

Chapter 3482

In the hot eyes of George Han, the behemoth under the riverbed has risen higher and higher, until a moment later, a huge towering The “monster” exploded.

It was a huge and crescent-shaped palace. The whole was mainly made of silver and gray, and the material like iron but not iron, and stone but not stone was its main body.

Even with the river bank as its horizon, it has an overall height of at least ten meters. At the very center of the crescent moon, a city gate stands leisurely.

The door is about three meters high, with double leaves, each about two meters wide, and the whole body is full of iron horns like thorns. In the letter, the four big characters of the Water God Moon Palace do not add any mighty meaning, but rather contribute to the weirdness and coldness in this place.

“This is the true meaning of the Moon Palace in the Water, but there is no water.”

George Han looked at this huge and majestic palace, with five flavors in his heart, with self-affirmation and slight shock.

When the glutton of evil was playing in the water, when he saw the splashing water, George Han wondered, does the so-called waterless mean that the entire Moon Lake is waterless?

If this is the case, then the entire Moon Lake maybe the Moon Palace.

Thinking of this, and when George Han was searching for the Moon Palace underwater, he found that the riverbed at the bottom of the pool was almost completely covered with silt, and George Han suddenly seemed to understand everything.

But for all of this to be confirmed, one more key point is needed.

Therefore, George Han thought of the raised land.

If it is still holding the idea that the Moon Palace is underground, then the bulge should be nothing, but if the latter thinking is changed, the meaning will be very different.

Simply, George Han was right in the end.

He really found the so-called Moon Palace in the Water!

“Boom!!”

There was a loud noise, followed by the sound of rolling iron chains, and the two huge iron gates in front of them also began to be slowly pulled open, revealing the gloomy and pitch-black interior of the palace.

George Han and Evil Taotie glanced at each other, and in the next second, one person and one beast got up and walked through the gate and entered the palace.

Almost as soon as he entered it, a disgusting stench hit his nostrils, not to mention George Han, even the gluttonous glutton of Evil was choked and shook his head.

As the two entered, the two doors behind them also closed again. When no outside light entered, the already dark interior of the power supply fell into a darker atmosphere for a while.

Don't say whether you can continue to move forward, even if you stretch out your hand, you can't see your five fingers.

Boom boom boom!!

There were bursts of noise, and all the candles were suddenly bright, and one lamp after another was lit around.

And when the lights were bright, the entire dark palace interior was also occupied by light, and the scene in the palace was in front of you.

The palace is huge, the ground is paved with gray bricks, and there are years of corrosion on it, which looks quite age-like.

The interior of the entire palace is unusually open, which is different from the fact that nothing is placed, only two huge double-headed snakes are located directly in front.

The only thing that can be said in detail is the wall with countless lights hanging at this time. Although they are made of strange materials that look like iron but not iron, like stone but not stone, there are many lifelike carvings on the surface. 3D general pattern.

It's just that most of these patterns are weird, there are both demons and snakes, and there are some distorted weird things. George Han looked at it a little more and suddenly felt dizzy, which was really weird.

boom!!

Almost at this moment, in front of George Han, at the top of the entire palace, two more lights were shining brightly.

The fire is not as bright as other wall fires, and it is not as stable as it is. The faint rise is more like a ghost fire jumping. Against their background, the two seats below also appear.

It's just that its strange shape and the jumping firelight complement each other, adding countless weirdness to it.

George Han and Evil Taotie glanced at each other, and then one person and one beast stepped up, looking around cautiously, keeping vigilance at all times.

"Crack!"

"Crack!"

"Crack!"

Three sounds rang out, followed by one person and one beast who could hear a peal of strange laughter as if someone was pinching their throats. Suddenly, I found that two shadows were sitting on those two chairs...

Chapter 3483

George Han was slightly startled by this sudden look.

However, this is only temporary.

After a while, George Han readjusted his mood and posture and stared at the two shadows closely.

Under the jumping firelight, George Han couldn't see the specific appearance of the two shadows at all.

"Excellent, excellent, really excellent."

A strange voice like a hanged ghost suddenly sounded, and the sound was so evil that people couldn't help but feel like their teeth were stretched.

"I thought that the gate of this Moon Palace would never be opened, and I also thought that we would only be destined to spend the rest of our lives in deep sleep. Right now, I am very pleased.

" A strange

It's a bit like the sound made by someone who took the matte paper and rubbed it on the ground frantically.

George Han sneered slightly, but looked at the two shadows indifferently, while listening to them, he secretly observed the surroundings in order to cope with the dangers that might appear at any time.

"What's your name?" The Hanged Ghost asked in a voice.

"George Han." George Han replied.

"George Han." The Hanged Ghost repeated it, and then he nodded: "I will take this name seriously, after all, it means a lot to you and me."

Mosha's voice also sounded appropriate. : "When you die, we will engrave your name in the Moon Palace to commemorate your visit here. This is a supreme honor and the greatest achievement in your life.

"Then what are the names of the two of you?" George Han said with a smile. The Hanged Ghost just smiled when he heard the words, but he was extremely disdainful and said, "Are you qualified to know?" "

"Haha! "George Han gave a wry smile and shook his head: "If you don't have the qualifications to pull it down, do you think I want to know?" I'm asking you all out of politeness. It's so-called courtesy. Since you want to leave my name as a recognition after you die, I should dig a hole and make a grave to leave a shadow for you after you disappear. . "

"Since you don't want to stay, that's fine. I don't have to dig a hole for you to make a grave." " As soon as the voice fell, Moshā's voice suddenly laughed: "Stinky boy, you are really crazy, how dare you say such things in front of us? ! If it were someone else

, I can tell you very responsibly, he will be smashed to ashes by me, and he will die without a place to be buried. "

"But to you!" "He smiled. "I won't be angry." Because you can come here, it means that the fourteen goods outside have been solved by you, and you have capital worthy of your pride. The Hanged Ghost smiled and said, "But one's madness should be stopped in moderation, otherwise, one will be ridiculed for lack of knowledge and a frog at the bottom of the well." "

"Do you think that the two of us are comparable to the fourteen junk people out there?" You, you never know how terrifying real power really is. "

"Obviously apologize to both of us. For the sake of my liking for your kid, I can guarantee that you will still leave your own name and honor here." "

Besides, you can at least die a little easier." After he finished speaking, he once again let out his weird laughter that was like being squeezed out of his throat. Hearing that, George Han got goosebumps.

"Then I also look at your attitudes." For the better's sake, I will also give you one last chance. If you obediently leave your name, when the Moon Palace disappears, at least the two of you will be able to live in a place after death so that you will not be deserted. "

When the words fell, George Han was still unyielding and unyielding, and his eyes were even full of faint joy.

The two shadows were silent for a while, and after a while, they both laughed at each other, and Moshayin gave a wry smile: "It seems that what your kid likes is the punishment of drinking." In the house, all the lights suddenly started to flash wildly, and the strange atmosphere also went crazy. And now...
