

Chapter 3274

“Wow!” With

a soft sound, the big bag was thrown directly in front of the dealer.

The owner was full of suspicion, took the bag and looked inside, and his eyes suddenly became bright.

Although the bag is large, there are not many amethysts in it, but compared to other people’s bets, this bet on dogs is somewhat of a big deal.

“About fifty thousand amethysts, are you sure?” The people sitting in the village were a little confused, but there were surprises that couldn’t be hidden in their eyes.

After all, for him, such a bet is no different from sending him money. Fifty thousand amethysts, this is a lot of money.

The betting dog was also a little flustered, and even cold sweat broke out on his forehead. Although he was betting by himself, he actually didn’t have any bottom in his heart.

The 50,000 is a loan shark that he just borrowed from another family. He now owes a full ten of them. Although the money looks large, it is obviously a fraction of the debt compared to the debt.

Therefore, gambling dogs don’t have any idea of tearing down the east wall to make up the west wall, just let it go at last.

Either a sudden turnaround and a happy life from now on, or a pile of debts and a high platform, and oneself end up being beaten to death.

Anyway, the dog-gambling psychology of changing bicycles to motorcycles is the same no matter what the world is.

“OK, all in.” Gambling dog gritted his teeth and made up his mind.

“Okay, buy it away.” Zuo Zhuang shouted loudly and smiled one by one with fifty thousand amethysts.

Following this, many people sneered softly with the dealer.

From a certain point of view, the current situation of this betting dog is really pitiful, but as many old sayings say, poor people must be hateful.

At this time, George Han, who was in the stands, was getting closer and closer.

Everyone at the scene almost took the initiative to give him a way and looked straight at him all the way.

Lord Ruyu retracted slightly, looking at George Han who was walking towards his stage, for a while, he was quite puzzled.

He didn’t understand what George Han wanted to do.

From the appearance, George Han is naturally extremely small, and this guy has no energy flow around his body, and he doesn’t look like a superior person, but it is just such a person who dares to challenge his arena at this time. It is common to be strange.

At this time, Zhu Yanshuo in front of the hall looked strange when he saw Han Sanqianshi.

It doesn't seem to be a surprise to say it, and it doesn't seem to be what he expected.

Soon, George Han had arrived in front of the ring, and then stopped slightly, neither going up nor backing down.

The onlookers pointed and pointed, whispered privately, and ridiculed what George Han was doing.

George Han raised his eyes and glanced at the ring nearly three meters high. He stopped here not for other reasons, but thinking about how to go up.

Without the seal of land, such a height would be nothing but mud on the soles of George Han's dismissal at all, but at this time, when he could not use his true power, this height made him a little embarrassed.

The little black stick could take him to fly, but now all he had left was the little black stick.

It was not what George Han wanted to reveal the ultimate move in advance.

Therefore, George Han thought for a while, and in front of everyone, he suddenly made a move that made the audience roar with laughter...

He raised his hands and squatted slightly under his feet, looking at everyone's puzzled eyes. Down, jumped up suddenly, and then directly clasped the bottom edge of the ring with both hands...

"Hahahahaha."

"Fuck me, my eyes!!!" There was laughter, scolding and sarcasm from the audience. , George Han used the most primitive way to jump, climb...

In the eyes of these demons, there is hardly any difference between watching children surpassing a small wall.

"Fuck, where is this idiot? Is he here to be funny or to fight in the ring? Even if he can't get up to the fucking ring, he still has to challenge Lord Ruyu?" "I said earlier about this. In fact, the setting of martial arts recruitment is very reasonable. For example, the person who challenges first should be shorter to make up for the loss of his first battle. But now it seems that the biggest loophole of this fucking mother is this kid..." A group of people laughed. Looking at..

and George Han will not have any sympathy for the hardship at this time, only more ridicule.

George Han was the only bug in this perfect game system. He used his own body to prove that although City Lord Zhu seemed to have a lot of worries, there was only one awkwardness left.

In addition, it seems that the kid has no effect anymore.

"Come on." On the ring, when George Han was climbing vigorously, a slender hand stretched out in front of him. He raised his eyes and looked up, it was the Lord Ruyi who came over and squatted down and stretched out his hand. Want to help.

George Han ignored him, but he smiled calmly: "The longer you climb, the more you laugh underneath. After all, it is City Lord Zhu's ring. Give him some face."

Hearing this, George Han knew that he was giving himself a step, besides, what he said also had some truth, nodded and grabbed his hand. With his help, George Han finally entered the huge ring.

"Hahahaha." There was still endless laughter from the audience.

The gambler who bought George Han was already shaking all over.

He was scared.

He knew the tragic consequences of desperately betting, so even if he bought George Han at this time, he still had no bottom in his heart.

Seeing George Han like this, he knew that death was getting closer and closer to him, and it was natural to be afraid.

"I have some rash men, I know you are a man, I am afraid that he was excited by this stage, or else so be it, you and I play a movie, then you lost, at least, ensure you will not lose face."

The After George Han took the stage, he was not as reckless as his subordinate Zhu George Han. He always had a smile on his face, and there was no slightest contempt in his eyes. Instead, he looked at George Han with sympathy and politeness. , Put forward his fair terms.

If you are an ordinary person, you are naturally grateful to Lord Ruyi for being so polite.

But for George Han, that was not the case. He was necessary to come to power, and he was definitely not inspired by anyone.

"For the sake of Young Master Ruyi's uprightness, I can also say to Young Master Ruyi, if you don't want to lose too badly, Han can also cooperate with you in a scene so as not to embarrass you too much."

Hearing what George Han said, Lord Ruyi was obviously taken aback, afraid that he was dreaming and never expected that George Han would suddenly say this.

But instead, he suddenly smiled, but helpless.

"It seems that Xiongtai is bound to fight Ning Mou?" Young Master Ruyi smiled.

George Han nodded: "I don't want to, but don't worry, Mr. Ruyi, I will be grateful for your kindness just now, so let me give you three tricks to express my gratitude." The words fell, George Han Step back slightly and directly take a defensive posture.

The ceremonial officer who was withdrawing the incense was the closest to the two. After hearing the conversation between the two and seeing the posture of the two, he couldn't help but froze on the spot.

He looked at George Han weirdly, even wondering if he had misheard.

George Han wants to let Young Master Ruyu three tricks? !

“What’s the matter?”

Just when he was extremely puzzled, Zhu Yanshuo in the main hall frowned and walked over, watching the posture on the court, wondering.

“That...that...that guy just said, let Young Master Ruyu use three tricks?” “What!” Upon hearing this, even Zhu Yanshuo, who was steady and gentle, couldn't help being shocked at this time.

The people who accompanied him and the viewers who were closer to him were all stunned.

“Fuck, this kid...this kid actually said to let Young Master Ruyu three tricks!” someone shouted in surprise.

And with this shout, and to cooperate with the crowd's very strange posture on the field, for a while, the whole crowd directly fried the pot.

“Fuck, did you hear what that kid said to Young Master Ruyu? He said he wanted Young Master Ruyu three tricks. Was he fucking brainy?”

“Fuck, I just saw him just now. Poor, I want to call Lord Ruyu to do it lightly, but now, Lord Ruyu, please kill this bastard severely.”

“Beat .” Die the bastard.” I don't know who shouted. At the scene, this sound began to be shouted collectively by the public, wave after wave of killing him, echoing and resounding throughout the scene...
