

Chapter 261: Sonia's gift to Sonia

Latest website: When Adam opened the page, he felt like the protagonist in the avatar, experiencing the memories in it firsthand.

But interestingly, this book does not record the story of iron strikes.

In other words, it's not just about hitting iron, which disappointed Ah Xiu who was looking forward to hitting iron.

The magician who left the memory seems to be a multi-faction creator, and possesses extremely high spiritual attainments.

He can enslave a knowledge creature in the virtual world, and then infuse the miracles of multiple factions on the knowledge creature, including the "hormone rage" of the biological faction, the "steel scale armor" of the alchemy faction, etc., and then ride the knowledge creature in Time mainland slaughtered the Quartet.

Although the magician in this book may be a super genius among the two-winged magicians, Ash vaguely remembers that there are hundreds of millions of people in the blood moon kingdom, and there are many people in the gospel kingdom, let alone other kingdoms. Among these hundreds of millions of people, it is almost inevitable that tens of thousands of super geniuses will appear. Therefore, there are probably thousands of genius magicians who can run wild in the virtual realm.

This point made Ya Xiu secretly contemptuous of his heart. Because of the magician manual, map, and automatic car, he did not think that the same-level magician in the virtual realm could pose a threat to him, and he did not even think that the same-level magician could chase him. Deserving of him.

However, reality tells him that even if there is no plug-in, no sports car, no map, a genius can create a monster mount that surpasses the current version for himself, pushing the virtual realm, and plundering mana!

All kinds of frost and sky compete for freedom, this is the only law of the virtual world.

I have a plug-in, you have talent, he has luck, and everyone has a bright future.

This book records the process of enslaving and transforming the knowledgeable creatures in the virtual world. If you switch to a magician of the psychic faction or alchemy faction, you might gain a lot, but the psychic faction of Ya Xiu is purely from Jian Ji. The candle head of the silver gun that came from the side, so he could know every knowledge point that appeared in it, but he couldn't understand it when connected, it was almost the same as taking a high math class.

After reading this book leisurely, Ya Xiu immediately knew what reward he had received.

All the swordsmanship spirits on his body appeared, and a golden light hammer appeared on the books, and all the swordsmanship spirits were hit hard.

clang! The swordsmanship spirit becomes two wings.

clang! Cut the swordsmanship spirit into two wings.

clang! Heart swordsmanship spirit becomes two wings.

In the blink of an eye, all of Asia's swordsmanship spirits were promoted to the second wing!

This is the reward for reading this book, and it is also the miracle performed by the genius magician in the book—"Sword Refining and Wing"!

Because genius magicians like to enslave ichthyosaurs, tyrannosaurs, and paradise dragons, which are knowledgeable creatures that are good at melee combat, and these creatures often carry swordsmanship spirits, so genius magicians thought of a way to make them stronger— Bring them up forcibly, the Shu Ling that hasn't evolved to the Second Wing!

Forcibly upgrading the one-winged Shu Ling to the two-winged, it sounds like too cheating, but for a genius, cheating is considered a miracle, so "Sword Refining Wings" was born—as long as you perform this miracle, you can use the target's swordsmanship. All are promoted to the second wing!

However, this miracle is not a permanent miracle, and even requires the magician himself to continuously consume mana to maintain it. When the mana is interrupted, the temporarily promoted two-winged magic spirit will also degenerate to one wing.

The threshold for this miracle is so high that it is impossible for a non-chemist to learn it, but what is the need for an ordinary alchemist to practice swordsmanship? Therefore, "strengthening swords and transforming wings" can be said to be a miracle with very low practicality, which is meaningful only in the hands of this talented magician.

But it would be different if this miracle was used as a reward.

Now all of Asia's swordsmanship spirits have been promoted to the second wing, but this miracle was not performed by the magician, but initiated by the legendary library.

In other words, this miracle has the endorsement of the virtual world.

This also means that even if "Sword Refining Wings" was originally a temporary buff miracle, when the caster is in the Void Realm, the temporary buff will become a permanent buff!

Perhaps there are many hidden dangers in it, such as these three Shulings cannot be promoted to the Three Wings or something, but Ah Xiu obviously doesn't care about it—not to mention that he may not be able to be promoted to the Three Wings, even if he can be promoted to the Three Wings quickly, when the time comes You can also change the tactical system with other three-winged magic spirits, there is no need to hold on to these magical spirits, and they are not family heirlooms.

Perhaps many magicians will persistently upgrade and evolve their favorite Shu Ling, but as a Mud Seed magician, Ya Xiu doesn't have any persistence or persistence in 'swordsmanship', 'faith', and 'shu Ling who has been with him for many years'.

If there is a better slave magic spirit, Ah Xiu is even willing to replace the first magic spirit 'substitute' he obtained!

Operators are like siblings, and skills are like clothes. This is the law of Asia!

And that's all about "cutting sword" and "stabbing sword," Ya Xiu didn't expect that "heart sword" would also be promoted to the second wing. Because the 'Heart Sword' is extremely valuable, rare and practical, Jian Ji has always hoped that Ya Xiu will promote this Shu Ling to Second Wing, and Ya Xiu himself is not willing to give up this flexible attacking Shu Ling, but that is the case with Ya Xiu's own swordsmanship faction. Pulling the hips can only rely on feeding the swordsmanship materials to slowly feed it.

Now that the "Heart Sword" is upgraded to the second wing, then there is no need for Ya Xiu to grab the swordsmanship material from Jian Ji, and Ya Xiu's attack power can also say goodbye to Gu Sha. At least he can break the defense now!

Hmph, waiting for Jian Ji to come online tomorrow night, she will definitely be surprised!

Ah Xiu was very satisfied with the harvest this time and put the book back on the shelf. The next thing to do is to leave part of his memory here.

There seems to be no doubt as to which memory to keep—the memory of the previous life cannot be kept, it is the treasure and secret that he refuses to share with others; and the memory of this life, only the story of the escape from prison can be slightly connected with the 'legend'.

Ya Xiu put his finger on the bookshelf and quickly entered the state of memory. In the gap between his fingers, a new book is slowly forming...

At the same time, on the first floor of the Legendary Library of UU Reading www.uukanshu.com, a red-haired lady in black gauze was pressing her finger against the bookshelf. Her body is like burning ashes, seemingly illusory, as if it will turn into a handful of light smoke and dissipate at any time.

The thread of memory gradually weaves a new book. When it was completely born, countless hoarse wailings spread around like ripples, and all the bookshelves were oozing dark red blood, and the floor seemed to become a soft and rotten quagmire, inch by inch. To devour those who enter the museum.

However, when the red-haired lady pulled out the book, all the abnormalities disappeared.

“Huh, it’s still the case.” She smiled: “Although the guide says that reading the book first and then recording the memories, in fact the two steps are not in order.”

“In other words, you can record the memories first, and then read the book, including... the memories you just let go of.”

“Sonia.” She opened the page: “I hope you like this gift.”

Chapter 262: Silverman, I’m not anymore

Latest URL: “The situation is not good...”

Seeing Leonie who was retreating on the stage, the team members of Jianhua University didn’t look very good.

They didn't expect that Leonie, who was supposed to be in charge of the first battle, would appear defeated in the second battle.

Although the vanguard, forward, center, second place, and chief can adjust their positions at will, generally speaking, the stronger you put the later, the strongest is the chief.

If you want to play dirty tactics, such as using the "superior horse vs. inferior horse, inferior horse to superior horse" routine in exchange for the overall victory of the friendly match, although it conforms to the rules and cannot be condemned, you will not think that other universities will follow you next year. Friendship-the friendly match is originally a competition for colleges and universities to test outstanding students with each other, winning or losing will not affect the league results, in this kind of competition, you have to play tricks, then everyone will not play with you next time.

Everyone knows how to play tricks, but no one likes to play tricks all the time. Play with cleverness in friendly matches, don't blame everyone for not having friendship with you.

So this also means that the second place in the University of Tracks, can actually keep pace with Leonie, and even have the upper hand!

You know before recommending Sonia, Leonie is the chief of the sword flower this year!

The second place in the trajectory is about to defeat Jianhua's previous first place!

In addition, the vanguard has already lost a battle, and the forward was a temporary substitute and lost. Only the center has won one back. If the second place is defeated, the score becomes 3:1, even if the chief wins the total score or loses.

Not to mention that Sonia is in charge of the chief battle, and everyone can't help but become more pessimistic when they think of this.

That's right, the red-haired sword girl has recently gained fame and is well-known throughout the school, and can even draw Leonie in the competition, but the team members do not trust her strength. However, Leoni and Professor Trozan both recommended Sonia as the chief. Even if the other team members were unwilling, they had no choice but to persuade themselves with the reason that “the inferior horse challenges the superior horse”.

It makes sense for them to distrust Sonia-Sonia’s time to become a magician is too short, and she has experienced too few battles. Even if the red-haired sword girl can draw with the orange dancers, it is because they are all well-knowing swordsmen, and they have the advantage of intelligence in the fight.

However, when they go out to play games, they have to face the magicians of different factions, and the combat experience becomes crucial at this time. Leonie participated in the college league last year, and in the past half a year, she has been intensively spawning monsters in the abyss, and her combat experience on the scene is not uncommon.

On the contrary, Sonia also played as a swordsman in school. She has never participated in a league or entered the abyss. Compared with the experienced Leonie, she is simply an innocent lady who has never read a yellow book. .

Even if she would encounter battle in the virtual world, how much experience can she accumulate?

Does she know how to fight the spearman?

Is she familiar with the four tactics against Pyromancer?

Does she know how to react after being blown up by the windman?

Has she experienced a storm of trash talking on the game field?

Therefore, everyone is quite pessimistic about Sonia’s chief battle, thinking that she is only here to experience the atmosphere this time. As for the victory or defeat, it is better to participate.

If they win the first four games, then Sonia can play one game; but now they are going to be a 3:1 record, and the chief game loses 4:1, then they will wait to be received by the school forum after they return. Squirt to death.

“call.”

The high-speed slash of the third note of “Rhythm Melody” was suddenly interrupted, and Leonie was shot three meters away, but she turned gracefully in the air, tapping the ground and she stood firmly.

“You have become a lot stronger, Skoll.”

In front of the orange-haired dancer, there was a dark-skinned man holding two spinning sticks.

He was wearing a sequined battle suit, his skin became darker and thinner, and he was tall and thin.

Orbit second Schole, the major faction is one of the mainstream factions of Orbit University, the Rotary Stick faction. This faction was born out of the Fist and Claw faction, and merged with the essence of the sword and spear faction. It is a magic faction that has only developed in the past two hundred years. It is characterized by high speed, flexibility, and explosiveness.

Leonie is also unlucky. If she is playing against a regular spearman, relying on the high-speed movement of the ‘rhythm melody’ is enough to master the battle initiative, but Skole is also a high-minded fighter and can completely keep up with Leonie’s rhythm.

“The same with you.” Skoll smiled. “I didn’t expect that in the past year, you would become a famous orange dancer. I didn’t play a game with you on the court. Now I finally have a chance.”

Both of them participated in last year’s college league, but at that time they were only supporting roles, and occasionally had a fate. And now, it’s their turn to become the shining protagonist.

“However, I thought you would become the chief of the sword flower this year. I didn’t expect you to be the second place.” Skole glanced at Sonia below: “Could it be that your school girl is stronger than you?”

“Hmph, she is a real monster.”

“Then my next goal is her, I hope she won’t let me down.”

“Don’t be so hurry.”

Leonie drew a dagger from her waist: “When dating a lady, I look at other beautiful girls, but it’s a taboo.”

“You should continue to regard me as a target.”

Skole’s expression was slightly solemn: “Shuangjianliu? Is it the ‘Rhythm Swordmaster’...”

“Yes, that’s what you think!”

In an instant, Leonie disappeared, and Skole crossed her chest with a spinning stick to make a defensive posture. However, his shoulders fell softly and his legs were slightly bent, as if his whole body was relaxed.

Miracle · Armed Field!

In this state, any attack that enters Skor’s distance, he will immediately carry out an automatic high-speed counterattack, and his agility, strength, reactivity, and insight will be fully improved. Together with the high explosive destruction miracle of the spinning stick faction, it can be completely contained. Live the dance of Leonie!

Even at the silver level, the “one arm domain” is a powerful miracle of Yaoyin’s upper ranks. Of course, its shortcomings are also obvious. If it is against a magician who is good at long-range attack, then this miracle is a waste. However, if he is confronted with a long-range magician, Skoll naturally has another countermeasure, and he can also use a rotary stick to knock it away. Assaulter dog head.

There is no doubt about the defensive effect of the “one arm domain”. For example, Skole’s highest response record is to fly five blasters in an instant. It can be said that within ten steps, even a blaster can’t stop Skor from attacking. pace!

If it was ten steps away, the gunsmith could not stop Skor’s escape.

However, Skoll's face was extremely stern at this time, as if something big was coming. Leonie had disappeared from the stage, only an occasional orange surprise.

Her voice roamed the stage: "Do you know what the most beautiful music in the world is?"

"It's silence."

Zheng!

Suddenly, an ear-piercing blast resounded through the flash rail church, followed by a short-term deafness-this piercing sound, like the most vicious and fattest bug, burrowed into the depths of everyone's cochlea, isolating all external shocks. !

Silence, come!

At this moment, Skole suddenly turned around and swung, and the spinning stick danced with purple electric light, like Leonie who was punished by the heavens!

Miracle, Purple Lightning God Naruto!

However, the spinning rod passed by, and it was the figure in his mind that was shattered. The real Leonie appeared to his profile.

Skole stagnated slightly, his chest was pierced by Leonie's long and short sword. Still dissatisfied, the orange dancer tripped Skole and nailed him to the stage with a sword!

"Victory and defeat... Already divided!" The host who was disgustingly stabbed by the stinging sound struggling to perform his duties: "Winner, Leonie Victor of Jianhua University!"

At this time, the others had almost recovered, and the medical practitioners who had been waiting for the internship for a long time hurried up to treat Skor.

In friendly matches and league matches, students can only fight on their own strength and cannot accept the miracle of protection imposed by the academy.

For example, when Sonia and Felix competed, she still had a layer of “star suit” shelter, which is the welfare of outstanding students in the school. It is impossible to appear in the official competition, unless the students themselves master the miracle of “star suit” .

After all, if the academy can give students a stack, then the college league will become a stack competition.

The absence of protection miracles means that there will be casualties, and when casualties occur at the end of the game, it is time for medics to come out and wash the ground. Every year during the college league period, it is also a time for medical technicians to quickly increase their experience in fighting monsters. They can't wait for the fiercer the battle in the league, the better, and it's best for everyone to become a pool of rotten meat and send it to the treatment room. This kind of experience is great. Everyone is greedy for gift packages.

Skole sat up reluctantly with the support of the medic, and raised her hand to shout to Leonie: “The famous miracle of ‘Rhythm Swordmaster’ Silent Rhythm’, I remember it is Yaojin’s high-ranking miracle!”

“Are you already... the Second Wing Mage?”

The miracle that Leonie’s trick made the audience silent just now was Professor Nidala’s most frightening and disgusting trick-Silent Rhythm.

The second dagger is not used for the double sword flow, but exists as a musical instrument. Just now, Leonie was moving at high speed while using the long sword to keep scratching the short sword, using a miracle to absorb all the noise caused by it~www.mtlnovel.com~ and then release it in one breath, which can cause a wide range of sound waves. , Regardless of whether the enemy or I are temporarily deaf!

As Leonie's enemy, Skor naturally received the most sonic impact, his hearing was destroyed almost instantaneously, and he could only hear his own heartbeat.

Not only that, the strong shock also severely affected Skor's vision. Although the "one-arm domain" made him immediately counterattack at high speed, he could only see the afterimage left by Leonie, and the dynamic vision could not capture the location. Orange dancer on the side!

If "Rhythm and Melody" is Nidalla's regular attack, then "Silent Rhythm" is his mortal skill. A wide range of sonic shocks, deafness, and blindness have made Nidala one of the few swordsmen who are not afraid of group attacks. Since then, he has stood out among the two-winged warriors and soared into the sky!

However, most of the main magic spirits of "Silence Rhythm" are of the second-wing level, and there is no one-wing replacement, so the lowest threshold for casting is the second-wing magician!

The audience was startled, but the two advisors were not surprised.

Leonie glanced at Skoll and nodded: "Silverman, I was not the other day."

Chapter 263: Confused, lead your way

The latest website: "Senior Leonie is already a Second Wing Sorcerer?"

"Step into the Time Continent before graduating?!"

"As expected of our orange dancers!"

Compared with the beaming of Jianhua University, Locus University's face looked ugly. Skole lost, it's just a friendly match, but the problem is that Leonie is newly promoted to the second wingman, which means that her next days will be a period of rapid growth in strength. When the college league starts, the orange dancer I am afraid it will become a high wall that the University of Track cannot cross.

After the comments on the "Shengying Liesheng" and "Hidden Sword Saint", the joy of the sword flower team members faded a lot, and they couldn't help but look at Sonia.

Now Leonie has won, the score has become 2:2, the chief match has become the match point, and the pressure has all come to Sonia.

In fact, the news of Leonie's promotion to the Second Wing Master is more important than the friendship match, but if Sonia loses next, then the school's envy, dissatisfaction, and malice against Sonia will erupt without reservation.

The red-haired sword girl is really too genius-it took Leonie two years to get her current fame, while Sonia only took one month. Too many people want to see her fall severely. The last time Sonia died in the Void Realm could not satisfy those malicious appetites. The people hiding behind the curtain hope that Sonia will suffer a hearty defeat. To prove that the so-called geniuses are just as mediocre as them.

Even among the competition players, there are many people with such thoughts.

In other words, they are the ones who should be the most jealous-why is it that a first-year student can become the leader of the competition team when he first arrives?

Just because she is a disciple of Professor Trozan, has a record of a draw with the Orange Dancer, unfolding the Silver Wing within a month?

But if I can become a disciple of Professor Trozan, maybe I can do these things too!

What a red-haired sword girl, isn't it just a village girl who is lucky enough to be appreciated by the professor, and is given a preference for resources!

“Sonia.”

Leonie wandered over. She was wearing a black leather vest and a lock strap under her chest to outline the bulging gully. She wore long rune sleeves with her hands, matched with tight shorts and black silk. The socks are light and wild. As a battle suit, her set is not dazzling, but it unexpectedly fits her character.

“Senior sister, congratulations.”

“Next is you.” Leonie sat beside her carelessly and patted her shoulder: “Go, let down those who look down on you.”

Sonia naturally understood what the senior sister meant.

She has long felt the faint maliciousness of other team members towards her. In other words, when she walked out of the dormitory in a battle suit, arrived at the school gate, and met Professor Trozan on the way, the unmodified maliciousness was like It is a group of peeping rotten crows, which are several times more stinky than farm fat. It is difficult for the village girl to notice.

Too many people want to see her fall and eat shit.

Sonia has long been accustomed to this look. When she was studying in the village to prepare for the exam, the eyes of the villagers were as dazzling as their eyes, their eyes were as small as a mouse, and their maliciousness was as red as a mouse.

Now it seems that the rats in the city are no different from the rats in the village.

“Sonia.”

Professor Trozan next to her casually called her.

Sonia glanced at her professor and suddenly asked, “What time is it?”

“12:19.” Trozan looked at the starry sky above: “The starlight is just right.”

“At the point of disappointment, I never disappoint.”

“Next is the highly anticipated chief battle between the two schools!” The host said in a passionate voice: “Track Chief Tita Argent, against Sonia Servi, Chief of Sword Flower!”

Sonia lightly stepped and jumped onto the stage, pressing the hilt of the wooden sword with her hand.

Although the school also provided her with a real sword, she still used to use a wooden sword in reality—anyway, the sharpness of the wooden sword sent by the viewer was not inferior to the real sword.

Quietly, “Ten Years of Sharpening the Sword” has been launched.

At the same time, her opponent also played. But unlike her, the chief of the track usually walked up the stairs, and even staggered, almost rushing on the street.

It was a 1.5-meter girl, dressed in a battle dress like a princess’s children’s clothing, and she needed to hold her head up to look at Sonia. She has big eyes, pink curly hair, a bow tie on her head, and a little bear doll in her hand, but it feels weird. She is said to be a little girl and a bit big, and she is said to be a young girl too tender, in a delicate state. Superposition state.

“Sister Sonia, you are so beautiful!” Tita said crisply.

“No, I should be younger than you, Sister Tita.” Sonia smiled and said, “I’m just a first-year student, you seem to be... a third-year student, right?”

Tita stagnated, and then a smiling face appeared: “No, Tita is always fourteen years old, so everyone is my brother and sister~”

“But you are actually 21 years old this year, right?”

Tita’s smile slowly disappeared, and the instant swelling malice was like a volcanic eruption, and Sonia’s hair was blown up by the strange aura.

“Has anyone ever told you that it is impolite to discuss the age of a girl?”

The little bear doll in her arms emits a miraculous arc of light. With a rush of air currents, a five-meter-high black bear stands on the ground, and Tida is sitting on its shoulders.

This is the new chief of the track, Tita Argent!

The alchemist, who gained fame in the college league last year, is known as the “Seed of Alchemy”. Her best feature is the giant alchemy bear she made by herself. It is usually carried in the form of a doll, and it can instantly become with various extremely high resistance in battle. Sexual horror monster!

It is said that the School of Truth once invited her to join. Although there are many magicians with the same combat power as Tita, there is only Tita of the same age who possesses this level of combat power from the alchemy faction!

“No, Sister Tita, I’m still in the rebellious period.”

Sonia took the sword hilt and pulled out a suitable position. There was no stage fright posture at all. On the contrary, she was high in fighting spirit, and her red eyes glowed with fiery arcs!

The atmosphere was tense, and the host wittily saved the countdown and handed over the stage to the two chiefs.

Just as the battle was about to start, Sonia suddenly heard the sound of pages turning.

Time seemed to stand still at this moment, and when Sonia blinked, she realized that the world had changed.

She was no longer the stage of the Flash Track Auditorium, and she suddenly came to a peculiar plain. The sky in the distance is flowing magma, and there are beautiful clusters of flowers in the field.

This kind of environment, UU reading www.uukanshu.com, where she seems to have seen—

“Why don’t you leave? Are you scared?”

Sonia turned her head and saw a very charming natural stunner in front of her.

She wore high heels, white stockings, and a strapless dress. The perfect roundness pressed her clothes out of a trap that made people unable to look away. The makeup was so exquisite that Sonia was ashamed of herself.

Obviously she was dressed so pure and sweet, but every inch of her skin, every move, and every look in her eyes seemed to be an evil charm used to lure people into crime.

But the most peculiar thing is that her hands and forearms have a circle of fluffy pink hair, like sleeves.

Just when Sonia was observing this strange woman, she found that she was talking—

The voice was high, cold, and chilling.

“Puzzle, lead your way.”

Chapter 264: Goodbye

Latest URL: Confused?

Is her name Confused...Sonia thought this way, but her body was already moving, and she followed the white silk girl across the field quickly.

Although she was suddenly pulled into this weird place, the village girl's mood quickly calmed down, because she thought about it with her toes and knew that this must be a ghost of the viewer.

Obviously, I have told the viewer many times, and remember to tell her before getting into trouble, but the viewer, like Sonia, never disappoints in terms of disappointing people.

Therefore, the red-haired sword girl's mood is very calm, anyway, the viewer will not harm her, this adventure will definitely bring her benefits.

But the problem is that she is about to fight Tita for the chief battle. Now that she is drawn here, will the reality of herself become stagnant?

If I don't move anymore, Professor Trozan should immediately interrupt the game to protect me, but it is very likely that I will be sentenced to defeat-it is impossible to continue to play music and dance, let everyone wait for me to wake up, Professor Trozan does not have this kind of cheeky.

After all, the problem with the student's state is the student's own business. This kind of accident technicians often encounter, let alone anything else, for example, death in the virtual world will greatly affect the reality state.

Is it possible that the magician is dead in the void, can he use the excuse of being in a bad state to delay the game? Impossible, everyone just thinks, 'why did you die if others didn't die? You must have a problem'.

Condition management is a very important part of the magician. Before encountering important events, exploring the virtual world is like taking a laxative and taking a long-distance bus. The consequences are at your own risk.

But Sonia played on behalf of the school for the first time, and she was the chief warrior. She pulled her hips like this just before the war. After returning, she could imagine how bad words would be in the school forum.

Viewer, viewer, why do you have to make trouble at this time, you must know that I am going to participate in a very important game tonight...

At this moment, Sonia's heart trembled.

If she loses without a fight in the chief battle, the school will definitely be disappointed in her, and it will even affect the college league this year; if she can't participate in the college league, then the night will naturally be free and you can continue to participate in the virtual world. explore.....

It only takes a little bit of soil, and the seeds of suspicion will take root and sprout out of nowhere.

Don't blame the village girl for her gloomy thoughts. If her heart was not filled with these foul and rotten filth, then she would have been eaten by the city of Galos last year. Release goodwill, but it can also make bad people feel vicious.

In the event of a loss of interest, the first reaction cannot be 'the other party did not intentionally', but 'the other party is against me'. With this enlightenment, Sonia didn't lose half a share of the school for a year after enrolling. She never gave up the scholarship, and the bursary squeezed out all her opponents.

Because she only has this little thing left, and if she loses it, she can only sell herself.

Originally in this month, Sonia was about to abandon this rotten mode of thinking-she also hated herself who was calculating like this all day long.

After all, how can people with negative energy all day be happy?

Who wants to treat the people around them as bad people? Who doesn't want to be surrounded by little angels who like him?

The appearance of viewers completely reversed Sonia's interpersonal relationship. She not only gained better friends, but also gained the capital to associate with high-quality friends-the latter is the most important, Sonia can now relax A big reason for interacting with Lois Leone and others is that she is not worried about losing herself, and she is not afraid of being betrayed by her friends.

She can afford to be betrayed by a friend.

Because it can be lost, so I am not afraid of owning it.

But she cannot afford the price of being betrayed by the viewer.

If, if it is really the viewer trying to control her life...

"Hey, I met so soon..." The puzzler suddenly laughed softly.

Sonia saw a shallow pool of water suddenly appeared in the wilderness, and there was an orc with two axes on the pool. He has big ears and is covered in steel armor, sitting cross-legged on the puddle, seeming to lower his head to think about something.

"Do it?" Sonia heard her make a concise suggestion.

"No need. This is the permanent kingdom of Shadow Evil Dragon. All monsters are the servants of Shadow Evil Dragon. Once we start, we will knock on the door and tell the master here that an intruder is coming."

The puzzler glanced at Sonia: "If you are willing to go in, I don't mind, as long as you don't hinder me from completing the master's task."

"Otherwise, just listen to my instructions." With a wave of the puzzle, the two of them faded to transparency. With the mist covering them, they were almost invisible: "I warn you, don't drag me. Hind legs, sword demon."

"Huh." Sonia laughed disdainfully when she heard "She", as if she had no interest in quarreling with the puzzler.

And at this time Sonia finally remembered where this place is—the kingdom of eternity, the abyss of eternity!

The abyss is not a single type, but there are multiple derived areas, such as the waterway abyss that appears in the river area, the underground cave abyss that appears in the city, and even the underground city abyss that mimics the architectural style of the ground. Moreover, the environment of each level of the abyss is different. For example, if the first level is a waterway abyss, the second level may become a quagmire abyss, and the monsters that appear will also change accordingly.

The Eternal Abyss is precisely known as the 'the abyss closest to hell' and it will only appear in the abyss. Sonia knows this place because the Abyss of Eternal Life often appears in film and television works.

As the abyss closest to hell, Eternal Life is regarded as the only way for the dead to resurrect from hell, and necromantic monsters dominate in Eternal Life, which is very consistent with people's impression of hell.

The current understanding of the perpetual world of the Starry Nation is based on the records of the legendary mage, because only the legendary magician has the ability to set foot in the abyss and step into the eternal world. As for more Sonia, she doesn't understand. After all, she has no plan to explore the abyss. Everything she knows about Everlasting comes from the movie "Alice in Everlasting Land" and "I Don't Believe My Heart" starring Dedaros Will be disappointed."

Since 'I' and the puzzle can explore the kingdom of eternity, at least it means that we have already crossed several layers of abyss before...In other words, 'I' and the puzzle are both legendary magicians! ?

But, is the name of “I” a sword demon? It doesn’t sound like a good person...

Sonia quickly sorted out the current information, and at this time she had followed the slayer through several monster defense zones. The monsters almost all sat alone on the pool, standing like tombstones. They looked like magicians of various races. If they hadn’t had their eyes, mouths and ears covered with blooming purple flowers, they looked pretty normal.

Suddenly, their sights changed. They were still in the open field for one second, and the next second they saw a magnificent palace in the distance. There was a little joy in the bewitching voice: “This is it!”

Sonia immediately realized that she should have been drawn into a memory-the change just now obviously cut off the boring fragments of their journey.

Only memories can perform the operation of ‘editing’.

Why did the viewer let me see this memory...Sonia followed the terror into the palace, but the next second she was so scared that she wanted to turn around and run away.

“Good luck.” The puzzler laughed softly: “The Shadow Evil Dragon is sleeping.”

I saw this palace covering a very wide area, almost all of which was used to house a black dragon. Its scales show the luster of agate, and its wings are inlaid with purple balls, curled up into a ball and sleeping on a soft cushion, but it still looks so hideous when sleeping with its eyes closed.

The palace was full of purple flowers, and some even grew to the dragon. This did not add a bit of natural harmony to the dragon. On the contrary, it seemed more and more evil, as if the dragon and the flowers swallowed each other.

It stands to reason that Sonia has also killed a dragon, and the slashed fish-splitting dragon’s head can become a hill when it rises up. You shouldn’t be afraid of seeing the dragon.

But the problem is that this dragon is too huge.

Rough visual inspection, the dragon should stand up to several tens of heights, and Sonia can be completely covered by its claws, and the heartbeat in its body resounds like thunder in the palace.

Sonia has never seen such a huge creature, and has severely triggered her giant phobia. When the size gap reaches a certain level, all the spells become mentally handicapped tricks, and the dragon only needs to step on it to crush the worm Sonia.

A bug with sword skills is no different from other bugs.

Is this the Shadow Evil Dragon? Can it be classified by the level of knowledge creatures? Is it the perfect body or the ultimate body?

However, Sonia found that “She” actually held the hilt of the sword, and seemed to be very interested in disturbing the good sleep of the Shadow Evil Dragon. On the contrary, the puzzler reached out to stop her: “I have said, we are not here to do it, you are just my insurance after my failure...Look at me.”

I saw this sweet girl stepping up to Yingxielong, even on the bridge of Yingxielong’s nose, and walking along the bridge of the nose to the top of its head. Sonia, who was watching next to her, was so nervous that she was pounding—she understood a little bit about what it was like when the mouse hangs the bell on the cat.

However, Yingxielong didn’t respond to the demon’s actions, and even slept deeper. Sonia could also see now that the demon seemed to be performing some miracle all the time, suppressing the shadowy dragon’s vigilance to the lowest point, even completely ignoring the demon’s actions.

However, the enchanter walked to the top of Yingxielong’s head, and suddenly reached out and inserted her hand into its forehead, and opened it on both sides—she opened the vertical pupil of Yingxielong’s forehead!

The evil dark purple pupils were exposed to the air, Sonia was already nervous and almost numb, but Yingxielong still did not wake up, the vertical pupil stared sleepily into the void, not even noticing the demon.

“The director is right, it really is mature...”

While humming, the puzzler poured a weird solution into the vertical pupils~www.mtlnovel.com~Sonia felt bad, but it was just a memory, and Sonia couldn't stop her at all.

“Hey!”

With a soft drink, the puzzler dug out the vertical pupils of Yingxielong with both hands! The sound of eyeballs and nerve fibers breaking is like the crisp sound of opening a bottle of red wine!

“Aw—”

The pain instantly awakened the sleeping monster. The dragon roar from it alone formed a sonic impact. Sonia felt like she had been attacked by a wind miracle, not to mention the roar that sounded like thunder and exploded in the world. It's all reverberating!

The demon jumped off the Shadow Evil Dragon lightly, first put the Ziyou Longyan into a transparent vessel to keep it alive, and then put it into the space equipment, “Okay, my mission is completed, and then your duty is now.”

“It means—bye, bitch.”

Chapter 265: The honorable pet is added, and everyone is watching!

With a quick sword, Sonia didn't react at all, but 'she' had already slashed a sword at the bewitching demon.

But what'self' killed was only a phantom, the horror had already ran outside the palace at this time, and his figure quickly faded to transparency.

She looked at Sonia with a vicious mockery on her pretty and cute face: "What are you angry about? Isn't this the part of the battle you've been waiting for? Come on, behind you is the opponent I specially prepared for you. If an angry Shadow Evil Dragon can't satisfy your bitch's appetite, then the perpetual dead souls gathered by the Shadow Evil Dragon's anger should make you die here."

"Is that what you mean, or is that your master?"

"This question, ask me when you climb out of the abyss of perpetual life."

As he spoke, the horror had completely dissolved into the air and disappeared, but at this time "I" had no time to pursue this vicious woman, because the shadow evil dragon who had lost its vertical pupils could not wait to vent its anger.

"Humph."

Sonia looked at the Shadow Evil Dragon who was like the incarnation of the doomsday, and she heard her angrily smirked: "So, the province's kung fu still cannot be saved."

"Isn't it just killing the common world? What's the problem?"

"Puzzle, this enmity... I remember it!"

Yingxielong let out a roar, his claws burst into dark thunder, and boundless chaos and darkness poured in!

"Reptile." Sonia watched as she clenched her sword hilt: "I just created a new miracle, and I need to try the sword."

"Take your death to prove my skill."

“You should be deeply honored.”

In the next second, the Shadow Evil Dragon was cut into countless pieces.

.....

“Sonia, if I win, I invite you to drink!”

Sonia returned to her senses abruptly and found that she had returned to the Flash Rail Auditorium.

Leonie was cheering for herself loudly, and Tida was still sitting on the shoulders of the giant alchemy bear, as if the adventure just now had been an illusion.

But the red-haired sword girl knew that it was not an illusion, but an extremely precious experience.

She also breathed a sigh of relief-it turned out that the memory just now was only a moment, and it would not affect the chief battle in reality, which means that the viewer did not harm her mind.

Although the viewer was wronged, the village girl did not feel guilty at all. Who told him not to explain the situation to herself in advance.

“Did you lose your mind just now?” Tita raised her eyebrows: “Are you planning to surrender?”

“I should ask you this.” Sonia said: “If you surrender now, you won’t lose too ugly later.”

“My sister is too hard.” Tita snorted coldly, and suddenly bit her little hand severely, causing the giant bear to lick her own blood. The giant bear savoring the smell of blood let out a roar, his eyes sank into blood red, his body swelled again, and he slaughtered Sonia!

Miracle, blood-drinking frenzy!

Sonia looked at the giant alchemy bear that seemed to swallow her, but still thought of the scene in her mind.

Facing the Shadow Evil Dragon who was a hundred times the size of his own, the Sword Demon slayed the Shadow Evil Dragon to death with just one move.

Sonia couldn't forget that gorgeous sword, she even wanted to recreate that sword.

She experienced the entire process of the miracle in the sword demon's body, and it was a coincidence that she almost had the subordinate alternative to this miracle—maybe it was not a coincidence, after all, it was a memory kill specially arranged by the viewer.

But almost, there is a key magical spirit in it, Sonia now has no subordinate replacement, and the miracle is naturally unable to activate.

However, for some reason, Sonia had a strong hunch, she felt that she could summon the key magical spirit directly!

Obviously she had never studied and practiced before, and she only understood the name of the magic spirit, but she just felt that she could do it! This sudden self-confidence is like a candidate who knows the answer in advance to take an exam!

Looking up at the giant alchemy bear that had rushed in front of her, Sonia chose to believe the viewer's eyes.

I also believe in my own abilities!

Zheng!

The red-haired sword girl's eyes filled with fierce fighting spirit, and she drew her sword in silence!

Wave sword!

Yuesi!

as well as.....

Professor Trozan in the audience was taken aback, she watched a Shu Ling quickly form on Sonia's shoulder, her own mana was actually affected by this, and then she stirred and boiled! The other students also felt something was wrong. Although they were not as sensitive as Professor Trozan, they also felt that Sonia was influencing them!

This kind of formation model, this kind of large-scale knowledge resonance... is the summoning of magic spirits!

She actually summoned Shu Ling in battle! ?

But soon Trozan soon felt sorry for her imagination-Sonia not only summons the new magic spirit, but also immediately throws the new magic spirit into the miracle!

With the wings fully unfolded, the new Shuling "Sword Shadow" was completely born from Sonia's knowledge!

"Sword Shadow" looks like a stern, high-cold woman in black. It sits quietly next to Sonia, letting the shadow become Sonia's sword too!

In the next second, countless silk threads crossed the body of the giant alchemy bear, and each thread was as sharp as a blade, cutting the giant bear into nineteen pieces in an instant!

The dashing giant bear exploded countless blood flowers, broken into pieces and scattered on the ground!

Miracle... Bloody Moonlight!

Tita was frightened by the sudden slash, and was thrown out when the giant bear was scattered, and turned twice on the stage. She hurriedly got up, looked at her bloodstained body, turned her head to Sonia's biting gaze, and took a step back subconsciously.

However, this step back made Tita very embarrassed, her face flushed, and Sonia thought she was going to jump up and beat herself. However, Tita turned and left and walked off the stage, leaving only one sentence:

"See you in the league!"

Tita's greatest reliance is the giant alchemy bear. Now that the giant bear is so damaged that it cannot be recovered, she will only be humiliated if she continues to stay on the stage.

But as a genius alchemist at Orbit University, she vowed that the next time she met in a league match, she would let the old woman Sonia know what a war machine is!

"Just... what happened?"

"Sonia defeated the track chief with one move?"

"No, your focus is wrong. You didn't see Sonia summoning the Second Wing Shu Ling in the battle! That is the Second Wing Shu Ling! Two Wings!"

"Does anyone remind me, when did Miss Servi become a magician?"

“It’s less than a month. To be correct, it is April 12th. No thanks.” Leonie smiled.

“Upgrade the swordsmanship faction to the gold rank in one month? Become a two-winged magician as an apprentice apprentice in one month?”

“Professor Trozan, do you still accept students? What do you think of me?”

“I’m not accepting students.” Professor Trozan said: “Sonia will be my last student-because I want to kill Sonia in the bud.”

Only then did Sonia have time to observe her new magic spirit.

Seeing the second wing of ‘Sword Shadow’, she also stunned for a moment, and her face flushed immediately, as if she would laugh wildly at any time.

She voluntarily summoned two wing magic spirits!

This also means that her swordsmanship faction has been upgraded to the gold level ~

Chapter 266: Cheated by the library

The latest website: Gospel Kingdom, the home of An Nan.

“Ah ah ah ah ah-”

Early in the morning, Deya was rolling on the bed, punching Lisi’s newly bought rabbit doll to vent her anger. She accidentally used a bit of real kung fu of the fist faction, and the little fist blasted the rabbit’s head.

“Why... why am I so stupid...”

“Liss, wait, let me vent a bit, or I’ll be suffocated to death!”

“I’m an idiot!”

Deya regrets now that she can’t wait for someone to spank herself, because she actually missed the adventure in the virtual world-she was scammed by the legendary library!

After separating from the viewer, she went to the third floor of the library. The scene on the third floor is more spectacular and weird than the second floor. There are no bookshelves inside. Every book has a dedicated display stand. The space on the third floor is much larger than that on the second floor. Dia I feel as if I have come to the tombs of the gods, where countless laws are born and destroyed.

The ancient book in front of me was filled with stern flames, as if even space could burn, and its surroundings turned into a land of embers; the scroll was cold, time was frozen, and the area near the exhibition stand became a frosty quiet area.

In addition to this, there are the undead wastelands, the tombs of sword spirits, the sea of storms, the alchemy sanctuary of all things, and even the prophetic bubble that is suspected to be able to look into the future, which can capture the thread of fate of one's own destiny...

But the problem is, this is the legendary library of Time Continent!

The magician who can come here can only be the second-wing magician, so the memories they leave behind are at most the adventure story of the second-wing magician, how can the power inside exceed the legend?

They are all fake, lie to me to see it!

Although the book is fake, the rules of the exposed storm are not fake, so Dia carefully walked through the domain of each book, struggling to reach the fourth level.

On the way, Dia was attracted by a book. It was a fairy tale picture book. The heroic knight on the cover was protecting the beautiful princess. The floor around the picture book was a grass that exuded a fresh breath, with flowers, butterflies, and sunlight on it.

In the third level of the Flurry of Gods and Demons, the painting field is as peaceful as the promised land. Diya really wanted to just lie down on the grass like this, open the picture book, and enjoy this quiet reading time.

But the strong greed made Dia turn her head away.

That's right, it's all very good here.

But the fourth floor is definitely better!

With a better vision, Dia resisted all temptations, walked for almost one kilometer on the third floor, and finally came to the stairs leading to the fourth floor!

Unlike the first three floors, the doorway on the fourth floor is full of brilliance, and you can see that there will be more powerful books hidden inside!

The witch struggled to climb the stairs, stepped into the fourth level with joy, and then—

She came to the top of the building.

Di Ya stared blankly at the sky made up of the golden rain against the current, and hadn't recovered for a while.

What about the fourth floor?

Why did I come out like this?

She looked around with the last chance, but reality shattered her illusion: there was nothing on the roof, no books, no scrolls, no crystal ball, no data storage.

At this moment, the witch had realized something and turned around and tried to return to the stairs leading to the third floor. However, after running down a dozen steps, she felt that the distance between herself and the third floor had not been shortened at all, and the stairs seemed endless.

She looked down and found that she was still on the roof and had not walked down the stairs at all.

The few tips in the “Legendary Library Guide” are like annoying flies flying in Dia’s mind:

“②You are not allowed to go back. There is no turning back in life.”

“③There are four floors in this library, and the quality of the books on the upper floor is better than that on the lower floor. Go up one floor.”

“④ Books may deceive you. It is better not to believe it.”

At this moment, not only the White Queen and the Black Butler, but even Dia wanted to understand.

The point is the fourth!

Books do deceive them. At first, Deya thought that it meant that books would pretend to be a thunder and fire to seduce them to read, but in fact this sentence has been effective from the beginning—the “Legendary Library Guide” itself is in Cheat them!

“There are four floors in this library, and the quality of the books on the upper level is better than that on the next level.” This rule is false!

There is no fourth floor at all, and the books on the fourth floor are no better than the third floor!

If the magician concentrates on the highest level of the fourth floor, the result is that he missed the adventures of the first three floors, and because “the road you have walked is not allowed to return”, the magician has no chance to regret it, so he can only grit his teeth and swallow this. Bitter fruit!

If Dia finds the Legendary Library alone, no one knows that shame.

But the problem is that she came with the viewer!

When she meets the viewer at the door, and the viewer asks her briskly, “What do you gain upstairs?” Diya’s remorse almost overflowed, and she was so embarrassed that her toes could be buckled out of the three-room hall!

It is conceivable that after Deya spoke out the library's fraud tactics, the atmosphere became more solemn. Even if the viewer paid much attention to Diya's emotions and never mentioned it, in the later exploration of the virtual world, the viewer suddenly laughed for some reason, which directly caused Diya to break the defense.

The **** legendary library!

Damn viewers!

Why are you bullying me!

No, I have to beat Ash (in the game) to vent my anger, otherwise I can't get rid of my anger!

Deya brushed her teeth fiercely, washed her face fiercely, peeed fiercely, changed clothes fiercely, then went out to find Ah Xiu, and said fiercely, "A Xiu, I am in a bad mood today—"

"Then don't get close to me." Ya Xiu pushed Dia away: "I am in a good mood today, don't affect me."

"I'm going to a duel with your Kart Kart!"

"Wait, you mean, you are in a bad mood and want to release the pressure through the gamer kart?"

"Yes!"

"Well then, I will try my best to satisfy your wishes."

.....

When Igola and An Nan got off the floater, they saw Panji repairing a handle.

In addition to the Frost faction, the sixty-year-old butler boy is also proficient in the alchemy faction, holding a piece of general material similar to the slime material can repair most common props.

“Good morning, Miss, Mr. Borkin.”

“How did it break?” An Nan asked curiously.

The housekeeper boy didn't speak, and glanced at Liz who was eating macaroni. Little Lisi raised her hand: “I accidentally broke the handle while playing a game.”

An Nan gave a cry and glanced at the cracked glass light curtain that was placed next to him: “Then this is...”

“I just accidentally dropped the handle on the light curtain while playing a game.” Lisi spread her hands and sighed.

She is also very helpless, but the problem is Di Ya Chuang's pot, even if she doesn't want to, as a younger sister, she can only help her sister wipe her ass.

Igola nodded thoughtfully, took the knife from the dining table and put it in Lisi's hand, then turned her around and aimed it at Ash, who was eating creamy milk.

“Liss, it's not that I don't believe you, but everyone wants to see how you are so careless. Please demonstrate with Asia as the target...”

“Liss, head back.”

Before Igola could react, Liz's head hit her chin severely. Ah Xiu reached out and took the knife in Lisi's hand and snorted, “Don't let the kid play with the knife, Igola, this is the punishment you have received for not taking care of the kid!”

“But why am I being punished too!” Liz touched her head, UU reading www.uukanshu.com narrowed his mouth and said, “Aunt Bojin’s jaw is so hard...”

“Hey, it won’t hurt to blow.” Axiu blew Liz’s little head and said: “Liz, this is the price you paid to protect you, but depending on the situation, you may also become the price itself...”

Just when Liz was taught the dark life philosophy by her father, Igola dragged the suitcase through the living room and returned to her bedroom. The suitcase was exactly the same size as the one Harvey brought back yesterday, and Ya Xiu followed the suitcase all the way, then looked at Harvey.

The necromancer moved his nose and shook his head: “That’s not a gift for me, it doesn’t have that pleasant fragrance.”

“Perhaps not dead yet?”

“Impossible, the fishy smell of living people is more obvious, I can’t not smell it.”

“I am starting to be a little curious about what kind of **** drawing this world is in your sense of smell...”

Chapter 267: deceive

Latest website: When Igola came out for breakfast, he blinked at Ash, and Ash understood. After breakfast, Ya Xiu went around to Igola’s room, where the fraudster was already waiting for him.

Ya Xiu was not at all polite, and sat directly on his bed: “What mission did you and An Nan perform last night?”

“That’s a long story.” Sitting on the soft chair, Igola picked up the bottle and poured some sky-blue liquor into the glass.

Ah Xiu discovered that there was a wine cabinet in Igola's room. In terms of these external enjoyments, An Nan was very generous to them. Basically, he only needs to talk to Panji, and the butler will order takeout and deliver what they want.

Of course, there is another possibility—the Gospel Kingdom is a country where productivity is greatly developed. Ingredients such as meat, egg, milk and milk are almost the basic materials of social welfare. No matter how much food and drink, Ash and others are not wasteful, they even promote the Gospel Kingdom. Inner loop.

The most basic manifestation of all developed societies is food. Even the low-level ogres can eat meat every day in the Blood Moon Kingdom. There is no reason why the Gospel Kingdom cannot do it. If the low-level civilians here gargle with red wine, serve steak as a meal, and take a sterile milk bath, the national BMI will be more than 30, Yaxiu will not be surprised.

“Where is mine?” Ash asked.

Igola thought for a while, took out another wine glass, picked up the kettle, and poured a glass of water for Ya Xiu.

“better than nothing.”

Ah Xiu gave him a glance, took it and drank it, and then Igola said, “That person drank the poison I prepared in the same way last night.”

puff!

A Xiu spouted out a mouthful of water, and Igola, who had been prepared for a long time, waved his hand gently, and the wind blew up in the room, blowing the water from Ya Xiu head-on.

“Last night An Nan took me to an air manor in the second-story city.” Igola looked at the hanging city outside and said, “Perhaps you think An Nan's house is already pretty good? But if you see that manor, You will feel that this is also a place where the poor live.”

“The ceiling is an insulated glass canopy. You can enjoy the splendor during the day and the starry sky at night. There is a year-round garden in the courtyard. The owner of the manor seems to be interested in alchemy creatures. Alchemy beast.”

“The most expensive miracle building materials are used on the walls and floors of the manor that are exposed to the air. They are driven by solar energy as a daily energy source. The miracle is automatically kept “clean” at all times. There is no dust in the room, and all areas are Sterile area. The only two servants are two almost real-life alchemy maids, one is tall and **** in black and long, and the other is loli with pink hair. If it weren’t for psychic spirits to be ineffective to them, I would never find them to be alchemy creations.”

“But there is only one person living in that luxurious manor-his name is Earl Russell. Although the nobility system of the Gospel Kingdom has declined, there are still the remnants of the old age, or the rich man of the new age, I hope to be the remnants of the old age.”

“His appearance is very young, his skin is white and tender, and he is wearing a silk nightgown. But the dullness when talking and the unconcealed disgusting eyes when he looks at An Nan are enough to prove that he should be an old immortal who should have been in the soil long ago. It’s just using power to preserve the quality of life.”

“But the interesting thing is that he seems to be more passionate about me,” Igola said, “This may be the reason why Miss An Nan brought me-I won’t mention the details in the middle, you just need to know that we let The owner of the manor will do as long as he falls asleep.”

“sleep?”

“Well, falling asleep.” Igola turned his thumbwheel: “According to his physical fitness and the life-saving facilities we have arranged for him, he will probably sleep for five months-and then he will become Harvey’s favorite. White maggot petri dish. As an important person, his corpse will definitely attract Red Hat to visit in five months, but even An Nan doesn’t care, I don’t care, anyway, our contract is over at that time.”

“As a reward for assisting in sleeping, An Nan and I chopped off his hands and dug out his eyes, so as to pass the fingerprint iris verification of the manor and enter the secret room inside. Next, naturally it is zero. Yuan purchase activities, but most of them were taken away by An Nan, because most of them were contract documents and bank vouchers, and I couldn’t cash them out.”

“The only thing I got is this.”

Igola walked to the suitcase he brought back, took out a black goose down box from it, and handed it to Ash.

Ya Xiu opened the box and found that there was a light red gradient mask inside. It was almost silky to the touch but very strong. It was very breathable on the head, as if it had not been worn. Moreover, the mask seemed to have an automatic adjustment function. In seconds, the mask automatically fits the shape of Ya Xiu’s nose and mouth.

He turned his head and looked in the mirror. With the dark red trench coat sent by Liss, now Ya Xiu looked full of mystery and abstinence, and he belonged to the kind of villain who could make people lose their views in film and television dramas.

Ah Xiu was also very satisfied with this appearance—he commented on himself as ‘so handsome I hope I don’t shit’.

“It is said that this is the final work of the sanctuary alchemist. Although it does not seem to have mana fluctuations, it can resist most spiritual prying and greatly increase its charm. It is called a “spiritual mask.” “Igola drank blue wine and said, “If you like it, I’ll give it to you.” ”

“real or fake?”

“Anyway, I’m a psychic and I don’t need props to cover my face. My expression is my weapon.” Igola doesn’t seem to really matter: “Actually, there are not many treasures that I can admire in that secret room. I just think of what you need. A mask, I just took it back.”

Ah Xiu blinked, took off his mask and said, “So this is the gift you specially selected for me?”

“If you want to think so, I have no objection.” Igola said casually, shaking the blue wine glass.

A gift just for me?

A gift only for me?

Igola looked at Ah Xiu's expression at first with doubts, then moved, then became a little embarrassed, but finally turned back to doubts.

The cult leader thought for a moment, then suddenly turned his head and looked at the suitcase in the corner of the room.

Igola raised his eyebrows and stood up and said, "Okay, you should leave, I have something else—"

Ya Xiu rushed over to open the suitcase and found that it was full of black velvet boxes, exactly the same as the one Igola gave him just now.

He turned to look at Igola, pointed to the suitcase and said:

~ #) What are these?"

"...If I said I bought it for stuffing under the bed, would you believe it?"

"So, that manor is a fake? Earl Russell is also a fake?" Ah Xiu took the "mind mask" and said, "You just bought this mask for me, but in order to increase its value, I mistakenly thought it. It was you who bought it specifically for me, and it was the only gift you gave me. That's why you made up this—is it—a long story?"

Igola shook his head, with a disappointed expression of "the rotten wood cannot be carved": "Gifts are only secondary, but the key point is gift. If it were not because I added so much meaning to this gift, would you be so happy just now? ?"

"If there is no story behind a gift, it is just a cold handicraft. The so-called psychic is to give exciting meaning to every ordinary thing."

“Have you ever seen a juggling show? Your current behavior is like a child acting clever and loudly debunking the secret of the juggling when performing on stage, but this will not only upset the performer, but also make yourself lose The joy of watching the show.”

Igola taught in earnest: “Fortunately, I don’t care, but don’t do this next time, Ah Xiu, others will think you don’t understand the atmosphere.”

“It sounds like I was wrong. Obviously, I was the victim who was almost deceived by you.” Ya Xiu said grumpily, “So how many times are you going to tell this story?”

“Do I look so lazy?” Igola said, “Of course I will customize the corresponding story for each customer. A chaotic and kind-hearted type like Ya Xiu, you will definitely like to hear “Dirty upper-class people are “Black eats black”, and Harvey’s chaotic and neutral necromancer, I plan to make up for him a story about “a torture instrument stained with the victim’s blood was found when the gang was wiped out.” As for Liz’s story Naturally, it is also different...”

“Igola, hello green tea.”

“Don’t betray me.” Igola reminded: “I just want to win them by giving gifts. After you leave, don’t say that I gave you the mask. “I only give you gifts and no one else has them.” But it is very important. The favorability of the bonus points. ”

“I didn’t bother to get involved in your affairs.” Ya Xiu said irritably, “I thought...you just said that you have a name, a surname and details, I almost believed it.”

“To be honest, you actually knew through this scam. I think I have to reflect on it.” Igola groaned: “After all, you can’t even lie. I really need to optimize the rhythm of the story... Let’s go, I have to wait for the next guest.”

Ah Xiu snorted and left with the mask. But before pushing the door out, he paused and said, “Although, I like this mask very much, thanks.”

“Please! After you go back! Record this in your diary immediately!” Igola said: “I will remember to be a cow in the future to repay Mr. Borkin’s great kindness.”

Watching Yaxiu leave the room, Igola went over to pack up and close the suitcase, and then tucked it under the bed. He went into the bathroom to fill up the water and started the morning bathing session—not just a habit, he was busy all night last night, and now he’s all slimy, soaking in the warm hot water, he suddenly feels ascended to heaven.

After soaking in the shower and brushing his teeth, Igola subconsciously resonated with the “revelation”, and saw Bai Mo leave a line on the mirror—

“Don’t let people know you are happy”

Igola looked at herself with the corner of her mouth raised in the mirror, and was slightly startled, and then smiled and snorted.

Chapter 268: Scarecrow and Fire

The latest website: Starry Nation, Jianhua University, in the evening.

Carrying a sword bag, Ingulite returned to the bedroom and raised the Phnom Penh invitation letter in his hand: “I just came back from the actual swordsmanship class, and someone entrusted me to send this invitation letter to Sonia.”

Adele went over to take a look, curled his lips, and threw it into the trash can: “A viscount master dare to send an invitation letter. It’s a toad that wants to eat swan meat... Ingulite, I teach you, like this In the invitation letter below three stars, you just say “I am not very familiar with Sonia” to refuse. If there is a moon star, you can get it back, because it means that the sender is at least the official heir to the earl.”

“What if there is a shining star?” Although Ingulite was born as a nobleman, she had never studied heraldry since she was a child and had no idea about these noble etiquettes.

“Then it represents the olive branch of the royal family.” Adele said: “You need to kneel on one knee, put on white gloves and accept the invitation to show respect for the royal family...Haha, just kidding, in fact, just accept it normally. , But you might win the royal family’s favor by doing so!”

Adele was only joking, but she was surprised when she saw Ingulite's pensive expression: "Are you really thinking about it?"

Ingulite asked back: "Why don't you think about it? Isn't the opportunity to establish a relationship with the royal family rare?"

Adele scratched her face: "But... how do you put it, Ingulite, you have always given us the impression that you will not bend yourself for power, let alone wronged yourself for profit. After all, Sonia said before that she would recommend you to Tello. Professor Zan, you are not willing to..."

"I won't bend myself for power, nor will I be wronged for profit." Yingguli nodded characteristically: "In the past few days when I became a magician, many nobles have shown goodwill to me through various channels, and I have not. Pay attention to them."

"Then why are you willing to bow to the royal family?"

"Bending your head to other nobles is called selling the power, but working for the royal family is called contributing to society, how can it be the same?" Ingulli gave Adele a blank look, then put down his sword bag: "I'm not a fool. After becoming a swordsman, the goal is to join the starry master system. If there is a chance to have a higher starting point, why should I refuse?"

Adele understands—The reason why Ingulite is very spine is because she has determined that her lord can only be this country, and the master of the starry kingdom is the royal family, so she will only offer loyalty to the royal family. Will not accept the wooing of other nobles.

"But why don't they find Sonia directly?" Ingulite was a little strange: "Sonia goes to the training ground every day. Isn't it easy to find?"

"They dare not."

Lois rubbed her eyes and yawned and got out of the bed, and said: "The nobles pay the most attention to face. If someone knows that Sonia has rejected their banquet invitation, it will only be themselves, not Sonia. . But if you send out an invitation through us, no one will know even if you refuse... No, my head hurts, Adele—”

“Come here.” Adele quickly adjusted a glass of honey water and handed it to Lois. Lois poured into her mouth, and Ingullit asked curiously: “Lois, you will have a hangover?”

“Normal people will have a hangover after drinking and sleeping,” Lois muttered.

When Sonia returned triumphantly from Orbit University in the early morning, the whole female dormitory was boiled, and the celebration party was held all night.

Originally, the teacher in charge of the dormitory had some opinions, but after Professor Trozan directly paid for the secret garden to send a few boxes of wine over the night, the teacher of the dormitory could barely drink two glasses.

It’s inevitable that the girls’ dormitory is so excited. Although Sonia has been focusing on swordsmanship training this month and did not participate in any girls’ activities, it is important to know that Sonia was very diligent in expanding her contacts during the last semester. It’s not a familiar network, but at least it has one side.

Therefore, after Sonia’s rise, the girls also silently paid attention to this impoverished beautiful college student. Among them, there were blessings, jealousy, and disgust. But in any case, they are paying attention to Sonia, and with Sonia’s unimpeded swordsmanship training and dazzling record time and time again, many of them slowly change their mentality, secretly cheer for Sonia and become Sonia. Ya’s first fans.

In fact, most of the students of Jianhua University come from the middle class, low-level aristocratic families and merchant families. Although most of them are born with good food and clothing, their spiritual world is often very empty. The prosperous Gales just filled their minds with vanity and play, and did not give them the ideals of responsibility.

The better one, like Lois, who still knows to study hard and take over the family business in the future; the worse one, like Adele, who spent four years at Jianhua University, got married immediately after graduation, had a few children and then Continue to mix for a lifetime, anyway, someone in her life has the bottom line.

They are like scarecrows in luxurious clothes, staying in the world to fill up their numbers.

In the beginning, Adele and Lois, the two local natives who excluded Sonia and Ingulite, were essentially the contradiction between the scarecrow and the fire—whether it was Ingulite or Sonia, they both knew. With a clear ideal goal, their souls no longer emit a flame called 'struggle' all the time, which will naturally attract the alienation of the Scarecrow.

But now things have changed.

Because Sonia was no longer a fire, she had risen and become a rising star.

Scarecrows are afraid of the burning pain of the flame, but not afraid of the sun or the shining star. On the contrary, they yearn for the sun to enrich their souls. As long as the star becomes brighter and brighter, they will feel that their empty souls have become more fulfilled and more brilliant.

In fact, Lois was the first to be affected. In order to catch up with Sonia, she quietly turned down all the invitations, did not participate in the tea party, quit the club, and even listened to the lectures in class, and devoted herself to learning the water arts faction. The learning results in this month are as good as the past six months—the meaningless social life in the past has occupied her too much attention.

So seeing Sonia in the live broadcast of the curtain slay the giant alchemy bear with a single sword, they almost jumped up in the dormitory with joy. The honor of the sword flower student and the achievement of Sonia, the two joys overlapped, and brought them more joy.

Last night's celebration party did not end until dawn. There were still traces of yesterday's carnival in the bedroom, the trash cans were full of wine bottles and cans, and there were even confetti from the fireworks on the ground—it's so lucky that they could find the celebration fireworks at night.

Lois is not yet a magician, and she was too tired to stay up late to watch the live broadcast of the curtain. Coupled with the celebration party in the early morning, it can be said that she stayed up late to match the wine. She slept drunk in bed at dawn and escaped all day of class.

On the contrary, Adele drank a lot but didn't have any ass. She stayed up all night without having to sleep. According to her, she was 'a talent for staying up late and watching TV shows.' Lois now suffers from a hangover that is so uncomfortable that she can't help stomping her when she sees Adele playing with the curtain radiantly.

"Sorry!" Loisi preemptively said loudly.

When Adeleton was overwhelmed by her, UU reading www.uukanshu.com murmured: "I knew the anger was on my head..."

"Where is Sonia?" Ingulite asked. She was exploring the virtual world last night, and the celebration party was over when she came back in the morning. "Are you still outside?"

"I'll be back at noon," Adele nourished his mouth: "She has been lying in bed."

Ingulite looked over and found that Sonia had been lying on the bed playing with the curtains, and was very serious about coming and going, sometimes smiling and happy, sometimes gnashing her teeth, sometimes serious and deep, sometimes raising her eyebrows, her expression could change several times within a minute.

The swordsman girl blinked: "Why is she suddenly addicted to the curtain? It's almost like someone..."

"Ingulite, you have changed." Adele said quietly, "You wouldn't be swearing like this before."

"I didn't say it was you again!"

"I still dare to argue, I don't know who in this building is the most addicted to the curtain!?"

Chapter 269: The viewer was killed by me

Latest URL: At this time, Sonia noticed that Ingullit came back, and said: "Go to the school forum and find the post "Aside from the strength, is Miss Servi a taint on my school" and help me spray this Post master."

"Adele, you also come to help. There are many bad people in there who keep talking about the chariots and rolling around. I'm so angry to see you. Come and spray them together!"

Inguli pointed to Sonia and looked at Adele with a confused face.

Adele shrugged: "She searched herself intensively like this all afternoon, echoing posts that praised her, and cursing when she saw posts that cursed herself... I couldn't stop."

If the previous Sonia was only a genius confined to the swordsmanship department, people in other departments did not pay special attention to her, but last night she summoned the two-winged magic spirit in the chief battle of the fraternity party, and killed the alchemy bear with a single sword. After the news of the red-haired sword girl was spread out, the fame of the red-haired sword girl completely detonated Gales, and the school forum was screened by the name "Sonia Servi" all day long.

But Sonia is not a gold coin after all. Some people praise her, and naturally some people hate her. Therefore, the forum quickly divided into two groups. Niya is just a lucky village girl, and she will soon be obscured by everyone. It would only be a shame for Jianhua that the chief of Jianhua is such a person.

Ingulite opened the post, his face changed slightly.

There are three main arguments in this post: Sonia is not only a nobleman, but even an ordinary bourgeoisie. She is just a marginal and poor villager. "The mud-legged commoner probably just wants to use her status as a magician to sell herself at a high price."

Sonia's father died since she was a child, and her mother farmed again. Where did she get the resources to read and study, "She might use her beauty when she was a child";

The reason why Sonia was able to become a two-winged magician in one month is beyond common sense, even if it is a legendary magician, it is not so outrageous, so she must have received assistance from others. But why did she get help from someone, "I'm afraid I didn't find a new father for herself."

Good guy, all three arguments are rumors, slander, and slander, and there is no reason at all. Ingullite looked angry: "Can't you find the post owner and fight it?"

"It's a new account, I can't dig it out." Adele said: "Today there were a lot of small posts on the forum, all of which were dedicated to black Sonia. Hmph, these people also know that they are unjustified and they dare not at all. Take the tuba and line up with us."

Ingullit was puzzled: "Can't you block these swearing accounts?"

"Ah." Adele sighed: "Look carefully, there is no **** in the post's remarks. All the words are on the verge of insulting, just using a guiding tone to make people think in bad directions. Even if the report goes up, the school cannot believe that they are cursing."

"I thought that the quality of Jianhua's students would not be so bad..." Ingulite looked down at other people's remarks, getting more and more angry: "The people in our town don't say it so badly!"

"Ha, don't talk about Jianhua University, even the school forum of the University of Truth has many such smoky posts. Universities can only screen intelligence, perseverance, and family background, but cannot screen character." Adele shook his head: "Let's This is the case for the nobles, joking and laughing face to face, spraying dung in the curtain."

Ingulite looked at Sonia, a little worried: "Sonia, are you okay?"

"Ah? I'm fine, you see another person is so sprayed that we dare not reply."

The village girl turned over and lay on her back on the bed: "So awkward, it must be a **** of the wind spell, hiding behind the curtain and vacillating."

Ingulite blinked, and Sonia's reaction was completely different from what she had imagined.

At this time, Lois finally recovered from the hangover. She waved her hand and said: "Don't worry about her, she is the type that gets more excited the more scolded."

“What you say makes me look like a pervert!” Sonia turned back and continued to lie on the bed.

“You are talking about where you are not changing. Can a normal person raise the magic faction from zero to the gold level in a month!?”

“Huh, jealousy sounds really sweet.”

“Look, I’m not wrong about you, pervert, pervert, pervert!”

“Lois, the way you act like a baby is really weird.”

“Sonia is abnormal!”

Faced with remarks that slander and spread rumors, there are probably three reactions: The first is the glass heart. Seeing such remarks makes it uncomfortable to sleep at night. It is as painful as being mentally shocked and must be avoided;

The second kind of normal mind, although it will be angry, it will not be uncomfortable, and will not be attached to these small things, when nothing has happened;

And the third kind is Sonia’s hard-hearted.

You scold me? I scolded it twice. Not only would I scold it back, but I would also call someone to scold it back together!

Anger is my fuel, words are my ammunition, if I don’t scold you, you will surrender even if I lose!

If you were an ordinary person, you might shed tears because of these rumors and slanders, but Sonia was different. The village where she came from was not a simple place. She used to use cursing to exercise her language skills since she was a child. Like the discredit of the noble children in the school forum, Sonia saw no fluctuation in her heart, and even wanted to laugh a little.

That's it?

The rat in the city is not as harsh as the rat in the country.

Ingulite carefully looked at the reply to the post, and asked, "Is that "Sword Princess had dinner today?" Is it Sonia?"

"No, that's me." Adele said, "Sonia's trumpet is on the floor below me."

Ingulite's face was a little weird: ""The Minister of the Claw Club"? What's the meaning?"

Sonia looked at her, lay on the bed, squeezed her ass, stretched her hands forward to stretch her waist, stretched her body like a cat, and squinted her eyes too comfortably: "This is the extension of the claws."

Adele took a photo in a flash of thunder, "Don't worry, I won't send it out, keep it for myself."

"Of course not," Sonia said: "Even if I want to send life photos, I have to wait for me to put on a combat suit and put on makeup before taking pictures. Moreover, the dorm light is not good, so I have to buy a fill light..."

Looking at Sonia's posture, Ingulite couldn't help sighing: "I used to think that geniuses must be unkind and cold personality. For example, Professor Trozan is a typical genius in my impression..."

Ingulite never expected that a real genius is not only not cold, but also intensively searches for her own discussion posts, will pretend to be a small account and spray people in the forum, and even take photos with attention...

"Your impression is correct." Lois said, "It is the stars who are at fault, so she was blinded and looked after Sonia. No wonder there are so many "poor boys being looked upon by the princess" outside, because it turns out to be somewhat realistic."

“You are talking ill of me again.” Sonia sat up, “but I am happy today, not only do not care about your jealousy, but also plan to invite you to dinner!”

“Okay!” Adele jumped up joyfully: “What to eat?”

“school cafeteria!”

“If you win the chief battle, then invite us to the school cafeteria?”

“That’s true.” Sonia murmured, holding her chin, “After all, I won the chief battle, so you should ask me for it. Why do you want me to pay for it?”

“Strange.” Adele said: “Sonia, you didn’t really like to take advantage of it before, but recently it’s getting shameless, and I don’t know who I learned from... I’ll declare that it’s not me!”

“You know me.” Ingulite said lightly: “It’s not me either.”

“I’m basically the one who was taken advantage of by Sonia.” Lois was also a little curious: “Apart from us, the only people Sonia has frequent contact with are Felix and Professor Trozan, but they don’t seem to People like this... Did you secretly fall in love with us?”

“Going to dinner.” Sonia jumped down to change her clothes, and said angrily: “I rarely give you a chance to invite me to dinner. I advise you not to behave.”

“Change the subject!”

“Pretend!”

“Woman, you caught my attention, hand over your man quickly, I will spare you not to die!”

People in a dormitory went to eat noisily.

At 11 o'clock in the evening, Sonia came to the Meditation Building as usual, preparing to enter the Void Realm.

There are many things to talk about tonight: she learned new miracles in her dream, and the swordsmanship faction was upgraded to the gold level, and she successfully summoned a new two-winged magic spirit;

She won the chief game and will participate in the college league as a sword flower seed player;

Demiro seems to have something to do with Vosroda, and the Star Hall has a high probability of being the power of the Starry Lord...

Thinking of this, Sonia can't wait to step into the time continent and show off her achievements to the viewers.

She summoned the newly acquired two-winged magic spirit "Sword Shadow", captured the gate of truth within the magic spirit, and descended on the second-level time continent of the Void Realm.

When the consciousness sank into the virtual realm, the village girl slowly opened her eyes. She found herself sitting in the front row of the sports car, and turned to follow behind and said: "The Spectator Witch, you can never guess that I was last night..."

Sonia got stuck while talking.

She looked at the witch, and the witch also looked at her. The two looked around for a week, but no one else was seen.

“Where are the viewers?” Sonia asked in a daze.

The two soon discovered a note on the windshield of the front window of the car:

“If there is something that can’t come tonight, you can go for a drive by yourself, just don’t crash the car.”

“By the way, Jian Ji, our expedition went smoothly last night, and we didn’t say anything bad about you. If you don’t believe me, ask the witch.”

Sonia looked at Deya: “What did you say ill of me last night?”

Diya looked dazed, he wanted to speak and stopped, and his expression was tangled as if he was suffering from stomachache.

After discussing with the sisters for a while, she finally decided to follow the advice of the black butler: “Actually, the viewer lied.”

“Where did he lie?”

“Our exploration last night didn’t go smoothly. As soon as the viewer arrived in the virtual realm, I was hit by my car to death, so we didn’t have a chance to speak ill of you.”

Chapter 270: Life Difficulty-Simple Mod

Latest URL: "They should have seen my message..."

Sitting in the back seat of the eldest lady's luxury car, Ya Xiu swipes his thumbwheel to summon his gospel, and turns to the "Magician's Manual" interface. You can see the current team information in the "Void Exploration":

"Team composition: Dead Sword Fairy, Black and White Witch"

"Location: Time Mainland"

"Status: Exploring"

Before leaving home, Ya Xiu arranged for the two of them to explore the virtual realm.

Of course, if he doesn't make arrangements, the two of them will explore alone, but after getting approval from Ya Xiu, the two of Jian Ji can borrow his sports car.

However, the map seemed to be bound to the game system of Asia, and could not be loaned to them.

And just like "Sword Fairy's Leave Form", even though Asia is not in the team, the team still has to give him a share. 30% of the mana experience gained by the sword girl and the witch will be allocated to Asia, and the special mechanisms they encounter may also be triggered by Asia.

The only difference from an operator is that there is no limit to Ya Xiu's leave of absence!

If he wants to, he can stay in the Void Realm for a lifetime, and he can become stronger only by eating the soft rice of Jian Ji and the Witch!

But when Ya Xiu confirmed that he would not participate in the exploration tonight, the game reminded: "Getting along with the operators is an important way to maintain bonds. If the operators think you are avoiding meeting, you will gradually reduce your favorability, resulting in a decline in the bond level. ."

Only at this time did Ya Xiu realize that the game's favorability level is fluctuating, not always constant when it rises. In other words, it's fine if Ya Xiu asks for leave once or twice, but if he asks for leave every day and doesn't go to work for a long time, don't blame the front-line staff for their opinions.

No, going to work is for income, and Ya Xiu's entry into the Void Realm is mainly to improve the **** with the operators.

It's not so much about going to work, it's about... team building?

After realizing this, Ya Xiu suddenly resisted entering the Void Realm.

婴—

With a slight vibration, the floating car turned into another lane, but Ya Xiu, who was sitting in the car, sat as steady as Mount Tai. He looked at An Nan in the driving position, and his mind quickly returned to reality.

Although Harvey and Igola didn't tell him the least bit of information, the tasks that can be related to people like them are nothing more than gang vendettas, stealing, kidnapping, robbery and theft. After all, their scope of business is very narrow and a criminal law. Can cover all.

Regardless of the fact that Ash is usually so calm, in fact, he also secretly investigated Azula's evil forces, the main way is to ask people in online games. Many enthusiastic old brothers of Azura told him that Azura currently has ten major evil forces, including one palace, two companies, three families and four companies.

One hall is the mermaid palace. The Sea-Monster tribe is known as the "sewage royal family" of the Gospel Kingdom. There are chain stores of the Sea-Monster tribe in all major cities. Almost all murders, smuggling, drug trafficking, and race transactions need to go through the Sea-Monster tribe. Nodding, is a well-deserved evil boss.

The two firms are two firms, so they are naturally the top two in the Azura score list and the top ten in the national total. For example, An Nan, which was squeezed out of the top ten in the rankings, received commissions that were unnecessary leftovers from the 'Second'.

The three families are ancient families that have rooted in the Azura area for many years. The specific surname, heraldry, Ya Xiu did not remember, only that they were married to each other, and their personal connections were deeply rooted in important departments such as Blue Beard, Red Hat, and the Office of Government Affairs. Even the mayor came from Three families.

The four major companies are the four companies that account for more than 75% of Azura's total production value and are squeezed into the national enterprise list. Although the four major companies are closely related to the three families and almost all have received capital injections from the three families, in general, the two parties are still in a state of conflict between you and me. After all, capital naturally resists the feudal system of the family. A small amount of money can control a successful company, and that would be too small to underestimate the ability of capital to alienate.

So when Ah Xiu was sitting in An Nan's car, he thought that they were looking for the trouble of which one of the top ten evil forces. When he arrived at his destination, Ah Xiu, who was prepared, was still shocked by the stronghold of the evil forces in front of him.

"Azura Fourth Secondary Education Base"

"here it is..."

"The fourth lieutenant colonel, you can call the fourth middle school."

An Nan got out of the car, pressed the car key, and the mature floating car went to find a parking space by herself.

Although it is a high school, the No.4 Middle School looks more like a commercial center, with warm and bright light on every floor inside. The glass revolving door is open. There are no security measures or security guards to check visitors.

Ya Xiu followed An Nan in, and his impression changed again. There was no classroom as I remembered, and there was no teaching sound. Through the window, Ya Xiu saw that there were fully covered cabins like coffins in the room. There were a row of three-dimensional projections on the cabins with the people in the cabins written on them. 'S name information.

It is not so much a classroom as it is an experimental base where human experiments are being carried out.

However, these fully-covered cabins made Ya Xiu very familiar. This is not...

“It’s very similar to the virtual game pods you often play, right?” An Nan said, “Or, virtual game pods are like them.”

Ya Xiu was startled slightly, and immediately reacted: “Yes, since the consciousness submergence technology has been applied to private virtual games, then more important fields such as education, medicine, experimentation, etc. must have already applied this technology!”

“Before I was born, the ‘virtual education cabin’ had already become the main body of basic education.” An Nan said: “In addition to teachers in technical colleges and universities, teachers are no longer needed for elementary and secondary education. Most people Starting at the age of five, you will enter the customized education plan for the education cabin. It is said that it is a very wonderful experience-you will have a teacher who pokes your heart the most in all aspects, and he will understand everything you think and think. In the most ingenious way, the most comfortable scene will be arranged to make you fall in love with learning.”

“Waiting for secondary education, you will begin to discover your talents, from turning the rope to the sharpshooter, from hair management to fashion design, from biological research to civil engineering... No matter if you have been in touch before or not, the education cabin will be exhausted. It may discover your hidden talents, allowing you to explore the limits of talents in just a few years.”

“Wait, do you mean that the education cabin can teach everyone according to their aptitude?” Ya Xiu was a little confused: “It doesn’t sound like...”

“Just as you think.” An Nan said: “The education cabin borrowed the big data analysis of the Gospel. Don’t be surprised, most high-tech companies will borrow the big data of the Gospel. The orderly drone swarms are all based on the gospel data analysis, so the blood in this city can flow like art.”

“Listening to Panji, you and Mr. Harvey seem to have doubts about our education system, thinking that families without points will lag far behind families with points reserves.”

An Nan glanced at the room full of hundreds of education cabins: “But in fact, the Gospel will not charge you a cent for tuition until your talents are recognized by the virtual world.”

But Ya Xiu noticed a word before her words: “It is said?”

“Yes,” An Nan played amethyst earrings: “I never went to school.”

“The vast majority of wealthy people will not receive the basic education provided by the Gospel Kingdom.”

“why?”

“Because basic education is not free, if you want to receive basic education, you have to sign a contract and pay the price.”

“What’s the price?”

“Receive lifelong education.”

Ah Xiu was taken aback. He really didn’t understand this time: “Is it the price to receive lifelong education?”

An Nan nodded and pointed to the mature sister who just came out of the education cabin in the next room: “According to different ages, each person has a certain amount of education time per year. The youth has the most, and basically has to attend classes every day. Adult education after work Time has been cut drastically, but at least 60 hours of classes are required every month.”

“The degree of freedom in adult courses is very high. You can learn anything you want, even if you learn to pile up wood, play the harmonica, make-up techniques, film and drama appreciation... As long as your brain absorbs new knowledge, it can offset the education time.”

Ah Xiu blinked, “Isn’t this... a good thing?”

“Neither did I say that it’s not a good thing.” An Nan nodded slightly with the mature sister who was passing by, and walked up the stairs: “The Gospel Kingdom has continued for a full 30-year technological explosion period, and the lifelong education system has contributed a lot.”

“Then why don’t rich people receive basic education?”

“Why don’t you want to hire me for a lifetime, and have to reduce the time to 101 days?” An Nan asked rhetorically.

“You are an improper analogy.” Ah Xiu immediately retorted, “How can being a cow and horse be comparable to lifelong education? One is eating **** and the other is eating!”

“I don’t think you are acting like a cow and horse for me now.” An Nan raised his eyebrows: “You mean, I am shit?”

“No, no, I am, you are the one who eats.”

An Nan was suddenly grinned by him, and forgot where he said it. After a while, he said: “Just like you are unwilling to accept a lifetime contract, if we have a choice, we will not accept the shackles of life. My family I would rather let Panji guide my studies than let me sign a contract to receive basic education.”

“By the way, the Gospel Kingdom has another life contract, or welfare—lifetime labor. As long as you sign the contract with the Labor Security Bureau, you can get the average social salary when you are unemployed, but correspondingly, the Labor Security Bureau You will be assigned a suitable job.”

“Of course, work must conform to the three basic principles: more money, less things, and being close to home, and it definitely suits your hobbies, because the assignment of jobs also relies on the data analysis of the gospel. If there is no suitable job, the gospel would rather you stay. I have unemployment insurance benefits at home.”

“However, there are very few cases of long-term unemployment, because all companies have to accept the planning of the Labor and Social Security Bureau. The company itself has only 10% of the staff quota, and the remaining 90% of employees must be provided by the Labor and Social Security Bureau. This policy is still there. Healthy operation is enough to prove that the quality of 90% of employees is probably better than the 10% recruited by the company.”

Lifelong education, lifelong labor, then...

Ya Xiu’s face is a little strange: “Will there be a lifelong love contract, right?”

An Nan smiled and shook his head: “How is it possible... Yes, the gospels can indeed help you find a lover who is made in heaven-if you saved the world in your previous life.”

“But most of the time, the Gospels can find treasures buried deep underground, can weigh the sun, can measure the rhythm of the moon, but they just can’t give us a perfect love.”

“But...” An Nan’s mouth curled up in a subtle arc: “If you just choose the most suitable partner from the “people you know”, the gospel can still help you.”

“Love is a luxury, but marriage is not. Lifelong marriage is very common here. Although it is not mandatory, most people will marry the most suitable person in their network after completing the 17-year-old secondary education. The Gospel’s instructions are to mate at the most suitable time and give birth to the healthiest babies... It turns out that people who follow this can be happy.”

“The right education, the right job, and the right partner. If there are difficult choices in life, then when you sign three lifetime contracts, your life will enter a simple mode. Just listen to the gospel quietly, and the world will become You open up the most forgiving side.”

Discover those hidden talents, find a job that is not great but can realize the value of life, and have a partner who may not be perfect but can help each other...Axiu is a little envious when he thinks about it. Take it easy.

And these fortunes are only the basic social security for most evangelists.

If it is easy for normal evangelists, then Yaxiu had at least difficult difficulty in his previous life. Before starting the game, the producer recommends that players who are first-time players should not choose this difficulty.

This life is more powerful, directly playing the "More difficult opening" enhancement module, the enemy strengthened in all aspects.

Thinking about it now, Ya Xiu was stabbed by the Three Wing Sanctuary Magician Gerald at the beginning, and he was simply hit by a full-level boss. If any game dares to start such a game, a refund is guaranteed within 2 hours.

However...

Ah Xiu asked puzzledly: "Doesn't these all sound good? Missy, what are you dissatisfied with?"

"I'm not dissatisfied." An Nan smiled: "On the contrary, I am very grateful for this operating system. Just because the melody of the gospel is so beautiful, my dissonance can be so harsh."

"arrive."

They came to the third floor and stood still outside a room. The eldest lady pointed to the No. 15 education cabin inside: "There is my target, an orc wizard, but a production wizard, who has no fighting power in itself. Next is your job, Ah Xiu."

Ah Xiu looked around for a week: "You want me to kill in school?"

“How is it possible? Our office is a good citizen who obeys the law.” An Nan said: “You used to get him out and beat him out and let him leave here. This is a task I specially prepared for you.”

“Ah? Why is this my task?”

“Because your other two companions don’t look like people who can stop, they are more suitable for the in-depth service of death and disability.”

Ya Xiu didn’t really refute An Nan at once. He pondered for a moment, and suddenly remembered that he had obtained a ‘cowhide’ magic spirit in the virtual realm. From this look, it was known that it was a weak faction magic spirit, but if it was used directly, it could temporarily increase the defense power, so Ya Xiu still had no access to the system.

He urged the ‘cowhide’ Shu Ling to defend himself, and the white skin was instantly stained with a faint bronze color, and then he put on the mask given by Igola, and his appearance suddenly became like he was full of food and nothing to do. Street gangsters.

“Is he a bad guy?” Ah Xiu asked suddenly.
