

Chapter 205

Alyssa said, "What about after the summer? What if George is too busy?"

"Grandpa will teach George himself."

Alyssa didn't expect Leon to be so thoughtful. He seemed to get everything taken care of.

She looked down at her belly. Their children should be very happy.

"You will love me and the children forever, won't you?"

"Yes, I will love you all very much!"

They were the most important people to him.

Who would he love if he didn't love them?

Alyssa happily took Leon's hand, "Let's go see the stars! I want to see the stars. The stars will be so pretty tonight."

"Okay."

Leon nodded.

The sky was full of beautiful stars, sparkling and twinkling.

"Leon, we're standing in a very high spot. The stars are especially bright. I don't know when I got into this kind of environment. I didn't think the stars looked so good before."

"As long as you like it. This place is indeed a bit high." Leon looked up and found that the sky was indeed sparkling with bright little stars. In fact, he thought the stars were nothing special. But with Alyssa, he felt that the stars did look good.

His woman had a good eye naturally!

Leon took a look at Alyssa, who was indeed very attractive. He instantly felt that he had a good eye and found such a good woman.

For a moment, he was particularly satisfied with his choice.

Alyssa looked at Leon and knew he was lost in thought.

However, this man looked so good when he was distracted, and Alyssa didn't look away for a long time. Leon wouldn't get dumb looking at her, would he?

Alyssa suddenly smiled when she thought about it.

Leon watched as Alyssa suddenly smiled. The way she smiled seemed better than usual.

He couldn't retract his gaze even more.

On the one hand, he thought Alyssa was good-looking. On the other hand, he thought he was really lucky.

He smiled. When Alyssa looked at Leon's happy smile, she suddenly didn't know what to say.

What was wrong with him?

She raised her hand and touched Leon's face. Leon had a serious face and didn't look like he had a problem. It seemed that he should have thought of something. She looked at Leon curiously, "What's wrong? Did something happen to you?"

"I'm fine."

"Then why are you smiling?"

"Come here and I'll tell you what I'm smiling about."

Alyssa heard Leon's words and came closer to him to find out what Leon was smiling about, but just as she got closer to Leon, she was hugged tightly by him.

She froze for a moment, then felt Leon kissing her. Soon she couldn't help but respond to Leon.

Alyssa clearly felt Leon's passion.

"Leon, you really can't come any closer to me. If you come any closer to me, I feel like you're going to lose control of yourself. You have to stay calm. If we keep this up, we might not be able to control ourselves."

Leon heard Alyssa's words.

He felt like his whole body was splashed with cold water.

For a moment, all his moods were gone.

Why would women get pregnant?

If they were pregnant, why couldn't they do that thing?

He looked at Alyssa, very unhappy.

Alyssa could see Leon's displeasure. She looked up into his eyes, "I can see that you are unhappy. Even if you're unhappy, there's nothing I can do about it. Women will have children. How nice it would be if women could not have children! Women can also play to their strengths in the workplace. The workplace is no longer a man's world."

Leon did not say anything. If anyone else had said these words, he would have retorted. But after Alyssa said this, he suddenly felt that he could not refute it even if he wanted to.

On the contrary, he had to look at Alyssa pleasingly and smile at her, "Yes, what you say is all right."

"Hmm."

Seeing that Leon had become more reasonable, Alyssa pointed to the chair across from him, indicating him to sit down.

Leon obediently sat down and looked at Alyssa still with an ingratiating face.

There was nothing wrong with pleasing his wife anyway.

Even if others knew, it didn't matter.

Who was not afraid of his wife?

Alyssa was satisfied to see Leon with a pleasing expression. She was also upset at the thought that they had to keep their distance and not get too close.

"Leon, why don't you go to work! I'll rest for a while."

"You're tired? Then I'll rest with you."

"No, I won't be able to sleep if you stay here. You'd better work on your own."

Leon looked at Alyssa and frowned. Why did he feel like he was being disliked?

Never mind, he really couldn't control himself here.

Leon reluctantly left. Alyssa let out a soft sigh as she watched him leave. People were really strange. She liked Leon too, but they couldn't get too close right now.

Leon went to the study. As soon as he walked into the study, he was watched.

There were more and more people outside staring at him, and Alyssa only saw a small part of them.

Colton had probably mobilized all his forces lately. He didn't do anything to him but just watched his every move. He was determined to let him handle the Koherrs' messy business.

During this time, he also investigated the Koherrs. If the Koherrs only had a messy business at home, he would be able to handle it, but now their business abroad was also messy. No wonder Colton couldn't wait to find someone to help.

If he did go back to handle the Koherrs' affairs, he would have to go abroad.

Probably this was what grandpa was worried about in the first place, so he insisted on not letting him go back to the Koherrs.

But according to Colton's attitude, he seemed to have to force him to go back.

He wouldn't go back, but he was worried that Colton would use some tactic to force him to go back.

Now, he was also working on a solution.

Leon prepared to go on a business trip. His destination for this trip was a bit far away, and he had to change planes halfway. In that case, it would certainly be a little difficult to track him. There should be two results, the first result would be that Colton gave up and stopped insisting on sending people to keep an eye on him and force him to go back. The second result would be that Colton was driven to desperation and came to him personally.

But whatever the result was, it was better than the current situation.

But he hadn't had time to tell Alyssa about it, and he didn't know how to tell Alyssa.

Alyssa was in a good state, but he didn't want to leave Alyssa alone.

He heard that pregnant women would imagine things. He was worried that Alyssa would think too much, so he didn't tell Alyssa about his scheduled business trip yet.

If he took Alyssa with him on the trip, he was worried that Alyssa wouldn't be able to handle the travel.

It wasn't easy for her to be pregnant. Moreover, he could see that Alyssa attached great importance to the children.

When he thought of the way Alyssa bought baby products at the baby store, he felt as if there was no more him in this world, only Alyssa and the two children.

When he thought about this, he was suddenly a little unhappy.

He had to tell Alyssa his plan. He decided to talk to Alyssa tomorrow.

He stood up and left.

In the bedroom.

Alyssa was already asleep.

He moved over to Alyssa and hugged her from behind.

Alyssa felt someone behind her and turned her head to look at Leon.

"You're done. What time is it? Just go to bed!"

"Well, you just sleep!"

Leon nodded and leaned into Alyssa's arms.

Alyssa turned her head and hugged Leon. She felt that she spoiled Leon too much. Otherwise, how could Leon be so reckless, burrowing into her arms like a child?

In fact ... it was quite warm like this.

Alyssa was content, feeling warm and comfortable.

The next day.

Alyssa woke up a little later than Leon.

Leon saw that Alyssa was awake and said softly, "Why are you awake so early? Do you want to sleep some more?"

"No, I need to get up and exercise. Earlier, the doctor said I could exercise properly. I'm obviously over-nourished now."

Alyssa was aware of her physical condition. She needed to exercise more now.

"Watch out. Hey, why are you squatting down?"

Leon rushed over and pulled her up. How could she squat down when she was pregnant?

She got a lot of nerve!

Alyssa looked at Leon's nervous expression and said, "I'm not a child anymore. Besides, I can exercise now, as long as I take it slow and control my strength. Leon, why haven't you gone to work? It's after ten in the morning."

Alyssa looked at the time. It was already past ten in the morning.

"I have something to tell you. I have to go on a business trip today, and I don't have much time left."

"Business trip? What city? When will you be back?"

He didn't travel often.

After they got married, this was his first business trip.

Alyssa thought that now that she was pregnant, he wouldn't go very far away, so she didn't really care.

"Well ... Country L!"

"Huh?" Alyssa stopped moving instantly and looked at Leon in surprise, "Are you kidding me?"

"No!"

"Then why do you suddenly have to go so far away? You have to take a plane ride of over thirty hours to get there. When are you going to come back?"

Alyssa was worried.

When would he be back after such a long journey?

"I should be back in half a month. I haven't made up my mind on the exact time yet, and it may depend on how the work is going. I will finish the work and come back as soon as possible."

It was not unusual for Leon to travel.

But the fact that he was going to travel after Hunter Group had just stabilized and she was pregnant really confused her.

On second thought, Alyssa figured it out. He probably wanted to get rid of Colton completely.
