

Chapter 3196– 3197 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 3196

He Yurou clasped her hands, tiptoes and stared at the direction of Yunding Mountain, muttering in her heart:

“Mr. Chu, will you come?”

However, just when everyone was waiting for Mark.

The land of Fenghai a hundred miles away.

It is a mountain, standing among the wilderness.

The mountain stands majestic, towering into the clouds.

Like a long sword, straight into the sky.

At this time, on the top of the mountain, one person stood sideways.

The man has a delicate face and a thin body. Judging from his clothes, he looks like a young man who has just entered the society, and his delicate face is a bit childish and green.

However, who could have imagined that such a young man has the power and power that can sweep the world in his hand.

The majesty revealed in the deep pupils is almost surrendered.

He raised his head, and saw black clouds rolling over his head, and lightning and lightning could not help flashing in the thundercloud.

The deafening sound is endless.

If it's an ordinary person, I'm afraid it's already scared, so let's go down the mountain in fear.

After all, in a thunderstorm, living in a high place can easily be struck by lightning.

But the young man in front of him had no fear.

Even on the delicate face, there was a bit of expectation and surprise.

It seems that the person who walks in the dark night is finally waiting, the light he has been waiting for!

“Is this day finally here?” The red lips lightly opened , and the boy’s faint words sounded quietly.

Then, the young man drew his eyebrows and majesty, and he muffled: “Gods, return to their place!”

Boom ~ As

if Chunlei exploded, awakening the sleeping world.

At the moment when the boy’s words fell, under the flooded sky, only a few flashes of light flashed.

After that, several silhouettes of people are like a sea of rivers and rivers. The speed is so fast that he was born between the heavens and rivers, bringing back afterimages.

Whoosh whoosh~ In just a few breaths, there are already several people standing in the empty field in front of the boy.

“Guardian Gaia~”

“Guardian Owen~”

....

“Kneel down and worship the Dragon Lord!” The booming sound was like thunder

The four dragon gods worshipped together, and the voices of the sky gathered into a stream, shaking the world.

Yes, these four people in front of them are the four dragon gods who have been closed for months and practiced in the name of Mark.

Although it has only been three months, the aura of these four people has almost changed dramatically compared to before.

If you say, the four dragon gods before, are like raging fires, burning the world.

The four dragon gods today are the swords of the hidden box, with a restrained aura and a return to the original.

This is the power of the heavenly book.

During these three months, Mark gave special training to the four dragon gods in accordance with the method recorded in the Yundao Tianshu.

Just to increase the odds of winning for the next battle of Truman.

“In these three months, you have made rapid progress, and the combined attacking method I taught you has already mastered.” “However, if you want to perfect the formation, just practice hard training, it is not enough.”

“Also. Need, with the help of the power of heaven and earth!”

Mark stood with his hands on top of the mountains and rivers, and the sound of majesty echoed.

When Gaia and others heard this, they were suddenly puzzled: “Looking at the power of heaven and earth?”

“Excuse me, Dragon Lord, how should we borrow?”

Mark replied, “Method, I will naturally teach you.”

“However, You must be psychologically prepared.”

“This process will be extremely painful.”

“Those who are afraid of it, it is too late to withdraw now.”

Mark looked at them.

But the four people in front of them all had their eyes like torches and did not retreat the slightest.

Upon seeing this, Mark nodded immediately: “Very good.”

“Everyone, I have a saying in the summer.”

“Only with bloody fingers can the world’s swan song pop out.”

“Only by experiencing hellish tempers can you create The power of heaven.”

“Now, I, Chu Tianfan, will give you the power to create heaven!”

Chapter 3197

The words are bold, with the majesty of dominating the world.

At this time, Mark, like a monarch, ruled the world.

Then, Mark’s soles slammed on the ground. Between the boom and the trembling mountains and rivers, under the feet of the four dragon gods, there was a burst of magic opening.

The beam of light soaring into the sky shrouded all four people in front of him.

Immediately afterwards, Mark’s mixed voice sounded again.

“You wait for the Dragon God, and listen to my orders.”

“Release your energy, and then immediately end up!” After the words fell, Gaia and the others immediately responded.

The soaring power was suddenly released.

At the same time, all four of them came out and joined each other.

In a short moment, the four of them breathed together, matched each other’s power and power, almost as one.

At this time, Mark looked around and drank from the sky: “Thunder!”

Rumble ~ The

wind is blowing, and the sea of clouds is churning.

In the depths of the Tianhe River, the long-awaited thunder is like being called by traction.

Suddenly fall!

Like a thunder dragon running through the sky, the electric light hits the heart of the sky.

Soaring into the sky and thunder sea, almost instantly, it enveloped Gaia and others.

At that time, Gaia and others had never dreamed of it.

Mark's so-called fascinating place, even struck them with lightning.

Gaia and the others are almost desperate!

The thunder is the mighty sky. Under the thunder, can they still live?

However, when he realized Mark's true intentions, it was too late.

The strong power of thunder has already swallowed them directly like a sea of abyss.

The pain of getting into the bone, the pain of tempering.

Even if they are all titled bodies, the pain is still unbearable for them, almost crazy!

"Ah ah ah ah~"

Gaia and others screamed at the top of the mountain.

At this time, they seemed to be suffering from the pain of burning fire.

The feeling of burning and tearing almost broke them.

Several times, they thought they were going to be crushed under the thunder.

However, what makes them feel extremely strange is that they are clearly on the verge of collapse, and as long as the power of the thunder is stronger, they will pass out.

However, whenever they can't bear it, the power of Thunder will be appropriately weaker.

But before they kicked a few breaths, the power of thunder became stronger again.

That kind of feeling, it's as if someone is holding this balance, letting them wander back and forth in life and death, collapse and sobriety.

Time just passed slowly like this.

Gaia and the other four people in it suffered unabated pain.

Heart-piercing screams resounded throughout the world.

Under the tempering of the thunder, Gaia and the others seemed to hear the sound of broken bones.

Mark, who was not far away, looked at their painful expressions, but above their delicate faces, he was calm.

It seems that everything in front of him has not caused any waves in Mark's heart.

Quietly watching them live and watch them die.

It is not that Mark is ruthless, but Mark knows that if he wants to become a butterfly, he should experience the pain of breaking the cocoon.

Just like a piece of pig iron, if you want to become a peerless sword, you must endure the pain of burning fire and the pain of tempering.

Yes, to Mark, the four dragon gods such as Gaia are the pieces of pig iron. The thunder in front of him is a raging fire.

And Mark was the swordsmith.

Take the Dragon God as the iron, the heaven and the earth as the furnace, and the thunder as the fire.

With a fearless heart, cast the supreme sword and sweep the world!

“Mark, Mark~~”

Just when Ye Fanjing watched the transformation of Gaia and others, there was a voice not far away.

Mark turned to look, only to see a beautiful woman with a pretty face, rushing towards here with anxiety.

When Mark saw this, he was shocked and quickly said, “Yue Yao, don't come over~”

But it was too late.

At this time, Yue Yao had already reached the foot of the mountain.

The power of thunder that spilled out instantly swept away towards Yue Yao's place.
