

Chapter 294

She didn't mean to discriminate against the other party, it was just that the game was so obvious, so obvious that she, an outsider, could see that something was wrong, and Lu Lanzhi actually believed that that Peng Xianlin would help her.

I can't believe they are being paid today to show themselves a few more pieces of the original stone.

This brain...is no one else's!

She secretly slandered in her heart that these words were not spoken, but she also knew that this was what Biden Lu was thinking 80% of the time.

Biden Lu's face wasn't too good at this time, but after hearing the whole story, he at least had some general idea.

So then he asked in a quiet voice, "How much money must you have taken to pay him?"

Lu Lanzhi looked at him with a guilty glance, hesitant, "Probably... 700-800 million!"

Jenny: "....."

Well, people are stupid and money is what they say it is!

Biden Lu was also quite speechless.

He thought about it and asked, "So, the reason you deliberately came to Maple Bridge Villa that day to find trouble with Jenny was actually to take those antiques back and sell them? And invest the money in that Pang?"

Lucian looked a little embarrassed.

"I'm just, I'm just borrowing it for a while, and when I make some money, won't this be returned to you?"

"Oh..."

Biden Lu and Jenny Jing, both of them, obviously wouldn't believe her words.

Lu Lanzhi begged again, "Ah Shen, look, now that I've told you, can you just help me hide it and not tell your grandparents? I really don't want them to know."

Biden Lu said in a deep voice, "Then have you thought about what to do now?"

Lucian was a bit confused.

Haven't understood yet what he means by processing.

Jenny Jing kindly reminded, "He's obviously orbitalizing you, treating you like a wronged person, just trying to cheat you out of your money, you shouldn't be able to see that by now, should you?"

Lucian was even more confused.

"This... can't be! I volunteered to gamble, and I was afraid he would lie to me, so I chose the original stone every time and never let him interfere, there are so many original stones in that gambling hall, how does he know which one I'm going to choose?"

Jenny laughed.

Biden Lu said in a deep voice, "It's very simple, just replace all the stones inside with inferior or ordinary ones, if others don't open it, you can't open it as well, won't that do it?"

Lucian's face changed.

But quickly, she hurriedly defended, "That's impossible, I saw someone open up a superb imperial green with my own eyes, right next to the original stone I bought!"

Imperial green?

Good jade indeed!

Jenny Jing smiled, "This is not difficult, beforehand, put a stone that has been determined to have something good in it there, and then find one of your own people dressed as a guest to go over and buy it, and open it on the spot, afterwards, whether it is jade or money, all pocketed back into their own pockets, is not a difficult thing."

Lucian looked incredulous.

"This, this is impossible! How did that happen?"

"There's nothing impossible about it."

Biden Lu directly punctured her last bit of fluke completely as well, "This is just the simplest way to set a trap in the market, so clumsy that An An won't even fall for it, I didn't think you would actually believe it, and all of a sudden you were set so deep, it seems that you really can't blame others for being too ruthless, only yourself for being too stupid."

Lucian squealed.

"Sham, how can you say that about me? I'm your aunt!"

"It is because you are my aunt that I am kind enough to remind you that you must deal with this matter as soon as possible, otherwise there might be some trouble later on, but of course, if you have to deal with it, it must be

It will alert the grandparents, and in this part of Kyoto, even if it's me, any big noise will not escape their eyes."

Lu Lanzhi's momentum immediately declined at the news.

She was silent for a moment, then asked with extreme reluctance, "Do you have to tell them?"

Biden Lu nodded.

"Had to."

"But..." she hesitated, then scratched her hair in annoyance.

"If I go back like this and lose my face, your grandparents will definitely scold me to death, and then what face will I have to go out?"

Jenny laughed.

"Auntie, although I don't know, what is the reason why you fought with grandmother, but you are after all a family, family blood and bones, how can there be a feud overnight? And last time at home, grandmother was quite nice to you ah, also did not see angry with you, could it be that you are thinking too much?"

Lucian looked at her with some impatience.

"You don't understand."

Lu Jing sank deeper into his face.

"It's up to you to decide whether to say it or not, I won't hinder you or force you, but I'll only give you two days, after two days, if you think of what to say, I'll take you to see your grandmother, if you don't say it, then you'll bear the consequences yourself, the Lu family and I, won't help you in the slightest."

After he said that, he pulled Jenny to stand up.

Jenny was a little unbearable, but the words had been said to this point, in the end it was not good to say anything else, and left with Biden Lu.

On the way home, she was a little worried and asked Biden Lu.

"Do you really think you won't help her if she does decide not to say anything?"

Biden Lu replied with a blank expression, "No help."

"Why?"

"She's my aunt, but she's also an adult, and adults have the ability and responsibility to take responsibility for their own actions. It's not that I don't want to help her, it's just that if she doesn't want the landlubbers to get involved, then she has to take responsibility for her own choices."

Jenny sighed.

"I always feel like there's another reason why she's so insistent, and it's not like it's just one reason like she said, like a pique with Grandma."

Biden Lu looked at her.

Then reached up and rubbed her brow.

Jenny was stunned.

Turning his head, he saw that the man's eyes were gentle, and there was still a touching glow in the depths of his eyes.

"Auntie hadn't been very nice to you before, so why do you have to be so concerned for her? Look at that frown Kawaii."

Jenny couldn't help but laugh.

She grasped Biden Lu's hand and smiled, "What are you talking about? Whether she treats me well or not, that's her business, there's no reason for me to force everyone to like me, and the reason I care about her is because she's your family, so everything, it's just a matter of seeking a clear conscience."

Biden Lu shook fiercely.

What a clear conscience!

A simple four-letter word, easier said than done, but never so simple.

Biden Lu didn't say another word, holding her hand tightly, and the car continued to drive towards the Maple Bridge Villa.

Two days later, Lu Lanzhi called Biden Lu and said she was willing to talk to the old lady.

Biden Lu knew that the reason she was willing to bow was probably the end of her poor life.

Although Lu Lanzhi was the daughter of the Lu family, she did not like business because she was a daughter and had always engaged in art, not entering the most central circle of power within the Lu family.

The character and not too reliable, usually outside the reputation is not too good, so even if her identity is noble, people may give her some face in ordinary trivial matters, but once it involves the major events that touch its muscles and bones, generally will not buy her account.

Chapter 295

The fact that Lu Lanzhi would bow was basically considered within Biden Lu's anticipation.

After Biden Lu agreed, he made an appointment to go to the old mansion together in the evening.

It was up to Jenny to go back first and give the old lady a booster shot, so they could be prepared first.

That night, the three of them went to the land house together back and forth.

Lu House, when the old lady heard about this, she was naturally furious.

Before Lucian came, he had a big tantrum at home and even broke several teacups.

Jenny advised, "It's good that aunt told us about this matter, it's not too late to turn back, grandmother you also don't get angry yet, in the end, this matter was born out of pique, we mustn't make things worse because of a moment of indignation again, it's more important to calm down and deal with it."

The old lady sighed.

"I know, don't worry, I'm just throwing a tantrum here and there, what else can I really do to her? When she comes over later, I just won't talk about her."

Promises were promises, and when Lu Lanzhi did arrive, the old lady couldn't resist in the end and scolded her badly.

Lu Lanzhi knew she was at a disadvantage, and endured any further scolding without uttering a word.

After the old lady lost her temper, the fire in her heart dissipated a bit in the end, and that's when she started to sort things out.

The matter is, in the end, very simple.

Anyone with a normal IQ can basically see that Lu Lanzhi is being tricked by someone doing a game.

The hard part is that she didn't know, she left no evidence, and she bought the original stone voluntarily in each case in the past.

Unless extraordinary means are used, it is difficult to prove that the other party is setting her up.

The Lu family has many tricks up its sleeve, but this is an extraordinary time and because of the tree's popularity, they dare not act rashly.

Peng Xianlin was able to make the gambling quarry so big in Kyoto, there wouldn't be no power behind it, and the information that Vicky had found before showed that he had connections with the Gu family, so it was likely that the backer behind it was the Gu family.

No one dared to act rashly once the matter of the Lu Gu family was involved.

Biden Lu thought, "I can send someone to find a solution to this matter, but during this time, it's best for Aunt not to appear in Kyoto, so as not to cause any further complications."

Lucian was reluctant.

"Shen, are you trying to exile me? I'm not going anywhere, I'm staying in Kyoto!"

The old grandmother raged, "Stop fooling around! Now I'm cleaning up your paralysis! Do you think anyone would be willing to handle this stall for you?"

Lu Lanzhi was shouted at by the old lady and lost her nerve.

It took a moment before he aggrieved, "That's okay, then I'm going to F."

"No!"

The old lady stopped her with an angry voice and gave her a cold look.

"Don't even think about it! Book a flight to your Aunt Su's place in M tomorrow. I'll have someone watching you. Don't you dare go anywhere! You're not going anywhere until it's done."

Lucian squealed in disbelief.

"Mom, I'm in my thirties, not three, and you're spying on me like I'm a child?"

The old lady snorted.

"I think you have the same IQ as a three year old."

Lucian: "..."

Since the old lady has made her decision, no one can change it.

Finally, this family meeting ended with the old lady clapping her hands.

Naturally, Biden Lu and Jenny Jing had to return to Villa Maple Bridge.

The old lady was worried about Lu Lanzhi getting into any more trouble, so she didn't allow her to leave and told her to just stay at the Lu mansion and leave by plane in the morning.

On the way out, Lu Lanzhi suddenly called out to Jenny.

She looked at Biden Lu and smiled, "Ah Shen, I have a few words I want to say to Jenny, can you leave us alone for a while?"

Biden Lu frowned and looked at Jenny Jing.

Jenny nodded at him.

"Just go wait in the car for me! I'll be right over."

Only then did Biden Lu nod and turned around to leave.

When he was gone, Lu Lanzhi's face, which had been piled high with smiles, instantly collapsed.

"Jenny, are you particularly happy right now? Especially proud? Get me out of Kyoto and there'll be no one to watch you, no one to control you, so you can just hold onto Shen and make him do whatever you want?"

In the meantime, Jenny gently relaxed, but for a moment.

She looked somewhat coolly at Lu Lanzhi, a light mockery floating in her eyes.

"Is that why my aunt stopped me to tell me this?"

Lucian straightened his chest.

"What? I'm not saying it's impossible? Don't think I don't know about those little thoughts of yours, you look like you're trying to help me, but really, it's just to see me make a fool of myself!

Good, now that it's as you wish, I've lost face in the Lu family, and the old man and old lady are disappointed in me and won't listen to me anymore, now you're satisfied!"

Jenny shook his head.

"I've never thought of it that way."

"Heh, who are you kidding? At the end of the day, aren't you just unhappy that I've never liked you and Deep together? I've always been more interested in Schäfer and Sham. That must make you uncomfortable, right?"

Then do you know that Xuefei and Shen, they used to be lovers, they grew up together as childhood sweethearts, they were so close, tell me about you, what's the point of sticking your nose in here now?"

Jenny took a deep breath.

There was some impatience in the heart.

One thing, you said once, would be patient.

But after talking about it many times, you just get bored and don't even have the patience to listen anymore.

She looked at Lu Lanzhi and said in a deep voice, "Since Auntie has spoken up to this point, let me ask, if their relationship is so good, then why did Shen end up marrying me and not her?"

Lu Lanzhi was momentarily dumb.

Jenny scoffed mockingly.

"Auntie, I've never really understood why you just don't like me that much. I asked myself if I had shown any malice towards you from the beginning, and all the lack of courtesy towards you was due to your provocation in the first place.

I know that you are very good to Biden, his parents are not in these years, you also have more to him, I never deny your affection, but you should understand, the future to accompany him through life is not you, it is me.

No matter how deep the bond is, if it is rubbed away by long periods of disappointment and conflict, it will be slowly eroded, and I don't want to regret it until you've finally worn out this only bit of gratitude you have between you.

So let me advise you, Auntie, if you want to have a good life for the rest of your life, you'd better settle down and take care of yourself. After all, the future of this Lu family is Biden's, and I, as his wife, am the true mistress of the Lu family."

After she finished, she saw Lu Lanzhi's face turn blue and white, so angry as if she was going to faint in the next second, before raising her hand and beckoning a maid.

"Auntie isn't feeling too well, so please send her back to rest."

Chapter 296

That maid looked at Lu Lanzhi and then at Jenny.

It was obvious that something was very wrong with the atmosphere between them, but they didn't dare ask anything.

Very respectfully said "yes", will come forward to assist Lu Lanzhi.

Lu Lanzhi was so angry that she looked at Jenny Jing's cold and indifferent face, her earlier sentence "I am the future mistress of the Lu family" echoing in her mind.

I can't wait to jump on him and tear him apart!

In the end, though, she took a deep breath and forced down her discontent and anger.

"OK, you're brave enough to say something like that to my face, fine, then we'll see! Jenny, I'd advise you to change your wife at any time, but not Auntie!

I grew up watching Ah Shen, in his heart, even if he likes you now, it's only for a while, flowers don't have a hundred days, just wait and see! Sooner or later, I'll drive you out of the Lu family!"

She said, and that's when she held the maid's hand and walked away in a huff.

As soon as Lu Lanzhi left, Jenny only felt that the breathing in front of him was instantly smoother.

She looked up at the sky and took a deep breath, only to feel the tumbling anger in her chest as if it would burst out of her throat in the next second.

It took a long time for the emotions to calm down a bit.

She turned and stepped outside.

Getting into the car, Biden Lu saw that she didn't look quite right and frowned.

Putting aside the random magazine she had been reading while waiting for her, she leaned in and asked, "What's wrong? What did she say to you?"

"Nothing."

It wasn't that Jenny Jing didn't want to tell him what Lu Lanzhi had said, but he just didn't feel the need.

Left and right she was trusting Biden Lu, it made no difference whether she said it or not.

She took a deep breath and commanded Summers, "Drive!"

Vicky nodded, started the car, and slowly drove out.

Biden Lu had been silently gazing at her.

He had always had a good eye, and even sharper and more careful observation, and would not fail to see the emotions that were weighing on her heart.

The woman's cold, sunken face and the fishy red under her eyes were blatantly telling him that she had been wronged.

There was no need to think, it must have been another nasty thing Lucian had said.

Biden Lu's face sank coldly.

He pulled out his phone and said quietly, "I'm calling her right now!"

Jenny's eyelids jumped at the sight, and he reached out to stop it.

"Don't fight."

Biden Lu frowned.

Biden paused to adjust his emotions, which is why he said, "She already disliked me, and felt that this time, I was taking the opportunity to make things difficult for her and wanted to drive her out of the Lu family.

It's a misunderstanding in itself, and if you call now, no matter what you say, she'll feel like I'm telling on you again, that I'm targeting her again, which will only add to the misunderstanding and solve nothing of a practical nature, so there's no need to call."

Biden Lu said coldly, "But you have been wronged."

Jenny barely smiled.

"It's not a grievance, it's only a grievance if someone who cares says so, and what's a person who doesn't care."

She said, turning to look out the window, her gaze falling on the silent, deserted road in the middle of the night.

Biden Lu looked heartbroken and took hold of her hand, wrenching her over into his arms.

"Jenny, I'm sorry, it's because of me that you've been put through this."

Jenny smiled.

"How do you say that?"

"You don't want me to be caught between you and my aunt, that's why you don't bother with her, I know all about it, but Jenny, you are my wife, if you are wronged, I won't be happy, my aunt is rude, it didn't matter before, but if it's against you, I will never sit idly by."

It was true that Lu Lanzhi was their elder, but that didn't mean that Jenny had to be stoic.

Jenny hugged his waist, sensing the heartache in the man's tone and sighed.

"I'm really fine, don't worry, I just don't want any more rampages, besides, it's just a few verbal arguments, and no one really dares to bully me, your wife isn't a soft tomato, it's not like anyone can just take advantage of her."

This, however, Biden Lu very much agreed.

He released her and k*ssed her forehead.

"Jenny, you're so nice."

They returned to Maple Bridge Cottage.

The next day, Lu Lanzhi left Kyoto under the old lady's arrangements.

Biden Lu asks Vicky to investigate the gambling quarry, and it turns out that there is a lot of involvement with the Gu family behind it.

That Peng Xianlin is clearly a pawn thrown out by the Gu family to deliberately lure Lu Lanzhi into the hook.

To speak of the feud between the Gu and Lu families, there was actually no past.

It's just that in the past few years, the Gu family has grown stronger and stronger, and as the saying goes, one mountain can't contain two tigers, so if the Gu family wants to secure the top spot in the country, they naturally have to try their best to suppress the Lu family.

Yet how could the Land family be vegetarians?

Within a few days, a police officer shut down Peng Xianlin's entire gambling den for fraud as well as other charges.

That's the end of the matter for now.

On the other hand, Nina Hua was about to go into labor.

Jenny was quite worried even though he had promised not to go over there.

After all, leaving aside that unknown man there, Nina Hua didn't have a single family member or friend by his side.

The good news was that things were going better than she thought, Nina Hua's delivery went well, and the baby was born six pounds and a boy.

Nina Hua marries him with the name Le Le, wishing him a life of peace and joy.

Jenny Jing, the godmother, was naturally happy and forced Nina Hua to let the child video herself for a while that day.

I just felt my heart melt at the sight of that soft, powdery little gnome on the screen.

Nina Hua smiled, "If you like children so much, why don't you have one with Lu Shao himself?"

Jenny stalled, thought about it, and said, "There's no rush on this."

In fact, the reason why she had been unwilling to agree to have a child with Biden Lu was because she was now filming all the time and was afraid of delaying her work.

Secondly, consider Ann as well.

Ann was different from ordinary children, she hadn't had a mother around since she was a child, and whenever she saw Jenny, she would always stick to her.

She could feel Ann's longing for her mother's love and the huge insecurity she felt inside.

Therefore, she wasn't sure how it would affect Ann if she became pregnant herself at this time.

When he thought of this, Jenny couldn't help but sigh again.

I don't know why Biden Lu left this child behind in the first place in that way, is there some hidden agenda?

But this was something she was just thinking about, so naturally she couldn't really ask him.

She looked at Nina Hua and asked, "When do you plan to come back?"

Nina Hua secretly gave birth to a child, a matter that no one outside knew about.

She had no intention of ever giving up her role as an actress, so sooner or later she was going to come back.
