

Chapter 215

"Your mother joined Colton and used pity to let you help her fight for power. George, you are not a child anymore, so you should understand that your mother wants you to fight for power and occupy Hunter Group."

George understood this. When he heard his grandfather say it so bluntly, he felt even more ashamed.

Grandpa was right. Even if he wanted to plead for his mother, he didn't have the face to do so.

"You are not less capable than Leon, but Leon is bigger than you and can control Hunter Group. I can assure you that I have been impartial to you and Leon!"

Kevin said everything. He looked at George and just smiled.

George's nature was good. Before, his mother kept promoting Leon in front of him, and he never said anything.

Maybe he was resentful, and that was why he was used by his mother later.

Yet, he never crossed any lines.

After all, in this family, it was not only his mother who educated George.

"Grandpa, are you going to create a car accident and let my mother die?"

"I just don't want to see your mother. She always gives me a headache, but I'm not going to commit a crime because of her. I'll create the car accident so that everyone will think she's dead. In fact, I'll have my bodyguard send her to another country. But it's up to her how she lives after that."

She would have to live on her own.

George was speechless about his grandpa's arrangement.

Grandpa had always been kind and gentle.

He was the first to forgive him after he did something wrong.

George didn't say anything and kept his head down. For the first time, he felt that there were problems in the world that he simply did not have the courage to face.

Originally, he really thought he was very good.

"You have other options, of course, such as leaving with your mother to start a new life in another country. Or you can stay here and live with me. After Leon gets married, only you can stay with me. George, you are my grandson and Leon's brother. You also have a place in the Hunters, so no matter where you go, what is yours will always be yours."

After Kevin said this.

The whole study suddenly quieted down.

For a long time.

George said, "Grandpa, I don't know."

"Silly boy, if you don't know, just try to think about it. You're still a child. You don't need to bear so much."

He had always been gentle with George, never strict with him.

Because in his heart, George was still a child.

George nodded, "I will think about what you said."

He turned around and walked out.

Kevin looked at George's back and sighed softly. Those who should leave always had to leave, and those who should stay would also stay.

The only thing he was worried about now was Leon.

Bangkok Clubhouse.

Colton looked at Leon, "Leon, I really mean it. You just need to manage Koherr Group and keep those old men from making trouble, and you don't have to worry about the rest. The Koherrs has never been short of money. If you continue to insist on not returning to the Koherrs, don't blame me for being unkind to you. If I were really angry, I wouldn't be so nice. Your pregnant wife has already been brought here by my men."

"You've got Alyssa?"

A hint of surprise flashed across Leon's expressionless face.

Colton smiled when he saw Leon's expression.

It turned out that his weakness was Alyssa.

Before, he thought Leon had no weakness at all. It seemed that he was wrong.

"It's easy for you to get out of here. Of course, I mean you and your wife leave together. I can arrange for you to go back with Alyssa if you promise to come back with me to the Koherrs. She's pregnant, isn't she? I can get a lot of people to protect your wife so she can give you a baby smoothly. It's not even a problem, as long as you behave yourself and do as I say."

"Where's Alyssa now?"

"You want to see her that badly? I'll let you see her right away if you promise me what I want."

Leon looked at Colton, "I want to see Alyssa first and then grandfather."

"You promise me first!"

"You don't have Alyssa, do you! Otherwise, why don't you dare to let me see her? The only possibility is that Alyssa is not here."

Leon was not sure.

He really didn't know whether Alyssa was here or not.

According to Colton's skill, it was hard to say that Alyssa was not here.

Leon told himself to calm down while worrying about Alyssa's safety.

Colton only wanted him to take over Koherr Group, not to kill anyone.

On the contrary, if he did kill Alyssa now, he would instead fight against Colton.

Seeing that Leon sat calmly on the side, Colton hesitated, "Okay, I will arrange your meeting now. However, after you meet, you have to listen to me. Otherwise, I'm not sure what I'll do to your pregnant wife. By then, you don't want to regret it."

Colton said and left.

A few minutes later.

Leon saw Alyssa.

As soon as Alyssa saw Leon, she ran to him, hugged him, and kissed him on the cheek, "Honey, I miss you so much. Are you okay?"

Seeing Alyssa, Leon should be angry with her for not being able to protect herself. However, now that he saw her rushing to him enthusiastically, he suddenly could not blame her.

She looked at Leon and whispered, "How come you look thinner after only a few hours? Colton is your uncle, isn't he? How can he not even give you food? He's really gone too far. Is he really this poor?"

Alyssa blinked and looked at Leon.

Leon smiled. He was happy to see Alyssa safe.

Alyssa saw that Leon was amused before she came into his arms, "You're not mad anymore, are you? Can we get out of here now? I'm hungry and I want to eat chicken legs. I just asked them for chicken legs, and they only gave me one. I'm not full yet. I can eat at least three more."

Alyssa became angry at the thought of not eating enough.

Leon couldn't help but smile when he saw Alyssa's angry look.

"No laughing! I will make you poor by eating. When we get home later, you have to prepare some delicious food for me. I want five chicken legs."

Alyssa held out five fingers.

Leon's large palm quickly wrapped around her small hand, "How did you get brought here so carelessly?"

"I just wanted to see you. As long as I'm with you, I can go anywhere."

Alyssa didn't care. Now that Leon was by her side, she cared even less.

She looked up, blinking, at Leon, "When are you taking me out?"

"Soon."

"Okay."

Alyssa nodded. Knowing that Colton's people were all around her, she wasn't scared at all.

"How are we going to eat chicken legs with all these people outside?"

"Grandpa's people should find us soon. My people are almost there too. Don't worry."

Alyssa knew Leon would have a way.

When she thought of the delicious food she would eat later, she rubbed her stomach, "The babies said they were hungry."

"Because you ran out, they got the chance. I'm going to teach you a lesson when we get back."

"Leon, I just thought of something. This seems to be the place between the underground parking lot and the first floor. The signal must be bad in such a compartment. Will they find us?"

"Yes."

"How do you know that?"

"Whose territory is this?"

Alyssa understood.

Seeing that Alyssa had understood, Leon was not in a hurry. He said softly, "You should not think about anything. Now that we've met, we're not going to be separated anymore. Now, all we have to do is wait for my people to get us out."

As he spoke, he took her hand and pulled her right into his arms.

Colton's face was grim as he heard their conversation. They clearly didn't take him seriously.

Besides being surprised that Leon had planned everything, he also thought that he must not be an enemy of Leon in the future. He was too calm. In this situation now, he could still arrange for his people to save them.

But now that they were in his place, he shouldn't be too nervous.

Even if they guessed what this place was, he wasn't worried.

There was no signal here. Even if they brought their cell phones in with location systems inside, he wasn't worried.

As he watched their sweet interaction, Colton said lightly, "I can give you chicken legs if you want. Alyssa, Leon is my nephew, and you are my niece-in-law. We are family. Since we are family, I should satisfy you with whatever you want to eat. But Alyssa, Leon is a talent. If he stays at Hunter Group, his talent will be wasted. You help me persuade Leon to come back to the Koherrs with me, and you too, the Koherrs will not treat you badly."

"Uncle?" Alyssa glanced at Colton.

Colton had long since seen the disdain and mockery in Alyssa's eyes, but he nodded his head anyway. Now they looked defensive, but they didn't know his ability, so he could trick them.

He could give them promises and say something nice. That was what young people liked, wasn't it?

Colton smiled curtly at Alyssa.

Looking at Colton's ingratiating smile, Alyssa didn't show any respect, "Do you really consider Leon as your nephew or a tool? Why do I get the feeling that you just want to use Leon? Colton, you have never loved Leon as your nephew. You just want to use Leon. You're wrong. I advise you to find someone more obedient. Leon never had to compromise to please anyone."

"You ..."

Alyssa revealed his mind and Colton's face sank.

"What's wrong? You just said Leon was your family, didn't you? Why are you changing your face now?"

"Hey, how dare you lecture me! You've got a lot of nerve. I'm Leon's uncle!"
