

Chapter 2159– 2160 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 2159

However, this smile fell in the eyes of Ericson and others, but it was so horrible and terrifying.

Finally, Ericson and the others could no longer bear the oppression, and they got up and left.

“Chu...Mr. Chu, if it’s okay, I...

We will leave first.

Ericson looked at Mark with a little trepidation, and said tremblingly. Mark didn’t speak, but just bowed his head and drank strong tea. There was no sound in the room. Mark did not answer, and Ericson and others naturally did not dare The slightest movement. These few seconds of silence are as long as a century for Ericson and others. Unconsciously, the back of the ridge is already wet. Until Mark nodded, um. Ericson et al. Just like being amnesty, as if fleeing for his life, he left in a hurry. If everyone in Noirfork sees this scene, they will definitely feel trembling. The dignified and famous leader of the city is now showing such an embarrassment in front of a young man. , It should be a world anecdote. With the departure of Ericson and others, the room here undoubtedly recovered calm again. Mark expressionless, Helen Qiu quietly accompanied him. After hesitating for a moment, Helen Qiu was still Slightly worried, asked Xiang Mark. “Mark, do you really plan to have a head-on conflict with Lu and Xu?

“Helen Qiu naturally listened to the conversation between Ericson and Mark and the others. Just now, Mark and the others were talking, and she was a woman, so it was inconvenient to interrupt. Now there are only two of them, Helen Qiu. Naturally, I have to ask. When I heard this, Mark’s expression became cold: “Noirfork is my hometown of Sangzi, how can I let others get involved?

“If they know how to advance and retreat, they will accept it when they see it, and they will naturally be in peace.”

“But if they insist on begging for death, I, Mark, should be satisfied!”

“It’s late at night, and the night wind is habitual, but it is full of bone-chilling chill. However, what is colder than the night wind outside is the surging chill in Mark’s words. At that moment, under the dim light, Helen Qiu looked Looking at Mark’s icy and majestic profile, he only felt a little strange. He knew that Mark today is no longer the humiliated son-in-law in the Qiu Family. He is the son-in-law who has been obedient. Perhaps, the appearance at this time is just that. This is Mark's true face! However, Helen Qiu didn't feel any fear for Mark's majesty and coldness, instead she felt endless pity. She really couldn't imagine how many setbacks and sufferings she had to go through alone, Only then will her man become as cold and strong as he is now.

At the same time, it's really not that people want to be strong, but the cruel life that forces them to be strong!

Thinking like this, Helen Qiu's eyebrows suddenly became tender.

She walked over, leaned on Mark lightly, and hugged the man tightly from behind.

As if to use the temperature of his body to warm the cold heart of this man.

"Mark, I'm sorry."

"It's all because of me."

"If it weren't for me, things wouldn't be the way they are today."

Helen Qiu's brows flushed, and her heart was full of guilt.

These days, Helen Qiu always felt that Mark was so impulsive to kill that day because of herself.

If it weren't for her arrogant proposal to return to Noirfork, go to Yuchang Hotel, and almost be violated by Xu Shaohua and others, then maybe Mark wouldn't be so angry, let alone let things turn into an unmanageable situation.

Chapter 2160—Uninvited Guest

"Stupid girl, don't blame you."

"Even if you didn't show up that night, Lu Mingfeng and Xu Shaohua would definitely die."

"Since they ordered to kill my Yundingshan Villa, they were already doomed. Mark comforted softly.

However, at this moment, the wind everywhere suddenly disappeared.

The vegetation no longer sways, and the night wind no longer blows.

Even the sound of insects' singing disappeared.

The Quartet World was a little too quiet.

“Huh?” At that moment, Mark suddenly turned his head and looked out the window, his expression suddenly cold.

Between the eyebrows, there was a solemn look.

“Mark, what’s the matter?” Mark’s sudden strangeness made Helen Qiu’s pretty face white with fright, and he asked in shock.

Mark didn’t answer her, just let Helen Qiu stand behind him.

At the same time, Mark raised his head and looked at the deep dark night ahead. A faint voice sounded slowly.

“Your Excellency, since it’s here, why not show up for a while?” Mark’s words echoed for a long time in the dark night.

However, no one responded.

Apart from the room, there was nothing but the silent night.

“Mark, what’s the matter with you?” “Who is there outside?” Helen Qiu was undoubtedly more confused.

But Mark’s expression was still solemn, and his icy eyes, always looking out the window, never moved away.

The surroundings are also very quiet.

Only the wall clock on the wall was thinking ticking.

The scene in front of me is no doubt strange and terrifying.

Helen Qiu’s delicate body retracted unconsciously, and leaned against Mark’s side, her small hand tightly grasped the corner of Mark’s clothes, her palms were already full of cold sweat.

Just like this, one second, two seconds~ A full five minutes passed, and outside the door, it was still empty, and no human figure appeared.

Just when Helen Qiu thought that Mark made a mistake, Mark picked up the teacup and smiled again.

“Your Excellency, if you don’t show up again, this superb West Lake Longjing can be enjoyed by me alone.”

Sure enough, Mark’s words just fell.

Wow~ There was a sudden gust of wind outside.

Then, in the dark night, a burly figure flashed past like a ghost.

When Helen Qiu looked at it again, she resolutely discovered that a person was sitting on the opposite side of Mark.

He was a burly figure, a shabby gray robe, and a small black hammer hung around his waist. He looked a little sloppy.

However, no one knows what kind of edge is hidden under this seemingly raunchy exterior.

At this moment, the burly man, sitting opposite Mark, smiled indifferently, just like Mark, toasting and drinking, calling for good tea, good tea.

That way, it's like, he has been sitting there all the time, never leaving.

Helen Qiu was undoubtedly frightened, her pretty face pale as paper.

Red lips trembled, looking at the bizarre man in front of him in panic, but he couldn't say a word.

Until Mark's thick and powerful hand grasped her.

It is as if a ship has entered the harbor, floating to find a place to rest.

At the moment when Mark held her, she seemed to have magical powers, Helen Qiu's panic, even calmed down.

The panic dissipated, and only peace was left.

Yes, with this man, she doesn't have to be afraid of anything.