

Chapter 209

Winter vacation is a special holiday for teachers. After many athletes retired, they entered schools all over the capital and became PE teachers. Their glory is gone. They are faced with daily necessities. Although he used to be a professional athlete, relatively all kinds of medical care are not professional. Many, many competitive professional athletes either hurt here or where after retirement ~!

Wang Yongyong's advertisement really moved some people. Several people called Wang Yongyong one after another to ask about it. Although there was no advertising fee, Ma Wentao was exempted from the operation fee. Wang Yongyong was responsible for explaining the matter to everyone who asked.

Ma Wentao chose the right way, and the hospital slowly became regular. Zhang Fan pulled doctors from several surrounding counties. The surgical system of the hospital was not as thin as before, and the attendance of experts in the provincial capital enabled the hospital to quickly open the market at the level of civil servants in tea vegetable city.

In short, these people are the service objects of Ma Wentao. Their income is relatively high. As long as they pass the treatment, they can also accept a slightly higher charge, because the leaders of quark County suddenly fainted at the meeting and were sent to the hospital for rescue, which frightened many people.

Some people who were unwilling or inconvenient to go to the city's public hospital chose Ma Wentao's Hospital for examination. Ma Wentao's Hospital also led the pioneer of telephone appointment medical examination in tea element city.

The number of patients in internal surgery is slowly increasing. Ma Wentao has also started land acquisition, because the news is known early, and the surrounding areas to be requisitioned are still desolate, and the price is not high. 10000 or 20000 yuan is an acre of land. There is no worry about the capital, and the acquisition speed is very fast. Ma Wentao can know the news, and a small number of other well-informed people can also know the news. Slowly, the land price in this place began to rise. However, when prices rose, Ma wentou had already started planning construction. Early acquisition will save huge funds.

It's getting colder and snowier. The heating of Shaohua's old-fashioned community broke again this year. When it was built that year, it was in a hurry, and all kinds of construction equipment failed to pass the test, resulting in this old-fashioned community. It was waterlogged in summer and burst in winter. Once the family discussed it, they simply moved. Anyway, the decoration of the family was simple and had been dried for a long time.

When you move in a big city, the moving company will solve it after a phone call, but it can't be done here in tea vegetable City, because no one does this job. Border laborers rarely go to the mainland to work because it is particularly easy to find jobs here.

In summer, all construction sites and restaurants can find a job with a good income. In autumn, all go to the farm to pick cotton. In the cotton base of China, people in the frontier not only can't finish picking, but also pull people from the mainland to pick.

In winter, because there is a lot of snow in teasu City, and the environmental sanitation bureau can't clean it, the task of cleaning the snow on the roads and streets at the door of each unit is handed over to each unit. No matter what you think, you must ensure that the road area is cleaned of snow. Generally, the length of the cleaned road section is determined according to the size of the unit area.

In the area of the tea vegetable hospital, the road length is about three kilometers. It's not easy to clean up the snow. When a heavy snow comes down, ten centimeters of snow is very common. Don't do anything in the morning. All medical personnel clean up the snow, so this kind of work is outsourced. Someone will contract it after marking the price.

With more work, it is difficult to find labor. Moving companies in small cities such as tea vegetable city can not develop. You can only move by your own people. Zhang Fan contacted a group of young doctors transferred, and many relatives of Shaohua's family came. A large truck in the hospital logistics took things to the new home.

To leave, the old friends and neighbors in the community came to help. The Shaohua family had a good personality and popularity, and many people came to help.

"Ouch! You can enjoy yourself now. Go to Jinghua community. That community is really good. Unlike our community, it either stops heating or cuts off power!" The neighbors' words of blessing continued.

Breaking a house is worth thousands of dollars. Although I bought new furniture, I still pulled a truck full of things. Living at home, many things are reluctant to throw away.

It took most of the day to put things in order. Fortunately, there were many people here today. Otherwise, it would take a week to rely on Zhang Fan.

After returning the good things, Zhang Fan took a group of colleagues, relatives and friends to dinner. Several specialist female doctors also came. Although Zhang Fan called male doctors, they were transferred together. As soon as Zhang Fan greeted, many people gave face, and Tong Lili also came. When she saw Shaohua, the girl seemed to have a particularly uncomfortable feeling in her heart.

Is Zhang Fan excellent? It's a top talent in the hospital, and it should be remembered by other women.

Looking at Zhang Fan who keeps greeting before and after, she's a little dazed and doesn't know what to think about.

"What are you looking at?" LV Shuyan of gynecology department also came. She looked at Tong Lili's eyes and saw Zhang Fan.

"You say, are good men always others?" Tong Lili and LV Shuyan had a good relationship. They grew up in a similar environment. Moreover, when they transferred to gynecology, they got along well and slowly became best friends.

"What you can't get is the best. Don't think too much. You are also excellent. There will always be such an excellent man waiting for you! " Although LV Shuyan was persuading, her heart was also painful and sad, because her boyfriend left her. What flowers and moons and vows could not top a good job and a good opportunity!

There are many people and young people. It's good to greet them. Zhang Fan is not stingy. All the dishes are hard dishes and the atmosphere is warm. It's been a hard day for everyone to carry up and down. It's hard to say without wine. Zhang fan can't count on drinking and toasting. She can only rely on Shaohua. The drinking capacity of Frontier girls is still good.

They are all young people and doctors. They all look at Zhang Fan's face and come to help. They drink very little. They all mean something. When Shaohua made a toast to several female doctors, someone finally stood up to drink with Shaohua!

"It's really troublesome for you today. You must eat and drink well. Come home and play more when you have time! ~ " Shaohua said polite words and offered a toast to several female doctors.

"Hello, this is the first time we met. My name is Tong Lili. I'm Mr. Zhang's Apprentice. Should I call you Shiniang? " Tong Lili smiles like flowers. Polite tone, affectionate smile, slowly adapt and learn the rules of the society.

"Oh! You are all colleagues. There is no master or apprentice. My name is Shaohua. " Although Tong Lili's expression and tone are all right, the woman's intuition is very powerful, and she always feels something wrong.

"There are really masters and disciples in our technology industry. It's my first time to recognize Shiniang. I must give you a few drinks!" Speaking, Tong Lili began to clink glasses with Shaohua and drink. A total of several drinks, Tong Lili too polite, polite let Shaohua uneasy! Women are the ones who know women best.

"My name is LV Shuyan, a gynecologist. I used to partner with Zhang Fan. I'll give you a few drinks, too! " LV Shuyan was reminded of her ex boyfriend by Tong Lili, and she was in a bad mood. She was a little worried about drinking!

Wang Hong also came. Although she has fallen in love with young Jun of the municipal Party committee, how can such a gathering of young people be without her? She is not afraid of big things. She also participated in the ranks of wine competition.

"Dr. Zhang is one of the best doctors of our generation. He is so excellent. You should take good care of him in the future!" Smiling Wang Hong said with a wine glass!
