

Chapter 2481– 2482 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 2481

Yundao Tianshu is all-encompassing.

Among them, there are records about some special physiques.

For example, some people are born with supernatural powers, and they have the power to open tablets and crack stones at birth.

There are also people who are born with Yin bodies, and they are born with huge Yin and Chill power in their bodies.

As for the blue-eyed and golden-flowered pupils that Mark now speaks, it is naturally one of the special physiques.

Of course, there are many special physiques recorded in the Yundao Tianshu, but looking at the billions of people in the world, people who really have special physiques are undoubtedly very few.

As a result, Mark once thought that people with special constitutions only exist in historical records.

But he never expected that he would see it with his own eyes today.

Moreover, it is still such an extremely miraculous, blue-eyed golden pupil.

This special “physique” by itself cannot bring great strength to An Qi.

However, An Qi could use the blue eyes and golden eyes to frighten the beasts, but for her own use.

This is equivalent to invisibly, An Qi can gather many loyal “thugs” around her.

Yes, this is the biggest use of the green eyes and golden eyes!

Any beast, once “striked” by the blue-eyed golden flower pupil, will become An Qi’s most loyal believer.

Just like the current An Qi, after she was overwhelmed by the black bear, she waved and called the black bear to her side, and then directly rode on the shoulders of the big black bear and let it walk on her back.

As for those heavy backpacks, they were all carried by the black bear.

“Brother Mark, are you coming up too?”

“Xiao Hei’s shoulders are very comfortable.”

The little girl had just subdued the beast, but she had already given her a name.

And Mark was undoubtedly still in shock and didn’t come back to his senses.

“Brother Mark, what’s wrong with you, why don’t you speak?”

“You won’t, just like those people, think An Qi is a monster, so hate An Qi.”

Seeing Mark’s strangeness, the smile on An Qi’s face suddenly dimmed.

As she talked, the little girl in front of her eyes gradually turned red.

There was a little bit of sparkle, turning in her eyes, and her head was lowered and deeper.

The outside sunlight is gradually falling, and through the dense shade of the trees, it is sprinkled with countless brilliance.

When Mark saw this, he was slightly taken aback: “Monster?”

“Angie, what are you talking about?”

“You have this ability, I envy it too late, how can I hate you, let alone feel that you are a monster.”

Mark was inexplicably strange, wondering why An Qi suddenly said such things.

“Brother Mark, are you telling the truth?”

“Do you really think An Qi is a monster?”

An Qi raised her head and looked at Mark with her big watery eyes.

From her eyes, Mark saw deep inferiority and loneliness, and saw a desire to be recognized.

Mark couldn't imagine what kind of experience An Qi had at this age to have such a strong loneliness.

It turned out that from a very young age, An Qi found that she was different from others.

Many ferocious beasts will become particularly obedient when they see her.

And she is also very happy to play with them and communicate with them.

Even An Qi felt that she had an inexplicable connection with these beasts.

Gradually, both in the family and in the Truman, An Qi has undoubtedly become an outlier in the eyes of her peers.

Chapter 2482

Everyone squeezed her out, isolated her, thought she was a monster, said she was a savage, a beast in human form.

And the more so, An Qi became more withdrawn and unwilling to communicate with others. Gradually, they are getting farther and farther from the circle of humans, but more and more into the circle of beasts.

Later, An Qi's situation aroused the worries of his father and brother.

In order to integrate An Qi into the human society, his father and brother locked An Qi in the family and shot all the birds and beasts within a radius of one kilometer. She was forbidden to contact any animals and could only communicate with members of the family.

In this way, An Qi was imprisoned in the family for ten years.

In the past ten years, An Qi has almost forgotten this ability of her own.

Until this time escaping from the family, after entering the rainforest, the cells lurking in her body had once again awakened this ability.

However, after seeing Mark's reaction, what was awakened at the same time was that deep in An Qi's mind, that part of the past that he didn't want to remember.

"When I was young, every time I chatted with animals, my father would beat me, and my brother would kill me."

"People around me also look at me like they look at me."

"Brother Mark, you say, am I really a monster?"

“Why, they all hate me?”

“When I was in school, I didn’t want to be at the same table with me.”

“When eating, I don’t want to join me at a table.”

“When you encounter it on the road, avoid it from a distance.”

“I also want to be accepted by them, I want to play games with them, and I want to have many friends.”

“But no one cares about me, no one wants to play with me. I can only play with ants, listen to the cicadas on the tree and chat with the birds on the branches.”

“My only friend also disappeared one day and was never found again.”

“I think he must have also known that I am a monster, so he ran away in fright~”

Under the banyan tree, An Qi whispered.

In the past, she only told Chongniao these things, but now, she didn’t know why, so she wanted to tell Mark.

Perhaps it was because of the kindness that Mark gave her.

Yes, from the first sight of Mark, An Qi felt an inexplicable kindness.

Like old friends many years ago, meeting again.

When she said these words, An Qi’s brows and eyes were flushed, tears rolled in her eyes, and she sobbed slightly.

Mark had mixed feelings when he heard this.

Perhaps, a lonely dead child lives in everyone’s heart.

An Qi is, Mark, why not?

Back then, he, in the Chu family, was not the same, because he was squeezed out everywhere.

He will never forget, when everyone looked at him with contempt and contempt, as if they were looking at an alien.

In the past, Mark thought that he was not doing well enough, so he tried very hard to integrate into them.

But the result is undoubtedly futile.

It was not until later that Mark realized that it was not him who was wrong, it was them!

As for myself, there is no need to fit into any circle, and no need to be recognized by anyone.

Therefore, when he heard these words from An Qi, Mark smiled lightly, stretched out his hand with pity in his eyes, and gently helped An Qi wipe the tears from the corner of his eyes, softly comforting: "An Qi, remember, life is Your own, you don't have to extravagantly ask for anyone's recognition, and you don't need to care about anyone's gaze."

"What's more, with this kind of magical physique, it is enough to show that you are the darling of heaven and earth. One day, those who laugh at you will know how unsightly they used to be?"
