Chapter 216

"Shut up!" Leon glared at Colton, "Last time, I made it very clear to you. I still remember what happened when you stabbed my grandpa. In my heart, you are not my uncle long ago."

Colton smiled grimly.

Alyssa frowned at Colton's ugly smile, "Hey, can you smile? Are you making a face? Besides, you don't look old, yet you always act like an elder and get close to us. How can you smile like that!"

Alyssa really didn't understand what exactly Colton was thinking.

Colton's face immediately sank when he heard Alyssa's words. He felt very embarrassed.

He looked up at Alyssa but found that Alyssa was calmly staring at him, seemingly not worried at all.

"Do you believe that I will soon make you disappear from this world?"

"I don't believe it!" Alyssa smiled, "Do you really think you are the ruler? If you want to take over the Koherrs, become the king of the Koherrs, and surpass your father in status, you should naturally convince the people surrounding you to believe in you. Don't think that I really don't know what you want to do. If the dirty things you've been doing secretly were exposed, you wouldn't be able to stand here long ago!"

"What do you mean?"

"My meaning is clear. Grandpa Koherr probably doesn't want to do that kind of business, and that's why Koherr Group exists now. Before, it was known what the Koherrs did. Since you can get away with this, you should cherish it."

"How dare you lecture me?"

"You want to drag my husband into this, of course, I won't agree. Except for my husband, you can pull anyone down if you want! By the way, when the time comes, I will definitely call the police!"

Alyssa made it very clear.

Colton's face turned green with anger!

At this point, Leon stood behind Alyssa without panic.

His wife had grown up so fast. She wasn't afraid to face Colton and she could say something like that.

He was proud of Alyssa's growth and felt he didn't need to say anything else at all. Alyssa seemed to have said what he wanted to say for him.

Looking at Alyssa, Colton felt that he was being stupid right now. It was crazy that he talked so much to this woman. It would be easier to just shoot her.

He immediately took out his gun and aimed it directly at Alyssa.

Before Alyssa could react, she was pulled behind him by Leon. With Leon in front of her, she couldn't see very well, but she saw Leon's back straight. She could feel Leon seemed nervous.

She stood still, slightly on her tiptoes, and saw what Colton was holding.

Her hand subconsciously grabbed Leon's hand. Leon tightened his grip on her hand as if telling her not to be afraid.

Alyssa began to regret it when she thought of how she had just behaved.

She knew what kind of person Colton was. She should not provoke Colton. If she had not provoked Colton, Colton would not have done so.

In fact, grandpa's men and Leon's men were nearby. All they had to do was buy some time.

It was all her fault. She was too cocky. It was okay for her to die, but she couldn't put Leon through this. Looking at Leon made her feel bad.

However, there was no point in regretting it now, because Colton was already enraged. Their lives would be in danger.

"Little girl, I really regret that I didn't kill you earlier. In that case, you would not be able to yell at me now. However, it's not too late. I just need to press a little, and you will die. You'll never have the chance to babble in front of Leon again."

Bang!

The gunshot rang out.

Alyssa didn't feel any pain. She only felt that she was being held tightly. On closer inspection, she realized that she had been pulled aside by Leon.

Startled, she turned her head and saw a bullet casing on the ground where she had just been standing. There were also obvious marks of shooting on the ground.

She knew it was Leon who had protected her from the danger she had just faced.
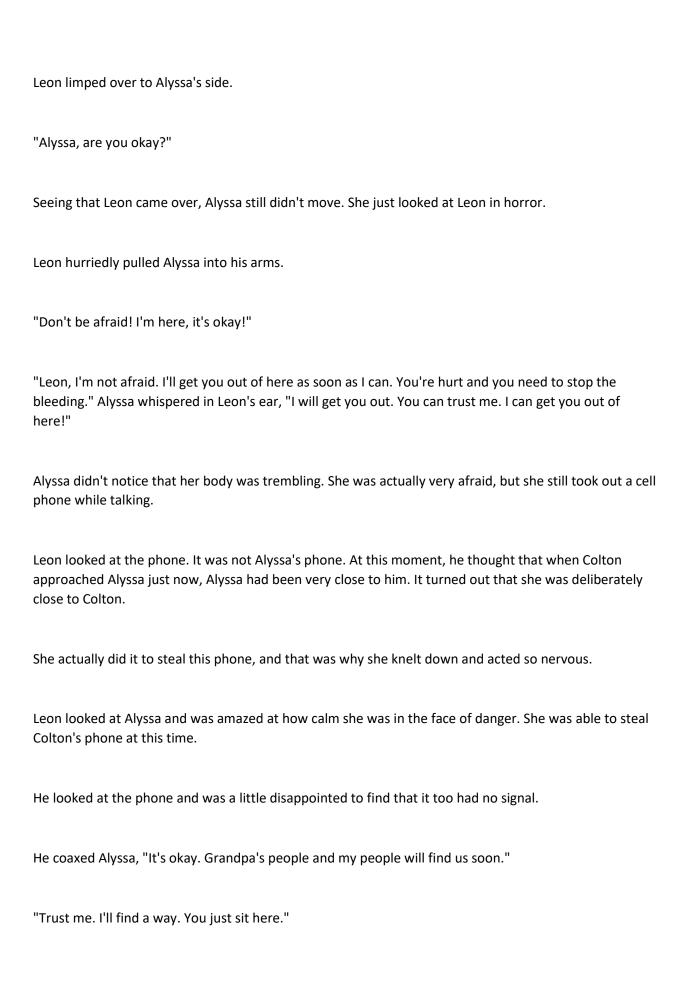

She was about to speak when she suddenly smelled the smell of blood. When she looked down, she saw that Leon's leg had red blood flowing out.

"Are you hurt?"

"I'm okay."

Leon took Alyssa's hand and gestured for her to take it easy.

But he was hurt. How could she not be nervous! Alyssa felt sorry when she thought that Leon was hurt because of her.

Colton still had the gun in his hand, and it seemed like the next moment he was going to give them a fatal blow. She pulled Leon's hand away and walked in front of him, spreading her arms wide.

"I was the one who just yelled at you. You still want Leon to go back to work for you, don't you? If you hurt him, how is he going to go back to running Koherr Group for you? Don't hurt him, come at me if you feel angry. I'm the one who said something you don't like."

"Alyssa!" Leon was anxious but happy as he watched Alyssa stand firmly in front of him.

The fact that she stood in front of him without fear of danger was proof of her love for him. She had him in her heart, and she was worried about him.

Even if he did die for Alyssa, he felt it was worth it.

Watching Alyssa stand in front of Leon and thinking about what she had just said to him, Colton pointed his gun at her, "Kneel down!"

Alyssa turned her head to look at Leon and was about to kneel down when Leon pulled her back.

"It's okay." Alyssa wasn't aggravated at all. She was afraid of getting Leon involved, so she hurriedly pulled away from him. Then she fell to her knees.

"Coward!"

"Don't hurt Leon. It was my fault. It had nothing to do with Leon. Don't hurt him, just come at me."

She had died once. She didn't think it was a big deal to kneel down.

On the contrary, if she could kneel for Leon's safety, she was willing to do so.

She had just said something she shouldn't have said.

Alyssa especially hated herself when she thought of Leon getting hurt because of her.

Colton suddenly smiled when he saw Alyssa on her knees.

Seeing Alyssa on her knees, Leon was not sick of Alyssa's kneeling, but instead, he felt very sorry for Alyssa.

He knew Alyssa. She was proud and never willing to kneel down.

But today, for him, she actually kneeled down.

He felt heartbroken.

"You, apologize to me." Colton pointed the gun at Alyssa.

Alyssa looked at the gun pointed at her and instead was happy. At least now Leon was no longer in danger.

She nodded, "It's all my fault. I shouldn't say that."

"Kowtow to me and apologize."

Alyssa hesitated. But as soon as she thought that Leon was in danger, she immediately tried to bow her head.

Leon saw that Alyssa was really going to kowtow and apologize, and immediately said, "Uncle, don't make things difficult for Alyssa. You want me to go back to the Koherrs with you, don't you? I promise you now I will think about it. Don't scare Alyssa, she's still pregnant! If something does happen to her, I won't help you."

"You're threatening me?"

"Of course, I'm not threatening you!"

Leon looked at Colton, his eyes calm.

Colton curled the corners of his mouth, "Fine, I promise you, but I'll only give you an hour to think about it."

Colton put down his gun and walked toward Alyssa, grabbing her by the neck and pulling her right up.

"Little girl, listen up, I'm the real boss here. Whatever I say is absolutely correct. Don't you ever lecture me again. If you lecture me again, I'll make sure you can't say a word for the rest of your life!"

Alyssa didn't say anything.

Colton let go of Alyssa's collar and turned to leave.

Alyssa was pushed back and cowered on the ground like a quail.

Alyssa didn't move until Colton left.

Leon limped over to Alyssa's side.

"Alyssa, are you okay?"

Seeing that Leon came over, Alyssa still didn't move. She just looked at Leon in horror.

Leon hurriedly pulled Alyssa into his arms.

"Don't be afraid! I'm here, it's okay!"

"Leon, I'm not afraid. I'll get you out of here as soon as I can. You're hurt and you need to stop the bleeding." Alyssa whispered in Leon's ear, "I will get you out. You can trust me. I can get you out of here!"

Alyssa didn't notice that her body was trembling. She was actually very afraid, but she still took out a cell phone while talking.

Leon looked at the phone. It was not Alyssa's phone. At this moment, he thought that when Colton approached Alyssa just now, Alyssa had been very close to him. It turned out that she was deliberately close to Colton.

She actually did it to steal this phone, and that was why she knelt down and acted so nervous.

Leon looked at Alyssa and was amazed at how calm she was in the face of danger. She was able to steal Colton's phone at this time.

He looked at the phone and was a little disappointed to find that it too had no signal.

He coaxed Alyssa, "It's okay. Grandpa's people and my people will find us soon."

"Trust me. I'll find a way. You just sit here."

Alyssa smiled at Leon. Then she quickly stood up and went to knock on the wall.

She was sure she could find a location with the signal. Since she could guess what this place was, she must be able to find a place with signal too.

Alyssa walked back and forth throughout the room with her pregnant belly. Even when she was tired, she didn't relax.

Leon asked her to stop several times, but she just wouldn't stop.

He sat and watched Alyssa knocking back and forth on the wall, but to no avail. However, she was still very persistent.

Leon suddenly understood that there should be no signal here.
