

Noble Husband At the Door Chapter 207

Even if he had to damage his assurance, he could not have done that.

"Luo Container, you have shed." Tian Changsheng ultimately looked at Luo Container with a smile.

Tian Ling'er covertly glanced at Samuel with a reluctant expression on her face. She transformed to Luo Bin and stated, "Grandpa Luo, have you forgotten what you said before?"

Luo Bin grunted coldly as well as said, "Tian Changsheng, this guy is not from your fighting styles club, right?"

When he heard that, Tian Changsheng knew that Luo Container wanted to go back on his words. He stated, "You claimed extremely plainly just now that as long as he is a member of the fighting styles club, winning is equivalent to winning. Are you going to stab in the back your words now?"

"I'm talking about your martial arts college's devotee, not an outsider." Luo Bin said.

"Luo Container, we are already so old. Aren't you afraid of losing face if you go back on your words?" Tian Changsheng claimed with a smile.

Face?

To Luo Bin, face was not as crucial as fifty percent of the assets of the Luo family members.

"Tian Changsheng, I'll return once more." After stating that, Luo Container left the fighting styles club angrily. His men dragged away the subconscious male on the arena.

Tian Changsheng was in an excellent state of mind. He was doomed to shed. He didn't anticipate that an unknown male could transform the tide. He intended to thank him.

Tian Changsheng strolled rapidly to Samuel with a happy face and also claimed, "Little bro, thanks for your assistance this time around. I excuse my perspective just now."

Tian Ling'er instantly did not attempt to deal with Samuel straight. Rather, she covertly observed Samuel from the edge of her eyes.

At this time, Tian Ling'er found that this person that was not dressed well had such a good-looking face, as well as was different from those so-called idolizers. He had lots of maleness of men and there was no womanhood of males and females at all.

"The Old Master is also significant. How can I ask you to apologize to me?" Samuel stated humbly.

Tian Changsheng truly didn't know exactly how to describe Samuel. He made use of to be big-headed, and now he was very modest.

"Perhaps ... this is the person with real toughness!"

"It seems that Luo Container will certainly damage his guarantee. If you have any other requests, you can inform me. I will satisfy you." Tian Changsheng claimed.

Samuel drank his head and also said, "It belongs to me. I'll obtain fifty percent of the Luo household's assets for myself in the future.

Tian Changsheng noticed a solid sense of power from Samuel's tone. It seemed that the Luo family had no choice yet to give it to him if he intended to get it.

"Who on earth is this boy? Why does he have such a mood?"

I've never ever come across any noble's kid being so exceptional in Cloud City.

"Little sibling, we can be taken into consideration to be good friends. I wonder if you can tell me your name." Tian Changsheng asked.

"It's not that I can't inform you, however the old man has to maintain it a secret for me. What do you state?" Samuel said.

"Of course, given that you've assisted me a lot, I'll maintain it a key for you."

"Samuel Hannigan."

After claiming that, Samuel turned around and.

Tian Changsheng was puzzled. "Samuel Hannigan, that is he? Is there such an effective Hannigan household in Cloud City?"

Currently, Tian Ling'er all of a sudden covered her mouth. She couldn't believe it. And currently, when she saw Samuel's back, she had a very familiar sensation.

Why did they appear to know each other?

"Why does he feel so familiar?"

By the way, it appeared to be him!

The little prince that was popular with the piano on the web over night was practically precisely the same as his back view.

There was when a big Miss who paid cash to examine the background of the little prince of the piano. This issue was not groundless, due to the fact that Tian Ling'er emergency room had done this thing!

"Ling'er emergency room, what's wrong?" Observing that Tian Ling'er was acting oddly, Tian Changsheng asked strangely enough.

"Grandpa, he is Samuel." claimed Tian Ling'er.

"That's. So what?" Tian Changsheng was puzzled.

"Have you neglected that in Cloud City, there is a famous person named Samuel? He is a good-for-nothing son-in-law Sue family members," Tian Ling'er emergency room claimed. She was very dissatisfied because he was most likely to be the little royal prince of the piano. Exactly how could the dream man be the son-in-law of the Sue family?

Tian Changsheng was stunned. Samuel, the worthless son-in-law of the Sue family!

"No wonder ... not surprising that he asked me to maintain it a key for him. It ends up that he is Samuel from the Sue family."
