

My One In A Million Wife Chapter 276

Ashlyn noticed Jenny's envious glare and smirked. This woman is interested in Lucas too. Tsk, this man's charming face has made countless women cry, hasn't it?

Intentionally or otherwise, when Lucas applied some ointment on her wrist, she grimaced in pain.

The man asked worriedly, "Does it hurt?"

"Somewhat." Ashlyn nodded coquettishly.

Lucas was captivated by this sight.

He had not heard her in such a tone for a long time.

The man gently applied the ointment over the wound and rubbed it tenderly.

After a long time, he finally released her wrist.

When Ashlyn thought she had finally regained her freedom, the man took a bandage from the first aid kit and gently wrapped it around her wrist.

Finally, he finished the knot with a butterfly knot.
