

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 31

“Back then, Lydia Lin used my father, brother, and your life to force me to give up on you, and forced me to sleep with a stranger. I was locked in a dark room and endured day after day and never gave up. I always Tell yourself. I have loved ones, and I have loved ones. I can change the wellbeing of my loved ones, and one day, I can also wait for my Liam.”

“But you said, more than 1,800 long days, I have been struggling to survive. As long as they believe me, as long as they wait, we will be reunited immediately. Why did they choose to die? What is the purpose of years of suffering and pain?!”

“Liam Lu, I never regret meeting you. I have thought about it countless times, marrying you as a wife and giving birth to you, but we can't go back. You have someone you love, and a lovely daughter. You don't have any My position does not require me, and I am even less worthy.”

The cars ran wildly on the road, rubbing the bodies of the cars forward like a twisted dragon, and there was the sound of car horns all around and behind the car.

Liam Lu clasped the steering wheel tightly, his eyes were scarlet, his apple was rolling violently, and he shouted in a low voice.

“Why don't you say these words when I come back?”

A piercing pain swept through Liam Lu almost instantly.

In an instant, like a knuckle in the throat.

He hated her for five years, but never knew that she was living like this.

The car rushed forward crazily.

“Zoey, you are obedient. Stand still and wait for me and wait for me to come. As long as you agree, I will tell you my secret.”

“My daughter Alina Yin was not born to me or any woman. Anna Yun and I...”

“Liam...” Zoey Gu's tears flowed down, “I'm tired, I'm really tired.”

“Dad and brother must have not gone far, I want to go with them. Liam Lu, if there is an afterlife, we don't meet again...”

After she finished speaking, she straightened up abruptly to buckle the steering wheel, stepped on the accelerator, and rushed towards the cliff ahead without hesitation!

call...

The cold wind on the top of the mountain whizzed past, and the black car drew a perfect arc in the air, disappearing in a flash.

“Zoey...”

A bit of blood was sprayed on the steering wheel instantly.

Liam Lu’s hand slid violently, and the fast-moving car instantly lost control and slammed forward.

Bang!

The world is quiet.

On this day, the press in Berven City almost exploded.

The former president of the Gu family, Gu Yunshan and his son Chase Gu, and Zoey Gu, who were screaming by the Gu family members, drove down to the sea in Sushan in the same way.

Gu’s family seemed to have suffered a catastrophe.

Even Lydia Lin, the stepmother of Zoey Gu who had been in charge of the Gu family, disappeared from Berven City on the same day.

Liam Lu was in a coma after a car accident, and it was already a day after he woke up.

Shiyue pushed the door in, and was overjoyed when he woke up. Before he could speak, Liam Lu had already lifted the quilt and got out of bed, and came over and grabbed his collar a few steps.

“What about people?”

“Where is Zoey’s resignation?!”

Shiyue let him tugged, raised his head to meet those scarlet eyes, and said in a low voice.

“Liam, calm down. The sea is several kilometers deep, and even when people fall in with a car, Miss Gu has no sense of survival at all. Even if she can find someone now, she...it’s impossible. Alive.”
