

Chapter 336

The man gave her a sideways glance, and in his gaze, Nina Hua didn't hold back in the end and complained, "This proposal ceremony isn't romantic at all, and there's no wedding, so I won't admit it, so don't be delusional."

Kepler shrugged his shoulders indifferently, "It doesn't matter, legal recognition is fine."

Nina Hua: "....."

The car soon reached the airport.

When looking at the ticket the man in her hand had already prepared, Nina Hua hesitated.

After imagining the reaction to learning of all this when Wa Kyung Thaek went home, he eventually followed him on the plane.

She knew that some things, once chosen, there was no turning back.

Although it's hard to admit it on the lips, the heart of the matter has actually agreed with it, right?

Recognize the voluntariness, the authenticity, and the true voice of that marriage license, deep within yourself.

It was four o'clock in the afternoon when we arrived in Kyoto.

On the plane, Nina Hua's phone was turned off, so he didn't receive any calls.

As soon as we got off the plane, however, the phone kept ringing.

There's Wa-Kyung Zee's and there's Belinda's.

She hesitated, and instead of answering her father's call, she took her brother, Huayu's.

As soon as the call came through, Belinda's exasperated voice came through.

"Nina Hua! Are you out of your mind? Bringing that man into the house when you know Dad doesn't even approve of what you guys are doing? Where are you now? Hurry up and get back here!"

Nina Hua sat in the car, head down, his face expressionless as he picked at a hole in his ripped jeans with his finger.

"We're married."

"What marriage? Don't you dare talk to me... what did you just say? You guys..."

Hua Yu only now reacted, the opposite side was quiet for several seconds, no need to look, Nina Hua also knew that he was probably ruthlessly angry, choked for a moment, not by saying: "brother, I'm also in a bit of a messy mood, do not want to fight with dad for the time being, you help me to calm him down, after a while, when he has calmed down and thoroughly digested this news, I will take Kepler back together, and talk to him face to face again! Once."

Hua Yu was furious and laughed back, "Nina Hua, you've grown wings and skills, haven't you! Let me calm you down? How the hell am I supposed to calm you down? Did you ever think of your brother before you started? I fuking stole that contract for you and you're going to marry the kid named Ji, how the fuk am I going to explain this to Dad? Are you trying to get your brother killed?"

"Sorry, brother."

"Don't call me brother! I didn't even want my family for a man, and I don't have a sister like you!"

Nina Hua's heart was also a bit clogged at the moment, and even though he knew that Hua Yu was speaking in anger, he still couldn't help but control the red eyes.

She looked up even as she turned her head to look out the window, keeping her eyes wide open so that the tears wouldn't fall so quickly.

"Brother, you'll always be my brother, even if you don't recognize me, I'm still relying on you, you'll have to worry more about your family, don't worry, I'll take good care of myself, I'll be back when Dad's anger subsides, that's it for now, I'm hanging up, you take good care of yourself too."

She said, and hung up the phone quickly, as if she was afraid that if she said one more word, she would collapse.

The entire time, Kepler sat on the other side, watching with cold eyes and not speaking.

There was a strange silence in the car.

This silence was not broken until the entrance to the villa.

"Young Master, here we are."

Kepler nodded, pulled open the door and got out of the car.

Nina Hua rushed out without even thinking about it.

Back home, Nina Hua went straight to the bedroom, and Kepler followed after putting his luggage down.

There were only the two of them in the house now, so Nina Hua didn't lock the door, and Kepler was able to enter the bedroom and see her sitting in front of the window, her face covered in tears.

His eyes dimmed a little.

But in the end, he didn't go over there to comfort, and he knew that there were some things that comfort wouldn't work.

Hua Jingze didn't like him, and he didn't like the Hua family, especially since that dislike wasn't something that could be changed by either side bowing their heads.

She had to make a choice.

After crying for a while, Nina Hua finally felt better, and when he turned back and saw him standing in the doorway with his arms folded, he was furious.

"What are you doing over here?"

Kepler raised his eyebrows.

"This is my house, why can't I come over?"

Nina Hua gave a direct laugh.

"You're really shameless, this is the house that Jenny helped me prepare, don't say you, I'm not even good enough to lick my face and say that it's my house, but you've got the nerve to say it!"

Kepler's face remained unchanged, still saying, "If you like it, I can buy this house, or, if you like somewhere else, pick as you like."

Nina Hua choked.

When the anger came up, he went to push him regardless.

"You get out and go back to your own house, it has nothing to do with you here."

Kepler suddenly held her hand.

She was startled, and when she looked up, she was met with his serious eyes.

"Yao Yao, I'm serious, where you are, that's my home, and I don't recognize anything else."

Nina Hua stalled.

There was a sour feeling that came up from the bottom of my heart, a mixed feeling.

She quickly withdrew her hand and flicked her eyes to the side, not quite meeting his eyes.

But his mouth was still hard, "Who wants to be in the same family as you, self-interest!"

Kepler doesn't care, only laughing lightly, "Husband and wife are one, such a simple truth, you should understand."

Nina Hua: "....."

For a moment, she was left speechless.

Looking at her deflated appearance, Kepler smiled pleasantly.

He leaned over slightly, leaned in close to her, squeezed her face a little indebtedly, and whispered, "Call your husband to hear."

Nina Hua stared at him hard.

"Good thinking!"

Finished, ignoring him again, he turned and walked to the bed.

The man didn't get angry when she threw him a cold face, but instead gave a low chuckle.

He was a little tired after a long day of running around and didn't want to dwell on this verbal spat with her any longer, so he took his clothes and went to take a shower.

Some time before that, Kepler would occasionally come over to stay, so there were his clothes here.

Nina Hua lay on the bed somewhat tired, gritting her teeth and thinking that she should never have, never should have gone soft and agreed to his request.

So now it's neither in nor out.

She was suddenly at a loss again when she thought about everything that had just happened.

They're really married?

How come it doesn't feel real?

She reached up and pinched her arm, some of the pain showed it was real.

She sighed again and grabbed the pillow next to her, covering her eyes.

After a while, there was a squeak from the bathroom door and someone came out.

She immediately removed the pillow and turned to look at the man who had just gotten out of the shower.

He was shirtless, wearing only a white towel, revealing a large expanse of honey-colored skin and a body with strong, beautiful musculature, as if each piece had been carefully sculpted from the heavens, s*xy but not overdone.

I don't know why, but she'd seen this body more than once, but she still couldn't help but blush every time she saw it in such a big, bold way.

Chapter 337

Kepler took in her reaction and couldn't help but squint his eyes in pleasure.

"Mrs. Gee, are you still satisfied with what you see?"

He asked as he raised his hand to a towel and wiped the droplets from his hair.

Nina Hua made a big red face and coughed a little embarrassingly, then pursed his lips and said, "Who you! Shame on you!"

I said, turning sideways to face in, so as to ignore him.

It is not surprising that the more she looks like she has a mouthful of uprightness, the more she shows that she cares.

Kepler's mood suddenly became good, and even the original few low pressure had dissipated for a long time.

As he dried his hair, he pulled on a towel and climbed into bed after him.

Nina Hua was in turmoil when he suddenly felt a hot air arching over behind him.

She exploded and got up to sit up, looking at the man who was lifting the covers and climbing up.

I screamed at once, "What are you doing?"

Kepler wiggled his eyebrows innocently, "Sleep."

Nina Hua glared at him, "Don't you have your own room? Won't you sleep in your own room?"

Kepler shook his head helplessly and patiently explained, "Before we weren't married, so naturally we had to sleep in separate rooms, but now that we're legally married, how many couples have you seen sleeping separately?"

Nina Hua: "....."

She knew it!

She exhaled, yanking the blanket inside, and didn't have the good sense to say, "Then you're not allowed to sleep now either, in the middle of the day, what are you sleeping for?"

Kepler yawned, "Then why are you allowed to sleep?"

"I...I'm not feeling well, I'm not feeling well, okay?"

Kepler narrowed his eyes.

Immediately, reach over.

"Where's the discomfort? Show me."

Nina stiffened, her saying that she was uncomfortable was just an excuse, it wasn't really uncomfortable.

I just saw that the man had reached over and couldn't hide it, so I had to sit up.

"Okay, okay, I'm not uncomfortable and I don't want to sleep, so if you want to sleep so badly, you sleep, I'm going out."

I said, and lifted the blanket and got up.

But the next moment, the whole thing was picked up, and then the body was warm, the person had been tucked under the covers, and the man quickly followed, laying in and encircling her in his arms.

Nina Hua was so angry that he roared, "Kepler!"

Kepler "shushed" and said warmly, "Don't argue, lie down with me, I promise I won't do anything to you."

Nina Hua still wanted to struggle, however the man's arms were like two big iron pincers, where could he struggle?

She was so angry that she turned her head and glared at him.

But when she turned back, she was confronted with the tired colour beneath his eye sockets, his eyes closed, a faint ring of dark green so obvious that she hadn't even noticed it before.

Probably really tired, a stained bed, the whole taut nerves began to relax, plus the familiar light fragrance in the bosom, so that the man's entire body relaxed, the original had been hiding the tiredness of nature could no longer hide, all revealed.

Nina Hua paused for a moment, the angry scolding that had reached his throat was suddenly deflated as if he had been pierced like a ball.

She didn't know where he'd been the last two days, what he'd done, why he was so tired.

But it's not too easy to think about.

Suddenly feeling a little intolerant, she said in a deep voice, "Let go of me first!"

Saying that, she struggled again, and this time, Kepler didn't force it, and indeed loosened it a little, but only a little to make her comfortable, she still couldn't do it if she wanted to escape.

Nina Hua tried several methods and found that

Neither was able to escape, and eventually they had to give up.

Forget it!

It's not the first time I've slept with him anyway, so if he wants to cuddle, let him, and he won't lose a piece of meat left or right.

After she figured it out, Nina Hua didn't continue to struggle, she was silent for a moment before advising, "You're not comfortable sleeping like this, if you're really tired, have a good sleep, at worst I'll just lie down next to you and stay put."

She really wasn't going to leave, and she wasn't going to lie to him.

But the man still refused.

"No, let me hold you, I can feel better."

Afterwards, he buried his face in her hair and breathed deeply as if he was attached to her.

Nina Hua's entire spine stiffened.

His embrace was so hot, it scalded her a little.

There was a faint, cold, crisp scent floating in the air that belonged solely to the man, the smell of incense wood.

Her heart, which had been very troubled, seemed to have suddenly and miraculously calmed down.

There was also an unexplained, warmth to it.

The sun was shining outside the window, and there was silence all around, only the shallow breathing of two people.

She lay like that in his arms, and it seemed like time had suddenly pulled back to five years ago, those countless days and nights when he'd held her in his arms and held her so tightly in bed.

Nina Hua closed his eyes, pushing back the acidity that was bubbling up.

Seemingly sensing the emotions of the little woman in his arms, Kepler closed his eyes and lowered his head to drop a k*ss on the top of her hair, mumbling, "Don't think nonsense, go to sleep."

His tone was soft, a rare gentleness.

The hand holding her was hard, but not too tight, just didn't want her to escape.

Nina Hua's heart suddenly felt even more sour, and he didn't speak for a moment.

After about a few minutes, there was the sound of even breathing behind him.

She moved slightly to turn around, yet just slightly, and the arm imprisoning her tightened.

She had to resign herself to lying in his arms for a moment and whispered, "Kepler..."

"Well?"

The man's voice was confused, as if he was exhausted to the point of exhaustion.

She pursed her lips, and after a few seconds, she sighed helplessly in her mind and whispered, "It's okay, go to sleep."

The man took the corner of his lips in a silent hug and tightened his arms around her again, which helped him sleep.

I thought it would be hard to sleep this evening.

But to my surprise, after less than half an hour, Nina Hua fell asleep.

In her sleep, she felt something that seemed to sweep over and over her face with a warm, hot touch.

Then, I heard the man's low sigh.

"Distant, never leave me again in this life."

Her eyes were suddenly sore, and her thin face was buried in the pillow, and she didn't know whether it was for joy or for sorrow, but the tears fell silently.

It was only the next day that Jenny Jing learned that Nina Hua and Kepler were together and had gotten a license to be married.

It was in the morning when Nina Hua and Kepler came to the door to pick up Le Le together, and Jenny Jing felt surprised to see them together, and only later did Nina Hua explain the relationship between them.

Because she was a good friend, Jenny knew before that she had always liked Kepler and had pursued him as a god for years.

Therefore, at this time suddenly learned that the two are actually together, naturally happy for them.

Unexpectedly, before this happy moment is over, I hear that Le Le is actually Kepler's child, the man who got Nina Hua pregnant a year ago and had a falling out with the family, is also Kepler!

Jennyton was nonchalant.

Chapter 338

After all, she knew how hard Nina Hua had worked all year.

I've scolded countless times before, wondering which heartless man, irresponsible and irresponsible, had a child but didn't show up, making her distant suffer like this.

Jenny sank to his knees right now, not showing any good face.

Although I also knew that there might be somewhat of an inside story to this tossing and turning torture between the two, I couldn't help but sour a few words.

Kepler didn't mind though, he knew that Jenny Jing and Nina Hua were close, so he didn't really put this little matter to heart.

After picking up Lele, Kepler took Nina home with him.

Although Jenny Jing still didn't quite approve of Nina Hua being with him like this, but after all, it was someone's private matter, so she couldn't interfere too much.

The good news is that Nina Hua's contract has been brought back, and she's ready to make her comeback in a few months, and with Hua Yu's help, the original contract signed under Hua's banner can be voided, but Hua Jing Ze is still very angry, especially after learning that she's been preemptively married to Kepler, and even more so after putting out the word that anyone who dares to sign her is going against Hua's!

Hua Jingze had a great intention of shutting her down.

This has deterred many companies that would have been interested in her.

After all, although Nina Hua's fame is there, but for one thing, her character is notoriously Buddhist, has her own ideas and is unwilling to follow the company's arrangements, so it's not clear whether signing such an artist is a blessing or a curse.

Secondly, no matter how good the secrecy was about Nina Hua going abroad to give birth this time, more or less rumors still got out.

Everyone felt that there was no need to offend Hua Jingze over such a time bomb.

Nina Hua's comeback plans were blocked as a result, and when Jenny Jing learned of this, he signed her on behalf of Starflight without saying a word.

Biden Lu was fine with this matter, Jenny Jing was his wife and Jenny Jing's friend.

Rather, Nina Hua, because of this, lost for a while.

In this tug-of-war between father and daughter, not only did Hua Jingze feel bad, she also felt equally bad.

But where there is a third option, no one actually wants to get to this point.

Jenny couldn't help with this matter, and could only sigh helplessly.

On this day, she just happened to meet Yan Sihua and another investor for dinner, Yan Sihua had a new movie that he wanted to cast her in and wanted to talk to her about the role in advance.

Jenny and Yan Sihua were considered old acquaintances, and the investor across the street was polite to her because he knew Biden Lu.

The meal was a pleasure for the hosts and things went exceptionally well.

Jenny Jing had promised an evening episode of serials, so after dinner, he didn't linger much, greeted Yan Sihua and the others, and left first.

Down in the car park, I was about to get into my car when I heard the sound of an argument coming from a nearby corner.

Her car was parked not too far from the corner, less than ten meters away, and because there was a concrete pillar in the middle to cover it, the other side couldn't see her, and she naturally couldn't see the people there either.

Just heard the sound of something familiar, a moment of curiosity is not to stop.

I just heard what sounded like a woman and a man arguing over there.

The woman said, "What do you think you are! Even if I did, it's got nothing to do with you! Get out of here if you know what's good for you! If I get caught on camera, I'll never make you feel better!"

The man's voice sounded a little

Poor, with a few begging tones.

"I know I was wrong, but even for the sake of the child, can you forgive me just once? You don't want the baby to be born without a father, either!"

"Heh! Born? He Chengjun, you're overreacting, aren't you? When did I say I was going to give birth to him? And you want to be the father of my child too? Who the hell do you think you are? What right does a poor wretch who doesn't even know where his future lies have to be the father of my child!"

"Sheffield! How can you say that?"

"I'm telling the truth! He Chengjun, I really don't like you at all. Please face the truth! That night, it was an accident. Can you behave yourself? Just pretend none of this ever happened and leave me alone?"

"Sheffield, I know, I'm nothing, I've had a hard time getting my career going and now it's ruined, but I'm true to you. You believe me, I will work hard, I will make good grades to show you, I will never let you follow me and suffer..."

"Enough!"

Guan Xuefei suddenly shouted, perhaps because He Chengjun grabbed her hand, she shook it hard, causing her entire body to take a step back and out of the concrete pillar's domain.

When Jenny saw her, she even lowered her head and got into the car.

The glass is treated and the entire window is black, so the inside can be seen clearly but the outside is invisible.

When the car door slammed, Guan Xuefei took a look this way, her face not too good.

Jenny didn't make a sound, just acted as if he didn't know her and started the car.

The car backed out smoothly and headed out.

When she saw the number plate number on that, Guan Xuefei's face changed, and He Chengjun tried to pull her back to say more, but she was shrugged off again.

"He Sung-kun, I'm warning you! Don't breathe a word about us, or I'll really kill you!"

"Sheffield..."

"And! This child is just the product of an accident, I won't keep him and you don't deserve to be his father, so stop being delusional, we're not of the same world and it won't end well for either of us if you keep dwelling on it like this.

If you'll let go, I'll give you some money to get out of here and start a new life... the choice is yours if you want the money or if you want to continue this downward spiral! Call me when you think about it, that's all."

After saying that, Guan Xuefei also hurriedly got into the car, threw on the door and sped out.

He Chengjun looked at the back of the distant car, his eyes fishy red, and clenched his fists fiercely.

Jenny didn't have to drive very far before he was forced to stop by a red Ferrari.

A minute later, there was a knock on the window and she lowered the window and saw the exquisite face of Michelle Kwan.

"Is that really you?"

Guan Xuefei's face was very ugly.

Jenny was a bit helpless and could only raise her hand to greet her, "Hi!Miss Kwan, long time no see."

Compared to her pleasure, Guan Xuefei's face could simply be described as gloomy.

She turned and looked around, then said in a quiet voice, "Miss King, would it be convenient for me to get in the car and talk to me?"

Jenny laughed dryly, "There's no need, we don't seem to have anything to talk about."

Guan Xue Fei said with a cold face, "Miss Jing, I have never harbored any ill will towards you, even if you stole Brother Shen, I only wished you well, so why do you have to turn people away?"
