

Chapter 2283– 2284 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 2283 Establishing Heart For Heaven And Earth

This time, Mark did not refuse.

Although, this title was just a dispensable name for Mark, and it didn't have much substantial use. On the contrary, it made Mark's burden a little heavier.

After all, honor is always proportional to responsibility.

The reason why Yan Xia awarded Mark the title was not only to recognize his strength and status, but also to hope that Mark could help him when he was at risk in the future.

Mark accepted this title, naturally he had to assume the obligation to shelter the hot summer.

Mark is free and easy by nature. What he hates is that others set rules and define duties for himself.

Therefore, Mark did not actively accept this title.

Of course, it is not that Mark is not patriotic, but mainly that he hates this kind of moral kidnapping.

Even if the time comes, the hot summer really suffers from the disaster, Mark hopes to help him, not because of his obligation, but because of his own will.

In addition, this time, Lu Cangqiong and others were making troubles and making things difficult for themselves. Under these various reasons, Mark, a few minutes ago, was really determined and refused to accept this canonization.

However, Li Hongze's sincerity finally made Mark change his mind.

He obtained the canonized document from Li Hongze, then nodded and said lightly: "Well, I accept this title."

“However, I have to tell you in advance that Mark is used to being free, and I don’t like being controlled by others. “So, what I don’t want to do, even if I receive this title, I won’t do it.”

“And what I want to do, no rules can restrain me.”

“I mean, you should Understand?” Mark looked at Li Hongze, but conveyed his meaning to him in advance.

Li Hongze was not surprised by this.

After all, it is not the first time he has dealt with such a titled powerhouse. Not only Mark, but also people like the God of War Ye Qingtian and the King of Fighters Mo Gucheng have a sense of arrogance.

This is normal!

A person, without arrogance, can hardly become a great weapon.

It is precisely because of this that Yanxia officials do not have jurisdiction over the martial arts world, but let the martial arts people manage the martial arts world.

This is true for ordinary martial artists, such as Mark, who stands on top of martial arts, is naturally more free.

“Haha~

“Mr. Chu rest assured, we will not force you to do anything, and we don’t have the ability to force you.”

“Our only hope is that in the future, when the country is at risk, Mr. Chu can come forward. To protect the hot summer and give a strength.”

Li Hongze looked at Mark and spoke slowly, with some requests and expectations in his words.

And Mark nodded: “That’s nature.”

“Noirfork is my hometown of Sangzi, and the hot summer is my hometown of my motherland.”

“I Mark, don’t allow outsiders to desecrate my hometown of Sangzi, and naturally you won’t allow foreigners to trample on the dignity of my homeland. “When the country is in danger, I will not sit idly by. I will only take shelter in the hot summer and keep in peace for a long time.”

Mark said in a deep voice.

Although the words are calm, they can still be heard, the sonorous power contained in them.

After Li Hongze heard it, he was relieved and delighted.

“Haha~” “The ancients said that they established the heart for the world, the life and the people, for the sacred learning, and for the peace.”

“Mr. Chu can have this national righteousness in his heart and keep the country’s security in mind.”

“Why don’t I worry about revival in the hot summer?” “Why not worry about being able to stand proudly among the nations of the world in the future?”

Chapter 2284 King Over The World

Li Hongze spoke boldly and was full of joy.

That is to rejoice for the country and for the people.

Just because they had another hot summer, a talent of Zhu Guo!

For many years, since the catastrophes of Chumen, the scorching summer, and the survival of life and death, after six titled masters, no such powerhouse has been born.

Today, the title is granted again, and the seventh pillar of the country reappears. This is an epoch-making event for both the martial arts world and the entire country.

According to common sense, when the title ceremony is held, the whole country celebrates.

However, out of consideration to protect Mark, Ye Qingtian decided to postpone the title ceremony.

After all, Mu Xiu Yu Lin Feng will destroy it.

Brian Chu, who had fallen before and on the seas of the Sun Kingdom, was a lesson for the past.

This world seems to be peaceful and stable.

However, beneath the calm surface, there were eccentricities.

Conspiracy and assassination are pervasive in every age.

Where there are people, there is killing.

Finally, as Mark accepted the canonized documents of the country, today's drama has just come to an end.

Ferguson Wu was forcibly taken away by law enforcement officers and accepted for review.

As for He Lan Mountain, he fell from the top of the mountain and was demoted to the countryside to help the poor.

The police officers who had come from all over Wrilfill to encircle Mark before were evacuated in an orderly manner under the command of Han Dongmin.

As for the three thousand soldiers in the Noirfork Military Region, they were all humiliated and fleeing under the leadership of Wang Dongsheng, like a mouse crossing the street.

The Xu family's father and son, who had previously flaunted their might, were lying on the ground motionless like two dead dogs.

What was even more miserable was that with so many people present, none of them paid any attention to these two people, let alone sent to the hospital for treatment.

Even Wang Dongsheng and the others, who came with Xu He before, turned their heads and ran away without seeing the two generals of the Xu family.

Today, Xu He and his son were almost killed. Wang Dongsheng and other soldiers in Noirfork were killed. This is the heart of the bastard father and son. How can they be saved?

In the end, Han Dongmin felt compassionate and asked his subordinates to carry these two things to the hospital for treatment.

And Lu Cangqiong was also taken away from Wrilfill by Li Hongze's people.

The crowd dispersed, and a farce finally ended.

However, although the farce in Wrilfill is over, the subsequent impact of this incident has just begun.

Not to mention Jiang Dong, how Han Dongmin will deal with Ferguson Wu and others.

Only on Gritsberg's side, there is bound to be a shock.

After all, the disaster caused by the Lu and Xu family was too great, the impact was extremely serious, and the army was used privately.

What's more, just offending Mark is enough for the state to deal with them severely.

Of course, these are things for the future.

Now, as the crowd disperses, Your Excellency HaiDollar is calm again.

However, although the world has calmed down, the mood of Ericson and other Noirfork folks has been difficult to calm for a long time.

Like a wave, ups and downs.

Even if Li Hongze and others had been away for a long time, your Excellency HaiDollar remained silent.

Everyone, Ya Que was silent, almost forgot to breathe.

Under the sky, only Mark smiled faintly.

He stretched out his hand and took the stunning beauty beside him into his arms.

He stood with his hands behind, and he sneered.

Only if a generation of emperors, the empresses in their arms, dominate the world!
