

Chapter 3254

“Huh.”

Seeing George Han being escorted in, Captain Tu was sitting right in front of the interrogation table with a sneer, holding a red soldering iron in his hand. , Looks cold and ruthless.

Several soldiers tied George Han to the torture, and obediently retreated aside.

Around the torture frame, there are not only fire torture, but also iron yoke, and there are some weird things that can't be named, but just look extremely oozing.

George Han smiled bitterly. It was really enough to see him. In order to estimate that these dozens of major penalties have been taken out, those who know this also know that they are acting alone. If you don't know this, I'm afraid I would think This is to punish the entire cell.

However, what surprised George Han was that this guy didn't rush to do it, just staring at him with a smile.

Just when George Han was a little impatient, a small soldier rushed in at this time: “Captain, people are here.”

“Bring in.” Captain Tu shouted happily, and the small soldier immediately took his order and retreated.

Not long after, the sound of footsteps hit, George Han looked around, and saw five old men hurriedly rushing in, accompanied by soldiers.

When I saw George Han, Lao Ju and the others were immediately worried. However, with Captain Tu in front, Lao Ju and the others could only greet him quickly: “I've seen the chief.”

Captain Tu chuckled and waved his big hand. Several soldiers moved five stools and came in immediately, just astonishing the five old men.

“Our team has always been honest and fair in doing things. Five people don't have to worry about it. Our team will not embarrass the five people, but see that the five are old, so please take five seats.”

Hearing this, Lao Ju and others thanked him and sat down. .

“This son had a conflict with me in the tavern before, but this team is not a villain. I can put him in the face of the five, but the five must have seen it before. This son is in front of the city lord, openly.

Although the team advised him many times, the influence was too great, and the movement was too violent. I can't help it.”

“Now, the city lord suspects that he is a spy in Devil Cloud Ghost City, but he wants me to say and deed. Forcing a confession, no, I have everything ready.” As he said, Captain Tu picked up the red soldering iron in his hand and put it in the bucket next to him.

For a while, I only heard the frantic “chichi”, and bursts of white smoke rose sharply. What the five old men looked at was throbbing and confusing.

Old Juqiang courageously said, "Sir, this may be just a misunderstanding. Not only is the ghost of the Devil Cloud Ghost City dead, but many of his subordinates have also been disbanded on the spot. As one of the chiefs of the city, you should also be aware of it. Many soldiers in the Devil Cloud Ghost City are unarming and entering the city when they are due to fall. There is no other force that wants to make waves again."

"Yes, sir, this is not fake." The other old men also responded.

"Hey." Captain Tu shook his head and was extremely embarrassed: "I know it, otherwise the tavern wouldn't let him off so easily. However, the Lord of the City, as the lord of a city, is concerned about it. It is natural for him to worry about the safety of the whole city. Now, he believes that this kid is very likely to be a spy. This is difficult."

"Captain, the leader of the city is high, how can I wait to see each other? I hope the captain will say something for us." Old Ju said with a smile.

"My captain takes care of everything every day, so how can there be so much idle time to take care of these things? To help you, how much will it take to delay my captain, who will be responsible for the losses in the middle?" Captain Tu hasn't spoken yet, and the soldiers next to him have pitted ahead of time. Screamed.

Captain Tu smiled, just looking at Old Man Ju.

Old man Ju was taken aback for a moment, but then he understood what it meant. After a long time groping for a long time, he found out the only two ingots of gold he had left. Then the whole person was quite embarrassed. He glanced at several old men and several The old man also looked at each other, then got up and took out one of the ingots, and gathered up six ingots. Then the old Jutou took it and walked towards Captain Tu slowly.

"Sir, this is our little care, I hope you..."

Just as the old Jutou was about to speak, the soldiers next to him had already interrupted: "Is my captain's loss worth this?" The old Jutou was very embarrassed and had to Looking at the other four old men again, the four old men gritted their teeth and were about to dig out again. At this time, George Han said, "Five old gentlemen, don't give him one."

Chapter 3255

Upon hearing this, Captain Tu's still kind eyes were immediately full of anger and coldness, staring at George Han firmly.

The soldier who had been interjecting next to him also suddenly violent: "Smelly boy, what the hell are you talking about? You say it again?"

"The refugees of Devil Cloud Ghost City have been tossed for a whole life, and finally they endured the death of Gui Zun. Everyone can spend some money on their own, but they will get cramped by some of your corrupt officials. Are you not afraid of thunder and thunder?" George Han shouted coldly.

Today's George Han has already roughly understood the faces of these guys just by looking at their series of operations, and he suddenly understood why the Captain Tu was targeting him everywhere.

The tavern may have been grumpy for a while, but later discovered that there was money to be made in it, so he had wicked eyes, and happened to hit the muzzle by accident, giving this group of guys a chance.

In order to squeeze the money out of a few old men, this Captain Tu was despicable and shameless to the extreme. How could George Han get used to this kind of person?

"The sky is thunderstorm? Fuck, I want you to taste what is cracked skin." The soldier drank angrily, immediately picked up the whip and rushed towards George Han.

Old Ju were worried and hurriedly wanted to stop them, but it was obviously too late.

With a loud bang, the entire leather whip was pulled firmly on George Han's body.

A few old men closed their eyes and couldn't bear to watch this cruel scene. Old Ju hurriedly knelt in front of Captain Tu and said anxiously: "Sir, sir, don't get angry, he's just a normal kid, why should he be as knowledgeable as him? ? " " this team just following orders, torture it, never gets angry. "Tu captain and cold voice channel.

Upon hearing this, Old Ju quickly turned his gaze to the old men behind him, and those old men were really helpless, so they had to quickly take out all the three gold ingots left on his body.

The Devil Cloud Ghost City was dispersed and was divided equally into four tablets per person. They wanted to save some for their old age, but now they could only take out the last coffin in order to save people.

However, at this moment, he only heard a chuckle: "That's the strength? Didn't you eat?"

Upon hearing this, not only the five old men looked back in surprise at the same time, but even Captain Tu and several soldiers couldn't help being separate. For a moment, they all looked at George Han.

"Just this thing with no strength, do you still want to deceive people's hard-earned money?" George Han sneered coldly.

"Unreasonable." In the face of such a provocation, Captain Tu became angry from shame, and immediately got up, grabbed the long whip that the soldier was walking, and aimed at George Han.

Old Ju hurriedly wanted to ask for love, but George Han smiled coldly: "If you can call me, you can take their money."

"However, the shame is the first, if you can't even do this ." If you arrive, then I advise you to be a man with your tail clamped, and don't think about it all day."

Captain Tu's angry whole person is shaking. Such a provocation is really annoying.

Today, it is not only about money, but also about one's own face.

Thinking about this, Captain Tu was unceremonious, lifted the whip and used the power of the mixed body, and slammed the whip directly down.

“Plap!”

A crisp sound almost made everyone in the room feel tinnitus. Even the corners of the whip that didn't hit George Han even blasted the wooden table next to it to pieces because of the force. Same as usual.

However, just when everyone was a little trembling because of this, and didn't dare to see how miserable George Han's right whip would be at this time, George Han laughed again.

“What? Your name is Tu, you really grew up eating shit? It doesn't hurt at all, are you tickling me?”

When everyone heard the sound, they looked up and couldn't help being stunned..
