

Chapter 330

The situation on Nina Hua's side, on the other hand, wasn't too good, but it wasn't too bad either.

After all, it was his own daughter, and although Hua Jingze was still angry, he wasn't so much as to shut her out of the house.

Plus, with Belinda as the intercalary slicker in the middle, the two fathers and daughters can at least sit down to eat at the same table.

Just about the contract, Hua Jingze is still reluctant to let go, making it clear that he wants to push her a little more.

Nina Hua sighed on the phone, and Jenny Jing didn't know what to say, so he could only advise her not to rush and take her time.

It was a matter of father-daughter affection, and she was, after all, an outsider and powerless in such matters.

Nina Hua didn't talk to her for long, and hung up a few minutes later.

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu strolled around for a while longer before returning.

An evening meal of dumplings was naturally lively and harmonious.

On a day like this, even if it was as eyeless as Lu Lanzhi, she knew that she had to be restrained and not upset the old lady any more, so the whole evening was quite pleasant.

On that day, because the vigil was too late, both Jenny and Biden Lu stayed at the old house.

The next morning, I woke up to the sound of a festive firecracker.

The Lu family's old mansion is located in the city, the city originally prohibited firecrackers, but could not help the old man to abide by the customs and rules, had to let people get two small firecrackers over to put.

The older generation, for the first day of the new year firecrackers, a metaphor for the meaning of a good start, is also a festive good intention.

Ann woke up very early, she is young, but very bold, watching the red paper firecrackers crackling and exploding, and not afraid, while covering her ears, while clapping her hands in the yard and laughing.

Jenny had just gotten up, and after leaning against the window for a while, he couldn't help but be infected by the joyful atmosphere, turning around and pushing the man beside him whose sleepiness wasn't fully awake, saying, "Biden Lu, it's time to get up, you can see that An'an and the others are up."

Biden Lu frowned in displeasure, clearly dissatisfied with being disturbed from clear dreams so early in the morning, and with a stretch of his long arm, he hugged Jenny Jing back.

"Let them play by themselves when they wake up, and sleep with me a little longer."

Jenny was locked in his arms, not by helpless smile, thought today is a special day, after all, so noisy outside, the old lady is afraid to get up already, as the younger generation, but also to the two elders to pay respects, get up too late is not good.

So he reached out again and scratched the man's waistline, coaxing, "Grandma they're all up, if you sleep again you'll make people laugh, get up."

Biden Lu didn't speak, just locked her in his arms tightly.

He has always been self-sufficient and disciplined, and has rarely been so bedridden.

Jenny persuaded him for a while, didn't persuade him, knowing that he slept late last night, and couldn't bear to make trouble with him at the moment, so he waited for a while, and when he was asleep again, that's when he carefully got out of his arms, got dressed and went out himself.

The yard was really busy.

Not only did the old man bring Anh to play there, but the Guan and Feng families also sent people over.

On the first day of the Chinese New Year, all the families have the custom of paying their respects to each other, and although they are all youngsters, they all put all their efforts into it and have a good time.

As soon as Tailor Feng came in, he first wished the old lady and the old man a Happy New Year and received a red envelope before coming in, just in time to bump into Jenny coming out, he even smiled and shouted, "Second sister-in-law, Happy New Year, where's my second brother?"

Jenny laughed, "Still sleeping, why are you so early?"

"Every year.

Come over about this time, get used to it."

Jenny took one of the red envelopes prepared to him, although he was an equal, but at least he had been called his little sister-in-law for so long, it was not good to show nothing.

Tailor Feng wasn't rude and took it with a smile, then went inside to find Biden Lu.

The people from the Guan family, on the other hand, were Guan Ji Ming and Guan Xuefei.

Probably because they knew that Jenny Jing and Clara had a problem, they didn't send Clara over.

Jenny greeted Guan Ji Ming first and then went to find the old lady.

At noon, the two families stayed for lunch.

After eating, Tailor Feng looked for an opportunity to quietly say to her, "A secret, do you know that Clara who just came back from the Guan family?"

Jenny looked at him, his eyebrows slightly raised, "What's wrong?"

"I heard that last night, the Gu family sent someone to the Guan family to propose marriage to their family, and the person who proposed marriage was none other than Clara."

Jenny was startled for an instant.

Tailor Feng blinked, rather gleefully.

"The first thing that you need to do is to make sure that you have a clear idea of what you're getting into and what you're getting into. Had simply been the youngest Gu."

Jenny was startled for a few seconds, remembering yesterday evening, when she and Biden Lu went out for a walk and met the sunshine sun less on the way.

Clara wants to marry him?

She felt a chill down her back just thinking about it.

"Do they know what happened to Maya Jing before?"

Tailor Feng smiled even more wickedly at the mention of this.

"Why not? When the matter of your Jing family was first brought to a boil up there, if one has the heart to look into it, one will know with a single question that it cannot be hidden at all."

Jenny frowned.

"And they let the youngest Gu marry her?"

Tailor Feng sneered.

"So what's there?The youngest Gu, no matter how reluctant he was, couldn't withstand the pressure of his old man, so even if he started to make a fierce scene, he would most likely succumb in the end."

Taylor Feng's tone of voice was rare and serious, with a touch of sentimentality.

It's quite a bit of a rabbit hole.

Jenny thought about it and patted him on the shoulder.

"The first thing you need to do is to take a look at the newest models of the newest models of the newest models.Just relax!"

Taylor Feng was so angry at her teasing that he rolled his eyes.

"I'm kind enough to tell you gossip and this is how you ridicule me?Well, next time you'll see if I have news to tell you or not!"

I said, picking up my arms and turning around in a huff.

Jenny lost his smile, but for a moment, it faded.

Chapter 331

Biden Lu also knew the news, but he was quite open-minded compared to Jenny Jing's worries.

"If the youngest Gu was a man with his own ideas, he wouldn't have succumbed to his family, and if he did, that means he never had the ability or determination to be independent from the start, and even if he didn't marry Clara, he'd still marry another woman, and there's no difference between left and right when the benefits are swapped."

Jenny was still a little worried.

"But she..."

Lu Jing looked at her deeply and gave her hand a gentle squeeze.

"Have no fear." He said softly, "The Gu and Lu families were already on opposite sides, and that woman, who had treated you that way before, whether she married the youngest Gu or not, you could never turn your enemies into friends, so this enemy is set to be, and it doesn't matter if they get married or not."

Jenny looked up at him, her beautiful brows showing a hint of worry.

"Is it really okay? If the Guan family really stands with the Gu family, can you handle it by yourself?"

Biden Lu laughed.

He reached out, gently cupping her face, his fingertips moshing her cheeks, halfway to whispering, "As long as you're always standing by my side, that is."

Jenny shook fiercely.

The man's gaze was so gentle, yet so firm, with an unexplainable strength that gradually settled her heart.

She reached out, gently wrapped her arms around his waist and pressed her face close to his chest.

"I'll always stand by your side, and no matter what happens, we'll always be together."

Biden Lu raised the corners of his mouth in pleasure.

"Don't worry, even if the Gu family makes a move, it won't be for the next two days, at least not until after this year, so take a nice vacation in the meantime, eh?"

Jenny Jing nodded his head, and only then did he give a soft "hmm".

.....

On the other side, Visterdem.

On the first day of the Chinese New Year, the Hua family was naturally bustling.

Hua Jingze, as the leading business boss of Visterdem, had literally an endless stream of people visiting him this day.

Belinda, as the youngest owner of Huashi, naturally had to accompany the socialite.

The servants in the house were going crazy, from the back kitchen to the front room, and they barely stopped.

In this way, instead, Nina Hua, who had nothing to do, became the most idle one in the entire house.

She didn't bother to look at the social faces, so she didn't go downstairs, and even had her lunch sent to her room to eat it herself.

Hua Jingze was busy dealing with the guests and didn't have time to pay attention to her, but it was Hua Yu who sent someone up to look for her once in the middle of the day and asked her if she wanted to go down and sit down.

But Nina Hua rejected it.

She didn't want to get involved with the company, which was perfectly adequate with her father and brother.

Therefore, those people, naturally, don't bother to meet.

Belinda was helpless, but knew her sister's temper, so it wasn't easy to force her.

Because there were too many guests, Nina Hua refused to help out, and the house was missing a hostess, even with so many servants, it was always too busy.

Hua Jingze simply booked a private room at a nearby five-star hotel to take people out to dinner in the evening.

Nina Hua didn't want to go and stayed in his room watching a TV show.

Hua Jingze was still in a cold war with her, so he didn't pay any attention to her, there were maids in the house anyway, and there were ready meals, so she couldn't starve to death, so when the time came, he took the people out.

Hearing the noise of people outside fading away, Nina Hua then turned off the tablet in front of him, closed his eyes, and then came out in his slippers.

The maid saw that she had a hard time getting out of the room and came forward.

"Where are you going, my lady?"

Nina Hua casually waved his hand, "Don't mind me, I'll just walk around."

The maid saw the situation, so she couldn't ask any more questions and turned down.

Nina Hua came to the study and searched around.

And didn't find their share of the contract.

She knew that although she and Hua Jingze were biological fathers and daughters, Hua Jingze was a person who could be ruthless at times and could really disown his six relatives.

If she wants to return to filming on her own, without her father's control, the only way to do so is to find that contract first.

But after rummaging through the entire study, I couldn't find half a trace of it.

Nina Hua searched for a long time, and finally got impatient and straightened up, just to call and ask if big brother had seen that contract, but when he turned around, he saw Hua Yu standing in the doorway.

She was so shocked that she patted herself on the chest.

"Brother!What are you doing?It scares the hell out of me."

Belinda shook her head helplessly.

He stepped forward and straightened those places that Nina Hua had messed up bit by bit before saying, "Don't waste your time, that contract of yours, Dad is keeping it himself, no one can get it without his permission, he was already defending you, so why would he keep something like that at home?"

Nina Hua was stunned, then frowned.

"Even you don't know where it is?"

Belinda shook her head honestly, "I don't know."

Nina Hua was a little angry.

"What's he trying to do? Do you really want to force me to die?"

Belinda laughed.

"You'd be doing a real disservice to the good guys if you said that, and Dad's doing it for your own good."

Nina Hua was cold and left his face to the side.

Belinda sighed when she saw how stubborn she was.

"We all disapproved of you being with that man, so naturally we had our reasons, but you had to run away with him and get pregnant with his child, and that's all that matters.

Have you called home once in the past year? Ever cared? Dad is not angry with you and that man, but he has raised his own daughter for so many years, and in the end, for a man and the family to be in trouble like this, if it were you, you would not feel cold? Will you feel disappointed?"

Nina Hua instantly became red-eyed.

She pursed her lips and ducked her head to wipe her eyes.

A moment, before muttering quietly, "It's not like I don't want to contact him."

It's just that every time she calls back, she's always inevitably scolded, and as time goes by, she doesn't bother to find herself scolded anymore.

Belinda lost her smile and shook her head helplessly.

Reaching above her head, she patted it with a rather frustrated tone.

"Oh my silly sister, and so silly."

Nina Hua choked on his throat for a moment, not knowing what to say.

Belinda turned, took a contract out of a drawer compartment and handed it to her.

Nina Hua was stunned and took it, staring in shock as he read the contract clearly.

"I thought you said you didn't know..."

Belinda shrugged, "It's true that I don't know, and I never stole it from you, so if Dad asks, you mustn't betray me, or I'll disown you as a sister in the future."

Nina shook hard for a moment, reacted, and rushed up and gave Huayu a hug.

"Brother, thank you."

Chapter 332

Belinda smiled, hugging her and patting her lightly on the back.

"If you really want to thank me, next time you see Dad, don't keep contradicting him, you're not young, you're a mother of a child yourself, you should know better."

Nina Hua only felt his heart sore and his nose sore, and nodded his head with red eyes.

Huayu slipped back in the middle of the day and had to rush to a meeting at the hotel, so she didn't stay at home and left after having a few words with Nina Hua.

The contract was already in hand, so in order to avoid the old man coming back at night and finding out that they were going to fight again, Nina Hua wasn't going to stay home much longer and went back to his room to pack up his things and leave.

However, I didn't expect to hear the maid say outside the door as soon as she had packed her things, "Miss, there are guests looking for you."

She was stunned, not expecting for a moment that anyone from this part of Visterdem would come to her at this time.

Let's not mention that she came back this time in secret and didn't show up at all during the day, so few of the guests knew she was back.

Furthermore, her line of work is very low-key, and even former friends or classmates shouldn't know about it.

As I was thinking, I heard a steady footstep outside.

This was followed by a few shallow knocks on the door.

Nina Hua didn't expect the maid to bring someone directly to her room, frowning unhappily, she was about to go over and open the door, but unexpectedly the door opened by itself at that moment, followed by a familiar figure appearing in the doorway.

Nina Hua stared at it.

Kepler?

What's he doing here?

Jesus!

Nina Hua's eyelids jumped, and he rushed over, pulling the door shut hard before the man could enter the house.

However it was too late.

The man's hand gripped the door panel and pushed it open with just a little force.

"Seasonal Kepler? You're crazy, aren't you? What are you running over here for now?"

Nina Hua was dying of anxiety.

But Kepler did not speak.

He pushed the door open, then, stepping in, his face still the same cold, heavy-eyed look on her face.

Nina Hua was staring at him like that and was somehow guilty.

No one knew about her return to Visterdem this time except for Xiao Zhao and Jenny.

So, naturally, it was also hidden from him.

Old Mrs. Jin only came back for a small stay this time, she returned to F some time ago, and Kepler, as the junior, naturally had to send her off.

Therefore, before he left, he had made a deal with her to stay at the villa and not go anywhere until he returned.

But I didn't realize that she had just left on the front foot and then she came running back.

Based on Kepler's temper, it was easy to imagine how angry he was at this moment.

But Nina Hua felt that it wasn't her fault!

She had her own things to deal with, and he wasn't her who, so why should anyone listen to him all the time, right?

Thinking so, she looked up at him.

Just listen to the man's cold, heavy voice: "I came all this way, and you won't let me in to sit down?"

At this time, there was no room for Nina Hua to say no.

She had to sidle up and let him in.

Kepler walked into the house, not rushing to speak, but slowly taking stock of the room's furnishings.

The furnishings in the room are warm and luxurious.

As the only girl in the Hua family, Nina Hua had naturally enjoyed her father's and brother's pampering since childhood, so even without a mother, she was never worse off than any girl from a healthy family.

Kepler measured for a moment and went to sit on the couch beside the bed

Under.

Nina Hua was inexplicably nervous, especially when he thought that this was the Hua family, and at any moment, someone might come back and reveal his identity.

After a few moments of silence, she finally did her mental construction and stumbled over the question, "What are you doing here?"

Kepler lightened his thin lips, "Why did I come over, you don't know?"

Nina Hua didn't dare to look him in the eye, lowered his head and whispered, "How should I know."

"Heh!"The man laughed softly, a little coolly.

Nina Hua laughed at him to the point of panic.

He had been with the baby and her all this time, and while his temper still wasn't too good, he hadn't treated her too badly, on the whole.

Sometimes it even gave her the illusion that the two of them were back in those brief but beautiful days of a few years ago.

Therefore, she was a little guilty about this unresigned farewell.

Kepler's face was cold, and he said in a deep voice, "If I don't come over to find you this time, are you really going to just leave and never come back?"

Nina Hua's heart trembled fiercely with his words.

She looked up slightly and saw his cold, handsome face, and anger was quietly gathering in her eyes.

The heart grew even more faint.

"And no, Happy's still over there, I always have to go back."

"Just for the baby?"

Nina Hua: "....."

In the face of the man's pressing questions, she didn't even know how to answer.

It seems that no answer is quite right.

A silent bitterness crept from the heart.

"Or what?What else does Ji think I need to go back for?"

Kepler sneered lowly.

"Very well, Nina Hua, it seems that I've been giving you too much face all this time, making you really forget, what you really are!"

Nina Hua's face changed.

In the next second, the jaw was pinned violently and the whole thing was pressed against the door panel.

Kepler's eyebrows and eyes were dark, staring at her fiercely, as if he wanted to demolish and swallow her into his stomach, gritting his teeth, "On top of the fact that you're a fu*cking child, do you believe that you've already died an unknown number of times."

Nina Hua's jaw ached, subconsciously trying to explain.

But just the slightest pause, and then he changed his tune.

She looked up at him, her eyes firm, "Yes, in your heart I deserve to die, I have failed you, I have lied to you, and in that case, what have you come to me for?"

Kepler stalled.

Nina Hua smiled bitterly, "I admit that five years ago, I was sorry to you, but these five years, I should have repaid enough!

Now, it's your family that can't tolerate me. You don't know that. Can you turn your back on them for me? Can you give up Ken's family and all your future for me? You can't! See, that's the biggest problem that lies between us."

"I know in my heart what kind of person I am, what my status is, that night, you took the initiative to mess with me, but by what right do I have to bear the consequences!"

"Kepler, I just lost everything just because I fell in love with you, my career, my life, my family all left!"

"And you? You're still the high and mighty youngster of the Jin family, you're still the president of the Jin family, you can still be glamorous."

"If we're really together, the only leverage I have is your love, but if you don't love me one day, then what do I have?"

"Kepler, you keep saying that I shouldn't leave you, but have you ever thought about why I should?"

"I'm really tired, even though I'm begging you to let go! Set me free, and set yourself free!"
