

Chapter 206

In ICU, Zhang Fan began to be on duty alone with Tong Lili, a girl who graduated from Sanchuan University. They graduated in the same year as Wang Yanan, and their practice achievements in this session are coming down. There is no suspense about Wang Yanan entering orthopedics, but others are not so lucky. Without a practice certificate, they can only continue to work hard and strive to attract the attention of the Department Director.

The tragedy of medical clinic is here. It will take at least five years to graduate from university. One year after graduation, you can only take the practice certificate. It will take another year to get the certificate, that is, there is no human rights, little income, no sense of security, bad performance and the possibility of dismissal at any time.

And now undergraduates are becoming less and less valuable in hospitals. The graduate students recruited by the University have graduated. The provincial capital can't digest so many graduate students, and then began to spread to the third class hospitals in the region. Zhang Fan and Tong Lili were a little better this year, but they were not so lucky. Many graduate students came to the hospital in September. And they are all graduate students in some mainstream departments, because graduate students in mainstream departments are no longer valuable in provincial hospitals. Now the top three in the provincial capital are popular with doctors!

In order to enter a slightly better department, Tong Lili really worked hard and tried again. When Lin long asked several transferred doctors in the Department who would like to talk to Zhang Fan, several boys were a little excited, but Tong Lili had stood up before they thought about it.

"Director, I'll follow Mr. Zhang!" Several other people either feel that Zhang Fan is also a transferred student and is not qualified, or feel embarrassed, or are afraid that leaving the current teaching will provoke people, so they hesitate a little, while Tong Lili is different.

Several graduate students have come to several major departments of internal medicine, and there are no strong relatives in her family. The conditions are general. She is admitted to the municipal hospital by examination. Now, if she is divided into marginal departments, will she do it or not? So she decided to put all her eggs in one basket.

Opportunities are reserved for those who are prepared. She doesn't dare to think about the double gland department. Which department is the leader's back garden and can be suitable for girls. There is another department, microsurgery. The hospital has just been established, and now doctors in the hospital know that Zhang Fan is a big winner in orthopedics. This is the time to make a choice and throw away the ordinary ICU, Follow the surgeon! This kind of thing is not about character, but about survival!

Tong Lili is not bad, just a little freckles, which makes her a little bit beautiful“ Miss Zhang, it's up to you to take care of me in the future. Why don't you accept the little woman's worship! " After checking the room, when Zhang Fan wanted to go to the orthopedic department to contact the operation, Tong Lili said to Zhang Fan with a serious attitude in the corridor.

"Hi! It's very kind of you to call me by name or Doctor Zhang. You don't have to call me a teacher. We entered the hospital in the same year. There's no need to be so unfamiliar. "

"Then I'll call you Zhang Fan when I'm alone and teacher Zhang when I'm alone!" Flickering big eyes, Zhang Fan couldn't bear to look straight at him and hurried away.

"Whatever you want!" Zhang Fan said as he walked that he was going to have a finger amputation operation for Bayin today. Bayin's body has recovered, but the two fingers of his right hand can't be saved.

Orthopedics is really surging now. Because Chen Qi, deputy director of the second Department of orthopedics and Li Hongtu, Deputy High School of the first Department of orthopedics, who finished his study in shuitanzi hospital, came back. During the six months of study, Li Hongtu couldn't stand Chen Qi's various requests and finally promised Chen Qi to start the third Department of orthopedics.

After half a year's study, Chen Qi has been able to lead an orthopaedic department independently. Moreover, Chen Qi has a fierce eye. Lao Gao of the first Department of bone specializes in joints, while the director of the second Department of bone specializes in spine. He focuses on trauma and micro orthopaedics. During his study, he not only reported his study experience to Ouyang regularly, but also introduced the development of orthopedics in large hospitals in the capital to Ouyang.

This time, he came back from his studies. He took Lao Li and completely worshipped Ouyang. Ouyang finally agreed to establish three orthopaedics and micro orthopaedics. This is lively. New graduate students, doctors who used to be unhappy in the development of orthopedics or have a good relationship with Chen Qi all want to go to the third Department of orthopedics. After all, a new Department is also like a new dynasty. The earlier it is, the more it is an elder, and the more opportunities and interests.

Chen Qi is very good at one thing, that is, he has eyes. He knows that Zhang Fan is skilled and young, and he is appreciated by Ouyang. Although he wants to pull Zhang Fan to go to the third Department of orthopedics, he has never taken action, because he knows that Zhang fandingke estimates that Ouyang will participate.

The previous two orthopaedics departments were in the era of confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union. Ouyang, who robbed patients from the two departments, was angry not only once, but it was useless. The economy was the biggest driving force. Now, the third Department of orthopedics is in preparation, and the Three Kingdoms era will follow. Ouyang also decided to set up the third Department of orthopedics in order not to let the farce between orthopedics continue.

In principle, the personnel of the three orthopaedics departments will not be added temporarily. It depends on Chen Qi's ability, how big the pot is and how big the meal is. Can get a few people to help him sing. Chen Qi is usually a smiling tiger and doesn't get angry easily, so her popularity is good, and she has privately promised some terms to the solicited doctors, so Lao Li has nearly ten doctors in total.

Ouyang was also happy when he saw that the two orthopaedics departments in the hospital were too large, and they were also large enterprises with excessive funds. Now the opportunity came. Ouyang shook off the knife and began to cut.

All orthopedic personnel were called on to hold a small meeting in the hospital, "the first aid center of the hospital will be opened next year. We should achieve the state of people and other equipment, not equipment and others, so I am going to set up a temporary first aid transfer department to distinguish it from the emergency department." Ouyang took a sip of water and looked at some of his orthopedic masters. They all had no expression.

Then he continued: "the future emergency center will be a diversified emergency rescue center, which can not only dispatch 120 rescue, but also do emergency surgery in the emergency center." As soon as he said this, the doctor below was moved.

The most common orthopaedic surgery is trauma and fracture. If they are all done in the emergency center in the future, the orthopaedic doctors here and the doctors below the vice high will be cool. Because the trauma is intercepted, the rest is major surgery on the joints or spine. If the doctors with low seniority can't do surgery, they will have no income. Can they not be cool!

Ouyang looked at the surprised doctor below and finally smiled, "let you jump! When the emergency center gets up, I'll see how you jump!" After drinking a cup of tea and clearing his throat, Ouyang continued: "the emergency center plans to transfer the doctors in charge of each department of surgery and the doctors in charge to deal with the patients on duty. In the future, the general ward will no longer receive emergency patients. So now, take this opportunity to implement the treatment priorities of the three orthopedics departments in the future. Please read it out to the director of the medical office. "

After Ouyang finished, the director of the medical department said, "it was decided by the hospital leaders that the first Department of orthopedics and spine surgery are mainly responsible for spine and spine related diseases. The second Department of orthopedics is mainly responsible for joints and joint related diseases, the third Department of orthopedics, micro orthopedics and children's orthopedics. "

After the director of the medical department finished reading out, Ouyang looked at several responsible persons and said, "you can come down and talk to me if you have any comments. In the future, you three departments should ask the medical department to arrange and arrange to go to the trauma clinic. I don't want to rob patients again! "

It's a hammer setting.

Because Bayin's fingers are micro orthopedics, Zhang Fan takes Tong Lili to the third Department of orthopedics to contact. No matter how many departments are divided into, orthopedics will always be Zhang Fan's private plot. First of all, the directors of the three departments support Zhang Fan very much. Secondly, Zhang Fan's current establishment is still orthopedic establishment, so Zhang Fan came to the newly established third orthopedic department as if he had returned to his mother's house!
