

Chapter 268

Many times, many people want to do things, but the trivial things in life and the strife in work slowly change a hot-blooded heart and drift with the tide. If you let Ouyang say it, it would be very hypocritical!

General foreign affairs director and President Ouyang, why can their generation achieve success through hardship? It is the great era that has given them an indomitable heart honed and forged.

Not all of their generation are successful. Although most of them have been crushed into blood by life, their generation is really successful. The times make heroes. It's really hard to be the superior of their generation and the subordinate of their generation!

After the operation, there was no need to enter the ICU, but the boss asked to enter the ICU. The hospitals in prefectures and counties are not so strict. Don't you want to spend more money! When the wounded entered the ICU, money is not everything, but it is absolutely impossible to have no money. The patient in the bed next to him is looking forward to leaving the ICU early and going to the general ward. For him, the cost of 10000 yuan a day is sprinkled with water!

Zhang Fan is not in a hurry to enter the Department. Anyway, today is overtime and can take an extra day off. Now he is mainly busy with decoration. He can't let the old man and old lady look around the world for decoration materials.

Zhang Fan was stunned by the operation. Looking at Ouyang, he didn't know whether to take it or not! How can we say this? In fact, although the medical system in the mainland has developed very rapidly and can almost keep up with the footsteps of developed countries in the world, Mainland Colleges and universities are far away, regardless of the golden mean or Dabei. The graduates of medical clinical departments of these schools are not recognized by developed countries in Europe and America.

Compared with other majors, medicine, especially clinical medicine, there are too many conditions to study in foreign developed countries. This kind of invitation is a small benefit after these rich people pay their dues to hospitals in developed countries every year!

"Since President Lin is so polite, what are you doing? Take it quickly!" Speaking, as if worried about the lady's repentance, he hurriedly took the invitation from her hand and handed it to Zhang Fan. The old lady is happy. She's really happy this time! His eyes narrowed into a line.

"When are you going?" After the patient's family left, Ouyang sat comfortably on the big sofa and slowly tasted the tea in his hand!

"There are three years left. Don't worry!"

"What?" Ouyang asked.

"I don't think it's useful to go now. The things in the hands of hospital teachers haven't been learned yet. I don't want to improve much. I want to go again when my foundation is more solid, so I can improve more!"

"Well, it's good to have this idea. Learning medicine is like sailing against the current. If you don't advance, you will fall back. The premise to improve is to have a solid and excellent basic skill. Don't stare at small places all day, stand high and look far. I also want to see where you can go." Ouyang asked Zhang Fan a few words. She was still very dissatisfied. Zhang Fan went to get a private hospital. That thing can call a hospital! This is what the old lady really thinks!

"Well, good Dean, I will pay attention." In the municipal hospital, all the department directors except Lao Gao are very polite to Zhang Fan. Lao Gao is a bit of a master. Although he didn't teach Zhang Fan anything, Zhang Fan's introduction to medicine follows Lao Gao, so Zhang Fan also recognizes it.

Ouyang is another kind of state. Work belongs to work, and protecting the calf belongs to protecting the calf. When training you, you can still train you like a grandson. After training, you have to be grateful to others. This is a person with great leadership ability.

"Well, I heard you started decorating the hospital house?" After business talk, women's nature began. What is women's nature? Gossip!

"Well, when I'm ready to decorate, I'll get married!" Zhang Fan said a little embarrassed.

"Yes, if you become a family early, you can also keep your heart. Men are responsible, otherwise they are mostly boys. When are you going to decide? "

"There are still two or three departments that haven't been transferred. I think we can decide the Department after all the departments have been transferred."

"Which department do you want to go to? General surgery or orthopedics or cardiothoracic surgery? "

"Dean, when can the emergency center be opened?" Today Ouyang was happy. Zhang Fan hurriedly asked some things that the senior management of the hospital knew.

"What do you think? It's no use thinking. You're a resident. You can't give you the director of the emergency center! " Ouyang always considers others with her ideas. She thinks Zhang Fan just wants to be the director of the emergency center!

"No! I didn't!" Zhang Fan is a little worried. He is still young and thin skinned. Zhang Fan thinks it's bad for the dean to misunderstand him as an official fan! Anyway, I'm still young!

"Why not? There should be. This is the right way. Don't think disorderly all day. The center of hundreds of millions is not as good as your flea hospital?" Ouyang put down his tea cup and sat up straight. How dare you not follow my idea! The posture of cleaning up people comes out ~!

"No, I'm too young to take my turn. I wonder if the future emergency surgery should be done in the emergency center. Will the surgical department not do emergency surgery?" Zhang Fan hurriedly said, straight up Ouyang is too terrible, like a rooster preparing for war!

"That's the idea!"

"I can't be the director. Can I be the inpatient manager of the emergency center?" Zhang Fan said with a little expectation.

"Don't even think about it. Even if the emergency center can do emergency surgery, it is also a general routine emergency surgery. If it doesn't improve you, quickly transfer to another department and fix the Department after the transfer! Be famous as soon as possible. Now you need to improve your technology instead of making a hodgepodge! "

Zhang Fan cried. The system is too general to fill in. The emergency center is his best promotion, but Ouyang disagreed! Zhang Fan is also ready to linger.

Ouyang was impatient and stared at him! Zhang Fan quickly shut up and got up, "Dean, you're busy, then I'll go!"

"Take the invitation, don't lose it, take it back and keep it properly!" The old lady stood up and looked at Zhang Fan in a hurry and smiled happily! This is just like her child. Anyway, she still respects her, and her ass is not cocked up!
