

Chapter 3444 - 3445 of A Dish Best Served Cold Novel

Chapter 3444

Japan, Dongjing.

Your Excellency the Imperial Palace, a gathering of giants.

Today is the grand ceremony of the whole country.

Because, the supreme leader of the Japanese secular world, the Emperor, will celebrate his 70th birthday today.

On this day, not only the elites from all walks of life, business, military and politics, but also martial arts experts such as the sword god Mochizuki River also came to express their congratulations.

“You still haven’t seen His Royal Highness Moon God?”

At this time, the birthday celebration had not yet begun, but Mochizuki frowned and asked in a low voice.

As the supreme god in the martial arts world, Moon Reading Tenjin is also the supreme symbol of Japanese martial arts.

Today, the Moon God does not personally come to congratulate the owner of the Imperial Palace on his birthday, and it stands to reason that he should also send some gifts as congratulations.

This is also conducive to unity.

Therefore, as early as two or three days ago, Mochizuki River sent people to the Sanshin Pavilion to remind the Moon God that it would be best to inscribe the Emperor.

But what made Mochizuki River speechless was that his people had been there many times, but they didn’t even see the Moon God.

“No matter, Moon God doesn’t want to send it.”

“Anyway, as the Palace Master of the Sword God Palace, I can represent it to a certain extent.”

Mochizuki sighed finally, and he didn’t force it anymore.

Boom~

At this time, with several salutes roaring.

The emperor's birthday feast officially began.

The first item of the birthday banquet was to present congratulatory messages from representatives of all walks of life and present gifts at the same time.

“Chairman Qianchijing, you will be on stage in a while, you must be ready.” On the VIP seat, Qianchijing was dressed in a red dress, showing grace and luxury.

On the beautiful face, the greenness and immaturity of the past have all faded away, leaving only a bit of stability and majesty.

“Yeah, grandpa, call me when the time comes.”

“Grandpa Iwai, please continue to talk about my brother Mark.” After Qianchi Jing returned to his grandfather Miyamoto's agent, he went back to listen to Iwai. Zen tells the story of the First Truman War.

Chapter 3445

It has been a long time since she heard news about that teenager.

To Qian Chijing, that young man, like a meteor, was born out of the sky, and suddenly appeared in her dim vitality, instantly illuminating her entire life.

Before he appeared, Qianchi Jing was just a small clansman who was unknown and ignored in a family.

It was that young man who pushed him to the pinnacle of life and power in one fell swoop, and handed over the largest consortium in Japan to him.

Over the years, Qianchi Jing really wanted to go to the hot summer to meet Mark.

But after all, Qianchijing didn't have the courage to find him.

After all, they couldn't meet together, perhaps that young man had forgotten the girl named Qianchijing under the city of Winter Capital.

Therefore, over the years, Qian Chi Jing has only taken this miss deeply in her heart.

Until a month ago, she learned that Mark sent someone to take away Iwai Zen.

Therefore, after Iwai Zen came back, Qianchi Jing kept asking Iwai Zen to tell her about Mark.

Even at the emperor's birthday banquet, Qianchi Jing was still listening.

However, it didn't take long for Iwai Zen, who was telling the story, to suddenly change his expression. He took out something from his arms, and after a glance, his whole body suddenly shook.

“Grandpa Iwai, what's the matter?”

Qianchi Jing saw the change in Iwai Zen's expression, and her pretty face turned white.

“Chairman Qianchi, something has happened.”

“Dragon Lord, he's afraid that something has happened.”

“Dragon Temple, has issued the highest level of convening order of the four seas like never before!”

Iwai Zen's old face paled.

He has been in the Dragon Temple for many years and has been dormant for 13 years.

The ups and downs of the vast ocean, Iwai Zen, have experienced all kinds of winds and waves.

However, he couldn't imagine what had happened that caused the Dragon Temple to issue the highest-level summoning order.

Suddenly, Iwai Zen felt a desperate, heavy feeling of burning jade and stone.
