

Chapter 2964– 2965 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 2964

Please indicate the source:

“I can only leave you in the future, and you are not allowed to leave me~”

“I forbid you to do any more dangerous things.”

Helen Qiu suddenly looked at Mark and said to Mark in a very solemn tone.

At that moment, Mark’s heart trembled suddenly, and there was an inexplicable tingling.

However, Mark’s surface was still quiet as usual.

While gently combing Helen Qiu’s beautiful long hair, he comforted softly: “Fool, those are all dreams.”

“Dream is the opposite of reality.”

“It’s too late, go to bed, don’t think about it.”

“No, you haven’t promised me yet.” Helen Qiu said stubbornly.

Mark couldn’t help but replied: “Okay, I promise you, I’m not going to come back for a few days, and I won’t do dangerous things, right?”

When he said these words, Mark’s mouth was filled with a spoiled and gentle smile.

However, who knows how gentle Mark behaves at this time, how guilt he feels in his heart.

“Yep.”

Helen Qiu nodded contentedly, and soon fell asleep in Mark’s arms.

For the first time in so many years, she was held by Mark in such a personal position.

She only felt that there was a kind of stability and sweetness that had never been seen before.

Being held by this young man, all the panic in the dream just now disappeared.

Soon, Helen Qiu fell asleep.

But Mark looked at the moving woman in his arms, and looked at the eyelashes that quivered slightly in the night, making it hard to fall asleep for a long time.

“Helen Qiu, I’m sorry~”

_____

_____

One night passed quickly.

The next day, when Helen Qiu woke up, the teenager beside her was no longer there.

Helen Qiu rushed out of the bedroom like crazy.

The living room is still empty. But on the table, breakfast has been set up, and the milk that has just been warmed is still steaming hot.

Next to the table, there was a note left by Mark.

“My wife, there is something urgent on Fenghai’s side, I’ll go over and deal with it first.”

“Don’t worry, it’s all trivial things. I will contact you after I get to Fenghai.”

“During my absence, you are not allowed to skip breakfast and eat on time. If you lose weight, let’s see how I will pack you when I come back.”

“In addition, I only found out last night that my wife feels very good, soft and very flexible~”

“Hey~”

The final stroke was Mark.

After the name, there are two more characters, don’t read it.

After reading this letter, Helen Qiu let out a chuckle.

She first looked down at the two soft touches on her chest, and then complained with shame and pride: “This big villain knows to take advantage of me~”

“But, why do you want to secretly~”

Helen Qiu's pretty face was slightly red, in fact, she also wanted to feel what it would be like to be touched there by someone she liked.

And while Helen Qiu was still immersed in the happiness of last night, Mark was already in the car, left Wrilfill, and went to Fenghai, preparing to build a cloud of heaven in the place where his mother lived. Definitely divided into arrays.

"Brother Mark, why don't you wake up sister Qiu and tell her to leave?"

"You leave without saying goodbye, sister Qiu will be sad."

At this moment, Ye Ximei was driving the car.

She is also going to go home with Mark to have a look.

However, Ye Ximei was a little puzzled about Mark's behavior of leaving without saying goodbye in the morning.

Mark slowly said: "Let her sleep a little longer, she is so busy all day, and very tired. Besides, I have left a message for her, it's okay."

Mark said softly.

But where did Ye Ximei know that the reason why Mark didn't wake up Helen Qiu was not because he wanted Helen Qiu to sleep more, but because he was afraid.

He was afraid that Helen Qiu's retention would shake his mind.

Chapter 2965

But when Mark went to Fenghai, the aftermath of the West Lake tragedy that occurred in the Jiangbei land still had not completely dissipated.

Every day, outside the Martial God Temple on the top of Yanshan Mountain, there are a large number of Yan Xia warriors protesting and marching. Asked the Wushen Temple to bring Mark to justice, to give Jiangbei the dead strong in the summer, a fair.

However, this kind of protest was actually doomed from the beginning to end without disease.

Regardless of whether it is for a country or a nation, it is all about interests.

When the effort is greater than the gain, the country will naturally not do it.

Just like the treatment of Mark this time, perhaps the Martial God Temple can do its best to kill Mark.

But is it worth it?

The answer is obvious.

Even if Mark was wrong, even if the Martial God Temple devoted all its energy to really get rid of Mark, the dead hot summer experts would not be resurrected.

Therefore, in terms of the overall situation, the current ending is undoubtedly the best.

What's more, Mark's killing in Jiangbei was also due to a reason.

Under this circumstance, the Wushen Temple would naturally be even less likely to catch and kill Mark desperately.

Many people can actually understand these things.

But the people in Jiangbei were not reconciled, their relatives and friends died tragically, how could Mark go unpunished.

Especially Lu Ziming, his dignified Lu family, the No. 1 wealthy family in the north of the Yangtze River, has a clan population of hundreds of people, and now he has to live alone.

At this time, Lu Ziming wanted to give Mark a thousand swords.

But these people hate it, and they themselves know that with Mark's strength, their entire Noifork martial arts combined, and they are not Mark's enemy in one move.

Therefore, what they can do now is to coerce public opinion and put pressure on the Martial God Temple.

Let the God of War and the others attack and kill Mark.

However, people like Lu Ziming obviously overestimated their influence.

In the face of absolute strength, what does the so-called public opinion count?

Just like the King of Fighters, he also wanted to follow public opinion and kill Mark.

But it was useless. The King of Fighters knew his own strength, and at most he could tie Mark.

It is difficult to defeat a grandmaster.

What's more, the King of Fighters may not even be able to defeat Mark.

“The King of Fighters, Mark deserves to die for all his sins~”

“Please, persuade the Sword Saint to them again...”

At this time, the King of Fighters was wearing a gray robe, just walking from under Yanshan Mountain.

After seeing the King of Fighters Mo Gucheng, Lu Ziming and the others, like people falling into the water, saw a straw for life, and they surrounded them like crazy.

Last time, Lu Jia was able to fish Lu Hua out of the martial arts court by relying on the power of the King of Fighters.

Therefore, this time Lu Ziming naturally placed more hopes on Mo Gucheng.

After all, Lu Ziming is also well aware of the grievances between Mo Gucheng and Mark.

Not only did Mark grab the title of the King of Fighters' son, he slapped the King of Fighters in full view before.

The fool guessed it, in the Martial God Temple, if you said that the one who wanted to kill Mark most was the King of Fighters Mo Gucheng.

However, in the face of Lu Ziming and other Noifork people's prayers, Mo Gucheng was expressionless.

He just glanced at them indifferently, and then walked forward without looking back, ignoring them.

“The King of Fighters~”

“King of Fighters, please see my father's friendship with you for many years, please help us Jiangbei again~”

Lu Ziming was not reconciled and was still begging.

The King of Fighters suddenly stopped. With his back to the crowd, the cold wind picked up his clothes and hunted in the wind.

After a brief silence, Mo Gucheng's deep voice sounded slowly.

“I persuade you to kill your heart.”

“The things that the Martial God Temple has decided, no matter how much public opinion you hold, it cannot be changed.”

“Go back early, stay here, it's just a waste of time.”

Source of “The Return of Abandoned Son-in-law”:

