jiang Yao should rest for one to two years after the birth of their son. When she was finally pregnant with their daughter, it would be another four to five years before their baby girl could use those things.

However...

Lu Xingzhi touched Jiang Yao's belly and asked, "This is a son? Are you sure?"

"Let's hope so."

Jiang Yao covered her mouth and chuckled. She finally persuaded Lu Xingzhi to take her side, wanting their firstborn to be a son.

A few days ago, Jiang Yao had been a little nervous when she went to the medical system for a check-up as she had nothing to do in the dormitory. She got so excited when she confirmed that she was pregnant with a boy.

...

Her daughter would be so blessed to have a brother to dote on her in the future.

"I told you! When I said we'd have a son, we'd have a son!"

Lu Xingzhi was so proud that day.

After confirming the baby's gender, Lu Xingzhi brought Jiang Yao to the baby boy section.

Lu Xingzhi was still enthusiastic even though he was no longer shopping for a baby girl.

He did not mind the baby's gender as long as it was his and Jiang Yao's child.

He would buy anything for his child if he liked the item, from food to clothing items to toys.

He would put the item in their shopping trolley if Jiang Yao were even a little curious about it.

The salesperson was very happy when Lu Xingzhi bought things like he was not short of money. It was probably the first time the salesperson had seen such a wealthy person after working for so long.

Lu Xingzhi carried big bags of baby clothes and supplies when they finally left the store. However, he did not even think they were heavy. He urged Jiang Yao to go to the shops for pregnant women next.

Jiang Yao was pregnant, but she did not have the time to get clothes and shoes to accommodate her pregnancy.

Winter would arrive soon. Her belly would become bigger, and she would not be able to wear any of her summer clothes.

"Buy a few new undergarments. I don't think your old ones will fit you anymore." Lu Xingzhi gestured to Jiang Yao to look at that section..
