

Chapter 3412 - 3413 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 3412

“What’s matter?”

“I see you, I waited here last night.”

Old Han bowed slightly, and replied respectfully: “The little lord and Mr. God of War talked very happily. The old slave didn’t dare to interrupt, so he had to wait here.”

“From now on, in front of me, don’t call yourself old slaves anymore.” “My Dragon Temple members are all brothers and friends.”

“What’s more, Mr. Han, you have been undercover from the Chu family for many years, and you followed me when I was very young.”

“To me, you are more like an elder.”

Mark said softly, and poured a cup of tea for Old Han at the same time.

The tea that Mark gave, Old Han dared to drink, repeatedly declined.

“how?”

“Does this despise me?”

“Hey...”

“It seems that I, Mark, are lighthearted, and someone drank the tea that I poured with disdain.”

Mark deliberately teased Old Han.

Mark said that this is the case, how dare Old Han not drink.

“Let’s talk, what’s the matter?” Mark asked just now when Mr. Han finished drinking his tea.

“Little Lord, it’s not a big deal.”

“It’s Ms. Meng Wanyu, Ms. Meng. Contact me through some means. I hope you can visit Miss An Qi from the Jones family if possible.”

“Of course, if you really can’t make it, you can make a phone call or write a letter.”

“Ms. Meng said that Ms. An Qi was in a very bad state since the day of the trip to Chumen Mountain.”

“She is a little worried about Miss An Qi’s physical condition.”

Old Han was talking while watching Mark’s reaction.

I saw Mark who was still smiling. After hearing this, the smile on his face suddenly disappeared.

“Little lord, Miss An Qi is also very affectionate for you.”

“I think it’s never impossible to contact Miss An Qi.”

“Quan Dang, is to give her a little psychological comfort.”

Old Han and An Qi Jones are also living and dying together, and share their sorrows.

Therefore, Mr. Han was very impressed with this stubborn little girl.

However, Mark shook his head: “With our current relationship with the Chu family, cutting off contact with An Qi is the best choice for her.”

“Otherwise, it will not only hinder An Qi’s future, but also harm her.”

“That girl was born with a divine pupil. She is still young now. When she is older and her talent is awakened in the future, she will definitely shine among the three families of Truman.”

“Maybe, she will be the next master of the Chu Sect.”

“But my lord, you should be able to see what Miss An Qi thinks of you. Perhaps, strength and power are not what she wants. And you, is her greatest pursuit?” Old Han was still persuading.

Mark laughed at himself: “I’m Chu Tianfan, how can He De?”

“I have married and established a business, so why bother to delay her.”

“I’m destined to be unable to give that silly girl what she wants.”

“I can’t ask for it here, it’s better to cut the mess with a knife.”

“Perhaps, it will be cruel in a short time.”

“But time will wash away everything after all.”

“Sooner or later, that silly girl will forget me and find someone better than me.”

An Qi’s girl is very likable.

But no matter what, Mark is just brother and sister to her.

But what he didn’t expect was that the girl actually felt affection for herself.

Rather than let her worry about gains and losses in the future, it’s better to leave it alone.

What’s more, now that Mark and the Chu family have already forged Liangzi, if he and An Qi are in contact again, she will also be harmed.

The difference in identities is destined to make Mark and An Qi take different paths.

“Help me give her a word.”

“Just say, when she ascends to the position of the master of the Chumen, I, Chu Tianfan, will come to congratulate you!”

Mark’s faint words sounded quietly.

In fact, he didn't want to give An Qi any more contact.

But after thinking about it, I always have to give that silly girl a little hope and a little thought.

If people have a pursuit, they will be full of power.

However, when others heard Mark's words, they didn't think so much.

For example, Gaia, who just got up for morning exercises, accidentally heard Mark talking with Old Han, and suddenly gave Mark a thumbs up secretly.

I thought that the dragon master would play.

This is a beautiful girl cultivation series.

The sect master of Trumen still needs to be cultivated from an early age.

Chapter 3413

The period of January is getting closer and closer.

At this time, the eyes of everyone in the martial arts world were almost on the east of the hot summer.

Obviously, martial artists all over the world are waiting for the Chu family to come to Jiangdong to apologize.

During this period, the border defense in the hot summer has also been strengthened several times.

In the South China Sea, the East China Sea, and even the West Xinjiang, large-scale military exercises were started in unison.

In addition, the Yanxia Wushen Temple also began to summon the strong from all sides in the Yanxia, especially those masters who performed the task, all transferred back to the Yanxia, ready to deal with the next possible crisis.

No way, in the next few days, the current world's top giants may enter the hot summer.

Juggernauts can't stop them, but they must be well prepared for defense work.

Especially the major provinces and cities near Jiangdong, even more troops marched in.

The Juggernauts were also worried. The Chu family's apology was just a cover, meaning a drunkard, but their summer martial arts.

Therefore, before everything starts, they must plan for the worst.

Anyway, the Chu family came to Jiangdong to apologize, and it was not the Ye family that was most nervous, but the Wushen Temple.

As for Mark, she was still very leisurely. Helen Qiu came to Mark almost every day to discuss where she would go on her honeymoon, what to eat and play on the road.

She was even dragged by Helen Qiu to buy clothes for travel.

This girl is looking forward to the coming, warm journey every day.

And the other side of the ocean.

Since the end of the Truman War, An Qi is still under house arrest by her family's father and brother.

Even if you go out, you must be accompanied by at least two master masters.

Of course, this time it was not afraid of An Qi's escape from marriage, but of her going to Mark.

Although Bill Jones and the others have persuaded An Qi many times, but An Qi's girl is too stubborn, even if Mark has already said to her face that she will not come together in the future, An Qi still wants to see her again.

After all, An Qi knew that what Mark said that day was not to hate herself, but to protect herself.

The more this happened, the more An Qi couldn't forget the boy.

She wants to see him and tell him that she is not afraid of the revenge of the Chu family, and she will become stronger, as strong as Mark's brother, can do what she wants to do, and pursue what she likes without any scruples. people.

When Bill Jones and the others knew about Angie's heart, they were undoubtedly frightened.

"An Qi, can you consider your family and your father and brother?"

"Do you know that because of your relationship with that hot summer boy, the attitude of the Chu family towards our Jones family has changed."

"If you don't realize it anymore, our family will be affected by you in the future."

"Anqi, I'm begging you, my father, okay?"

That night, An Qi's father and brother almost had tears in their old tears, and they tried to persuade An Qi.

In the end, An Qi agreed.

After agreeing, I no longer go to Mark, let alone have any contact with him.

But there is one condition, that is, I hope to see his Mark brother for the last time before this.

She wanted to say all the words in her heart in one breath.

"Father, can you?"

"Brother Mark, in An Qi's heart, is really an important and important person."

"I also know that my brother Mark and I are destined to have no results."

"But, even if it's a stranger in the future, I would like to tell Brother Mark to have a gentle ending."

"Father, brother, okay?"

"I promise, this is the last time."

"After seeing Brother Mark, I will come back and be the eldest lady of the Jones family, a good daughter, a good sister, and contribute my strength to the family's rejuvenation."

In the room, An Qi's beautiful eyes were filled with tears, and she begged her father and brother bitterly.
