

Chapter 208

Seeking good fortune and avoiding evil is the nature of ordinary people, and disease is also a kind of disaster. Once you are uncomfortable, you should avoid medical treatment and prove it wrong. We should actively face scientific treatment. The leader of quark county is to escape from normal physical examination and normal treatment for various reasons. I eat Liuwei Dihuang all year round. It is said that it is a medicine list provided by a master.

A loud noise after the fall resounded through the meeting. The people next to him thought he dozed off and fell asleep. He was embarrassed to get up! He smiled and said, "get up! The Secretary's face is black!" As a result, he didn't respond and had to stretch out his hand to pull people, but when he saw that his teeth were closed and his face turned blue, the people next to him were also aware of the problem.

"Leadership! He seems to have fainted!" The sound is not small.

"President Ouyang, come and have a look." The leader called Ouyang's name through the microphone. Although Ouyang is the president, this kind of meeting can only sit in the back row. Ouyang walked quickly to the front row. When he saw Secretary Zhao lying on the ground, he felt wrong. He went over and touched, "it's broken! It's probably a myocardial infarction. There's no time. Hurry to the hospital first." With that, he began CPR for secretary Zhao.

The leaders in the meeting hall were frightened at this posture. Most of them were middle-aged men. They had more or less similar problems in officialdom for many years. At this time, more than one looked ugly. The Secretary of the leader hurried to contact the hospital, and there were health doctors here, who were called to help Ouyang rescue.

Myocardial infarction, the full name is myocardial infarction. Generally speaking, it is the heart's own blood supply system. After the coronary artery blood supply is blocked, ischemia leads to the necrosis of the heart muscle. Clinically, there is persistent severe pain behind the sternum! Let's talk about it here. Once an elderly person has posterior sternal pain or radioactive pain in his left shoulder and back, he must go to the hospital. Even if he makes a trip in vain, he must go to the hospital for examination. It's very necessary! Very important!

This disease is extremely dangerous and common in Europe and America, so many hospitals in some developed countries train people on first aid knowledge free of charge all year round, and defibrillators are equipped in public places. Because the number of deaths from this disease in these developed countries is too high every year.

In the 1970s and 1980s, this disease was rare in China, and the patients were also people with status.

That is, in the past decade, it slowly began to increase. In the early years, someone may have seen the Danshen dropping pill of small porcelain gourd. In fact, this drug was first used in the court.

Acute myocardial infarction is also a common disease of some people who are separated from manual labor. The basic cause is coronary atherosclerosis, and most of them are atherosclerotic unstable plates that form embolism. There are many inducements. Most ordinary people are caused by increased blood lipid and blood viscosity after a full meal, especially after eating a lot of fat. The second is caused by heavy physical strength or emotional excitement.

The health care doctor took Ouyang's rescue. Ouyang listened to the dry and wet rales all over her lungs with a listener. She frowned and said to the city leader, "acute myocardial infarction, and the area is not small."

"Try to rescue first! Xiao Wang went to inform his family. " City leaders are also very depressed. When a subordinate has an accident during his work, he should be responsible to others. He should have an explanation whether to the superior leaders or the patient's family members.

While talking, the security section and some young cadres came with a stretcher, "cardiopulmonary resuscitation can't stop! We must insist on going to the hospital! " Ouyang said to a group of young people.

The government's business car sped away, and the meeting could not be opened. After the two main leaders discussed it, the secretary took many people to the hospital.

On the way, Ouyang began to inform the medical department, and then specially called Lin long. Ouyang knew that the county leader was suspended today, so after entering the hospital, he went directly to the intensive care unit of ICU. Ordinary cardiology is meaningless!

Ten minutes is not a long time for ordinary diseases, but for patients with myocardial infarction, this time has missed the golden treatment time, because interventional thrombolysis cannot be performed after more than ten minutes of cardiopulmonary resuscitation, Interventional thrombolysis, in popular terms, is to use a guide wire to directly reach the blocked place through the blood vessel and use drugs to get through the blocked place.

This is the best and most useful treatment, but it is because the leader has some scruples at ordinary times and has no normal physical examination. He misses the intervention in advance and the opportunity of treatment. Sometimes he is doomed to be promoted without that life.

As an expert in the heart, Ouyang's judgment is particularly accurate. For more than ten minutes, coupled with other unprofessional cardiopulmonary resuscitation, the leader directly lost the prime time for intervention. The car drove directly into the 120 emergency room. All experts have been on standby. At this time, Ouyang is even the first doctor.

"Come on, give me a hand." Ouyang bi was old. Although someone replaced her along the way, when she saw the other party's non-standard cardiopulmonary resuscitation, she couldn't help doing cardiopulmonary resuscitation herself. Although it was only ten minutes, she insisted on gritting her teeth all the way to the hospital.

Her persistence is not to the leaders, not to the official position, but to the patients. She is the Dean, but first of all, a doctor! The patient was carried off the bus, and Ouyang got off the bus with the help of the head nurse of the emergency department.

"Acute myocardial infarction, deal with it quickly!" Although she had lost her strength and almost relied on the head nurse of the emergency department, her first sentence was to explain the patient's affairs first.

It's enough to have this sentence. They are all old doctors. There's no more nonsense. The doctors began to rescue nervously and orderly.

However, the journey has been delayed for too long, and these cardiopulmonary resuscitation are not professionals after all. Only Ouyang's cardiopulmonary resuscitation is effective, and others' cardiopulmonary resuscitation is almost ineffective. This is a troublesome thing.

Intubation connected the ventilator and opened the venous channel, the shock of the patient was improved, and there could be greater and more serious injury. Myocardial infarction ischemia led to cerebral ischemia and cerebral infarction.

The brain is particularly sensitive to ischemia and hypoxia and can cause permanent damage in a few minutes.

The leaders of the municipal Party committee followed "How is Comrade Zhao Xiangdong?" Asked the leader of the municipal Party committee.

"Myocardial infarction complicated with cerebral infarction is very dangerous. And the prognosis is not good!" After taking a rest, Ouyang got better, but he was still a little depressed.

"Do everything possible to rescue. Zhao Xiangdong is tired of work! We should do everything possible to save our excellent comrades. At all costs." It is a matter of attitude that the words of the leaders of the municipal Party committee fall into sound.

The family members also came. It is very powerful for ordinary people to have a county-level head. Zhao Xiangdong can be said to be the expectation of the whole family. All kinds of relatives and friends, with extremely well-informed information, poured into the hospital in all directions.

Zhao Xiangdong's wife works in the Education Bureau. When she got the news, she also came. When she saw her husband full of pipes, she ran away.

"Lao Zhao! What's the matter with you! " Tears wanton, lying on the rescue bed, no one can pull up. When the cry came out, Zhao Xiangdong's parents also came. The white haired old man trembled his hands and touched the child's face with tears.

"Comrade Zhao Xiangdong is a good cadre. We will try our best to rescue him. It's not easy to delay the doctors' work now." At this time, the secretary came forward to dissuade him.

"Secretary! You have to decide for me! We must save Lao Zhao. " The woman's brain was a little clear and turned to hold the Secretary's calf.

"Don't worry, we will try our best to treat it." The Secretary couldn't help it. The people around hurriedly helped Lao Zhao's wife up.

"If the medical level of the municipal hospital is not enough, please invite experts and the most famous experts. If you have difficulties, please inform me. I will invite them through the government. We can't let our comrades chill!" Secretary gave Ouyang another emphasis.

"OK."

Zhao Xiangdong entered the special ward of ICU. He was in a deep coma and maintained his life by breathing machine and various nutritional drugs. Deproteinized calf blood extract, eladavone, albumin, and various expensive drugs are constantly injected into the body.

In the corridor of ICU, the crowd waiting for news filled two floors, with more than 100 people. These are Zhao Xiangdong's relatives and friends. At noon, the peak of the visiting crowd arrived, and comrades from all units in the county also came.

The people who inquired about the news and took the opportunity to think about the nearby people kept looking for relationships and listening to the news. Although the leaders of the municipal Party committee gave Ouyang a password before leaving, how can this kind of thing be covered up.

Three days, just three days, the flowers in the world became silent. After more than 100 people guarded for three days, many people with intentions have got the news. There is no one except close relatives. Only close relatives are sad.

Ouyang got the order from his superiors and began to hire experts from various Super hospitals for consultation. When he worked hard to reach a certain position in the medical system, sometimes the administrative orders of local governments have little effect on these people who stand at the top. The best and most useful is RMB.

An expert consultation at the academician level costs 40000 yuan and has to be entrusted to the relationship. Famous experts from both the north and the South were invited to come here. They are the same. Although it is a formality, they must do it.

In a week's time, families from hope to despair to calm, and only they can feel the pain. I don't want to keep my official position anymore. I'm lucky as long as I wake up. In half a month, more than 700000 medical expenses, countless expert consultations and medical records heavier than internal medicine books are useless. Zhao Xiangdong lies quietly in the ward and maintains his life by ventilator.

One month, more than one million, still has no effect. Countless people visited the last door. The hospital tried its best, and almost everything it could do was done, but there was still no hope.

One month, a leader of the municipal Party committee came to talk with his family. Finally, the family members chose to give up. The cost was too huge, excluding some nursing expenses, inspection expenses and the use of instruments and equipment. The consultation fees of these experts alone were a huge figure. In addition, there were more and more complications and more drug use in the later stage, and the municipal Party committee also chose to give up.

The family members compromised on the condition that the children who have not graduated from college can enter the ranks of civil servants in the future. The municipal Party committee agreed! On the day of extubation, there was no peak on the day of admission. Only doctors and family members were around Zhao Xiangdong.

Zhang Fan was also present. Extubation is endless pain for family members, but it is a personal experience for doctors. In a month, Zhao Xiang's square face has shrunk into a melon face, prominent cheekbones and sharp chin.

"East! You just go and don't have to suffer any more. To the East!" While crying, his wife made final preparations for Zhao Xiangdong and wiped the decaying body. The ICU medical staff stood quietly aside.

"Doctor, start turning!"

"Doctor Zhang, go!" Lin long said to Zhang Fan.

Because Zhang Fan is on duty today, Zhang Fan slowly walks to Zhao Xiangdong and extends his hand to the mask. Suddenly, Zhao Xiangdong's wife grabbed Zhang Fan's hand, "doctor, really have no chance!" In a month, the once beautiful woman was ten years old. Her tears had dried up and she couldn't cry!

"Sorry!" Zhang Fan whispered.

Zhao Xiangdong's wife let go of Zhang Fan's hand and looked at Zhao Xiangdong in a daze. Her man!

When taking off the lower cover, Zhang Fan saw tears, Zhao Xiangdong's tears, slowly sliding down!

Zhang Fan, who hasn't smoked for a long time, asked for a cigarette in Lin Long's office. "Why? Feel sorry?" Lin long asked.

"No, it just feels like special helplessness." Zhang Fan said a little depressed.

"You are too easy to practice. You see, other transferred doctors don't have such a sad age as you. Do you know why? "

Zhang Fan shook his head.

"Because they have understood the cruelty of the workplace, and the great pressure can no longer make them pity others. In the past, no one wanted to come to the ICU, but now they are rushing to come. This is the pressure, and you are different. I don't know whether your compassionate attitude is good or bad in the hospital, but I know that this attitude is very precious. " Lin long said with emotion.

"Should I pity or not?"

"Keep your heart."

This is a fragment, a fragment of hospital life. Life will go on, and you can't stop.

Wang Yongyong, who recovered well, came. After more than two months of rest, he recovered well. The pain has disappeared. His advertisements have been spread all over the frontier. He was not famous for playing basketball in those years. He was famous for his knee joint.

Many of his teammates contacted him, "Lao Wang, you cow, are on TV. How do you rely on it?"

"It's unreliable. Will I advertise? What kind of person am I? Don't believe it. Come on, you'll know when your brother performs a turn back run for you that day. "

"Really effective?"

"Yes!"

Ma Wentao went the right way!
