

Chapter 2445– 2446 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 2445

In the room, Mark said in a deep voice while drinking tea.

After a short speech, Ye Qingtian was speechless. He opened his mouth, wondering how to refute it.

Finally, Ye Qingtian smiled bitterly: “Yes, I am here to educate you in name, but you were educated by you.”

“Forget it, let’s not mention this matter.”

“Anyway, I have also learned about this, it is true that they provoke you first.”

“The only fault you have is that you have been a bit too cruel.”

“However, you are right, the world is weak and powerful. To blame, they can only be blamed for their over-reliance.”

“If I were in your position, it is estimated that few of those people would survive.”

While speaking, Ye Qingtian picked up the tea Mark had made for him and drank it all in one go.

For a while, there was a brief silence in the room.

Only the crisp sound of tea entering the cup, quietly flowing in the room.

After a moment of silence, Mark took the lead to break the silence here: “The God of War came to me here, shouldn’t it be for Jiangbei?”

“If what I expected is good, you should have something else to tell me.”

The Jiangbei incident, although there was a lot of trouble in the entire Yanxia Military Region.

But for people like Ye Qingtian who stood at the pinnacle of martial arts, at best they were just a few ants dead.

Even if the Martial God Temple really wanted to blame him, he definitely wouldn't let Ye Qingtian go out in person because of this incident.

Therefore, Mark concluded that Ye Qingtian must have something else to say.

Ye Qingtian smiled upon hearing the words: "You kid, you can't hide it from you."

"To tell the truth, I am looking for you this time. There is indeed one thing that requires you to go out."

"Oh, what's the matter?" Mark asked curiously.

Ye Qingtian first looked around, and only after seeing no one around, did he say: "Mark, have you ever heard of Dollar Lingguo?"

"Huh? Dollar Lingguo?" Mark frowned slightly, "You mean, the Dollar Lingguo that is of great benefit to martial arts practice?"

Ye Qingtian didn't expect Mark to know it. He was slightly startled, and he felt that Mark was not easy anymore.

You know, things about Dollar Lingguo are also classified incidents in the martial arts world.

In the world, there are only a dozen or so countries that know this thing.

The only people who really understand this matter are those who rule the martial arts of various countries.

But this Mark actually knew, this naturally made Ye Qingtian a little admired.

However, where did Ye Qingtian know that Mark holds the Yundao Heavenly Book, Paul Vientiane, which naturally contains an introduction about the Dollar Lingguo.

Therefore, Mark knows this thing, and there is nothing to make a fuss about.

"Yes, it's this Dollar Lingguo."

"This fruit germinates in ten years, blooms in ten years, and bears fruit in ten years. In other words, one maturity in thirty years is an extremely rare cultivation treasure. Moreover, there are no side effects."

"Especially for the strong below the master, the effect is greatest."

"A single soul fruit may give birth to a martial arts master."

"Of course, even if the master takes it, it will help the cultivation."

“It can be said that it is extremely precious!”

Ye Qingtian said from the side.

And Mark listened, but looked at Ye Qingtian: “So, God of War has news about the Primordial Spirit Fruit?”

Chapter 2446

Ye Qingtian nodded.

“I said that this soul fruit will mature every 30 years.”

“Now, it’s been thirty years since the last time it matured.”

“I’m looking for you this time, and I hope you can represent the hot summer and go to the land of America to snatch the Dollar Ling Guo.”

“Let me go? For these treasures, if you go personally, God of War, won’t you have a better chance of winning?” Mark asked curiously.

Ye Qingtian shook his head: “You don’t understand. When this Dollar Ling fruit tree was first discovered, the martial arts of all countries sent top powers to compete.”

“As a result, in the land of the Americas, several titled masters fought. The aftermath of the battle not only affected countless local residents, but also destroyed many Yuanling fruit trees during the war.”

“So, since then, all countries that know the soul fruit have agreed with each other to prohibit grandmasters and above from participating in the looting.”

“Otherwise, you will suffer joint sanctions from the martial arts powerhouses of other countries!”

“So, not only I and the Sword Saint cannot go, but also the strong ones on the Yanxia Grandmaster list.”

Ye Qingtian said in a deep voice.

Mark naturally didn’t know the secrets of these national levels.

After all, Mark was just a small person before, and he certainly didn’t have access to such things between the top of the country.

This is the gap between circles.

Ordinary people, what they come into contact with in their life, are just trivial things around them.

But the people standing on high places are naturally exposed to completely different scenery.

Now that Mark showed his majesty and was acknowledged by the Martial God Temple, these things were said to Mark.

“So, you want me to fight for it as a strong person?”

Under the master, it is into the transformation.

Since all countries prohibit the great masters from participating in the war, most of those who will naturally fight for it will be the powerful who have entered the realm of transformation.

Ye Qingtian nodded his head: “Yes.”

“Your identity is still in the confidential stage.”

“The Martial God Temple does not have your name, and you have never been on the Grand Master List either.”

“So, those people abroad naturally don’t know that you already have the power of a master.”

“Even if you reveal your strength in the final snatch stage, it doesn’t matter much. We just say that you broke through during the war.”

“There are some things, even if everyone knows it well, but without evidence, they can’t attack me in the summer martial arts.”

“What’s more, this is already an unspoken rule of various countries, and it is not only used by us in the summer.”

Indeed, using this method to send masters to enter, you can bypass the contracts signed by various countries in the martial arts.

However, this method has many limitations.

That is, the opponent must be a hidden master.

Otherwise, it will not be fooled!

After all, how many people can there be in a country with a master or above?

In the hot summer, with a population of 1.4 billion people, there were only ten masters and six titles.

There are only sixteen people in total.

Who is a master, who is not a master, and even like the God of War, their strengths and weaknesses have long been thoroughly studied by the intelligence agencies of the martial arts of various countries.

The fact that Mo Gucheng, the King of Fighters broke his shoes, was stabbed by the intelligence department of the American Budo.

In this world, those who know yourself better than you are the enemy.

Therefore, the gap in this contract is not so easy to exploit.

Just like Ye Qingtian, people would recognize it once he went out.

There are also portraits of the people on the Yanxia Grandmaster list. Their portraits have long been circulated throughout the world's major martial arts forums. Want to pretend to be a strong person, who would believe it?

Only Mark, a strong person who hasn't really exposed yet, can take this loophole.
