

Chapter 3240

people looked around in a panic in the black mist of the mountains. It was really weird. They only heard human voices, but not the shadows. Some of them are still good, and they are actually not at all. I can't sense what's strange around me.

However, just when they were at a loss, a dark shadow slowly appeared.

"You can actually keep up with me?" The voice was indifferent, but to be honest, it was also full of questions and seemed quite surprised.

Naturally, this person is George Han.

"Is it Daxia Han?" The leader knelt down first.

"Heroes are not counted." George Han shook his head calmly, and walked a few steps in front of the group of kneeling people.

In the darkness, although the image was blurry, you could still see George Han standing proudly.

"Then... call you grandpa?"

"No, it's just a code name, it doesn't matter." George Han finished speaking, still staring at them coldly, obviously waiting for them to answer his own question.

"We have lived here for a long time, and we have our own unique walking methods. Although your speed is fast, but..."

George Han nodded, "What's the matter?"

"Most people in Devil Cloud Ghost City have been disbanded, but honestly, We think about it. For so many years, with the ghosts, we will only rob homes and robs. Apart from nothing else, there is only a full of evil spirits. You gave us money to let us live again, but... the world is so big, but There is no place for me to wait." The leader finished speaking, looking up at George Han pitifully.

It wasn't the Pei family group that George Han thought, but Hong Luan and other people were unexpectedly waiting.

"What do you mean..." George Han frowned slightly.

"I am waiting to discuss, I want to follow you."

"Yes, although we were all evil generations and betrayed ghosts before, please believe that we are also forced by life, which is really compelling. In fact, we are tired of the existence there, so there are people standing there. When you come out, betray the ghost."

"If you are willing to take it in, I will definitely wait and swear to follow." When the words fell, the group of people behind her also squatted their heads: "Yes, grandpa, I'll wait. They are all determined to follow and swear allegiance to the death. If it violates today's words, it will be thunderous and thunderous." A group of people finished speaking, and even raised their hands to swear.

George Han didn't say anything. The Mysterious People Alliance certainly needs people, but it has always been better for him than for the purpose of helping the mang of the rivers and lakes.

Regardless of their backgrounds, George Han found it difficult for George Han to accept their words if they knew each other one-sidedly.

But they are indeed very sincere in their eyes, following them for dozens of miles, especially after they have obtained the money they have allocated to them, they should think about living their own lives.

So it's not unbelievable to follow sincerely now.

"There are people outside the mountains, there are mountains outside the mountains, today you wait for me to follow me because of my strong strength, if I lose in the future, what should you do? Instead of doing this sooner or later, it is better to take advantage of you to have some money and go away. Wouldn't it be better?" George Han sighed, but still chose to refuse: "Besides, you are all capable people. As long as you don't do evil, wanting to stand alone is not a problem."

"Grandpa dislikes us ." Are you born?"

"I still think we have a precedent for betrayal? Don't trust?" When a group of people heard George Han's words, they couldn't help but feel sad, and they were extremely disappointed.

"As long as I let your lives go, I believe in you. Otherwise, how could you and Guizun and Yumian Shura's fate be different? But because you have experienced life and death, I hope you will cherish yourself more. Life, besides, if you follow me, you may not have good results."

"The road is heading towards the sky, go aside, don't follow me anymore, otherwise, don't blame me for being ruthless." When the words fell, George Han threw down some gold and silver jewelry again and quickly disappeared into the mountains.

The Hongluan group only glanced at the treasure, but when they raised their eyes, they searched around, and they could no longer see the slightest amount of people.

When the night passed and the sky cleared, the mountains in the mountains restored their original deepness and bleakness under the shining sun.

On the other side of the mountain, this is no longer a piece of red soil. On the contrary, there is even some green grass and green trees on the ground here. Unlike the land of the demon race, where there is dead gray everywhere, it seems to be full of life.

At this time, a figure slowly walked out of the mountains..

Chapter 3241

"Strange."

The figure touched his head and looked around unwillingly, feeling quite depressed.

Since leaving Hongluan's gang away last night, George Han has not actually gone far, but has hidden his breath. After confirming that Hongluan and others have left, he reappeared and walked around the mountains. Looking for it.

The good news is that before the seal of the earth broke out, he flew almost every corner of the mountain.

The bad news is that even so, he did not find the pangolin and others' whereabouts, and the seal of the earth recurred in the middle of the night.

Simply, George Han was considered "experienced" for the short-term coma after the relapse. About half an hour after being in the coma, George Han woke up, but there was a feeling of weakness and exhaustion that his body was hollowed out.

After resting for about an hour, George Han fumbled around for a while. Fortunately, it might have been a lot brighter. Although George Han found no one, he also found some traces.

Not far from the entrance of the mountain, there is a very small hole in the earth.

This way, George Han also noticed subtle footsteps from the mountain exit, but it was a pity that because the people from the Devil Cloud Ghost City were released, when George Han came early in the morning, there were already a lot of footprints in this place.

Lifting his eyes to the front, he saw that in the distance ahead, a large city stood firmly there, the wall was as high as the clouds, and it seemed to be able to climb to the top and pick the stars, so mighty.

Looking ahead, it is vaguely visible that many refugees from Devil Cloud Ghost City are flocking to that big city.

"Could it be that the pangolins went there too?" George Han frowned.

It seems very likely that the mountain is the only exit from the land of red earth. Although I have discussed with the pangolins and others that the location for the first meeting is outside the boundary of the land of red earth, a few people did not know that this exit was the mountain at first. The mountains are not high, and hiding is actually not easy, especially in the daytime when people can see the same from the sky. In addition, this place is too close to the red earth. If you are yourself, you can choose when you can't guarantee safety. The big city in front of him was waiting for himself, which seemed to be normal.

After all, the city in front is also the only city to go out, but scattered in the city is conducive to hiding.

Thinking of this, George Han just wanted to take a step, and footsteps rushed behind him.

Looking back, they saw that five old men were walking slowly.

George Han was about to leave, but an old man had already seen George Han and spoke first: "Young man, you are really afraid that Hell won't catch you." As soon as he said, the old man next to him also spoke: "Then But no, the Devil Cloud Ghost City was finally broken by the gods and the gods, and the gods showed mercy to liberate me and wait for my freedom.

We are old and weak until dawn, but unexpectedly, you still arrive at this young age. Therefore, you are young...slavish.”

“Exactly.”

A group of old men said righteously to George Han, which really made George Han at this time dumbfounded.

How did they know that the god-man in their mouth was standing in front of him at this moment.

Obviously, they regarded themselves as slaves of Devil Cloud Ghost City who had been imprisoned in the underground world for a long time like them.

George Han was about to talk. Several elderly people came over, patted George Han on the shoulder, and said, “What are you still doing? Right.”

George Han smiled. Anyway, he has to go to the so-called Going Down City ahead. Now that the seal of his own land is restored, he has not avoided some unnecessary troubles, and it is not bad to follow them.

Besides, it’s not bad to listen to some old men chatting along the way.

Thinking of this, George Han did not refuse, and followed a few old men towards the distant city of Cailao.

Along the way, George Han also slowly began to gain a general understanding of the city in front from the conversations between the old men, but when he heard so rapturously, suddenly a group of old men stopped.

Then, they knelt on the ground violently, George Han didn’t know what they were going to do, but in the next second, he was completely dumbfounded...
