

Chapter 2666– 2667 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 2666

Yu Yun also helped Mark take off his shirt, and then sat down with her back to Mark.

In this way, Yu Yun's white skin slowly approached Mark's bare back.

In the end, the bodies of the two closely adhered to each other.

At the moment of touching Mark, Yu Yun Jiao's body trembled slightly.

heat!

too hot.

Mark's body was like a burning stove.

Even if Yu Yun had a dragon body to protect her, she still felt a burning sensation on her back.

This is true even outside the body, one can imagine how severe the situation inside Mark should be?

Thinking of the lingering rhyme here, but also ignoring the difference between men and women, Jiao Chu leaned in Mark's direction again, trying to make the area touched by their backs larger.

The dragon body is a double cultivation technique, and only by reconciling yin and yang can it be thoroughly cultivated.

Mark's Yang Divine Body is the power of Yang.

The yin body of Yuyun is the power of yin.

Since it is the art of refining the body, if the two forces want to converge and reconcile, they must be in intimate contact with the body.

The larger the contact area of the body, the more the power that converges, and the more naturally it can suppress the power of the Fire Spirit Fruit in Mark.

In theory, this approach of Yu Yun is indeed feasible.

However, the remaining rhyme counts for a thousand words, only one thing is missed.

That is, once Yu Yun's Yin dragon body is released and comes into contact with Mark's body, it will awaken Mark's Yang dragon body.

Therefore, at the moment when Yu Yun Jiao's body touched Mark, another dragon chant sounded in the cave.

Immediately afterwards, there was a golden light on Mark's body.

Mark's Yanglong body, just like this, was activated in a subconscious state.

At that moment, Yu Yun's face changed drastically, and her brows and eyes were full of panic.

"not good!"

"This is broken~"

Only then did Yu Yun realize that she had done a stupid thing.

She shouldn't urge the dragon body.

In this case, the Yang dragon body on Mark's body would not be activated.

You know, the power of the Yang dragon contained in the body of the Yang dragon is similar to the energy contained in the fire spirit fruit, and it is all fire attribute power.

The sudden release of Yanglong's body is tantamount to a bucket of oil poured onto the flames.

Boom~

Sure enough, the amount of violent violence in Mark's body broke out in an instant.

That scorching air wave, like an ocean storm, radiated from Mark.

With a radius of a thousand meters, the flowers, plants, and trees were all instantly ignited by this fire attribute energy.

As for Mark, who was in the process of cultivating, he could no longer bear the pain in his body like the burning fire. He suddenly got up, crying in pain.

The opened eyes were red, like a fire burning in them.

“Kill me~”

“kill me...”

“Kill me...”

No one can feel the pain that Mark is going through at this time, like a fire burning in his body, not only burning his flesh, but also his soul.

Moreover, this violent force was still climbing in Mark's body, seeing that he was on the verge of exploding and dying.

“Mark, calm down, don't be like this...”

When Yu Yun saw this, she blamed herself and felt guilty. ,

She rushed up and tried to hug Mark, only asking for the power of Yinlong in her body to relieve Mark's pain and suppress the evil fire in his body.

However, what will happen to a person who has a “fire” in his body and sees a stunning woman with a half-dressed skirt and a half-naked body?

What's more, the graceful and beautiful woman in front of her, with her fragrant shoulders exposed, hugged Mark.

Chapter 2667

Hum~

Mark, who was already in a state of dementia, immediately saw the scene in front of him, an evil fire surged into his heart, and all his sanity was immediately annihilated at this moment.

The violent power of the fire spirit fruit, the power of the Yang dragon body, plus the lust rushing out at this time.

At this time, Mark, as if there was a monstrous fire wave in his body, was eager to find a window for gushing out.

The next moment, Mark, who had lost his reason, rushed up with red eyes, and actually tore off all the dresses on Yu Yun's body.

The lingering rhyme at this moment, like a peerless snow lotus, was finally exposed to the sky without any obstruction.

“Mark, what are you doing?”

“You’re sober~”

Yu Yun was completely panicked.

She yelled and struggled hard.

However, her struggle was in vain after all.

After all, for so many days, in order to help Mark suppress the power of the Fire Spirit Fruit in his body, she almost exhausted all her strength.

The current lingering rhyme was when he was at his weakest. If only at the end of the force, he would naturally be unable to stop Mark who was in a state of madness and dementia.

Almost instantly, Yu Yun collapsed across the board under Mark’s offensive.

In this way, a stunning girl, with endless panic, was pushed down on the stone platform behind her.

A touch of spring, quietly blooming in the cave.

Like an iceberg snow lotus that has been waiting for thousands of years, the snow-white bud that Bingqingyujie has never set foot in, finally blooms in bud amidst the raging fire tonight.

Outside the cave, the moonlight is bright and the breeze is just right.

There are worms whispering, nightingales screaming, and running water gurgling.

These gentle and light voices gathered together, just like the sky, drifting far, far along the night wind.

I don’t know how long it took, the young man in the cave finally opened his eyes.

Perhaps because of the long retreat, when the young man opened his eyes, he only felt that the sun was extremely dazzling.

After squinting for a long time, his eyes adjusted to the light here.

“Huh~”

After waking up, Mark stretched out comfortably.

Then, a suffocating breath followed his breath and was spit out by him.

At this time, Mark only felt refreshed and full of power.

Compared with before the retreat, Mark only felt that his whole person was almost completely reborn.

“Haha~”

“This fire spirit fruit is worthy of the treasure of heaven and earth recorded in the Yundao Heavenly Book.”

“Not only did my damaged meridians recover completely, it also helped me formally break through the fourth stage of the Yundao Heavenly Jue.”

“Now I, dare to ask the world, how many people can be the enemy?”

Feeling the surging and majestic power in his body, Mark is undoubtedly in a good mood.

Is this the feeling of mastering power?

Is this what it feels like to stand at the pinnacle of strength?

Is this the feeling of being proud of the people?

Really, it's fascinating.

Mark gradually got up, opened his arms, and indulged in the vastness of the world and the breathing of sentient beings.

However, it was Mark's random action that made the all directions move.

With a radius of a thousand meters, the rich power of heaven and earth, as if being summoned, all gathered towards where Mark was.

In the end, the thousands of strengths turned into Mark's body like an upside-down funnel.

And in this process, Mark's whole aura is also climbing at a terrifying speed.

I don't know how long it took before the storm cleared.

Here, the world has only recovered its calm again.
