

Chapter 219

Alyssa was surprised.

She didn't expect that so many things had happened without her knowledge.

Looking at Alyssa's shocked look, Leon said softly, "Grandpa did all this without my knowledge. If I had known that grandpa did that, I would have stopped him. After all, it's really dangerous to see Grandpa Koherr now."

"Yes."

Even Leon didn't know about this, so it was normal that she didn't know.

This thing was so dangerous, so naturally, it was a super-secret.

Alyssa held her head, "But I think it's dangerous. Leon, where could Colton be hiding? He's too cunning. I'm worried that he will do something to us."

"I don't tell you this to make you worry. I just want to be honest with you. We're a couple, and we shouldn't hide anything from each other, right?"

Alyssa nodded and took Leon's hand, "Let's be together every day from now on, okay?"

"Yes, we have to be together every day. I'll be out of the hospital soon." Speaking of discharge, Leon hugged Alyssa, "Don't worry. I'll always be with you."

"Okay."

Alyssa nodded at Leon's words.

Three days later.

Leon was discharged from the hospital.

Alyssa started packing things early in the morning.

Leon said softly, "Take a break. Wendy will come and pack our things later."

"Wendy has to take care of Andrea and Jacey. It's hard enough for her to take care of two babies by herself. I should take care of you. By the way, can you hire a babysitter? This will make it easier for Wendy. After I give birth, our baby needs to be taken care of too."

Alyssa had long wanted to hire another person. Later, her children would also need to be taken care of after they were born. By then, Wendy would definitely be overwhelmed.

Leon nodded, "Grandpa told me about this a few days ago. He is already working on this. This time, we have to be more careful. At least we can't find someone as unreliable as that chef before."

"Yes, you're right."

Alyssa agreed with him.

"You don't need to be worried. Grandpa will help us find a suitable person. By then, you will make the final decision on who to hire."

"Grandpa is worried about your body. He knows everything about us being caught earlier."

"He knows about that?" Alyssa felt guilty, "Everything?"

"Or what?"

Alyssa was shocked for a moment and said softly, "I ... I was forced to do something like that before. Will grandpa think I'm a wimp? What should I do? I didn't want to be such a wimp, actually. I just want you to be safe. Leon, will grandpa not like me anymore?"

Alyssa didn't want to pack their things now.

She looked at Leon in shock. Although she didn't regret what she had done, she was worried that she wouldn't be disliked by grandpa.

Suddenly, Leon's strong, firm hands took her into his arms.

Sensing her unease, he said softly, "No, you're brave. No one would dare to call you a wimp. You did it all for me. Alyssa, you are great. Grandpa will only think I've found the right person when he finds out what you've done for me. You can leave all your pride behind for me, so I know you consider me as the most important person to you. I'm so happy."

When he had free time these days, he would think of Alyssa on her knees for him.

She could completely disregard her dignity for him.

"You make it sound like I'm so great. As long as we're all safe. I'll continue packing then. We should get out of here quickly."

"Hmm."

Watching Alyssa pack things in a very organized way, Leon felt that Alyssa had been really growing up.

Then, Alyssa drove Leon home.

In the villa.

Alyssa settled Leon down and went to pack his things.

Seeing how busy Alyssa was, Leon suddenly felt the need to hire a maid. Alyssa would be exhausted if she continued like this.

Besides ... if Alyssa kept being so busy, when would she spend time with him?

The compensation she said before probably wouldn't come true.

At the thought of the compensation that could not be realized.

Leon's face sank.

Alyssa had just packed everything when she received a call from Country F's asset company.

Country F's asset company told her that all the paperwork had been completed. They would mail her a few documents in the next few days. All she had to do was to sign and keep them.

Alyssa was pleased with their performance. Putting down the phone, she felt that she didn't have to worry about anything, just wait for the money.

It wasn't hard to make this kind of money. On this trip to Country F, she definitely got a great bargain.

Alyssa happily shared this with Leon, who looked at Alyssa's happy face and asked softly.

"Alyssa, what is Drew's shipment exactly?"

"You want to know?"

"Country F is kind of closed, so there shouldn't be any prohibited items, so I'm curious."

"A woman, alive!"

"Hmm?" Leon quickly thought of abduction.

Alyssa looked at Leon's gloomy face and said, "Country F's law requires monogamy and no divorce for life. If one cheats on the other, both will be punished. They will be locked up together, but not allowed to see each other, and they will have to work every day to atone for their sins. Do you know that?"

"Drew actually cheated on his wife?"

Alyssa nodded, "He kept that woman hidden away for so long. Then it probably didn't work out, so he tried to send that woman out. As to whether his casino was against the rules, I don't know about that. We haven't been at Country F long enough to find anything about Drew's irregularities at the casino."

"Anyway, you won."

"Actually, I think that most people have a soft spot. Probably because of the soft spot, Drew is a casino boss though, he is in trouble in his relationship. Otherwise, I wouldn't be able to threaten him so easily."

"Actually, Country F is very strict with the laws for couples. I think it's not bad."

"How can true love need that kind of restraint?"

Alyssa looked at Leon and smiled, "Will you be interested in other women when you truly love me?"

Leon suddenly laughed at Alyssa's question.

Of course not. All he wanted was Alyssa.

"It's getting late. Let's go to bed! These days, as you said, we have to try to go out as little as possible. It'll be bad if we run into danger when we go out."

"Well, then we'll stay at home for a few days and not go anywhere."

"Good."

Leon was happy to see Alyssa nodding her head. He looked up into Alyssa's eyes, "When we were in the hospital before, you said you would listen to me as soon as we came back. Now that we're back, will you listen to me?"

"You just came back today. You need to rest, don't you? You don't have a good rest!"

"Hmm."

Leon still looked at Alyssa.

Alyssa felt Leon's blazing gaze and suddenly thought of what he was referring to. After a long time, she said, "No, I'm not feeling well today."

Leon immediately sat up and looked at Alyssa, "What's wrong?"

"I feel a little sick in my stomach."

"How about we go to the hospital now?"

"I already went to see the doctor when you were in the hospital before. The doctor didn't find anything wrong and did an ultrasound for me. The results all showed that everything was normal for me. The doctor said that it might be caused by my psychological stress. It's also possible that I've been a little tired from taking care of you lately, so I need to rest more."

Alyssa took out her medical report and handed it to Leon as she spoke.

Leon felt sorry when he read Alyssa's test results.

He should accompany Alyssa for the pregnancy test, but after he was hospitalized, he pretended to be weak every day to gain Alyssa's attention, and completely forgot about Alyssa's regular pregnancy test.

Luckily, her pregnancy test results were good.

"What's wrong? Can't you read the doctor's handwriting? Let me read it to you." Alyssa couldn't help but smile at Leon's look. Leon looked at her test results like a fool now, so she guessed that he probably didn't recognize the doctor's scribbled writing.

"No, I can read the doctor's writing. It's good that you're okay, but next time you have to tell me when you need a pregnancy test."

"I'm not so weak that I can't move. When I had my last maternity test, everything went well. It is only when I am in the later stages of pregnancy and my belly is really too big for me to walk that I want you to accompany me for my maternity checkup."

"No matter what time it is, I have to stay with you."

Leon held Alyssa tightly in his arms.

Alyssa said, "I'm pregnant, but I'm in a good state. I can handle many things on my own. Leon, I'm an adult. You don't have to worry about me. I'll take care of everything."

"I know, but I want to be by your side."

Alyssa nodded and whispered, "Geez, when did you become such a rattler?"

Leon didn't say anything, just clung to Alyssa like a tailless bear.

If she hadn't known that Leon was a normal man before, Alyssa would have suspected that there was something wrong with him.

Alyssa looked at Leon's docile face and suddenly couldn't help but want to agree to his every request.

So, she was quickly tricked into the room.

On the big bed, Leon didn't fool around but stared at Alyssa.

"You were just so excited, but now why are you suddenly so quiet? This is not like you at all."

"You said you didn't feel well in your stomach, didn't you? Then let's go to bed early."

"Are you tired of me?"

"Nonsense! You've given birth to my children, how could I get tired of you?"

"Well, you just couldn't help yourself and wanted to do that thing, didn't you?"

Leon was speechless. He simply hugged Alyssa and smelled the scent of Alyssa's body. He felt that he almost couldn't control himself.
