

Chapter 312

Guan Yuewan looked up at Ji Yunshu with flying eyes and saw that there was no other meaning on his face before introducing him, "This is Ji Yunshu, he is the director of our research institute and my senior brother."

Horace nodded in a daze, "Oh, Dean, I can't see that you're so accomplished at such a young age, so is it okay if I call you Ji."

Kaji?

Guan Yuewan turned pale and was about to open his mouth, but Ji Yunshu was already smiling and nodding his head. "It can be done, Auntie."

When Guan Yue Wan saw this, it was hard to say anything else, holding the bowl, she whispered, "I'll go serve you guys rice."

I said and buried my head and hurried away.

Horace's eyes swiveled around the two men with ambiguous gazes, and he probably knew something about them.

She smiled politely and said, "Our Wan Wan child ah, everywhere is good, but now grown up, right, there are many matters of the heart also do not give us as parents to say, that little season, how old are you this year ah?"

Ji Yunshu smiled politely and said, "Just turned twenty-seven."

"Twenty-seven ah!"

He Lanxin took a deep breath, lining her heart, twenty-seven to become a dean, I'm afraid that the family background is not too simple.

She looked at Ji Yunshu again and saw that he was well-dressed, handsome, and smelled like an elitist at first glance, the type that was instantly appealing to people.

Helan Xin's heart couldn't help but create a few leaps and bounds and smiled, "Your research institute is very hard, isn't it? All day studying this disease and that disease."

Ji Yunshu replied honestly, "It's fine, it's a lot easier for us than clinical, and researching medicine is also to be able to better benefit mankind, so it's not considered hard work."

Hearing him answer like that, the smile on Horatio's face deepened.

"Just be young and productive anyway."

Ji Yunshu was embarrassed, "Auntie is overpraised."

It wasn't long before Guan Yuewan served rice over, she took one look at her mother and said unhappily, "Mom! Why do you ask so many questions?"

Horace stalled and glared at her, "What's wrong with Season coming to our house, I'm just asking?"

After saying that, he looked at Ji Yunshu again, "Right!"

Ji Yunshu naturally still smiled politely and nodded, "Yes, it's okay, auntie, whatever you want to know, just ask."

His words caused Guan Yuewan's hand holding the chopsticks to tighten slightly, only to feel as if his heartbeat had missed a beat and he was panicking.

He Lanxin was happy to hear his words, though, and smiled at him again, "I'm a bit long-winded in my old age, don't mind."

Ji Yunshu smiled politely and replied, "I won't mind, auntie is like this, quite like the elders in our family, very kind, I like it very much."

Horace's heart was almost laughing at his words, even more so.

Looking at her mother's happy appearance, Guan Yue Wan's eyelids jumped and her heart became even more panicked.

She blushed a little, but actually felt somehow, how this scene, the more it looked like a couple meeting their parents?

However, at the thought of Ji Yunshu's attitude and identity, and at the thought of himself, this thought was like being splashed with cold water and instantly cooled down.

Helan Xin didn't know what was in her heart, but she was very satisfied with Ji Yunshu's appearance of answering all questions, smiling, "You're a good boy when I look at you, unlike those slick little boys out there, you haven't got a family yet, right?"

Ji Yunshu answered honestly again, "Not yet."

The smile on Horace's face became even happier, nodding his head repeatedly, "Just no, no

It's good to have."

Guan Yuewan couldn't bear to watch anymore and glared at her, shouting, "Mom, dinner's ready."

Horace paused, touched her slightly indignant look, and was somewhat accosted, not saying anything.

Smiled apologetically at Ji Yunshu, "Little Ji, come on, eat, try Auntie's cooking, it's to your liking."

Ji Yunshu nodded his head, and only then did he pick up his chopsticks and start eating.

The meal was very silent and awkward, during which no one spoke, except for Hellsing who occasionally asked a few questions, and Ji Yunshu who answered them all.

Ji Yunshu quickly finished eating and afterwards, he said to them very politely, "I'm full, you guys eat slowly."

Horace was slightly stunned and said, "Why are you eating just this much? Did you think Auntie's cooking wasn't good?"

Ji Yunshu shook her head in a row, "No, Auntie's cooking is quite good, but because I came out late and ate a bit in the morning, I'm not very hungry right now."

The way he explained it seriously made it seem sincere and not at all slick.

It dawned on Horace, and he nodded, "Oh, so, that's okay, just eat your fill."

After a pause, he looked at the absent-minded Guan Yue Wan across the room again and smiled, "Well then, since you're full, you and Wan Wan can go chat for a while, so you don't have to worry about it here."

Naturally, Ji Yunshu was very supportive of her proposal and looked at Guan Yuewan who was sitting opposite.

Guan Yue Wan, however, pouted in dissatisfaction, "Mom, I haven't had enough!"

Horace snapped at her with a double stare, "What didn't you eat? Look at you, you've gained weight, just eat less as a diet! You don't look like you have much of an appetite anyway, so don't force yourself, go ahead and have a chat with Kiki, I'll clean up here."

When she finished, she was driven from the table.

Guan Yue Wan: "....."

She was almost certain now that she was definitely not biological.

Ji Yun Shu couldn't help but smile at the situation and said, "It's okay, let Wan Wan continue to eat, she's not fat, she's quite good, I can wait until she finishes eating before we talk."

A certain person is very good at taking good advice, a wan wan, called Guan Yue Wan's heart and liver trembled, heart like a deer banging around.

She buried her head even lower, not needing to look up to feel a searing gaze on her.

Naturally, the meal was unbearable, so I took a deep breath, "Never mind, I'm not eating."

Then he got up and ran upstairs.

Ji Yunshu was startled, not sure what was wrong with her.

Horace smiled apologetically, "Sorry, she's not in a good mood these days, don't mind."

Not in a good mood? Ji Yunshu looked startled and his face changed a little.

He couldn't help but think of the night before last, was she in a bad mood because of that night?

So, she's really angry!

He couldn't help but smile again at the thought, and figured that it was only right that she should be angry as well, and the whole thing would have been his own fault.

Thinking so, he managed to smile at Horace and said, "It's okay, Auntie, I'll go check on her then."

Horace nodded and waved his hand, "Go on then."

Only then did Ji Yunshu get up and chase after him upstairs.

When he got upstairs, he pushed on the door, which wasn't unlocked and had obviously been left on purpose by the other man.

Chapter 313

With a smile on his lips, he pushed the door open and walked in, then saw the girl in the white jumper standing in front of the window, not knowing what to think.

He coughed and walked over to me, asking, "What's wrong with you?"

Guan Yue Wan looked shocked and did not turn back.

Just shook his head and said, "Nothing."

Ji Yunshu chanted a little and asked, "Why are you unhappy? Is it because..."

He paused, and when she didn't say anything, he hesitated a little before saying, "Are you still angry about last night?"

The words caused Guan Yue Wan to be slightly startled and her face suddenly changed.

Ji Yunshu had been paying close attention to her and saw her change colour.

Eventually I explained, "I didn't mean to do it the night before last, I was drugged and didn't have control over myself, and while I know that's not a good enough reason for you to forgive me, I'm going to explain it to you."

As soon as he finished speaking, Guan Yue Wan turned her head abruptly and looked at him, that gaze was very complicated.

A half-hearted sound came out, "You mean, you were unintentional the night before last? You would never have done something like that if you hadn't been drugged, and you're here today to specifically apologize to me?"

Ji Yunshu nodded.

There was a darkness in the girl's eyes, like she was a little hurt and disappointed.

She forced a smile and said, "Okay, I know, I forgive you."

Ji Yunshu was slightly stunned, never thought she would forgive so cleanly, standing there, surprisingly at a loss for words.

Before coming here, he had predetermined many possibilities, how she would react, how she would blame him, whether she would make a fuss over him, and he had even prepared for the fact that if she really cared that much, then he would go back to his family and tell them, even if she wanted Mrs. Ji's place.

But she said nothing, except, I forgive you.

Just like that....

Ji Yunshu stood there and fell silent, only feeling stuffy and strangely uncomfortable.

On the other hand, Guan Yue Wan felt her heart beating like thunder, like it was going to jump out of her chest.

The man beside him had been standing there silent, what was he thinking? Why don't you go?

She couldn't help it at last, and spoke out, "You've apologized, and I forgive you, anything else?"

Ji Yunshu stalled and looked at her, not really knowing where to begin.

His silence made Guan Yuewan's nose slightly sore, and his heart sank further and further.

He really didn't like himself, and last night was nothing more than an unintentional mistake for him, and it was over and done with.

He comes to apologize to her, hoping she'll forgive, and then what? And then I'm afraid they'll go their separate ways and never see each other again! Why else would he be silent?

The girl's eyes grew red, and Ji Yunshu looked at her reddened eyes, a heart gripped tightly together, some stifling pain, very uncomfortable.

Was she blaming him for this? You say you've forgiven him, but you still hate him, don't you!

After all, it was her first time! It was so inexplicably taken away from her by a man she didn't know very well, and she must have hated him in her heart.

He sighed softly, the words he had wanted to say because her tears suddenly wouldn't come out.

Finally, he sighed sorrowfully and said in a deep voice, "I'm sorry about this. Even if you don't forgive me, you should."

s, so you don't have to go out of your way to give an answer against your will."

Guan Yue Wan shook her head, her face smiling, but the tears in her eyes had rolled down.

She wiped her hands and tears and said, "I am not aggrieved or disobedient. It's over, I don't want to talk about it, so go away."

Her appearance made Ji Yunshu's heart grow tighter and tighter, and it felt like something was strangling her throat, so painful that she couldn't breathe.

But in the end, he just nodded and muffled, "Well, then, get some rest!"

After a pause, he added, "If you need anything, remember to call me, you can take as much time off as you want from the Institute, you don't need to rush back to work."

Guan Yue Wan didn't look at him and said coldly, "I know."

Her coldness made Ji Yunshu taste bitterness for the first time, the corners of his lips quirked in mockery, and without any further words, he turned and walked out.

Walking downstairs, I saw Hershey sitting in the living room as if she was waiting for something.

He walked over and politely said, "Auntie, I have work to do, so I'll leave."

Horace turned around and looked at him a little surprised, "Why are you leaving so soon, play a little more and then stay for dinner."

Ji Yunshu shook his head, "No, the hospital is temporarily occupied, so I won't bother."

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu didn't know what was happening on Ji Yun Shu's side.

Leroy's illness was repeated back and forth in the hospital, and after a week or so he was finally all better.

The day she was discharged from the hospital, she was the one who picked up the mother and son herself.

Seeing that the New Year was still twenty days away, Jenny Jing asked Nina Hua to think carefully about whether to stay in Kyoto for the New Year, or return to Visterdem.

Although Hua's father is still reluctant to contact her, but the father-daughter bond, after so many years, can't just be lost, not to mention that the right and wrong of it can't be made clear in a single sentence.

Nina Hua promised to think about it, she's been busy working out and is preparing to return after the start of the year.

It's a bit of a rush, but if you can work, at least you'll have some distraction and your mood will follow.

Jenny doesn't have a problem with her decision, but Nina Hua's contract is still with Huashi, and when Hua Jingze was trying to force her into softness, he withheld her contract and didn't allow any drama to find her, so if Nina Hua is really ready to make a comeback, she still needs to go back there sooner or later.

Only though Lele was out of the hospital, Nina Hua was still a little uneasy and nervous all day.

When Jenny saw this, he made an appointment with Ji Yunshu and asked him when he was free to come in and give the child a full body checkup.

The check was fake, to ease Nina Hua's mind was real.

She's so nervous about the baby right now, the slightest hiccup, the whole thing is so tense.

Jenny felt that coming down like this was not a long-term solution.

She can actually understand that Nina Hua giving birth to this child behind Hua Jingze's back is tantamount to breaking with the Hua family, losing her family and having no husband, a single woman with a child, and the child is her entire spiritual support.

If anything goes wrong with the baby, I'm just afraid she won't survive.

Ji Yunshu heard the news and rushed over that afternoon.

With Ji Yunshu as a professional here, and his usual steady demeanor, he was deeply trusted by Nina Hua.

So after the examination, he said there was no problem, and only then did Nina Hua completely believe that the child had indeed recovered.

Chapter 314

To show his gratitude, Nina Hua invited Ji Yunshu to stay for dinner.

But it was politely rejected by Ji Yunshu.

I don't know if it was Jenny's delusion, but she always felt that Ji Yunshu was a bit abnormal lately.

A man who used to be gentle and elegant, a man with great intentions, has always been lightly locked between his eyebrows lately with a faint colour of boredom.

With an attitude of concern, Jenny asked as he sent him out, "Doctor Ji, have you encountered any trouble recently? Why does it feel like you have something on your mind?"

Ji Yunshu was stunned and barely smiled.

"Nothing."

"Really?"

"Well, really." In the meantime, he paused, suddenly remembering that innocent, clean face.

Jenny saw that he was reluctant to talk, so he didn't want to ask more questions, and after sending him to the car, this waved his hand and watched him leave.

Time passes by in the blink of an eye.

In the blink of an eye, it was Happy's 100th birthday party.

Although Nina Hua didn't have many friends and family in Kyoto, this was a very important day for the child after all, so neither Jenny nor Nina Hua wanted to be ambiguous.

I invited a few good friends and threw a small 100th birthday banquet at Focus on the Mansion in Kyoto, which was rightfully a celebration.

Since it was close to the end of the year, everyone also had a hard time taking time off and all of them arrived in a very respectful manner.

Even Ji Yunshu, who had taken a break from the pile of busy data reports at the institute, had bought a small playground for Little Happy as a hundred-day gift.

A party, and it was a warm and grand affair.

Ji Yunshu had a research paper to write in the evening, so he could only stay here for half an hour before leaving.

And on the other side, the downstairs bar.

The Focus Villa is an upscale entertainment and leisure club, with leisure activities on the tenth floor and above, but a large bar on the first three floors.

Guan Yue Wan receives a message from Gu Zi Jun that he is here and asks her to come over and clear things up between the two.

Although Gu's mother was driven away by her that day, the Gu family's desire to marry the Guan family had remained intact.

Guan Yue Wan felt that the previous generation was not easy to communicate with, although even if she really didn't want to marry Gu Zi Jun, the Gu family wouldn't dare to do anything to her, but tugging and pulling, in the end it was a problem.

Therefore, it would be a good thing if he could really talk it through with Gu Zijun.

With that in mind, she came to her appointment.

Only when I arrived did I realize that today was Gu Zijun's birthday.

Gu Zijun wore a very fashionable hooded sweatshirt today, and wore a red hair band on his head, looking gangly.

He sized her up and whistled, "Yo, I thought you said you weren't coming? Why did you end up here?"

Guan Yuewan stared at him fiercely and said in a no-nonsense manner, "If I don't come, can you tell your mother not to come and harass my house in the future?"

Gu Zijun wasn't angry and smiled, "I can't guarantee that, after all, my mother is just interested in you and wants you to be her daughter-in-law, what can I do?"

Guan Yue Wan snorted coldly, looking at this man's smug look, only wishing to be able to beat him severely.

Gu Zijun, however, had turned around and walked inside, taking two steps, saw her still standing there and raised her eyebrows, "What are you staring at? Come here!"

Guan Yue Wan gritted her teeth, remembering her mother's explanation before leaving the house, and had no choice but to follow him over.

As I walked to my seat, I noticed there were a lot of people there, both men and women.

Gu Zijun's birthday, naturally, wouldn't be too quiet, but their group of people were all playing rather crazy, it wasn't that Guan Yuewan had never heard of it before, it was just the first time she saw it, and she was still a little dumb.

The only ones present, all in pairs, no single, and she and Gu Zijun standing like this, naturally easy to misunderstand.

Realizing this, Guan Yue Wan suddenly understood Gu Zijun's intentions in calling himself here today, and his face couldn't help but darken even further.

They went over, and before they sat down, someone had already asked, "Zi Jun, who's this?"

Gu Zi Jun smiled evilly and took Guan Yue Wan's shoulders, "My girlfriend, Wan Wan!"

Guan Yue Wan frowned and directly shook his hand away.

Gu Zijun naturally sensed her rejection and narrowed his eyes, not saying anything.

Then, they introduced the group of people in front of them one by one to Guan Yue Wan.

Although Guan Yue Wan's face was expressionless, but with so many people in the way, it was always hard to be too cold faced, so they all nodded their heads.

The group only thought of him as a girlfriend who was a little high and cold, so they didn't think much of it, and the group quickly played along.

Gu Zijun saw the situation, leaned over and lowered his voice, "Be good, play a good play with me, I'll talk to you when it's done, don't worry, I, Gu Zijun, am not unpopular, I have to beg you for one, just in front of my brother, you can't let me down can you?"

Guan Yue Wan sneered, not commenting.

Gu Zijun stroked his chin, said nothing, and turned to play with his gang of friends.

Guan Yue Wan didn't like their group of people's style, so from the beginning to the end, she had been sitting in the corner by herself, not participating in any of their games.

As time went on, even Gu Zijun's friend sensed that something was wrong and pushed his arm, lowering his voice, "Eh, is this girlfriend of yours still not done? Look at how high and cold people are, they don't even talk to us."

Gu Zi Jun turned to look at her, only to see her sitting there with a cold face and a bit of a bad complexion.

His eyes were cold and he snorted, "I'm going to get her sooner or later."

The man saw him say that, smiled, said nothing more, and turned to go back to playing.

A moment later, Gu Zijun walked over to Guan Yue Wan, handed her a glass of wine and said, "You've already come, who are you showing that face to? Have a drink!"

Guan Yue Wan looked up at him, frowned, and said in a deep voice, "I don't drink."

Gu Zi Jun heard this as if he had heard something strange and laughed.

"You come to a bar and don't drink, and you think this is a children's playground?"

Guan Yue Wan was not moved at all, her tone was cold, "It's not like I'm not used to it, you can talk to me first, after that we'll break up in one shot and not disturb each other, how about it?"

"You!"

Gu Zijun choked in extreme anger, and their conversation fell into the ears of a middle-aged man not too far away, laughing coldly.

Gu Zi Jun glared at her angrily, and Guan Yue Wan didn't look at him either, sitting there playing with his own phone.

Half-heartedly, he eventually felt bored and turned around and exhaled.

When he returned to his place, the man who had watched them snicker before suddenly beckoned to him.

Gu Zijun walked in and asked, "Fai, what's wrong?"

The man called Fai lifted his chin and pointed to Guan Yue Wan who was sitting in the corner, "Your girlfriend, still not done?"

Gu Zijun frowned, afraid that he would make fun of himself, and snorted, "What didn't get done?The woman is small-minded, it's just a little conflict in the past two days, but normally she is submissive to me."
