

Chapter 2003: You Saw Her, Right?

“No, I just did what I had to do.” The director was embarrassed. He exchanged a glance with Jiang Yao and quickly went to pull her up. However, Ding Xiaomei insisted on kneeling, and no one could pull her up.

“Auntie Jiang, I don’t know when Uncle Lu will come. If I don’t see him later, please thank him for me. If you guys didn’t take me away from the Ye family, I’m not sure where I’d be right now.”

What was Xiao Ding thinking at that time?

Mrs. Ye had slapped him and even wanted to strip him naked in front of everyone; he had wanted to kill everyone in the Ye family.

Xiao Ding did not deny that he had wanted revenge. He wanted to kill the woman who insulted him.

Jiang Yao stayed at the welfare institute to have a meal with the Ding family before they left.

Everyone in the Ding family seemed kind, just like Ding Xiaomei.

Xiao Ding had so many friends in the welfare institute, and Jiang Yao could tell that the Ding family wanted to bring them home.

However, no one mentioned it because they knew that the Ding family could not afford to raise more children.

They would not be able to feed or nurture those children.

It would be better to let those children remain in the welfare institution to continue their studies instead of removing them from there and providing them with the bare minimum to survive.

While they were on the way back to the army base, Jiang Yao ate the fruits that Lu Xingzhi had prepared for her. Then, she asked Big Ke, “Did you see Colonel Ye’s daughter, Ye Li, or something, at the welfare institute just now?”

“Director Jiang, it’s Ye Xueli.”Support our Bonovel.com

Big Ke nodded. “I did see her. When we were at the entrance, she was behind the big pillar. The way she looked at you was not very good. I don’t think she has any good intentions toward you.”

One could usually see through someone’s faked good intentions, especially a pretentious woman like Ye Xueli. She was not comparable to Zhou Hailan, who could deceive others easily.

“You saw her too, right? I thought my eyes were playing tricks on me. I only saw her for one second.”

Jiang Yao snorted. “Why would such a heartless person be at the welfare institute? She must not have felt comfortable there. Xiao

Ding and his friends were also uncomfortable.”

Jiang Yao was just talking to herself. She did not expect Big Ke to reply. After all, Big Ke did not even know Ye Xueli as well as Jiang Yao did.

They reached the army base at around 3 P.M. Jiang Yao, Big Ke, and Ah Lu got out of the car. They greeted the soldiers standing guard at the entrance. Suddenly, Jiang Yao's phone rang, and she picked it up.

"Sister-in-law! Sister-in-law! Have you seen the news? "

It was Lu Xiaoxiao. As soon as she picked it up, Lu Xiaoxiao's excited voice made Jiang Yao laugh.

"What news? I haven't seen the news today. You seem very excited. Tell me about it." Lu Xiaoxiao had returned to Jindo City early in the morning the day after the rain had stopped. She had called Jiang Yao about it so that the latter knew where she would be.

The news she mentioned must have been about Jindo City..

Chapter 2004: Change Your Tune

"Is it difficult to figure out why I am so happy? Zhou Hailan is so unlucky!" Lu Xiaoxiao laughed sarcastically. She did not attempt to hide her dislike for Zhou Hailan. "This morning, the entire Jindo City went insane. Several newspapers published sh*t about Zhou Hailan. Her photos were so dirty that they hurt my eyes."

"Why?"

Jiang Yao was puzzled. "Why haven't there been any reports from Nanjiang City?"

"This is not just a written interview. It's too explosive this time." Lu Xiaoxiao was so excited. "The photos are of Zhou Hailan doing indecent things with some directors and producers. Someone posted them. It's a pity you haven't seen them! They're disgusting but explosive! She has a bad temper, and she's also such an indecent person."

Jiang Yao could not guess just how bad those photos were.

However, they must have been pretty eye-catching!

Otherwise, why was there no news from any news agencies in the south? The news must have been so lewd that the media agencies in the south did not dare to put them up. They were afraid that the news bureau would ban them.

After the call with Lu Xiaoxiao, Jiang Yao waited for Lu Xingzhi to come home. She almost ran to the door to welcome him when she heard noises at the door.

Even Lu Xingzhi found Jiang Yao's enthusiasm strange. No matter how good he and Jiang Yao were, she would not have had the initiative to welcome him home after work.

Jiang Yao was not someone who would do that.

"Xiaoxiao called me in the afternoon and told me that someone had published indecent photos of Zhou Hailan. Do you know how happy she was when she saw that?"

"Oh? Is that so? "Lu Xingzhi asked. It looked like he had just heard about that, but Jiang Yao knew better.

"How could you not know about the arrangements you made?"

Jiang Yao rubbed her palm. "What kinds of photos are those? Do you have them now? Can I see them?"

After a pause, Jiang Yao said, "Are those photos real or fake?"

"They've been edited. Those were not innocent photos anyway, especially in that industry." Lu Xingzhi patted Jiang Yao's head. "A good show is still to come, so don't worry about that."

...

"What about the photos?"

"You want to see them?"

Lu Xingzhi led his wife to the sofa and sat her down.

He smiled but said nothing when Jiang Yao nodded excitedly. Instead, he knocked on her head.

"Dream on!"

Did she want to see another man's body? Did she not have enough of her husband's body?

How could he show those photos to Jiang Yao? He did not think it was suitable for prenatal education.

He did not want his child to see something so dirty before he was born.

"Dream on?"

Jiang Yao gritted her teeth in anger. "Can't you change our tune?"

She wanted to see it, but he would not let her. It was as if he did not want her to know about it.

Zhou Hailan's incident slowly escalated as time passed. Lu Xiaoxiao reported the latest developments in Jindo City to Jiang Yao every day, telling her how Zhou Hailan and her company had angrily clarified that the photos were fake..
