

Chapter 243

Rumors about Clara buying a murderer to kidnap Jenny Jing continue to fester on.

Along with that earlier recording, and Aoi's testimony, it brought the heat along with it.

For a time, King was notorious, and while there were those who stood her innocent, the hard evidence was so strong that most people still preferred to believe what they saw with their own eyes.

As a result, there were more curses from the upper to Clara.

That afternoon, Jenny was resting at home when he received a call from Mo Nan.

It said that someone had gone to the police station to see the driver, surnamed Liu, who was a well-known barrister in the industry.

Now after all, there hasn't really been a conviction yet and the driver has the right to see a lawyer, so they're not going to be able to stop them.

There was so much at stake in this case that the media was already guarding the outside of the police station on the news and would have loved to have dug up more inside information.

So at this time, Jenny must not appear, and even Biden Lu had better not appear.

She thought about it and said, "See by them, all right."

Mo Nan was a little worried.

"In case that driver changes his statement, it will be very bad for you then."

Jenny Jing coldly hooked his lips.

"Don't worry, since I've already made up my mind that I'm going to make Clara fall one step to the bottom, there's no way I'm just going to keep this one move."

Hearing her say that, Mo Nan Fang put his mind at ease.

On the other hand, Tong Shu had a hard time finding someone to take care of that driver and was relieved.

Unsurprisingly, the police made another announcement that evening.

It was announced that the first crime scene had been found after Kingning was kidnapped at the time, and a photo and address of that secret room was also posted.

The announcement made it clear that although they had gone to great lengths to find the place, the others seemed to have sensed it in advance and had moved the people away.

In other words, Jenny still hadn't found it.

Tonshu saw those pictures and almost got scared out of her wits.

He even went to Clara to confirm it.

When Clara looked at the photos that had been uploaded, she was also stunned.

No way!

She had clearly destroyed the scene, all traces of her and Jenny's presence erased.

How could they have filmed it?

In the photo, the secret room was exactly the same as when Jenny was held.

The operating table in the centre was vaguely visible after someone had struggled.

And the last picture in the photo is of a ring.

Police claim that the ring was found at the scene of the crime, and after confirming to someone close to Kingning that the item was not hers.

That means that the ring, most likely, belongs to the person who planned the kidnapping.

The picture of the ring is very clear with a heart shaped diamond sparkling on top.

But Clara only felt a chill leap up her spine, as if she had been poured a pot of cold water over her head, shivering with cold.

How... how is that possible?

Didn't this... Didn't this ring break a long time ago?

I took it to her to fix it. Why is it here?

Aoi?

She thought of something suddenly and stared at it.

This damn girl! How dare they join forces to frame her!

Clara is about to go crazy, yet let her think that she is innocent, someone still picked up the photos of her previous attendance at the event.

And zooming in on the hand, I saw that the heart-shaped diamond ring was clearly on it.

"Oh my God! This woman is crazy, and she really did kidnap Jenny ah?"

"This ring seems to be a token of her and Mu Shao's love, right?"

"It seems to be, I remember there was an interview where she admitted it herself, I'll look for the video."

Soon, that video was picked up by Friends.

It was shortly after Jenny had just crashed her female dry affair with Rovell, who had given her this ring at the engagement ceremony.

Clara was interviewed by a sharp-eyed reporter who stared at her and asked about it.

She then proudly showed them off.

At the time, she even raised her hand to face the camera to show the carefully cut diamond so that the camera could get a clear shot of the ring.

Unexpectedly, it became the evidence of her guilt today.

Clara's entire face went white and stumbled a few steps, falling onto the couch.

Tong Shu no longer knew what to say, she held her head and sighed.

"I thought you said that all the evidence had been destroyed?What's that all about?"

Clara shook her head.

The immense horror, as well as the helplessness, made her eyes red.

"I don't know, I've obviously had that secret room destroyed, I've had everything in it, including the operating table, get rid of it, so why is it still here?"

She paused, and looked at Tong Shu with a pale face.

"Sister Tong, it must have been her plan long ago, being kidnapped by me in the first place was itself within her expectation, that's why she was able to take these pictures!

These pictures must not have been taken after the fact, that's simply not possible!And the ring, it couldn't have been picked up at the crime scene either!

They must have joined forces to plot against me, and this time, it's simply a pit she's dug for me, just waiting for me to jump into it!"

Tong Shu tugged at the corner of his lips in mockery.

"Even if it's a pit, won't you jump?"

Clara: "....."

Sensing the dissatisfaction in Tong Shu's tone, she sank slightly.

"Is that even what you're saying about me now? Or are even you disappointed in me and want to leave me?"

Tong Shu a lag.

Truth be told, she's no better now than she used to be, though she has some credentials by virtue of having been in the industry for so many years.

But the waves of the Yangtze River pushed forward, and her ability to keep up with those offspring out of agents and publicists has long been out of date and somewhat out of touch, both in terms of experience and mindset.

Nowadays, Clara is considered the best artist she has, even if she doesn't want Clara to be ruined for the sake of her future.

Thinking of this, Tong Shu sighed.

"Don't be ridiculous, I didn't mean it that way."

She paused and said, "The situation is very bad for us, do you have any ideas?"

Clara shook her head.

"I don't know, I'm so confused right now."

In the meantime, Tong Shu thought about it.

"If it's true, as you say, that this was Jenny's scheme from the beginning, then the only way to find her now is to find her, and once it's proven that she's fine and free in person, then all the rumors from before will go away, and..."

Her gaze was deep, and her eyes had a sly glint.

"If we do it right, we might even be able to be Jedi and get back 10%."

Clara froze and looked at her, "How do you bring back 10%?"

"Heh!What do you think people would think if the outside world knew that not only was Jenny fine, but that she had directed all of this and bribed the police to act with her just to frame you and drive you out of the entertainment industry so that she could dominate everything you have now?"

Chapter 244

Clara stared at her pupils in shock.

"What do you mean..."

Tong Shu snickered.

"What the world hates most is collusion between power and money, so what if Jenny she has Biden Lu's backing?The better Biden Lu treated her, it only made everyone think that the rich had more power, to the point where they simply did whatever they wanted.

That way, everyone will start hating her and you really think the Lu family is just a solid number one in Kyoto with no rivals?Heh.It is not surprising that that position has been coveted for a long time.

If the Lu Clan is then under public pressure due to this matter, it's impossible for the Lu Clan to ignore it internally, there will be an internal and external attack, I'll see who Biden Lu will choose between the interests of the family and a woman."

Clara was simply stunned.

For a moment, she reacted, her face showing joy.

"I see!Sister Tong, so our top priority right now is to find Jenny?"

"Well, it has to be proven that she's not missing at all, so as to convince everyone that she was lying about everything before!"

Clara nodded.

“Okay, I know, I’m going to try to find out.”

.....

Over there, Clara was preparing to find a way to ferret out Jenny Jing.

Here, Jenny had received the message.

After all, from the moment that driver surnamed Liu was revealed, she guessed that Clara was probably going to come looking for her.

Land Garden couldn’t stay, and while Clara hadn’t been brave enough to just barge in, the target here was too big after all, and it was hard to tell if anyone would notice.

Jenny thought and thought, trying to figure out where to find a good place to hide, and then Old Mrs. Cen called.

“Jenny, what are you doing?How’s the body?”

Old Mrs. Cen called Biden Lu’s mobile phone and asked her to listen to the call directly.

Thinking that Lu Jing was afraid that the old man and child would be worried, he had already told them about it in advance.

Jenny replied evenly, “I’m fine, I’m at home, how about you?How has it been?”

“I’m fine, it’s just that Ann misses you so much and has been making a lot of noise about whether I should bring her over to play with you for a couple of days when it’s convenient?”

Jenny was in a difficult position.

It was now a troubled time for her to force King's family to confess to the crimes they had committed against her mother, so she must not show up.

But Anon....

Old Mrs. Cen seemed to have sensed her embarrassment, and said busy, "It just so happens that I recently bought a small island in the south, the scenery can be beautiful, I also had someone open a hotel there, the chef is a former royal chef of the state banquet, and his skills can be called one of the best, when are you free, let's go to the island together for a holiday ah?"

With all of this being said, if Jenny didn't understand, he would truly be living in vain.

She said evenly, "Okay, I'll do it, you guys arrange the time."

"In that case, let's do it tomorrow, and I'll have Deep send you over."

"Okay."

After it was decided, the old lady just hung up.

Biden Lu was watching her expectantly, and when she hung up the phone, he asked, "You agreed?"

Jenny nodded, "Well, the old lady said to go over tomorrow."

"Oh."

The man's eyes flickered and he didn't know what was on his mind.

Jenny was curious and asked, "The old lady said she bought an island in the south? It costs a lot of money to buy an island, doesn't it? Is this old lady trying to develop tourism?"

Biden Lu waved his hand carelessly.

"No, it's just that the old man is getting old and wants to buy it for his retirement in the south."

Jenny: "....."

All right! Rich people don't think like she does.

Buying an island for your retirement, well, it sure is something!

The old lady was very mobile, and as soon as the matter was finalized, she immediately asked Biden Lu to send the man over.

Early the next morning, Jenny arrived at the island by plane.

Not only is the island beautiful, but it also has a nice name, Sibunin Island.

To hear the old lady tell it, the island is home to many valuable birds, some of which are endangered due to the extensive catching by nearby fishermen and now the poor ecology.

The old lady had bought the island to give them a peaceful and beautiful habitat as well.

Ann had already heard that she was coming over and had been excited since the morning.

When Jenny actually arrived at noon, he was even going to be in a hurry to greet her.

Jenny hadn't seen her for a while, and naturally missed her, so the mother and daughter came to a big hug as soon as they met, making out for a while before letting go.

The old lady sized her up and said sadly: "Yo, this is all skinny, Jenny, I heard you were kidnapped, how is it? No injuries?"

Jenny laughed and shook his head, "I'm fine, it's just a shock."

The wound on her hand wasn't too deep, and it was just about healed after a few days of healing.

Before she came, she removed the gauze for fear of worrying the old man and the child, and now, although she can still see a light-colored scar on her hand, it's not as bad as before, so it's not terrible.

Old Mrs. Cen nodded reassuringly at the news.

And ushered the two into the house.

There was only one hotel on the island, and the old lady had arranged a room for them long before they arrived.

Jenny first went back to her room with Biden Lu to rest for a while until lunch, and then she came out.

The old man's health has always been poor, so he didn't come out with us this time.

But Old Mrs. Cen has always been talkative, sixty or seventy years old, and still maintains a jealous old coot's mentality.

Knowing that Jenny was being bullied, she had long been unable to endure it and had been yelling with righteous indignation on her behalf.

Jenny just smiled, thinking that the old lady was cute, but in her heart she knew that the old lady was treating her as one of her own and caring for her, so she was even more touched.

"Grandmother, don't interfere in this matter, Jenny has her own ideas."

Midway through the journey, Biden Lu finally couldn't watch anymore and couldn't help but speak.

The old lady gave him a blank stare at the news.

"And you have the nerve to say that? How is this husband when he can't even protect his own daughter-in-law? It's come to this, and you still have to do it yourself with your daughter-in-law, did you grow your brains from eating so many years for nothing?"

The old woman is not rude when she dislikes her grandson.

Biden Lu's face darkened, and Jenny Jing, seeing the situation, was busy explaining.

"Grandma, it's not that he won't help me and I won't let him."

As she did, she told the story of her enmity with Clara, and the cause of her mother Mo Caiwei's death.

Including how she was kicked out of the Jing family five years ago, and how that mother and daughter took over all the family property, and in the end, even her own attempts to get her mother's relics back were made difficult in every way.

The old lady was furious after hearing that.

"Outrageous! Is there a law in this world? This mother and daughter are so shameless, why aren't they struck by lightning?"

Jenny Jing faintly scoffed.

"It's hard for a clean government official to cut off a family's affairs, but I can't blame anyone else for this, only that I was too young five years ago and didn't think about it that much, if I had been smarter and noticed the strange circumstances of my mother's death earlier, I wouldn't have had to go through all this trouble today."

The old lady was distressed to hear it and patted her hand comfortingly.

Suddenly remembering something, he asked curiously, "You said your mother left you just a necklace before she died?"

Chapter 245

Jenny nodded.

"It's not right." The old lady frowned, "It is reasonable to say that this third child and her illegitimate daughter have both entered the house, since she has already foreseen that she is going to be in trouble, she can't leave her own daughter with just a necklace anyway."

"Grandma, what do you mean..."

"Look, if I were your mother, I know full well that the other side is coming for more than just your father, and for the family property as well.

In that case, I'll definitely transfer some of my property to your name beforehand, so that even if I have a good thing to do in the future, you won't be bullied, don't you think?"

Jenny was slightly stunned.

It wasn't that she hadn't wondered about it before, but her mother had died and there was no point in thinking about it.

And as far as she knew, during her mother's lifetime, many of the original Mo's possessions had already been taken over by Kevin Jing and Kelly Wang's mother and son.

Mother Mo Caiwei is a quiet natured person and does not like to fight.

So even though that mother and son's appetite had grown over the years, even changing the original Mo's name to Jing's, she hadn't made any comments.

And I don't know if it was her delusion, but she always felt as if her mother had something on her mind.

At times, it would unconsciously reveal some sense of guilt towards King Tsunade.

I'm sure this is the reason why King's behavior is becoming more and more excessive.

Jenny frowned, deep in thought.

Biden Lu saw the situation and didn't want her to be sentimental about these past events, so he interrupted the conversation.

"Okay, it's dinner time, let's not talk about that, come on, Jenny, you try the hairy crab here."

Saying that, he peeled a crab in Jenny's bowl with his own hands.

Jenny returned to his senses and nodded his head.

On the opposite side, Ann saw the brittle, "Daddy, I want crab crab too."

Biden Lu looked at her and gave her a small piece of crab yellow from his bowl.

Bob looked at the piece of crabmeat in his bowl that was only a little bit, and was not happy about it.

She puffed up her little face and exhaled, "I don't want it! I want a big crab crab that Daddy peels, and one as big as Mommy!"

I said, and focused on Jenny's bowl.

Jennyton couldn't help but laugh dumbly.

Biden Lu tiger under the face.

"Don't you know your own body itself? The doctor says you can't eat too much cold food, and allowing you to eat that today is already being extra kind to you for your mommy's sake, so if you don't eat it then give it back to me."

I said, and when I did, I reached for her bowl.

Bobbie saw this and took the bowl in front of him as fast as he could.

A pair of black and white eyes were foggy and deflated, looking particularly aggrieved.

"Daddy's bad, stealing other people's crab to eat, and Ann's not sitting with Daddy."

After saying that, he jumped off the stool and stomped over to Jenny's side, taking the seat next to him.

"Ann wants to sit with Mommy."

She said, and smiled up at Jenny with a particularly pleasing smile.

Jenny Jing only felt as if his heart was warming up, and even touched her head in a gesture of reassurance.

Another piece of meat in her bowl, softly said, "Ann can't eat crab crab, will Ann eat braised pork?The braised pork is good too."

Ann nodded and scooped up the piece of meat in the bowl with a small spoon and ate it, then squinted in particular satisfaction.

"Thank you Mummy, the meat Mummy caught was delicious."

Lu Jing-Shen.

"....."

Who didn't eat roast pork in the first place?

You've got a mother who's forgotten her father!

It was not pleasant for someone to see the pair of women across the street looking like they were making out with each other.

Sour, and a little jealous.

The old lady was happy though, she was originally worried that Jenny and An'an would not get along well, but now it seemed that she was completely over worried.

I don't know what the child Ann was thinking, but she had gone to a lot of trouble over the years to find her a good mother.

But it's not like anyone, even that child of the Guan family, so gentle and virtuous in nature, to her is just said to be barely okay, but there is no real recognition.

Until she met Jenny, who was literally like a backdoor, the old lady had never seen her so well-behaved and obedient.

The old lady was very pleased.

Jenny asked curiously, "I've always only known that An An's health was bad, but I don't know what's going on, is she sick with something? Or was it a bad bottom before?"

Several of the faces at the table changed slightly at the mention of the question.

Biden Lu was still the same colorless face, but the old lady sighed.

"It's a long story, Ann's not like a normal child, she..."

Jenny Jing gazed and listened intently.

"She wasn't born with a normal pregnancy, she was born through a test tube plus an artificial womb, and there was something wrong with that that caused the baby to never be well."

Jenny was surprised at the news.

She had always thought that Ann was a souvenir left by Biden Lu with one of his old girlfriends!

No, but it's artificially grown?

Although Jenny Jing had never seen it with his own eyes, he had occasionally heard about this artificial womb on the news when he was overseas before.

It is said that some medical genius has simulated the environment of a baby's womb to replace the hard work of giving birth to a woman later on.

I never thought it would work!

This time, when Jenny Jing looked at An's eyes again, he couldn't help but feel even more distressed.

It was a rough enough background, but by now, he doesn't even have a real mother!

If the guy who donated a mess counts as a mum.

Jenny incomparably regretted that she hadn't been a little nicer to Ann this time.

Bob, however, was a little confused, not quite understanding why the atmosphere among the adults had suddenly gone down.

She blinked, then tugged lightly on Jenny's sleeve.

"Mummy, what are you talking about?"

Jenny Jing was so distressed that he even leaned over and hugged her gently, softly comforting her, "It's nothing, An An is really good."

Bobbie let her hold him in her arms and didn't move, blinking good-naturedly at her.

She didn't really know all of it, she just didn't know it as well.

Like, she actually knew that they had just been talking about her life, and that Jenny was hugging her because she pitied her.

But she didn't feel sorry for herself at all.

Daddy had told her that she had a mummy, and her mummy was the best and most beautiful woman in the world.

Daddy's computer still had pictures of Mommy, and she recognized Jenny at first glance when she saw her.

And Daddy had said that although she was different from a normal child, that was just a different way of being born.

The rest, in fact, are the same, and if I had to say one difference, it would probably be that she's better looking and cuter than they are!
