

Chapter 3496

“What!”

Although the thing is still in the hands of George Han, but at this time under the violent flames, The Mercury Man could still feel a huge and terrifying energy brewing from the flame...

Suddenly, the panicked Mercury Man seemed to have suddenly remembered something, and hurriedly turned his head to look at the one who launched the general attack on the other side. Waterdrop people.

“No, no, don’t.”

He shouted frantically towards Shuizhuren, trying to get Shuizhuren to leave quickly at this moment.

But at this time, Shuizhuren is already on the string, how can he still be withdrawn? !

“Boom!”

There was a loud bang, like a cockroach soaring into the sky, and a strangely fierce flame that stabbed people’s eyes to the point of pain suddenly jumped out of George Han’s hands.

After that, a half-turn in the air, directly towards the Shuizhuren, was a bang.

“Roar!” With

, the cockroach collided directly with the Shuizhuren, but there was almost no pause between them for a quarter of an hour, and in the next second, the cockroach directly penetrated the Shuizhuren’s body!

Shuizhuren’s ferocious offensive suddenly disappeared, and he stood in place stunned.

He lowered his eyes and saw that there was a huge pothole on his chest at this time, the pothole was all charred black, and the water on his body was constantly evaporating near the black circle.

He looked at the big hole in disbelief, and then raised his eyes to George Han, his whole person was full of incredible.

He thought that if he attacked from the side, he would definitely give George Han an extremely fatal blow. At that time, he could also hold the hatred of being injured by George Han before.

But he did a thousand calculations, and I’m afraid he couldn’t. Not only did he not hurt George Han in the slightest, but he was directly killed by George Han on the way you!

“You...” Looking at George Han, Shuizhuren had too many things to say, but in the end, everything just turned into this word in his throat.

Although there are no more, but the meaning expressed is more than a thousand words and ten thousand words.

The Mercury Man was dumbfounded and looked at the Shuizhu Man in a murmur. Although the Shuizhu Man was still standing there at this time, he knew very well that the Shuizhu Man was over.

George Han smiled lightly: "I said that the tiger cub will always grow up, and it will also eat people."
After the words were finished, he looked away from the mercury man and slowly looked at the water drop man. :

"Am I right?"

"How does it feel?"

Shuizhuren wanted to speak, but at this moment, he just opened his mouth, and wow-wah water continued to spurt from his mouth, and the next second, he suddenly raised his eyes.

"Bang!"

With a loud noise, his body suddenly exploded amid his incredibly wide eyes.

It was like a mass of water was suddenly smashed to the ground, and the water droplets splashed all over the place!

However, the only difference is that the water mass will bloom with countless water droplets and then fall to the ground, but the water droplets on his body will explode around him, and then instantly merge with the air.

Everything is at peace.

"Boom!"

The sky fire that pierced his body suddenly changed, and the fire made a similar roar. Fang Buddha was swearing his bravery and showing his strength.

"what....."

With a long sigh, one stumbled, and one retreated again and again. The fierce Mercury Man who was fighting with George Han Fuyin, but after the explosion of the Shuizhu Man, the whole person completely lost his mind.

Seeing him like this, George Han smiled lightly and retracted the talisman

, but he did not remove the sky fire, and the burning silence in his hand was also ready at any time.

In fact, when he first learned about Fen Ji in the cave, George Han quickly had some tentative ideas of his own. Among them, the most daring one was that Fen Ji was made of fire, which happened to happen. What's more, the sky fire is also the method of fire.

At the beginning, Xia Ran taught himself some of the Phoenix Clan's mental skills that could allow Tianhuo to get pure training. Naturally, George Han would also think about whether Fenji could complete the pure training for Tianhuo.

This was George Han's crazy idea when he was in the cave, and it was also what he was most eager to try.

Facts have proved that George Han's theory is feasible, and Tianhuo is indeed worthy of the supreme secret that the old sweeper gave him.

"How? You are the only one left now." George Han looked at the Mercury Man playfully.

Chapter 3497

Mercury man was obviously surprised, but after a while, he regained his senses, looked at George Han, frowned and said: "You... How on earth did you do it?"

"Your fire is very weak, but why did it suddenly rise a few grades?"

He thought for a long time, but he still couldn't think of what it was.

Everyone is a cultivator, and he was once not weak, but it is almost impossible for you to suddenly increase your cultivation in such a short period of time.

But the reality is very funny, it is those things that you despise and think impossible, but just appear in front of you.

"Why do you always find it difficult to understand?" George Han did not laugh at him, but looked at him indifferently, even with a trace of his own doubts.

"Why do you think it's easy to understand again?" The Mercurial Man was even more puzzled as to why George Han was puzzled.

"This world is thousands of years old, and the world is also huge and boundless. As a senior like you, it stands to reason that you should know better than me that there are mountains outside mountains and people outside people, and you should know that the world is full of wonders. Why do you have to use your own cognition to identify everything in the world?"

"Aren't people's knowledge supposed to be limited?" Yes, he had to admit that what George Han said was very reasonable, and he knew it well. But man is always an emotional animal, an animal with complex emotions. In this case, some things you see or something are easily disturbed by emotions.

"Actually, you should know in your own heart that some things are facts, but you just don't want to bear them. Maybe it's because of your face, maybe it's because of vanity, or maybe it's because of other things.

He nodded seriously: "You're right."

"Since that's the case, can you understand now?"

"You really learned the three magic skills?" asked the Mercury man.

“Emperor You, Lord Defense, you have already fought against it several times, the fire attack of burning silence, you have also seen this.”

“What about the third one?” He asked with a frown.

George Han didn't speak, just looked at him lightly.

The Mercury Man didn't understand what he meant, but when he thought about it, he seemed to suddenly remember something.

“Yes... You were obviously injured so badly by being hit in the wall, but the next moment you were suddenly full of blood and resurrected to attack us.” The Mercury Man said in shock.

George Han smiled, and then nodded heavily: “That's right.”

When he saw that the gluttonous gluttonous gluttony was defeated and fought, George Han was also encouraged, and secretly used Taixu, which he did not know at all. Knowing something is trying to gamble.

The information George Han read was correct. Tai Xu really helped him a lot in terms of spirituality.

Even the power of Taixu far exceeded George Han's own imagination.

It depends on the secluded, ancient and powerful, it really lives up to its reputation.

After using Taixu to turn around the entire meridian, what the other George Han didn't even think about was that his dantian anti-Buddha was instantly reignited, and an invisible and huge force suddenly came directly from there. Full body.

What's even more amazing is that after this force arrived, George Han felt that the broken bones and meridians were repaired in an instant.

If I had to use one word to describe it, George Han could only say that, full of blood and resurrection.

This is so amazing that George Han is instantly excited when he thinks about it even now.

However, George Han had an ominous hunch that it was this thing...

He seemed to only be able to use it once.

At least, when facing the attack of the two just now, George Han once again urged the method of Taixu to be on the safe side, but no matter how George Han urged, those golden lights no longer appeared, just like George Han. I haven't learned general before.

Of course, this cannot be because George Han has learned and then changed, but there is only another possible fact.

Given how powerful it is, perhaps, after using it, it should theoretically...should have entered a similar short cooling period.

Hearing George Han's words, the Mercury Man nodded complicatedly and murmured, "You are right, nothing is absolute, and the world has its own destiny."

"You have all learned the three magic skills. ." When the words fell, he suddenly looked at George Han: "Then let me ask you, are you still interested in learning something stronger?"
