

Chapter 3144– 3145 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 3144

It is under this complicated emotion that Adam Han has insomnia for many days, and it is difficult to fall asleep at all.

Especially, after learning that Chu Zhengliang had recently retreated, the worries in Old Han's heart were undoubtedly even worse.

The most powerful of the Chu family today are undoubtedly the two brothers Chu Zhenghong and Chu Zhengliang.

Back then, their brothers, known as the two heroes of the Chu family, were one of the best.

Especially before Mark's father, Chu Zhenghong, did not concentrate on martial arts, Chu Zhengliang's limelight in the Chu family was undoubtedly even greater.

At that time, everyone believed that the next Patriarch of the Chu family was Chu Zhengliang.

But who would have thought that Chu Zhenghong later practiced like crazy.

In just a few years, he became a master and became a title.

While practicing, Yiqi Juechen!

In the end, in the battle for Patriarch, Chu Zhenghong narrowly defeated Chu Zhengliang and became the Patriarch of the Chu Family.

That is to say, since then, Chu Zhengliang, who was once talented, faded out of everyone's sight.

Gradually, the world only knew the name of Chu Zhenghong of the Chu family, but they had forgotten that Chu Zhengliang, who was once known as the two heroes of the Chu family together with the head of the Chu family.

Today, Chu Zhenghong's position as the head of the family has been abolished and his whereabouts are unknown.

After the turn of events, Chu Zhengliang finally took control of the Chu family.

Chu Zhengliang, who has kept a low profile for many years, has once again shown his edge.

At this time, Old Han had to worry about how much Chu Zhengliang's strength would grow after he obtained the endless resources of the Chu family?

The current Elder Han can only pray that Chu Zhengliang's retreat will not make much progress.

Time, like this, gradually passed by in the state of expectation and worry of Old Han.

During this period, Chumen Mountain still remained calm.

However, Chu Qitian, the Young Patriarch of the Chu Family, was a little embarrassed, thinking about borrowing money every day.

Although the Chu family has a solid foundation, its size is too large, and its daily expenses are almost astronomical.

In the past, when there was no change, they just barely reached the balance of payments.

But now that the financial resources have been cut in half overnight, it is conceivable that the financial pressure of the Chu family will be great.

"Father, let's leave early."

"If you don't come out, my son will really be unable to hold it~"

Chu Qitian wanted to cry without tears, and every day he ran out of his father's closed room and cried out a few words.

However, today's Chu Qitian, where did he know that a storm that is about to sweep across the four directions is frantically brewing.

On the other side of the ocean, Mark led a number of powerful men and was undergoing final penance.

The combined attack formation method has also begun to take shape after many days of practice.

Next, what Mark did was to train their tacit understanding.

Until, the power of this formation is fully displayed.

"Lord Dragon, can you take a break?"

“Our day and night practice, even the iron body, can’t hold it.” By the side of Denham, Gaia, sweating profusely, couldn’t help but utter a bitter voice to Ye. Fan complained.

During this time, Mark was going crazy, training them like a devil.

It is not only the practice of formation, but also the actual confrontation.

After several months of high-intensity training, even the titled master is too much to bear.

However, facing Gaia’s request, Mark directly refused.

“You don’t want to rest until you have really mastered the combined attack formation.”

Mark’s majestic and cold voice completely dispelled Gaia and the others’ idea of taking a break.

Afterwards, continue to practice according to Mark’s request.

Mark stood in the distance, just staring coldly.

In fact, he himself knows that continuous months of high-intensity training is not a small pressure for them.

However, this is the best way to gain strong power at the fastest speed.

Maybe it’s a bit bitter, a bit tired.

However, only hellish training can create the power of heaven.

Only the fingers that bleed can make the world’s absolute sound!

Chapter 3145

Time continues to pass.

Mark led the Dragon God powerhouse to train day after day.

In the land of Wrifill, Helen Qiu is still as usual, presiding over the group affairs during the day. But every night in the dead of night, this stunning girl can’t help but miss the young man named Mark.

I wonder what he is doing now, how is his life without her? Would you think about yourself, did you cook for him after returning to the residence?

Having been married to Mark for so long, Helen Qiu knew that he was actually someone who didn't care much about the cost of eating and drinking.

Don't look at it before, when Mark was at home, he always prepared meals in time.

But that's because I will go home for dinner.

If only Mark were alone, he would actually be too lazy to cook, and would not feel hungry even if he didn't eat for a day.

Even if Mark washed a piece of clothing until it faded, he wouldn't even think about buying a new one for himself.

Now think about it, for so many years, Mark has treated her meticulously, but he has been treating himself badly all the time.

Buy yourself the most beautiful clothes and the most expensive gifts, even the Yunding Mountain Villa in front of you is for yourself.

That silly guy seemed to put all his mind on making others happy, but he rarely considered himself.

Thinking about it, Helen Qiu smiled quietly at the corner of her mouth.

She suddenly felt that she was so lucky to meet such a good and such a good boy.

However, at this moment, Helen Qiu didn't even know what kind of dangerous business the man she missed day and night was doing.

A similar scene was also staged in Denham.

During this time, Mark's mother, Ye Ximei, had already put down most of the work in the company.

Now, he has devoted more time to caring for that child.

Although many people persuaded Ye Ximei to call the police and hand the child to the police for handling.

They don't need to raise children for others.

But Ye Ximei was reluctant.

I don't know why, from the first glance she saw the child, she felt that there was an inexplicable kindness.

That feeling seemed to be carved into the bones and flowed into the blood.

Moreover, the more Ye Ximei looked at it, the more he felt that this child was especially like Mark's childhood.

Even Ye Ximei planned to let them do a paternity test when Mark came back.

However, since Mark left that night, there has been no more news.

This was not the first time, Ye Ximei was a bit accustomed to Mark's sudden disappearance, but he was still a little worried.

"Sister, don't worry about it."

"My nephew is so powerful, what can happen?"

"Besides, it's not the first time."

"A few times before, didn't he also leave suddenly.

" So, just put a hundred hearts on it."

"It will be fine."

Sister Samantha ye persuaded her from the side.

Ye Ximei didn't answer, just looked out the window and sighed long.

"This kid has made people worry about it since he was a child~"

Ye Ximei remembered that when Mark joined the Zhuqiu family in those few years, it took a long, long time to contact her.

Ye Ximei was worried about the safety of her son, but what could she do?

She was only a weak woman after all, and she couldn't help Mark at all. All we can do is worry about this in vain.

Sometimes, Ye Ximei would also think that if Mark's father was there, it is estimated that someone would be able to share the worries in his heart.

.....

Time, like quicksand at the fingertips, quietly passed by in the worries of Ye Ximei and others.

During this time, it was like the calm before the storm.

Nothing major happened in the entire martial arts world.

The only person who has the action is the hot summer martial arts.

Since returning home from feathers that night, the Juggernaut and others immediately strengthened their defenses against the hot summer.
